De la Garde's
&c. Nat.

And

Captain Wright said, That Captain Stone came into the Harbour with a Fireship, which drew Eleven Foot Water, at the time of Beachy-head Fight.

That the Hindrance of restoring it to the Depth of Water, as formerly, is the having so many Flood-gates: And that it is a very advantageous Harbour: And that there is no other Harbour to secure our Ships betwixt the Nesse and Portsmouth, which is about a Hundred Miles:

That when he went and viewed the said Flood-gates, he found they took away the Strength of the Water from the Harbour, and hindered the Efflux and Reflux of the Tide; which has caused the Harbour to be choaked up:

That the St. Andrew has rid there in 21 Foot Water:

That it lies very useful to receive Ships that come from Haverdegrace and Diep: That many a Ship would come in there, if there was Depth of Water: And that it is a very convenient Port for Ships to put in and clean, which they might do in Two Days, and put to Sea again.

Robert Cullpepper said, That before any Stops were made, Ships went up to Blackwall; and that those Stops did much damage to the Harbour of Rye, so that, in a little time, the whole Harbour would be stopped up:

That if the Flood-gates and Cross-walls were taken away, it would be as formerly; and that the nearer they come to the Harbour with Stops, the worse it is:

That he has seen Four Ships put in there, of about 60 Tons each, without Anchor and Cable.

Mark Cheswell said, That he was born at Rye: He has known the Harbour 45 Years, and that it was, at that Time, a very good Harbour; and can remember when there could ride a Hundred Sail of Ships in the Harbour:

That he has known about 45 Years since, it being in Oliver Cromwell's Time, Ships ride against the Town of Rye at Low-water, then having Two Fathom and half Water:

That in the late War with the French it was much better than now; and that 20 Sail of Ships might come and ride within half a Mile of the Town:

That the last War, a Mile within the Harbour at High-water in the said Point, there was Eleven Foot Water:

That the Cause of the Decay of the Harbour, is the making Cross-ways and Flood-gates cross the River Appledore, and Chanel through Wittersham Level:

That he can remember a Ship of a Hundred Tons, built at Appledore, being Six Miles above the Town, about Forty-five or Forty-six Years since:

That he knows not how long it is since the First Stop was made:

That Stops were made at Blackwall, about the Year 1646:

That, about Seventeen or Eighteen Years ago, he was, with his Hoy of Sixty Tons, which drew Nine Foot Water, as high as Blackwall, and hath unloaded there:

That the last Stop was made about Four or Five Years ago; and that all Sullage that comes in, rebounds back, and settles in the Harbour, and so choakes it up:

That one Captain Cadman went up to Stone, in the Isle of Orney, with a Ship of a Hundred Ton, and loaded there:

That he can remember a Dutch Man of War, of 40 Guns, came in there, and rid afloat, and loaded Guns there:

That at Spring Tides it flows Four Fathom, and at Low-water not above a Foot and half, Two Miles without the Town, being a Flat.

William Cheswell said, That he can remember a Stop made about Five Years ago, and also of his Father's Hoy going up to Blackwall, and of her drawing Nine Foot Water; and that William Kirby was Master of the said Hoy:

And that he can remember Two or Three Fireships coming there at the time of the Beachy-head Fight.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to the Resolutions following; viz.

VOL. 13.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Petitioners have fully proved the Allegations of their Petition.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Cross-walls, Stops, and Flood-gates, set up in the River of Rother, and Chanel through Wittersham Level; and innning the said River and Chanel, and making Land of the same; and likewise Inning of Sea Wasts, which draw a constant Influx and Efflux, to scour the Harbour of Rye, have wholly hindered the Navigation of the said River and Chanel, and are the Cause of stopping up the said Harbour.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That if the Stops in the Chanel through Wittersham Level shall be taken away, and Inside-walls made on both Sides of the Chanel, that it will restore the ancient Navigation of the River Rother, and make the Harbour of Rye a good Harbour again.

The First Resolution being read a Second time;

Ordered, That the further Consideration of the said Report be adjourned until Wednesday Morning next.

Mr. Rayner reported from the Committee, to whom the Petition of the Frame-work-knitters, inhabiting within the Counties of Nottingham, and Leicester, and Derby, and other Counties adjacent, and within the Town, and County of the Town, of Nottingham, on the behalf of themselves, and other Members of the said Trade, was committed, the Matter, as it appeared to them, upon hearing the Petitioners, and the Company of Frame-work-knitters; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

Benjamin Green said, That the Company had their Charter granted them in the Year 1663:

That the Company obliges every Man, after he hath served his Apprenticeship, to come to London, though never so far distant, to take up his Freedom; the Charge whereof is computed at Five Pounds, otherwise he cannot take an Apprentice, which is a very great Prejudice to the poor Men of the said Trade: And that he knew one Trueman, who came up to London upon that Account, ruined by the Expence, and not able to return back again into the Country:

That, upon the Binding of an Apprentice, they pay to the Company in the Whole, 1*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.*:

That each Man, upon his Admittance into the said Company, pays 15*s.* and 6*d.* a Quarter:

That they elect Two Persons to be Stewards in Town, and Two in the Country; and, if they do not come up, they fine them 10*l.*:

That they chose one Thomas Godfry a Steward; who not complying, they sued him in the City, and got Judgment for 14*l.*; and put him in Prison for it: And the Money was paid by Collection of the Trade; he being so poor, that he could not pay it himself:

That they take 6*d.* a Quarter of every Person using the Trade, without rendering any Account; which amounts to 300*l.* per Annum; and would maintain their Poor, if applied to that Use:

That the Company chose him Steward, and summoned him to make a Feast; but he refusing, they fined him 10*l.*; and brought their Action in London, which put him to 50*l.* Charge:

That they have prosecuted several for their Fines, to their great Prejudice; though, upon several Arguments in the Common Pleas, the By-law was over-ruled, and held illegal; notwithstanding which they have chose others since.

James Shaw said, They forced him to come to London, to take up his Freedom, which cost about 29*s.*; and, together with the Charge of coming up, amounted to 5*l.*; and he was forced to work Half a Year to get it up again:

That

That he paid 15s. for his Admittance, and pays 6d. per Quarter.

Edward Staples said, They forced him to come up to London, to take up his Freedom; and took 13s. 4d. for his Admittance, and 1l. 2s. 6d. for binding an Apprentice:

That he pays 6d. per Quarter.

Gregory Willmott said, That the Company having chose him Steward, he came up, and met the Master; who asked him, Whether he would fine? He answered, He could not tell till he knew his Partner: And, asking who he was, the Master refused to tell him; saying, He would have him fine; but he refused:

That he provided a Dinner, and went to the Hall; but the same was shut up, and nobody there to eat it; nor a Room to eat it in:

That there are 2,000 Persons, at least, in the Country, that pay 6d. per Quarter to the Company.

Mr. Roby Sherwin said, That the Company sued one Godfry for not standing Steward, after he was elected by them:

That they choose new Stewards every Year, and fine them 10l.; and, if they do not pay it, they sue them for it.

The Master, Wardens, and Assistants, appeared; and produced their Charter: By which it appeared, That King Charles the 2d, by his Letters Patents, bearing Date the 19th Day of August, in the 15th Year of his Reign, did ordain, That the Frame-work-knitters should be one Body Politick and Corporate, by the Name of the Master, Wardens, Assistants, and Society, of the Art or Mystery of Frame-work-knitters of the Cities of London and Westminster, and Kingdom of England, and Dominion of Wales: And thereby did authorize the said Master, Wardens, and Assistants, yearly, upon the Feast of St. John the Baptist, to elect and choose One Master and Two Wardens; and also, at the same Feast, to elect and choose Assistants when, and so oft as, there should be any Vacancy: And did also empower the said Master, Wardens, and Assistants, and their Successors, to make Orders for the Rule and Government of the said Master, Wardens, Assistants, and Society, in their several Offices, Function, and Business, touching and concerning the said Society; so as that the said By-laws were not unreasonable, and against the Laws of the Land: And did also empower the said Master, Wardens, and Assistants, under their Common Seal, to make Deputies; which Deputies shall have full Power and Authority, in such Place or Places, within the Kingdom of England, and Dominion of Wales, where such Deputy shall live, and within such Compass as in their Deputation shall be limited, to rule and govern all Persons using the said Art, according to the Powers in the said Letters Patents before expressed; and according to such By-laws as the said Master, Wardens, and Assistants, shall, from time to time, make, in as ample Manner, to all Intents and Purposes, as the said Master, Wardens, and Assistants might do, by virtue of the said Letters Patents, within the said Cities of London and Westminster.

As to the First thing complained of; they said, That they did force such as were Apprentices to Freemen of London to come up to London, before they would admit him into their Company; though they lived never so far off:

That Persons free of their Trade are not obliged to be free of the City of London; and that they cannot make any free of the said City of London by their Charter, they being no Company thereof.

As to the 2d thing complained of; they did allow, That they take 15s. for the Admittance of any Person into their said Company: And, for their Justification, produced a By-law, which did oblige to pay, to the Company, 10s. in lieu of a Silver Spoon; 2s. to the Clerk of the Company; 1s. to the Beadle, and 2s. for the King's Duty; and that, if any one refuse to pay this Money, he shall forfeit 30s. to the Use of the Company.

As to the 3d thing complained of; they did also admit of the taking of the 1l. 2s. 6d.: And said, the Particulars were as follow; viz. 10s. to the Company, in lieu of a Proof-piece; 3s. 6d. to the Clerk of the Company, for Inrolling; 1s. to the Beadle; 1s. 6d. to the Company, according to the Statute of Hen. the VIIIth; 6d. for Parchment; the King's Duty, 2s.; and, by the Orphans Act, 2s. 6d.

As to the 4th thing complained of; they admitted the taking the 2s. 6d.: And said, It was pursuant to the Orphans Act; and that they took it of every one, though they were not bound to Freemen of London.

As to the 5th thing complained of; they pretended, That, by one of their By-laws, they had a Power to elect Two Persons, living in the Country, to be Stewards, to make the Company a Treat upon Michaelmas-day; and, upon Refusal, to forfeit 10l.; though the Company did never attend the Lord Mayor on that Day.

As to the 6th thing complained of; they justified the Taking of it by virtue of a By-law, which did oblige all Persons to contribute a proportionable Sum of Money towards the obtaining of their Charter, as any other things necessary for the well-being of the Company; provided that such Person or Persons be equally rated according to their Degree, Quality, and Condition; but no mention is there made of any Sum in particular: But denied, That the same amounted to near so much as in the Petition: And that they think 6d. a Quarter very moderate.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Report be adjourned till Wednesday Morning next.

A Petition of James Gardner, committed Prisoner to the Gatehouse by this House, for inciting the Rabble against the Members of this House the 27th of February last, was presented to the House, and read; humbly acknowledging his Offence, and begging Pardon for the same: And praying, in regard of his Poverty, and Charge of his Wife and Children, to be discharged of his Confinement.

A Person
petitions for

Ordered, That the Keeper of the Gatehouse do bring the said James Gardner to the Bar of this House upon Monday Morning next, in order to his being discharged of his said Imprisonment.

The Commons cannot agree to the Amendments, made by your Lordships, to this Bill; For that all Aids and Supplies, granted to his Majesty in Parliament, are the sole and intire Gift of the Commons: And as all Bills for the granting such Aids and Supplies begin with the Commons, so it is the undoubted and sole Right of the Commons to direct, limit, and appoint, in such Bills, the Ends and Purposes, Considerations, Limitations, and Qualifications, of such Grants; which ought not to be changed or altered by your Lordships.

This is well known to be such a fundamental Right of the Commons, that to give Reasons for it, has been esteemed, by our Ancestors, to be a Weakening of that Right.

The Commons therefore leave the Bill, and the Amendments, with your Lordships; together with the ill Consequences that may attend the not passing this Bill.

Supply Bill;
Duties on Silks.

A Message from the Lords, by Mr. Meredeth and Sir Richard Holford:

Mr. Speaker,

The Lords have agreed to the Bill, intituled, An Act for laying further Duties upon wrought Silks, Muslins, and some other Commodities of the East Indies; and for enlarging the Time for purchasing certain reversionary Annuities therein mentioned; without any Amendment.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Supply Bill;
Land Tax, and Irish Forfeitures.

The Lord Marquis of Hartington reported to the House, That he having, according to their Order, been at the Lords, to desire a Conference upon the Subject-matter of the Amendments, made by their Lordships, to the Bill, intituled, An Act for granting an Aid to his Majesty, by Sale of the forfeited and other Estates and Interests in Ireland; and by a Land Tax in England, for the several Purposes therein mentioned; the Lords do agree to a Conference; and appoint the same presently, in the Painted Chamber.

Ordered, That the Committee who drew up the Reasons for the said Conference, do manage the Conference.

And the Managers went to the Conference.

And being returned;

Conference with Lords.

Sir Edward Seymour reported the Conference; and that they had given the Lords the Reasons for disagreeing to their Lordships Amendments; and left the Bill and Amendments with the Lords.

Privilege.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to the Committee, upon the Complaint of a Breach of Privilege against Christopher Lister Esquire, by Sir Bazil Firebrasse, and others, arresting Edward Chandler, a menial Servant, and Under-keeper of the Walk, of the said Mr. Lister; and the Resolution of the Committee thereupon; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

That the Matter of Fact was opened by the Counsel to be thus;

That, upon the 7th of May last, the said Edward Chandler was taken up in Enfield Chase by 15 or 16 Men, upon Pretence of Deer-stealing, and carried to Sir Baz. Firebrasse his House, and there examined; and, after having been carried to several Places, he was at last brought to the St. John's Head Tavern in Chancery Lane, where he was examined by the Recorder of London, and convicted of Deer-stealing, and by him committed to Newgate: That he was discharged from his Imprisonment by the Court of King's Bench, being brought before the Court by Habeas Corpus; and was afterwards, viz. on the 1st Day of January last, taken up for the said Offence, and again committed to Newgate by Mr. Justice Monday; and in like manner, again discharged by the Court of King's Bench: And to prove the whole Matter, but especially the first Taking up of the said Edward Chandler, which, they alleged, was without a Warrant or Officer, the Counsel for Mr. Lister would have examined the said Edward Chandler himself; which they insisted upon to be reasonable in this Case, he neither being to get nor lose by any Examination of the Committee; and for the Necessity of this Sort of Proof, in this Case, the Matter not being capable of being proved otherwise.

On the contrary, the Counsel for the Persons complained of insisted, That he ought not to be admitted a Witness in this Case, having been convicted twice for so great an Offence as Deer-stealing; and for that his Evidence would tend to justify himself against the Convictions; and therefore that he would be concerned in the Consequence, which was to ease himself: And said, That the said Edward Chandler was not discharged from those Convictions, but they were still under Consideration of the Court of King's Bench; and that they had a Warrant for the first Apprehending of the said Edward Chandler.

Vol. 13.

And that, upon hearing the Counsel on both Sides, the Committee came to this Resolution:

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Edward Chandler ought not to be admitted as a Witness in this Cause.

And the Counsel being called in again, and acquainted with the said Resolution; Mr. Lister's Counsel declared, That they depended on the Evidence of the said Edward Chandler, to make out the said Breach of Privilege; and, he being not to be admitted as a Witness, they could not advise their Client to proceed.

And they being withdrawn; the Committee came to this Resolution:

Resolved, That is the Opinion of this Committee, That Sir Bazill Firebrasse, James Monday Esquire, Charles Wilford, William Whitlock, J. Blower, George Pretty alias Damme George, * Gamet, Antony Buckmaster, Robert Dallison, John Jennings, and * Jeffryes, are not guilty of a Breach of the Privileges of the House.

The said Resolution being read a Second time;

And a Motion being made, and the Question being put, That the said Resolution be re-committed;

It passed in the Negative.

Resolved, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That Sir Bazill Firebrasse Knight, James Monday Esquire, Charles Wilford, William Whitlock, J. Blower, George Pretty alias Damme George, * Gamet, Antony Buckmaster, Robert Dallison, John Jennings, and * Jeffryes, are not guilty of a Breach of the Privileges of the House.

A Complaint being made to the House of a Breach of Privilege committed against the Lord Coningsby, a Member of this House, by one Mr. Soransee, a cashiered Officer, by assaulting the said Lord Coningsby near this House;

Privilege—
Assault of a Member.

Ordered, That the said Mr. Soransee be taken into the Custody of the Serjeant at Arms attending this House, for the said Breach of Privilege.

And then the House adjourned till To-morrow Morning, Eight a Clock.

12° Gulielmi Tertii.

A Message from the Lords, by Mr. Meredeth and Sir Richard Holford:

Mr. Speaker,

The Lords do desire a present Conference with this House, in the Painted Chamber, upon the Subject-matter of the last Conference.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Resolved, That the House doth agree to a Conference, as the Lords do desire.

And the Messengers were called in again; and Mr. Speaker acquainted them therewith.

Ordered, That the Members who managed the last Conference, do manage this Conference.

And the Managers went to the Conference.

And, being returned;

Conference with Lords.

Sir Edward Seymour reported, That those who the House were pleased to command, had met the Lords at the Conference; and that it was managed, on the Part of the Lords, by the Lord President; who was pleased to open the Conference in this manner:

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I shall not trouble you with any Reasons to introduce this Conference: The Reasons that relate to the Differences between us are contained in a Paper; and I hope they are proposed in that manner, as will tend always to the maintaining a good Correspondence between the Two Houses: Which Paper is as followeth; viz.

The Lords do insist on their Amendments to the Bill for granting an Aid to his Majesty, by Sale of the forfeited and other Estates and Interests in Ireland; and by a Land Tax in England, for the several Purposes therein mentioned.

Because the Reasons given by the Commons, against their Lordships Amendments, do no-ways relate to the Matter contained in the said Amendments:

Because, though there be nothing in the said Amendments relating to Aids and Supplies granted to his Majesty in Parliament; yet the Commons have thought fit to take Occasion thereupon to assert a Claim to their sole and entire Right, not only . . . the granting all Aids in Parliament, but that such Aids are to be raised by such Methods, and with such Provisions, as the Commons only think proper: If the said Assertions were exactly true, which their Lordships cannot allow; yet it could not with good Reason, follow from thence, That the Lords may not alter or leave out according to their Amendments, when the saving the Estates of innocent Persons, and of such as have been outlawed after their Death, makes such Amendments necessary.

And the Lords think it unreasonable and unjust to vest in the Trustees any greater or other Estate, than was in the forfeiting Person, or than the King may legally have; since thereby not only many innocent Persons, who come in by Descent, or Purchase, or other valuable Considerations, might suffer equally as Criminals, but 'tis possible that Men, who, with the utmost Hazard of their Lives, have been defending the Government, may forfeit as Traitors; and they cannot apprehend, that, by any Law of this Land, or by any Rule of Reason or Justice, any Person ought to be outlawed after his Death; since 'tis condemning a Man unheard, and allowing him no Opportunity of making his Innocence appear.

The Lords admit the Resumption of the forfeited Estates in Ireland to be a Thing necessary, by reason of the great Debt due to the Army, and others, which they earnestly desire to see discharged; and are therefore very willing and desirous to give their Consents to any reasonable Bill the Commons shall send them up to that Purpose: But the Lords can by no means consent, That the Commons shall take upon them to dispose of any of the said Forfeitures to any private Persons; it being the sole and undoubted Right of the Crown, to be the Distributor of all Bounties; and being contrary to all the Laws and Course of Parliaments, to give Aids, Supplies, or Grants, to any but the King only: And, as the contrary Practice is totally new and unprecedented; so, in Process of Time, it may become of the last ill Consequence to the Publick.

The Lords cannot agree to the Clauses, that create an Incapacity in the Commissioners or Managers of the Excise for sitting in this Parliament: Because the Qualification of Members to serve in Parliament is a Thing, if proper to be meddled with at all, that hath been thought fit, by the Commons, to be in a Bill by itself; and the joining together in a Money-Bill Things so totally foreign to the Methods of raising Money, and to the Quantity or Qualifications of the Sums to be raised, is wholly destructive of the Freedom of Debates, dangerous to the Privileges of the Lords, and to the Prerogative of the Crown: For, by this means, Things of the last ill Consequence to the Nation may be brought into Money Bills; and yet neither the Lords, nor the Crown, be able to give their Negative to them, without hazarding the publick Peace and Security: And it seems a great Hardship to the Counties and Places who chose such Members, to deprive them of their Service, since they knew them to be Commissioners of Excise at the time they chose them; and since the Commons admit them to be proper Persons to serve either in Excise or Parliament, though not at the same time; so that there seems to be no other Reason of distinguishing these Commissioners, but what is common to all other Officers of the Crown; and the Question, whether such an Alteration may be convenient, must needs be a Doubt with the Lords, since the Commons have not been able, this very Sessions, to satisfy themselves with the Bill, and the Considerations they have entertained upon that Subject.

The Lords do seriously consider the Dangers and Inconveniencies that are likely to happen by the Loss of this Bill, and and by the Difference betwixt the two Houses; and are heartily sorry for them; and desirous to avoid them by all the Means they can, as does manifestly appear by their having complied, and overlooked the Irregularities of Bills of the like Nature, and, at the same time, by entering in their Books, to be seen by every body, their just Sense of the Wrong, and their Resolution of asserting that fundamental Right, of the Exercise of which there are many Precedents extant in their Books: But since they find, that such their kind Intention, of maintaining a good Correspondence with the Commons, has had no other Effect, but to introduce greater Impositions upon them, and such as will certainly prove destructive of the ancient and excellent Constitution of our Government; since the Lords have no Objection to the Resumption, nor no Design to invade the least Right of the Commons, but only to defend their own; that they may transmit the Government, and their own Rights and Privileges, to their Posterity, in the same State and Condition that they were derived down to them from their Ancestors; they think themselves wholly discharged from being in the least accessory to any such Dangers or Inconveniencies; and conceive they are sufficiently justified, before God and Man, in withstanding such Innovations and Invasions upon our Constitution, and our Laws, as must necessarily prove the Destruction of them.

The House insist on their Disagreement.

Conference desired with Lords.

Resolved, Nemine contradicente, That this House doth insist upon their Disagreement with the Lords in the said Amendments.

Resolved, That a free Conference be desired with the Lords upon the Subject-matter of the Two last Conferences.

Ordered, That Mr. Boyle do go to the Lords, and desire the said free Conference.

Mr. Boyle reported to the House, That he having, according to Order, been at the Lords, to desire a free Conference; the Lords do agree to a free Conference accordingly; and do appoint the same presently, in the Painted Chamber.

Ordered, That the Members who managed the Two last Conferences, do manage the free Conference.

And the Managers went to the Conference.

And, being returned;

Sir Edward Seymour reported, That they had met the Lords at the free Conference, and discharged the Commands of the House thereat; and left the Bill, and Amendments, with the Lords.

Then the House proceeded to take into Consideration the List of the Lords of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

PRAYERS.

A MESSAGE from the Lords, by Mr. Meredeth and Sir Richard Holford: Commissioners of Accounts.

Mr. Speaker,

The Lords have agreed to the Bill, intituled, An Act for the appointing Commissioners to take, examine, and determine, the Debts due to the Army, Navy, and for Transport Service; and also an Account of the Prizes taken during the late War; without any Amendments.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

The Serjeant was called upon to give an Account what he had done in relation to * Soransee, directed to be taken into his Custody: And he acquainted the House, That his Messengers had been at many Places in and about the Town, to inquire for him, but could not find him. Serjeant states his Failure in apprehending a Person.

Resolved, That an humble Address be presented to his Majesty, That he will please to issue his Royal Proclamation for the apprehending of * Soransee, for his high Misdemeanor in assaulting the Lord Coningsby, a Member of this House, near this House, promising a Reward to such as shall apprehend him. Address for Proclamation.

Ordered, That the said Address be presented to his Majesty by such Members of this House as are of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

Ordered, That Mr. Attorney General and Mr. Solicitor General do effectually prosecute the said * Soransee, for the said Offence.

Sir Edward Seymour acquainted the House with what he had insisted upon at the free Conference Yesterday with the Lords, upon the Subject-matter of the Amendments made by the Lords to the Bill, intituled, An Act for granting an Aid to his Majesty, by Sale of the forfeited and other Estates and Interests in Ireland; and by a Land Tax in England, for the several Purposes therein mentioned; and moved, That the same might be entered upon the Journal. Supply Bill; Land Tax and Forfeitures.

Ordered, That the same be entered upon the Journal. And the same is as followeth; viz.

That Sir Edward Seymour said to the Lords to this Effect, That this was a Conference upon the Subject-matter of the Amendments made by their Lordships to the Bill, intituled, An Act for granting an Aid to his Majesty, by Sale of the forfeited and other Estates and Interests

4 N

Interests in Ireland; and by a Land Tax in England, for the several Purposes therein mentioned: That the Commons had desired it for the preserving of the Forms of a free Conference; but yet that there was very little Room left for Debate, since the Right of the Commons was contained and declared in their former Reasons, from which they should never depart; and that the giving any other Reasons than what they had before given would be a Diminution of that Right; and that the Managers did not therefore enter into any Debate of the Lords Reasons for the said Amendments.

And the House being returned;

Sir Edward Seymour recommended Robert Harley Esquire to be Speaker, as being a Person fitly qualified to discharge that Trust; as being a Person well acquainted with the Rules of the House, knowing in the Laws, and having good Memory to collect the Debates of the House:

And being seconded by Sir John Leveson Gower:

Whereupon, after some Debate,

Mr. Harley stood up in his Place; and desired, That the House would be pleased to excuse him, and pitch upon some other Person more able than himself to serve them.

Which the Voice of the House being against; he sat down in the Chair; and the Mace which before had lain under the Table, was laid upon the Table.

And then the House being put in mind, That his Majesty had been pleased to direct them to present their Speaker To-morrow at Twelve a Clock;

THE House being met; and Mr. Speaker elect having taken the Chair;

Message to
King.

A Message from his Majesty, by Mr. Aston, Deputy Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod:

Gentlemen,

The King commands this Honourable House to attend him in the House of Peers, immediately.

VOL. 13.

And accordingly Mr. Speaker elect, with the House, Mr. Speaker went up to attend his Majesty, and to present their Speaker: approved of by the King.
Who spake thus; viz.

May it please your most Excellent Majesty,

THE Commons of England, in Parliament assembled, in Obedience to your Majesty's Commands have proceeded to the Election of a Speaker; and by their Direction, I am presented to your Majesty, as the effect of that Choice: At the same time I most humbly lay before your Majesty my own Insufficiency to discharge so great a Trust; and therefore do most earnestly beseech your Majesty to accept my Excuse; and, that, the Publick may receive no Detriment from my Want of Ability, I most heartily beg your Majesty will give your Commons an Opportunity to make a better Choice.

Whereupon the Lord Keeper acquainted the House of Commons, That his Majesty was pleased to approve of the Choice they had made; and allowed of Mr. Harley to be their Speaker.

After which Mr. Harley replied;

May it please Your Majesty,

SINCE your Majesty hath not been pleased to admit of my Excuse, it is my Duty to submit; and I do, in the first Place, with the utmost Thankfulness, acknowledge the undeserved Honour your Majesty is pleased to confer upon me: And that I may the better discharge that great Trust which your Majesty, and the Commons, have committed to me, I am an humble Suitor to your Majesty, That none of my Failings, or Infirmities, may be imputed to your faithful Commons: And that your Commons may be better enabled to consider of the important Affairs that shall come before them, I do, in their Name, by humble Petition, lay Claim to all their ancient Rights and Privileges; and more particularly, that they may have Freedom from Arrests and Disturbance to their Persons, Estates, and Servants; Liberty of Speech, for the better Management of their Debates; Freedom of Access to your Majesty's Royal Person, upon Occasion; and that the Proceedings of the House may receive a favourable Interpretation, and be free from all Misconstruction.

I have nothing more to add, but my hearty Prayers, and poor Endeavours, That the Consultations of the Parliament may tend to the Honour and Safety of your Majesty and your Kingdoms.

The House being returned;

Mr. Speaker reported, That his Majesty had been pleased to give his Approbation to their Choice of a Speaker: That he had laid claim, by humble Petition, to all their Rights and Privileges, and particularly to that of Freedom from Arrests, and Disturbance of their Persons, Estates, and Servants; Liberty of Speech; and Freedom of Access to his Majesty's Person: And that the Lord Keeper did signify his Majesty's Pleasure, That they should enjoy all their ancient Privileges, as fully as any of their Predecessors.

And afterwards Mr. Speaker returned the House his hearty Acknowledgments for the great Honour they had done him, in placing him in that Chair; assuring them, That he would endeavour to discharge the Duty incumbent on him, uprightly, with all Impartiality, and Respect to the House, and every particular Member of it; hoping that they would consider his Weakness and Infirmities, and give him their Assistance and Support in doing his Duty; and that, in order thereunto, that they would keep the good Orders their Predecessors had established for Dispatch of Business, especially at this Time, when the Session begins so late; and that they would come early in a Morning; and, in their Debates, avoid Reflections; for that the House was a House of Debate, and one Reflection would beget another; and it did not become the House to promote these Heats, which were not proper for such an Assembly; and that he hoped the ancient Members would set a good Example to those which had not been there before.

After which, Mr. Speaker put the House in mind, That the Thing they had to do, was to take the Oaths appointed; and to make and subscribe the Declaration, and sign the Association, by Law established.

VOL. 13.

A Petition of John Gape Esquire was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That at the Election of Burgesses to serve in this Parliament for the Borough of St. Albans, in the County of Hertford, Colonel Geo. Churchill, the Petitioner and Joshua and Tho. Lomax Esquires, stood Candidates; where the said Joshua, by several illegal Practices, procured several Persons to vote for him, as well such as had a Right to vote, as such as had no Right; who, by the Mayor's Permission, were admitted to poll, though objected against by the Petitioner; and, upon a Scrutiny, it appeared, That the Petitioner had a Majority of legal Votes, beyond the said Joshua Lomax, and ought to have been returned with Colonel Churchill; but the said Mayor hath returned the said Joshua, in Prejudice of the Petitioner: And praying such Relief in the Premises, as the House, in Justice, shall think meet.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections: And that they do examine the Matter thereof; and report the same, with their Opinion therein, to the House.

A Petition of Francis Pistell, Richard Strett, and several other Inhabitants paying Scot and Lot, within the Borough of Hindon, in the County of Wilts, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That at the late Election of Members to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough, Sir James How, George Morley, and Reynolds Calthorpe, Esquires, stood Candidates; and Mr. Morley had a greater Majority of legal Voters than Mr. Calthorpe, and ought to have been returned; but Cantelo Hughes, the Bailiff, polled several for Mr. Calthorpe, who had no Right, and refused to poll several for Mr. Morley, who had a Right: That the Petitioners refused to sign the Indentures for Mr. Calthorpe; but the said Bailiff hath arbitrarily returned him, with Sir James How, in Violation of the Rights and Privileges of the Petitioners: And praying the Relief of the House in the Premises.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections: And that they do examine the Matter thereof; and report the same, with their Opinion therein, to the House.

A Petition of Edward Harley Esquire was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Borough of Leominster, in the County of Hereford, is an ancient Borough by Prescription, and sends Two Members to Parliament; That John Dutton Colt Esquire, the present Bailiff, Mr. James Caswell and Mr. Edward Bangham, Justices of Peace of Leominster, with Tho. Price the Town Clerk, and Thomas Bubb Overseer of the Poor, did, by Bribes, Menaces, and other unlawful Practices, procure divers of the Electors to vote for the said Mr. Colt; and endeavoured, by Bribes and Threats, to prevail with others not to vote for the Petitioner; notwithstanding all which corrupt and arbitrary Proceedings, the major Number of rightful Votes did appear, and vote for the Petitioner; but the Bailiff refused to return him, and returned the said Mr. Colt, in Wrong to the Petitioner, and the said Borough: And praying a Day to prove the Allegations of the Petition, and Relief in the Premises.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections: And that they do examine the Matter thereof; and report the same, with their Opinion therein, to the House.

A Petition of John Granville Esquire was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioner was duly elected by the Borough of Newport, in Cornwall, to be their Representative in this present Parliament; yet the Vianders, being prevailed on by unjustifiable Practices, went from the Place of Election, without declaring the Majority; and refused a Scrutiny; and have arbitrarily, and falsely, returned Francis Stratford Esquire, having declared their Resolutions so to do, before the Election, if he had but Ten Votes: Which Practices are a Violation of the Right

Rights of the said Borough, and a Wrong to the Petitioner: And praying the Consideration of the House in the Premises and Relief therein.

A Motion being made, and the Question being put, That the Matter of the said Petition be heard at the Bar of the House;

It passed in the Negative.

East Retford
Election.

A Petition of Sir Willoughby Hickman Baronet was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That at the Election of Burgesses to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of East Retford, in the County of Nottingham, the Petitioner, John Thornhagh, and Thomas White, Esquires, stood Candidates: That the Petitioner desired of Edward Jackson and William Peet, Bailiffs of the said Borough, to admit the Petitioner, or some other Friend for him, into the Place of Election, to see that the same was fairly made, but they refused so to do; and, some time before the Election, disfranchised several Persons; and, at the Election, refused others to come into the Chamber, that demanded to vote for the Petitioner; and admitted others to vote for Mr. White, that had no Right: And the said Bailiffs, and Mr. White, used many other undue Practices, whereby Mr. White, procured himself to be returned, although the Petitioner was duly elected: And praying such speedy Relief in the Premises, as the House shall think fit.

Newport
Election.

A Petition of the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the Borough of Newport, in the County of Cornwall, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That at the late Election of Burgesses to serve in this Parliament for the Borough aforesaid, John Granville, John Prideaux, Francis Stratford, and John Morrice, Esquires, stood Candidates: That the Right of returning Members to Parliament is in the Electors, and Two annual Officers called Vianders: That Mr. Granville and Mr. Prideaux, were duly chosen, by a vast Majority; and that an Indenture, for their Return, was tendered to the Vianders, signed by the Electors; who refused to execute it, as also to take a Scrutiny; but promised to take a Scrutiny the next Day; withdrawing, with one Nicolas Morris Esquire, into another County: But, late in the Evening, one Richard Blight, a Servant to Mr. Nicolas Morris, by whom the Vianders were solely governed, came into the Borough, and, with the Tythingman, declared, That the Vianders had returned an Indenture for the said Mr. Francis Stratford, in Prejudice to the Right of Mr. Granville, and the Electors: All which was chiefly transacted by the said Nicolas Morris, who recommended the said Francis Stratford to the said Borough, and is Lord of the Manor, as Trustee to his Nephew Sir Nicolas Morris: That twice within Seven Years he got himself chosen a Viander, though not a Freeholder, which is contrary to the ancient Custom of the said Borough, to overawe the Tenants, and return whom he pleases to Parliament; which he unjustly put in Practice at an Election in 1698, when he returned Mr. Francis Stratford, in Wrong to Mr. Prideaux, who then had a Majority of Thirty-three Votes; and, as a Continuance of his arbitrary Proceedings, got, last Michaelmas, a mean Taylor, that works for a Groat a Day, and his Nephew's Servant, to be chosen Vianders; having once before gotten the said Servant, while a School-boy, to be chosen Viander: And praying the House to take the Premises into Consideration; and put a Stop to such arbitrary Proceedings, whereby the Petitioners Rights and Liberties are perverted.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections: And that they do examine the same; and report the Matter, with their Opinion therein, to the House.

A Petition of Thomas Vernon and William Ball Esquires was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners were duly elected Burgesses to serve in this present Parliament for Clifton-Dartmouth-Hardness, in the County of Devon: That the Sheriff's Precept was delivered to Joseph Bully, the Mayor of the said Borough, who proceeded regularly to the Election; where all Parties joined; and the Petitioners had the Majority upon the Poll, were declared duly elected, and returned, by the said Bully, to the Sheriff by Indenture annexed to the Precept; and the Common Seal of the Corporation was put to the said Indenture; and the Sheriff sent the Indenture to one Thomas Granger, of Lyons Inn, and also the Writ for Election; and the Indenture ought to have been fixed to the Writ, and returned therewith into the Crown Office: But the said Granger hath returned another Indenture, with the said Writ, into the said Office; and hath suppressed the first mentioned Indenture; in Prejudice of the Petitioners: And praying, That such Proceedings may be had, in relation to the Premises, as the House shall think fit.

Address.

Mr. Speaker reported, That his Majesty had been pleased, upon Tuesday last, to make a most gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament; and that, to prevent Mistakes, he had desired and obtained a Copy thereof; which he read to the House, and is as followeth; viz.

The King's
reported.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

OUR great Misfortune, in the Loss of the Duke of Gloucester, hath made it absolutely necessary, that there should be a further Provision, for the Succession to the Crown in the Protestant Line, after me and the Princess. The Happiness of the Nation, and the Security of our Religion, which is our chiefest Concern, seems so much to depend upon this, that I cannot doubt but it will meet with a general Concurrence; and I earnestly recommend it to your early and effectual Consideration.

The Death of the late King of Spain, with the Declaration of his Successor to that Monarchy, has made so great an Alteration in the Affairs abroad, that I must desire you, very maturely, to consider their present State: And I make no doubt, but your Resolutions thereupon will be such, as shall be most conducing to the Interest and Safety of England, the Preservation of the Protestant Religion in general, and the Peace of all Europe.

These things are of such Weight, that I have thought them most proper for the Consideration of a new Parliament, to have the more immediate Sense of the Kingdom in so great a Conjunction.

I must desire of you, Gentlemen of the House of Commons, such Supplies, as you shall judge necessary, for the Service of the current Year: And I must particularly put you in mind of the Deficiencies, and publick Debts, occasioned by the late War, that are yet unprovided for.

I am obliged further to recommend to you, That you would inspect the Condition of the Fleet; and consider what Repairs or Augmentations may be requisite for the Navy; which is the great Bulwark of the English Nation, and ought, in this Conjunction most especially, to be put in a good Condition: And that you would also consider, what is proper for the better Security of those Places where the Ships are laid up in Winter.

The Regulation and Improvement of our Trade is of so publick Concern, that I hope it will ever have your serious Thoughts; and if you can find proper Means of setting the Poor at Work, you will ease yourselves of a very great Burden, and, at the same Time, add so many useful Hands to be employed in our Manufactures, and other publick Occasions.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I hope there will be such an Agreement and Vigour, in the Resolutions you shall take upon the important Matters now before you, as may make it appear we are firmly united among ourselves; and, in my Opinion, nothing can contribute more to our Safety at Home, or to our being considerable Abroad.

Resolved, Nemine contradicente, That this House will, To-morrow Morning at Eleven a Clock, take into Consideration his Majesty's most gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament.

King's
considered.

A Motion being made, and the Question being proposed, That this House will stand by and support his Majesty, and his Government; and take such effectual Measures as may best conduce to the Interest and Safety of England, the Preservation of the Protestant Religion, and the Peace of Europe;

Resolution to
King.

An Amendment was proposed to be made, to leave out "and the Peace of Europe."

And the Question being put, That those Words stand Part of the Question;

The House divided.

Intercepted Letter from Earl of Perth.

My dearest Brother, Friday, 18. Feb. 1700.

Since I promised to put in Writing what we had not Time to talk fully of, I am set down to it in the Morning, that my Letter may be ready for the Messenger, if any call.

I told you all that I had heard at Versailles, and the favourable Audience I had of Madame de Maintenon; for which I beg it of you to return my most humble Thanks to the Queen, and beg of her to be so good as to thank Madame de Maintenon, and know from her what can be done in that Matter: It will be a great Charity in the Queen.

I told you, amongst other Things, the great Fleet the King intends to put out this Summer, the Orders being given, and the Money ready, the Stores full, and every one concerned active in their Stations: There is no Doubt but this Fleet will be Master of the Sea for some Time, if not for all the Summer; because the Dutch dare not stir till the English be ready; and they have long Debates yet before they can be in a Condition to act, if they have the Will; and it is a Question if they will have it at all.

The King never had so favourable a Conjuncture, if he can persuade this King, that his Affairs are really in the Circumstances they are in: But there is the Difficulty.

The King and Queen have more Authority with the King and Madame de Maintenon, than any other in the World can have: But that is not all: There should be some one acceptable to the Ministers, who should lay before them these Proofs their Majesties cannot enter into the Detail of, and explain the Reasons, make Plans and Memoirs by their Majesties Approbation, to convince them of the Necessity, and to shew the Easiness of restoring the King, the Glory it brings to their King, and the Advantage to Religion.

How this will be done, their Majesties are wise enough to consider; and I think it is not a Subject fit for me to enter upon: But their Friends in general, who know not the Half of what I know in this Matter, think that it will not be well done by a Protestant Minister, lazy in his Temper, Enemy to France by his Inclination, tainted with Commonwealth Principles, and against the King's returning by any other Power than that of the People of England, upon Capitulation and Terms; who is suspected of giving Aim to the Compounders, if not worse.

That Mr. Caryl is qualified, no man doubts; but, in Society with the other, those who must be instrumental, will not trust him as he ought; so that, so long as the other is within Distance of penetrating the Affairs, they will never think themselves secure.

And yet the King has no such Game to play as by these very Persons who are thus diffident; namely, the true Church of England Party, the Catholics, and the Earl of Arran: And I shall say something as to every one of

Intercepted
Letter from Earl of

of them. The King cannot but be sensible, that the true Church of England Party, and their Principal Head, now, the Bishop of Norwich, has been silent of a long Time; and their Majesties may remember what Weight the Court of France laid upon their joining the King (I mean the non-swearing Clergy) in case of a Landing.

Therefore all Arts should be tried without Delay, to get them to enter into Correspondence again; and every Impediment ought to be removed; I say, without Exception: And though sometimes it is of hard Digestion for Sovereigns, who ought to be obeyed without Reserve, to yield to the Humours of Subjects; yet Prudence should teach them, when they cannot, without hurting their Affairs, do what they would, to do what they can; and remember the Fable of the Dog, who lost the Substance for the Shadow.

Assurances from the Non-swearers, the soundest and venerablest Part of the English Church, would be of great Use at this Time, to persuade France to undertake this great Affair: For, besides their own Example at a Landing, and their Preaching and Writing to the People, that their Religion was in no Danger; 'tis most certain, they know better than any others can, what the Church of England in general would do for the King's Service; and they being to run all the Hazard, would be better believed at the Court of France than any other, as I found by Experience.

As to the Catholicks, and others associate with them, unfortunately for the King, they were thought to have too much Inclination for me; and so have been reckoned as useless to the King: But I must beg Leave to say, That Undertaking was the best Feather in his Wing, and was most thought so by him, and by the Court of France too, even to that Degree, that they pretended, if this and the other Article concerning the Clergy, could be made appear, they would concur with the King to invade England. They consisted of Seven Regiments of Horse and Dragoons; their Arms, Trumpets, Kettle Drums, Standards, &c. were all ready, and are yet in Security; their Men were all listed, and their Officers chosen, and they had Twenty Horses to a Troop; which Troops lying at a Distance in a Horse Country, Twenty Horses would soon have mounted the rest.

Those who could not divine the Greatness, and the Use, of the Undertaking, blamed the Rashness of it; and even some Churchmen have not been disapproved for endeavouring undutifully, because contrary to the King's written Orders, to break the Design: But I desire you now, for all this, to believe that you have not such another Argument to use to the Court of France as this: And if you could make it appear, as it might have been done some Years ago, I should have very good Hopes of this Summer's Work: Nay, let the King have what other Hopes, or even Promises, you please, from the Court of France, this is to be encouraged; and, if possible, to be put in the Circumstances it was in; for, if ever there be a Landing in England to Purpose, it must be before they can be armed; and they cannot be armed before the Parliament come to a Resolution concerning the War; and considering the few Troops in England, suppose these Men to be no better than Militia, what a Diversion would it be!

It is not necessary for me to say any more of this Article, till I know whether their Majesties have as good an Opinion of this Undertaking as I have. If so, I shall shew what I think to be done in it: If otherwise, I shall save the Pains.

As to the Earl of Arran, it would be of great Use to have an Understanding with him: He will have none where . . . . . can pry; his All is at Stake; and he ought to be wary with whom he ventures to deal.

I think it better for the King's Service, that the Court Party prevailed in the Manner they have done in the Parliament of Scotland, than that the Country Party should have got their Will: Opposition swells the Waters, to a Flood; and so long as the Country Party is not discouraged, they gain more Ground in the Kingdom than they lose in Government; so that the Disaffection to the Government will increase; and one may judge of the Nation in general, which is of another Temper than this pretended Parliament, or rather Presbyterian Rabble, ill representing the Nation; for since, even in it, there is such a Struggle against the Government, what would there be in a free Parliament, which the P . . . . . of O . . . . . durst never hazard to call?

The Nation then, at least a great Part of it, being disaffected to this Government, it is of the last Consequence, that E. Arran may know what to do in case of an Invasion of England; or in case he and his Friends be obliged, for Self-preservation, to rise for their own Defence.

The Army, who are, and ever were, well affected, are to be gained by Money; and a little goes a great Way with them.

The disbanded Troops would be engaged, and the Officers are well inclined.

The Places of Strength would be secured, and such as can be put in Defence, without Expences, fortified.

To do all this, at least such a Part of them as can be begun with, a small Sum will serve; and he ought to have Hopes of it, and of the Command.

These being only Heads to be discoursed of, and much to be said of every Part, it is not thought, that this Letter can carry a final Conclusion; for it may be, upon Discourse, I might change my Mind, or be more confirmed in, and see further.

This makes me insist again to you upon Two Things, as appearing to me absolutely necessary, to put Things upon a right Foot.

The First is the Removing of all Impediments out of the Way, and sending all suspected Persons to Champagne or Burgundy, according to their Goust.

And the Second is of the last Use, both to their Majesties and the Prince: Which is the establishing of such a Number, under no Qualification to talk of their Affairs in their Majesties Presence, with whom we can freely converse and propose what may be for their Majesties Service.

As for the first; it will be for the King's Reputation, both at the Court of Rome, France, and with all his true Friends in England, for many Reasons.

As for the Second; it is according to Scripture, "In the Multitude of Counsellors there is Safety."

Nothing is so dangerous as first to determine what one will do, and then hear Reasons against it; and imitate the deaf Adder, who hearkens not to the Voice of the Charmer, let him charm never so sweetly: Reasons against a Resolution taken, offend; and the more Force they have, they offend the more; whilst, before the Resolution be taken, Reason has its effect, and the Determinations are not the Effects of Humour and Faction, but of Prudence and Justice.

If in any thing I fail, I will swear 'tis Want of Understanding, and not of Will; and I beg, that their Majesties may be persuaded, that it is not Humour nor Vanity, but their Service, I have in my View: Who am, my dearest Brother,

Most humbly yours.

There are no Letters from England, I expect, and am promised.

I forgot to tell you, that the Conjuncture ought to be improved, so long as the Court of France have the ill Opinion of the Prince of Orange's Treachery, discovered lately, in their Hands.

Gentlemen,

I thank you for this Address, and your ready Concurrence to those great Ends therein mentioned, which I take to be extremely important to the Honour and Safety of England; and I assure you, I shall never propose any thing but what is for our common Advantage and Security.

Having this Occasion, I think it proper to acquaint you, That Yesterday I received a Memorial from the Envoy Extraordinary of the States General, a Translation whereof I leave with you: As to the First Part of it, I think it necessary to ask your Advice; and, as to the latter Part, I desire your Assistance.

States General's Memorial.

And that his Majesty had been pleased to put into his Hand the said Memorial: Which he read to the House; and is as followeth; viz.

The underwritten Envoy Extraordinary of the States General of the United Provinces has Order to represent to your Majesty, with great Respect, That their High and Mightinesses having considered, that their Delays in owning the Duke of Anjou for King of Spain were subject to sinister Interpretations, as if all their Aim had been to gain Time to put themselves into a Posture to make War, having thought themselves obliged to proceed to the acknowledging the Duke of Anjou without any Conditions, reserving to themselves to stipulate, in the Negotiation they are now entering upon, the necessary Conditions for securing the Peace of Europe; in such Negotiation the States are firmly resolved not to do any thing without the Concurrence of your Majesty, and the other Potentates concerned in the Preservation of the said Peace, as they have expressly declared to the Ambassador of France. The Underwritten has, in particular, the strictest Orders to give your Majesty the most positive Assurances that can be, that the States will not take any Step in this important Affair, but in Concert with your Majesty; praying, to that Purpose, that you will please to give your Minister at the Hague Instructions, and necessary Orders, to act jointly in this Negotiation; not to conclude any thing one without the other, and unless England and Holland shall equally find their Security; which, at the same time, tends to the Confirmation of the publick Quiet: But as it may so happen, that it shall not be possible to agree with France and Spain on reasonable Conditions; and so, the Negotiation being interrupted, the States should on a sudden be attacked by the numerous Forces that France has sent to their very Frontiers; they have ordered the Underwritten to represent to your Majesty the extreme Necessity they shall have, in so great a Danger, of the Assistance of England; and to desire your Majesty will be pleased to order the Succours, agreed on by the Treaty, to be in a Readiness; so that, if Occasion be, they may depend upon them. At London,  $\frac{1}{2}$  February 1701.

Adm. Van Borsssele,
Tot' Gelder Malsen.

Resolved, Nemine contradicente, That this House will, upon Thursday Morning next, at Eleven a Clock, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider of his Majesty's gracious Answer.

The King's
considered.

Resolved, That an humble Address be presented to his Majesty by such Members of this House, as are of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, That he will please to cause the Treaty between England and the States General, of the 3d of March 1677, and all the Renewals thereof since that time, to be laid before the House.

Treaty
land, 1677.

The House, according to Order, resolved itself into a Supply Committee of the whole House, to consider of the Motion made on Saturday last, for a Supply to be granted to his Majesty.

Mr. Speaker left the Chair.

Mr. Conyers took the Chair of the Committee.

Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair.

Mr. Conyers reported from the said Committee, That they had come to a Resolution; which they had directed him to report, when the House will please to receive the same.

Ordered, That the Report be made To-morrow Morning at Eleven a Clock.

And then the House adjourned till To-morrow Morning, Nine a Clock.

13° Gulielmi Tertii.

PRAYERS.

A PETITION of the Serge or Worsted-weavers, Woollen Manufacturers, and other Woollen-weavers, living in and near the Town of Taunton, in the County of Somerset, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That many Thousand Persons are employed in the said Trade, the most laborious of whom can scarce get a Maintenance, by reason that many who never served their Time to it, intrude into their Trade, and sink the Wages usually given, upon a general received Notion there, that Serge-weaving is no Trade within the Statutes requiring Seven Years Apprenticeship; whereby the Poor of Taunton are very very much increased: And praying the House to commiserate their low Condition, and relieve them therein, by such Means as the House shall think most meet.

Ordered, That a Committee be appointed to inspect the Laws in being, relating to the Woollen Manufactures:

And it is referred to Mr. Clark, Sir Edward Seymour, Mr. Fortescue, Sir John Kay, Mr. England, Mr. Harvey, Sir William Coriton, Mr. Rowney, Mr. Clayton, Sir Robert Cotton, Sir John Molesworth, Sir Jacob Ashley, Mr. Musgrove, Mr. Mounsteven, Sir William Robinson, Mr. Graham, Mr. Boscawen, Mr. Chetwyn, Mr. Godolphin, Mr. Dyot, Sir John Phillips, Mr. Rolt, Mr. Birch, Mr. Henley, Sir Hump. Mackworth, Mr. Brewer, Mr. Roberts, Sir Bryan Stapleton, Mr. Blofield, Mr. Thompson, Sir John Cotton, Mr. Pierpoint, Mr. Dolben, Sir Barth. Shower; and all that serve for the Counties of Cornwall, Devon, Gloucester, Norfolk, Somerset, Wilts, Suffolk, and York: And they are to meet this Afternoon, at Five a Clock, in the Speaker's Chambers.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the said Committee: And that they do examine the Matter thereof; and report the same, with their Opinion therein, to the House.

Ordered, That it be an Instruction to the said Committee, That they do consider of, and report their Opinion, what more is necessary for the Regulation and Improvement of the Woollen Manufactures of this Kingdom.

Ordered, That it be an Instruction also to the said Committee, That they do consider what may be necessary for the Improvement of the Linen Manufacture.

Truro Writ.

Hugh Fortescue Esquire, being elected a Burgess for the Borough of Tregoney; and also a Burgess for the Borough of Truro, in the County of Cornwall; made his Election to serve for the said Borough of Tregony.

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do issue his Warrant to the Clerk of the Crown; to make out a new Writ for the Electing a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough of Truro, in the room of the said Mr. Fortescue.

Lamps to be set up on Stairs of the House.

Ordered, That Lamps be set up every Night upon the Stairs to this House, and in the Passages, and other convenient Places, for the better Accommodation of the Members, in their Attendance upon the Service of the House, and Committees.

Order against Gaming.

Ordered, That the Constables in waiting do take care there be no Gaming, or other Disorders, in Westminster-hall, during the Sitting of Parliament; and that there be no Annoyance by Chairmen, or otherwise, thereabouts.

Attendance of Committee of Privileges.

Ordered, That the Serjeant at Arms attending this House do give Orders to the Doorkeepers and Messengers of the House, constantly to attend the Committee of Privileges and Elections, and other Committees sitting in the House, and take care that no Person do croud or sit upon the Stairs, either below, or above, in the Gallery where the Members ought to sit; and that such Witnesses as shall be examined at the said Committee do attend in the Lobby, and be called in one by one, and severally examined; and then withdraw, for others to come in, and be examined; and that the Passage be kept clear for that Purpose.

Ordered and Declared, That the said Orders be standing Orders of the House.

List of the Royal Navy, &c.

Sir George Rooke, according to Order, presented to the House a List of all the Ships and Vessels of his Majesty's Royal Navy, with the Condition of such as are in Ordinary, according to the present Appearance thereof; and where those at Sea, and ordered to Sea, now are: And also,

An Account of what Ships are in the Downes, ordered to the Downes, and what are ordered to be fitted out and manned, &c. And also,

Treaty with Holland.

Mr. Secretary Hedges acquainted the House, That his Majesty, according to their Address, had been pleased to give him Direction to lay before this House, Copies of the Treaty with the States General of the United Provinces, of the 3d of March 1677; and the Renewals thereof, since that time: And he presented the same to the House accordingly; viz.

A Copy of the Treaty of the 3d of March 1677, and the Translation thereof: And also,

A Copy of the Ratification of the 17th of August 1685, and the Translation thereof: And also,

A Copy of the Renewal of the Treaties of the 24th of August 1689, and a Translation thereof:

The Titles whereof were read:

And the said Translations are as follow; viz.

The said Translation of the Treaty of the 3d of March 1677.

Whereas the most Serene King of Great Britain, besides the strict Engagements he has already entered into with the States General of the United Provinces, for the Preservation of the Spanish Netherlands, and the Support of their common Interest of that Part of Europe, is very desirous to come, at the same time, into a perpetual defensive League with the said States, for the mutual Preservation of each other, their Subjects and Countries, against all those that should undertake to attack them, or molest or injure them in any wise whatsoever: And the said States, being likewise desirous, on their Part, to enter into the said perpetual Alliance of a defensive Treaty with his Majesty, have given Power to Mr. Van Beuninghen, their Ambassador, with his Majesty, to treat and conclude the said Alliance: His said Majesty having named on his Side, for Commissioners, Heneage Baron Finch, Lord High Chancellor of England; Thomas Earl of Danby, Lord High Treasurer of England; Henry Earl of Arlington, Lord Chamberlain of his Majesty's Household; Henry Coventry Esquire, and Sir Joseph Williamson Knight, his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State: The said Commissioners, and the said Ambassador after several Meetings and Conferences, have, by virtue of their respective Powers, Copies whereof are inserted at the End of these Presents, agreed and concluded that which followeth:

There shall be, for the future, between the King, and his Successors, Kings of Great Britain, and his Kingdoms, on one, and the States General of the United Provinces on the other Side, their States, and Territories belonging to them, and their Subjects reciprocally, a sincere, firm, and perpetual Friendship, and good Correspondence, as well by Sea as by Land, in all Things, and every where, both without and within Europe.

Moreover, there shall be between his Majesty, and his Successors, Kings of Great Britain, and his Kingdoms, and the said States General, and their States, and Territories belonging to them, a strict Alliance and faithful Confederation for the mutual Preservation and Maintenance of each other in Tranquillity, Peace, Amity, and Neutrality, by Sea and Land; and in the Possession of all the Rights, Privileges, and Liberties, they enjoy, or have Right to enjoy, or which they have acquired, or shall obtain by Treaties of Peace, Amity, and Neutrality, heretofore made, or which shall hereafter be made, jointly, and in common Concert, with other Kings, Republicks, Princes, and Cities: Yet all this within the Extent of Europe only.

(3.)

And therefore they both promise and oblige themselves to keep not only all the Treaties, which his Majesty and the said States General have already made with other Kings, Republicks, Princes and States, which shall be exhibited by both Parties, before the Exchange of the

VOL. 13

Ratifications; but also all those which they shall make hereafter, jointly, and in common Concert; and to defend, assist, and maintain, one another reciprocally in the Possession of the Countries, Cities, and Places, which at present belong, or hereafter shall appertain, as well to his Majesty, and his Successors, Kings of Great Britain, as to the said States General, by the aforesaid Treaties, in whatsoever Part of Europe the said Countries, Towns, and Places, are situated; in case, that in whatsoever is abovementioned, his Majesty, or the said States General, shall be disturbed, or attacked by any Hostility, or open War, by whom, or upon what Pretence, soever.

The reciprocal Obligation to assist and defend each other, is likewise understood for preserving and maintaining his Majesty, and the said States General, their Countries and Subjects, in all their Rights, Possessions, Immunities, and Liberties, as well of Navigation and Commerce, as in all other respects both by Sea and Land, which shall belong to them by common Right, or which they shall acquire by Treaties made, or to be made, as aforesaid against all Kings, Princes, Republicks, or States: So that, if, in Prejudice of the said Tranquillity, Peace, Amity or Neutrality, present or future, his Majesty, or the said States General, shall hereafter be attacked, or in any other Manner whatsoever disturbed in the Possession of the Dominions, Territories, Towns, and Places, Rights, Immunities, and Liberties of Commerce, Navigation, or otherwise, which his Majesty, or the said States General, enjoy at present, or shall have Right to enjoy, by common Law, or by Treaties already made, or which shall be made as aforesaid; his Majesty, and the said States General, having Notice thereof, and being desired one by the other, shall jointly do their utmost to stop any Disturbance or Hostility, and to procure Satisfaction for the Wrong and Injuries done to one of the Allies.

And in case the said Attack or Disturbance should be followed by an open Rupture, he of the Two Allies that shall not be attacked, shall be obliged to break, Two Months after the first Request of the Ally that shall already be in the Rupture; during which time he shall do his Endeavours by his Ambassadors, or other Ministers, to mediate an equitable Agreement between the Aggressor or Disturber, and the Attacked or Disturbed: And, notwithstanding, shall in the mean time, give a strong Succour to his Ally, such as shall be agreed on by the separate Articles between his Majesty and the said States General; which, though there be no mention made of them in this present Article, shall be kept and observed as if they were therein inserted and written: However, after the Expiration of the said Time of Two Months, it shall be left to the choice of him of the Allies, that shall be in the Rupture, to continue to enjoy the Advantage of the said Succour, in case the Conjunction of the Time, and the State of his Affairs, make him prefer the Effect thereof before that of an open Rupture of his Ally.

The reciprocal Guaranty being in this manner settled and promised, when either of the Allies shall be attacked or disturbed; if the State of the United Provinces comes to be attacked, and shall be obliged to enter into an open War, his Majesty shall likewise be obliged to break with the Aggressor or Disturber, and to employ all his Power, and all his Forces by Sea and Land, and to join them with those of the said States General, when it shall be thought convenient, in order to bring the common Enemy to an honourable, safe, and equitable Agreement with Great Britain, and the said United Provinces.

(7.)

And, in this case, the Forces of his Majesty of Great Britain, and of the said States General, shall act jointly and separately, according to what shall be then more particularly concerted between his Majesty and the said States General; who, together, shall advise and resolve upon the most proper Ways and Means to annoy the common Enemy, either by way of Diversion or otherwise, to the end, as aforesaid, that he may the sooner be brought to an Agreement.

Treaty with
Holland.

(8.)

The same that is contained in the Two Articles, which do immediately precede this, shall be performed by the said States, in case England shall be attacked or disturbed in the Manner aforesaid.

(9.)

When once the War is begun by both Allies, according to the present Treaty, neither of the Allies shall make any Cessation of Arms with him that is declared and owned for an Enemy, unless jointly, and by common Consent.

(10.)

If it should happen, that a Negotiation should be entered upon, either to treat of a Peace, or a Truce for some Years; the same shall not be commenced by either of the Allies without the Participation of the other, and without his procuring at the same time, and as soon as to himself, the Liberty and Security requisite and necessary for sending his Ministers to the Place of Treaty; as also shall communicate constantly, and from time to time, all that shall pass in the said Negotiation; and neither the one nor the other shall come to a Conclusion of the said Peace or Truce, without comprehending therein his Ally, and restoring him, if he desires it, to the Possession of his Country, Territories, or Places, and Enjoyment of the Rights and Immunities, which he held and enjoyed before the War; and without stipulating with the common Enemy, for his Ally, the same Rights, Immunities, Exemptions, and Privileges, as for himself; unless it shall be otherwise agreed between the Allies.

(11.)

It shall be permitted to him of the Allies that shall be attacked, to raise all Sorts of Men fit for War in the Dominions of the other, to serve in their Land Armies, provided it be done by Capitulations, such as both Parties shall agree upon between themselves.

(12.)

The Ratifications of this present Treaty shall be given in due Form, and exchanged on both Sides, within the Space of Four Weeks, from the Signing thereof.

In Witness whereof, the said Commissioners, and the said Ambassador, have signed and sealed these Presents. Done at Westminster, the 3d March 1677.

Separate Articles.

If the Case mentioned in the 5th Article shall happen, the said King, and his Successors, and the said States General, shall be obliged mutually to assist each other, as often as they are attacked or disturbed, as it is more at large expressed in the said Article, with Succours; viz. His Majesty of Great Britain the States General, with 10,000 Foot; and the said States General his Majesty with 6,000 Foot, well armed, under such Regiments, Companies, Colonels, and other Officers, as his said Majesty, and the said States, shall think fit, and judge most proper, for such an Assistance; and with Twenty Men of War, well equipped and provided: And the said Succour shall be delivered and maintained at the Cost of him that sends the same for the Service of him that shall be attacked.

If the Necessity of Affairs make it judged and acknowledged, that the Succour promised and granted ought to be augmented, the said King, and States General, shall use their Endeavours to agree about it.

(3.)

The Succour which shall be sent shall be wholly under the Command and Order of him to whom it is sent, to make use thereof, and to carry them to such Places as he shall think fit, by Water and Land, in the Field, at Sieges, for the Guarding of Places, and wheresoever his Necessity or Advantage shall require.

In Witness whereof, the Commissioners of the King of Great Britain, and the Ambassador of the States General, have signed and sealed these separate Articles. Done at Westminster, the 3d March 1677.

And whereas the said King of Great Britain, and the said States, are at present in War against the most Christian King; and as the said King of Great Britain, and States General, are under a reciprocal Obligation to assist, defend, maintain, and preserve, mutually each other, their Countries and Subjects, in their Possessions, Immunities, and Liberties, as well of Navigation as Commerce, and other Rights whatsoever, both by Sea and Land, against all Kings, Princes, and States, and particularly the said most Christian King; and for the better attaining to a just and reasonable Peace, which may re-establish the Quiet and Tranquillity of Europe; it is agreed between the said King of Great Britain, and the said States, That there shall not any Suspension of Arms, Truce, or Peace, be agreed on between any of the said Allies, and the most Christian King, or any other King, Prince, or State, whereby either of the said Allies may be molested or attacked, but jointly, and by common Consent.

And whereas the said King of Great Britain, and the said States General, have already entered into a Treaty of Concert for the employing their Forces this Year against the said most Christian King; it is determined and resolved, That they shall speedily agree upon other Articles and Conditions, in relation to the Numbers and Employing of their Troops, and Men of War, in such manner as shall be thought most convenient, to act with better Success against the common Enemy.

(7.)

It is further agreed between the said King of Great Britain, and the said States, That if, after a Peace is made with the most Christian King, jointly, and with common Consent, as it is above-mentioned, either of the Parties shall be attacked afresh by the most Christian King, or if either of the Parties shall be attacked by any other King, Prince, or State; in such Case, the Treaty of Alliance and Guaranty above-mentioned, concluded the 3d Day of March in the Year 1677, between the Crown of England and the said States, which is also approved of, and confirmed by this present Treaty, shall subsist then in all its utmost Extent; and shall be executed in all its Points and Articles, as if the same, or a like Treaty, had been made anew, and since the Conclusion of the Peace with the said most Christian King; with this Variation only, that the War happening in the Case mentioned in the 4th Article of this Treaty, none of the said Allies shall make any Suspension of Arms, Truce, or Peace, with the said most Christian King, or other Aggressor, but jointly and by common Consent.

(8.)

In this present Treaty shall be comprehended all Kings, Princes, and States, who shall be willing to enter into it before the Exchange of the Ratifications, or within Six Months after, with the common Consent of his Majesty, and the said States.

(9.)

The present Treaty shall be ratified, and approved of, by the said King, and the said States, and the Letters of Ratification shall be delivered by the one and the other, in good and usual Form, within the Term of Six Weeks, or sooner, if possible, to be reckoned from the Day of the Signing thereof.

In Witness whereof, his Majesty's above-mentioned Commissioners, and the Ambassadors Extraordinary aforesaid, by virtue of their respective Powers, have signed these Presents in their ordinary Manner of signing; and have caused their Coat of Arms to be set thereunto. Concluded at Westminster, the 24th Day of August 1689.

VOL. 13.

and to some gave Money, Promises, Gratuities, Threats, and even Confinement, for their Votes; by which, and other illegal Proceedings, the said Mr. Cornwall hath procured himself returned, as the Petitioners Representative, in Violation of their Rights, and the Freedom of Elections: And praying the House to make void Mr. Cornwall's Election, and to punish the Offenders therein, that the Liberties of the said Borough may be preserved for the future.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections: And that they do examine the Matter thereof, and report the same, with their Opinion therein to the House.

A Petition of John Asgill Esquire, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioner was duly chosen a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Bramber, in the County of Sussex; but, by undue Means, Tho. St. Quintin, and Mr. Maisters, by themselves or Agents, did illegally procure Votes, by Money, Entertainments, and Promises of Reward: And praying such Relief in the Premises, as to the House shall seem meet.

Denbigh,

Denbigh, demand, That the said Foreigners and Strangers ought to vote in the Election; and brought near 500 of them; which gave the Petitioners much Disturbance, Sir Robert pretending to a Majority by such Assistance; which Proceedings, if permitted, may cause the Election of a Burgess to Parliament to be at the Pleasure of any one Person, as Mayor; and manifestly tends to subvert the Constitution of Parliament, and the Freedom and Rights of the Borough of Holt: And praying the Consideration of the House in the Premises.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of Privileges and Elections: And that they do examine the Matter thereof; and report the same, with their Opinion therein, to the House.

of Account—
Army Debts,
&c.

They were called in; and at the Bar, presented to the House a Report, or an Account, of their Proceedings; together with some Accounts and Papers relating thereunto.

And then they withdrew.

And the said Report, or Account, and the Titles of the other Papers and Accounts, were read;

And the said Report, or Account, is as followeth; viz.

An Account of the Proceedings of the Commissioners appointed by an Act of Parliament, made in the 11th and 12th Years of his Majesty's Reign, to take, examine, and determine, the Debts due to the Army, Navy, and for Transport Service; and also an Account of the Prizes taken during the late War; delivered in to the Honourable House of Commons, in Obedience to an Order dated the 24th Day of this Instant February 1700-1.

May it please your Honours,

Army.] According to the Directions of the said Act, we applied ourselves with all Diligence, in the First Place, to the stating and determining the Arrears of Pay to the Officers who have served under his Majesty, either for the Reduction of Ireland, or in the War against France.

In order whereunto we gave frequent Notices by Precepts, Letters, and public Advertisements, to the Colonels and Agents of the respective Regiments, forthwith to lay their Accounts before us; as will appear in the Scheme herewith humbly presented, marked (A.)

Notwithstanding which, very few were brought to us before the First of September; but those that were, have been carefully examined and stated; and Certificates made by us for the Arrears thereof, to the Paymaster of his Majesty's Forces, within the Time limited by the Act, beginning with those whose Officers received Half-pay; of which Arrears we here present an Abstract, marked (B); wherein we have distinguished what is due upon the Account of Cloathing, what for Poundage, and what for the Royal Hospital at Chelsea.

And here we think it proper to observe, That, in the stating of those Accounts, we found several Sums of Money due to the private Soldiers, amounting to above 2,500 l.; which having no Power to certify, we took care to distinguish to the Paymaster, that he might retain the same for the further Direction of Parliament.

And that this Honourable House may not want any Observation we have been capable of making, we have prepared, and herewith offer, an Account of the several Sums of Money arising from Rescipes taken off, and other Allowances

Allowances made by Warrants, since the 10th of April 1700 ; contained in the Paper marked (C):

As also a Comparison of the Difference between the Arrears delivered into Parliament by the Paymaster of his Majesty's Forces, and those brought by him to us ; and between those, and the Arrears certified for ; as will appear, marked (D.)

After the Time for certifying was expired, hoping to have made a greater Progress in the remaining Accounts, we renewed our Letters, Precepts, and Notices, to the several Colonels, Agents, and Governors of Garisons, whose Accounts were not then brought in, to lay the same before us ; some of whom complying therewith, their Accounts have been examined and stated by us ; others have brought them so imperfect, that we could not examine and state them, till they were amended by the Colonels or Agents ; to whom they were given back for that Purpose, and are not yet returned ; though we have not been wanting to exert all our Power for their Assistance, where the same was found requisite or desired ; others have lately brought in their Accounts, which are now under Examination ; and the rest, notwithstanding all the Notice given, have not yet brought in any ; a List of all which is contained in the Paper marked (E.)

Navy.] The Result of the Inquiries which we have been hitherto able to make into the Debt of his Majesty's Navy Royal, on the 31st of December 1700, we humbly present under the several Heads in the Paper marked (F.)

Transport.] We have examined and stated the Accounts, brought before us, of the Principal Money due for Transport Service, which were not before adjusted and determined by Act of Parliament ; and have issued out Debentures, for the said Debt, to all Persons who have applied to us for the same ; and are ready to deliver out the rest, when the Persons concerned shall call for them ; the state of which Debt will appear in the Abstract marked (G.)

Prizes.] We have sent Precepts and Letters, and had several Conferences with, and Promises from, the present Commissioners for Prizes, to lay before us an Account of all Ships and Goods taken, and condemned as Prize, during the late War ; notwithstanding which, we have not been able to this Day to obtain any sort of Return thereto : But that we may be found, as we hope, to have pursued the proper Methods for attaining the Ends of our Commission in this Affair, we humbly offer a Copy of our First Precept to them, marked (H.)

Nor could we supply their Defect by the Applications we made to several other Officers, so as to come to any Knowledge either of the true Number or Nature of Prizes taken, or of the Disposal of them, or any Part of their Proceed, whereby we might give any Satisfaction therein to this Honourable House.

To all which we humbly crave Leave to add an Account of the Sums of Money received from the Exchequer, and otherwise, by the respective Treasurers of his Majesty's Navy, Paymasters of his Armies, and Cashiers of the Ordnance, between the 13th of February 1688, and the 24th of December 1699, amounting to near Forty-two Millions ; which will appear in the Paper marked (I) ; above one Half whereof has not yet been accounted for before the Auditors of the Imprests.

Wm. Farrer, S. L.)

Geo. Langton. (S. L.)

The other Papers to which the Report refers, with the Report also, are bound up with other Papers and Accounts of this Session.

Ordered, That the said Report, or Account, and Papers, do lie upon the Table, to be perused by the Members of the House.

Resolved, That this House will, upon Friday Morning next, at Eleven a Clock, take into Consideration the said Report, and Accounts.

VOL. 13.

Deficiencies of Parliamentary Funds.

And the Title thereof was read:

And the Account is as followeth; viz.

25. February

25 February 1700.	Exchequer Bills.	£.	s.	d.	£.	s.	d.
The Principal of all Exchequer Bills which were issued to amount to		-	-	-	2,699,990	0	0
The Bills cancelled, being satisfied out of the Capitation Duties, besides Interest		575,581	10	4
The Bills cancelled, upon the Act for One Shilling in the Pound upon Land, Anno 97, and the late Subsidy of Tonage and Poundage, did, besides Interest, amount to		1,097,724	0	0
The Bills cancelled, being satisfied out of Loans or Money on the Three Shillings Aid Anno 1698, did, besides Interest, make		156,052	0	0
					1,829,347	10	0

So the Principal, remaining upon the Exchequer Bills unsatisfied, is

Towards which there is now in the Exchequer of the said Funds	29	11	8
And the Arrears standing out of the Capitation, per Estimation	6,000	0	0
Arrears of the said Twelve-pence in the Pound upon Land, per Estimation	4,000	0	0
Arrears of the said late Aid of Three Shillings in the Pound, Anno 1698, per Estimation	35,000	0	0
	45,029	11	8½

So the Deficiency for Exchequer Bills, besides all Interest, due and to grow due, is

Memorandum: By Clauses in the Acts for the said Bills, Page 132, and 531, this Deficiency was chargeable on any Aids to be granted in Parliament.

Memorandum also: There are some Arrears of the said late Tonage and Poundage still unrecovered; but they are liable to Debentures.

Aid of Three Shillings in the Pound.

There was borrowed upon the First Three Shillings Aid, payable Anno 1697, at 8l. per Cent.	1,500,000	0	0
So the Principal Money, resting due, is	423,099	0	0

Memorandum: There are Arrears standing out of this Aid, of about 8000l. and the Arrears of this Tax have been applied to Interest, as fast as they could be recovered.

Duties on Paper and Parchment.

There was granted, for Two Years ending 1st March 1698, and the Loans thereupon, at 8 per Cent. did amount to	30,000	0	0
The said Duties have paid off, besides Interest	14,600	0	0
So the Principal, remaining unsatisfied upon these Duties, is	15,400	0	0

Malt Duties.

There were made forth in 10l. Tickets, bearing an Interest of a Farthing a Day until the 25th March 1699; and a Half-penny a Day from thenceforth as many as amounted to 1,217,930l. and in Benefit Tickets bearing no Interest, the Sum of 45,810l.; in both	1,263,740	0	0
The Principal paid off upon the 10l. Tickets, besides Interest, hath amounted to 650,000l.; and upon the Tickets 24,175l.; in both	674,175	0	0
So there remains in Principal Money, upon the 10l. Tickets, 567,930l. and upon the Benefits, 21,635l.; in both	589,565	0	0
To which, adding the Interest of the 10l. Tickets, at a Farthing a Day for a Year and Three Quarters, from Midsummer 1697, to Lady-day 1699, amounting to 37,788l. 1s.; and the Interest of the same at a Halfpenny a Day, for Two Years more, until Lady-day 1701, amounting to 86,372l. 13s. 9d.; in both	124,160	14	9

The Sum borrowed on this Tax, which was payable in the Year 1698, at 7l. per Cent. for the First 250,000l. and 8l. per Cent. for the Remainder was	499,820	17	0
Of which there has been repaid	270,050	0	0
So that, besides all Interest due, and to grow due, towards which the Sum of 16,000l. per Estimation, may still be collected of Arrears, there rests, to clear the Principal			229,770 17 0

Coffee,

Coffee, Tea, Hawkers, and Pedlars.

Memorandum, That, by a Clause in the Act, for Sale of forfeited Irish Estates, Fol. 55. it is provided, That the Principal and Interest of the said Exchequer Bills, and of the Tallies and Orders on the First Three Shillings Aid; and of the said Duties on Paper and Parchment; and of the Tickets, called the Malt Tickets; and of the Tallies and Orders on the said Third Quarterly Poll; shall be taken as Sterling Money, in purchasing the said Estates; but it does not yet appear how far the said Debts and Deficiencies will be lessened thereby.

Commissioners of Accounts Report respecting Prizes.

Commissioners of Accounts Report res-
Prizes.

And the House being informed, that the Commissioners of Accounts, and Commissioners of Prizes, attended, according to Order; they were called in: And, they being at the Bar, the said Report, or Account, and Precept, and the Scheme, were again read to them.

And the Commissioners of Accounts delivered in an Account of their Proceedings with the Commissioners of the Prize Office, in relation to the Business of Prizes: which was also read; and is as followeth; viz.

1700. As soon as we had given Notices, and sent out our Precepts and Letters, to the Officers of the Army, as we were directed by the Act first to do; we entered upon that Part of our Duty which relates to the taking an Account of the Prizes taken during the late War, and of the Proceed thereof; and upon the 20th May, made Inquiry, who were the present Commissioners thereof.

May, 27th, } A Precept was considered of, and prepared.

30. And sent away.

31. Delivered to Mr. Paschall, one of the Commissioners.

June 3d. Mr. Paschall, and Mr. Buckeridge, their Accountant, being called in; he acquainted the Board, That he had received their Precept of the 30th of May; and was come to shew, That they were not able, from the Books kept in their Office, or otherwise, to make a Return to several Particulars in the Schemes sent to them in the Precept: Which being called for, he instanced in Two or Three: To which he was told, That the Schemes were drawn upon an Expectation, that their Books and Accounts were kept in good Order and Method; and then they must be enabled to do it; there being none of them demanded without good Reasons, some of which were shewn in the Debates of the Board with him: At least he said, They would comply as far, and as soon, as they could; and in a few Days, lay before the Board, in Writing, their Reasons why they could not comply with the Whole.

June 29th. Mr. Buckeridge came from the Commissioners for Prizes, and brought a Paper, which, he said, contained Reasons, why the Commissioners could not comply with some Part of the Precept, which they received from this Board: Upon which the Board told him, They thought the Precept, which they sent, very well grounded; and that it was the Business of their Office, to have kept their Books and Entries in such a Method, as to have been able to answer the same: But, since they could not, the said Paper was returned him, with Directions, That, with the Return the said Commissioners do make, they signify under their Hands, That they are capable of sending nothing more.

July 2d. Mr. Brucer came to the Board from the Treasurer of the Prize Office, and desired to be informed, what was required of them by the Precept; acquainting the Board, That Mr. Buckeridge was able to have answered any thing that should be demanded of them, he having their Accounts in his Custody; as also, that Mr. Buckeridge always knew what Specie each Ship was sold for, whether Bank Notes, Exchequer Bills, or ready Money; and that the Treasurer, when any Sum was to be received, always had recourse to the Board, to know what they sold for, and in what Specie it was to be received; but that he did not say this, to shew any Unwillingness to obey the Precept: Upon which he was directed to give Mr. Buckeridge Notice to come to the Board, and to attend at the same time himself, that they might receive the Instructions of the Board together.

12. Mr. Brucer, from the Treasurer of the Prize Office, laid before the Board a Specimen of their Accounts, to know whether it would answer Expectation: Which being perused, the Scheme sent by this Board was likewise looked over; and he was acquainted, That the Board expected, that the Return, to be made to the Precept, should be according to the Particulars of that Scheme; and recommended it to him, to consult with Mr. Buckeridge, the Accountant to the said Office; so that the Whole might be answered accordingly: Which he promised to do.

August 20th. Mr. Buckeridge ordered to attend.

22. He did not attend as directed.

September 4th. A Second Precept considered of, and prepared: Which here follows.

By the Commissioners, &c.

5th, Whereas by our Precept, bearing Date the 30th Day of May last, you were required to make a Return thereto, on or before the 15th of June, following; and have, at other times, upon your personal Attendances on this Board, been pressed to bring in the Accounts therein mentioned; which not being yet complied with, we do hereby further require you to exhibit to us, at this Place, a distinct and full Return to our former Precept, on or before the 12th Day of this Instant: And for so doing, This shall be your sufficient Warrant. Given under our Hands, at York Buildings, this 5th Day of September 1700.

W. F. S. A. G. L.

To John Paschall, &c.

6th. Which was delivered to Mr. Paschall's Servant.

12th. No Return made, as was directed by this last Precept.

14. Mr. Buckeridge, from the Prize Office, came, and acquainted the Board, That Mr. Paschall not being in Town, was the Occasion that they did not attend the Board the 12th Instant, as the Precept directed; but that he had made some Progress in the Accounts, and they should be ready by Michaelmas: Upon which the Board told him, That it lay upon him to make all possible Dispatch; and that they should take Notice of the Time limited by their Precept, and when the Return to the same was made.

16th. Mr. Paschall, one of the Commissioners for Prizes, came and acquainted the Board, That he was not in Town when the Precept from this Board came to their Office; but he was in Hopes, last time he had attended this Board, that it was agreed to give them till Michaelmas; which he now desired: That he had employed more Hands, and did not doubt but to be ready at that time: To which he was answered, That this Board had set a Time by their Precept, and never altered the same, nor designed so to do: That the Time drew near for the Meeting of the Parliament, who would expect an Account from this Board of that Matter. Then he promised to bring what was ready done, to see if the Board could receive and proceed upon it: But failing to do it, a Third Precept was agreed on, and sent, as follows:

By, &c.

October 29th. Having received no Return to our Precept, notwithstanding the several Assurances you have given us, here, that your Accounts should long since be laid before us; we do hereby require a full Return to our former Precepts, on or before Friday the 1st of November next, or your Reasons in Writing, under your Hands, for your not complying therewith. Given under our Hands, at York Buildings, this 29th of October 1700.

S. A. G. L. W. F. T. L.

To John Parkhurst, &c.

November 1st. The following Letter was received from them in Answer thereto.

We, the Commissioners for Prizes, having received an Order from you, to lay before you our Accounts in a Method you then prescribed; and we having promised it should be performed by Michaelmas Day last; this is humbly to give you our Reason why we have not performed our Promise. We have endeavoured, with all Diligence possible, to have complied with your Order; but having long before dismissed all our old Clerks, though we have taken the best we could meet withal, yet they have been so dilatory and negligent, and made so many Mistakes, that much of it is to be done over again; by which means, we are become much behind hand in time: Now we are ready, as we are always willing, to lay before you our Accounts, in the Method they were kept by us; which if you think fit to accept of, your own Clerks will inform you of the Tediousness and Difficulty of such a Work put into a new Model: However, we shall not scruple our Pains; but, if you please to have Patience, we shall shall, in a short Time, and with all the Expedition imaginable, lay them before you, perfected in the Method you have prescribed. We are

Your most humble Servants,
John Parkhurst,
John Paschall.

November 11th. And, on the 11th, this Answer returned:

Gentlemen,

We are sorry your Clerks have been so dilatory and negligent, and made so many Mistakes, as you mention in your late Letter; and cannot guess, what sort of Method your Accounts should be kept in; that a Form prescribed by us, so essential, as we conceive, to the giving such Information to the Parliament, as we have Reason to believe they will expect from us, should create you so many Difficulties: For we ourselves are satisfied, without receiving any Information from our Clerks therein, That if the Accounts be kept in such a Method, as we doubt not Gentlemen of your Skill in Business would direct, there would be no other Tediousness or Difficulty, than the transcribing them into the Method we desired. Upon this Occasion, we cannot but observe to you, That more than Half the Time allowed us by Act of Parliament is now elapsed; and therefore we think ourselves obliged, again to press you for a Return to our Precept with all possible Expedition. We are, Gentlemen,

Your humble Servants,
W. F. T. L. T. M. S. A.

To the Commissioners for Prizes.

13th. And, on the 13th, the following Letter was received from Mr. Paschall:

Gentlemen,

I received yours of the 11th Instant; and do assure you, all possible Care is, and shall be, taken to make a Return to your Precept: Which will be done with all imaginable Speed. I am, Gentlemen,

Your most humble Servant,
John Paschall.

December 5th. Mr. Buckeridge ordered to attend.

7. Mr. Buckeridge, of the Prize Office, attended; and was put in Mind how far the Time was elapsed, in which it was expected their Accounts should have been brought in: To which he said, He had been very ill, otherwise they had been in great Forwardness; but that no Time should be lost; and he hoped they would be finished by Christmas.

Feb. 19th. The following Certificate was sent in a blank Cover to the Commissioners, &c.

I do hereby certify, That Mr. Buckeridge, who, I am informed, has been Accountant General to the Prize Office, is at present so very ill, that I look on him as unable to make up Accounts, which, he says, would have been completed in Three or Four Days; but still, I hope, that, in a Week's Time, he may be able to apply himself to Business, and to finish the before-mentioned Accounts.

Richard Blackmore.

And then the Commissioners of Prizes were heard.

And afterwards the Commissioners of Accounts, and Commissioners of Prizes, withdrew.

And John Parkhurst Esquire, a Member of this House, one of the Commissioners of Prizes, was heard in his Place.

And then he withdrew.

Ordered, That the said Account do lie upon the Table, to be perused by the Members of this House.

Mr. Lowndes also, according to Order, presented to the House, the Auditors Fees for the Accounts of the Navy Forces and Ordnance:

And the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

To the Honourable the Knights, Citizens, and Burghesses, assembled in Parliament.

In Obedience to an Order of this Honourable House, dated the 21 Instant; we do humbly lay before this House an Account of the Fees claimed by us, and allowed, for passing the annual Accounts hereafter mentioned: wherein we take Leave to set forth a short Scheme of the Method used by us, in examining and auditing the said Accounts; viz.

For auditing the Accounts of the Treasurer of the Navy, our Allowance is 25*l.* for every Hundred thousand Pounds accounted for by the said Treasurer; which abates or increases, according to the annual Charge of the Navy.

The said Allowance was granted to the Auditors, by Letters of Privy Seal of the late King Charles the Second, dated the 24th of December 1678, grounded on a Report thereof, made by the Honourable Charles Bertie Esquire, Sir Cha. Harbord Knight, and John Lawrence Esquire, to whom the Consideration thereof was referred by the Duke of Leeds, then Lord High Treasurer of England; and confirmed by Letters of Privy Seal of the late King James the 2d, dated the 23d December 1686.

In the examining and making up this Account for Declaration, we observe this Method; viz.

1st, We adjust the Charge, by transferring, and charging over all the Supers, from the Foot of the preceding Account, to the Account for the present Year.

2dly, We examine the Exchequer Charge, with an Imprest Certificate, signed by the Auditor of the Receipt, and Clerk of the Pells.

3dly, We examine and cast all the Rates of old unserviceable Stores, sold by the Navy Board, and other Parts of the voluntary Charge, signed by the Commissioners of the Navy.

In the Discharge is contained, all the Bills for Stores of all Kinds, bought for the Use of the Navy, being entered at large, and the Quantities and Rates thereof particularly set forth; which are all examined and cast by us: The said Leiger-book likewise contains the Salaries of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and principal Officers and Commissioners of the Navy, their Clerks, and others, attending the Business of the Navy in London, and the several Yards, together with the Wages of Ships and

Fees—
Navy and Ordnance

and Yards; all of which we examine, and compare with former Accounts, to prevent double Allowances.

Lastly, We take care to set Insuper, at the Foot of the Account, all Persons who have had any Money Imprested to them for the Service of the Navy; and discharge the said Supers, when they have cleared their Accounts; which done, the said Leiger is reduced under proper Heads, and drawn up in the Form of an Exchequer Account; and, after that, Three times ingrossed for Declaration.

For the annual Accounts of the Forces, is allowed us, ... virtue of his late Majesty's Letters of Privy Seal, and several Warrants under his now Majesty's Royal Sign Manual, 20s. for every Troop of Horse, and Company of Foot, with their Officers, which shall, from time to time, be mustered, and serving in his Majesty's Guards and Garisons, or otherwise, in his Majesty's Pay or Service.

In the stating, examining, and making up, of which Account for Declaration, we observe this Method; viz.

The Accountant's Leiger is signed only by himself; and therefore every Article of it to be vouched.

The Charge we compare with the Imprest-roll, and such other Authorities, by which any Money is issued to the Accountant.

The Discharge we compare with the several Muster-rolls, which are some Thousands, his Majesty's Warrants and Establishments; in examining whereof, besides the very great Trouble of computing the number of Officers and Soldiers in each Troop and Company, which are mustered at least Six times in a Year, we examine and compute each Man's different Pay with the Establishment; deduct all Respites, and compare the net Pay with his Majesty's Warrants, and the Acquittances of the Parties appointed to receive it: So that, besides the Trouble of computing each Man's Pay, and comparing it with the Establishments; there are few Articles in this Account, have less than Five Vouchers belonging to it, which are all examined: When the Account has been thus examined, it is then reduced under proper Heads, and drawn into the Form of an Exchequer Account, which is Three Times ingrossed for Declaration.

For the annual Accounts of the Treasurer, and Paymaster of the Ordnance, wherein is included the Accounts of the Armoury, and of the Tents and Toyls, our Allowance is 240*l.* per Annum; which has been annually allowed by the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury ever since the Year 1672: In the stating whereof, we examine the Quarter Books for Salaries of the principal Officers of the Ordnance, and their Clerks, of the several Store-keepers, Fire-workers, Gunners, Labourers, and others; and compare them with former Accounts, to prevent double Allowances: We likewise examine all Payments made upon Debentures, signed by the principal Officers of the Ordnance, for all Sorts of Stores relating to the Ordnance, for Workmanship, Repairs of Forts, &c. and cast the particular Rates therein; and take care, that the Payments be all duly executed; and, lastly, set Insuper, at the Foot of the Account, the several Persons that have had any Money imprested to them for the Service of the Ordnance, in order to their accounting for the same; and discharge the Supers standing out in former Years, and vacated in the present Year: And, when the Account has been thus examined, it is then reduced under proper Heads, and drawn into the Form of an Exchequer Account; and Three Times ingrossed for Declaration.

For Prizes, no Accounts have been brought to us; nor are any Allowances settled for taking these Accounts.

Herein we have humbly represented to this Honourable House a true Account of the Fees allowed to us for examining and auditing the Accounts before-mentioned; and humbly hope, your Honours will take into your Consideration the great Trouble, Care, and Trust, in the faithful Discharge of our Duties; as also, the great Charge we are at to our Deputies and Clerks, Rent of our Offices, Taxes, Stationary Wares, and all other Incidents borne by us out of the said Allowances: Which considered, we humbly hope the Allowances made us will not appear unreasonable.

Vol. 13.

All which is humbly submitted to this Honourable House.

Election.

A Petition of divers Inhabitants of the Borough of Hertford, in the County of Hertford, in behalf of themselves, and several other Inhabitants of the said Borough, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Mayor of Hertford did, at the late Election of a Burgess to represent the said Borough, in the room of Tho. Filmer Esquire, deceased, permit several pretended Freemen, who were arbitrarily, and contrary to their Charter, made so in the First of the late King James the 2d, to poll at the said Election; by means whereof, although Wm. Monson Esquire had the Majority of legal Voters for him, he hath unduly returned Richard Goulston Esquire; in Prejudice to the Rights of the Petitioners; who complained to the Parliament held in the First Year of his Majesty's Reign, of the like Proceedings: But the then Mayor, and several of the Aldermen, promising to desist from those Practices for the future, the Petitioners prosecuted their Petition no further: Yet the now Mayor, and some of the said Aldermen, have again violated the Rights and Privileges of the said Borough: And praying the Consideration of the House in the Premises, and Relief therein.

A Letter from Mr. H. Mason, to Mr. William Bransby, which was produced Yesterday, upon the Hearing touching the Election for the said Borough of Great Grimsby, being read; which is as followeth; viz.

Mr. Bransby,

I suppose Mr. Moor is not well approved on above; but I cannot desire you to be so dirty to your Friend, as to vote against him; but I would advise you not to stickle too much for him, lest you get yourself worse Enemies: I suppose the Lord William Powlett, and Sir Wm. St. Quintin, recommend one Mr. Cotesworth to oppose him; but do as you think fit, and accept of this seasonable Hint from a Friend, and burn it when you have read it: Extremes never do well. You will have a Surveyor General shortly, to inspect your Port, and what

Ordered, That the said Mr. Mason be, for his said Offence, taken into the Custody of the Serjeant at Arms attending this House.

Resolved, That this House will, upon Tuesday come Fortnight, take into further Consideration, what hath appeared to this House, in relation to the Election for the said Borough of Great Grimsby.

Duty on Stone, &c.

A Petition of several Persons, on the Behalf of themselves, and many others, who advanced to his Majesty the Sum of 464,700*l.* upon the Credit of an Act of Parliament, made in the Sixth and Seventh Years of his Majesty's Reign, for granting to his Majesty certain Rates and Duties on Stone, Glass, and Earthen-wares, Coals, and Culm, for the Term of Five Years, for carrying on the War against France, empowering his Majesty to borrow the said Money; with a Clause in the said Act, That whatsoever should fall short, or be deficient for Repayment of Principal and Interest, in the time limited, should be transferred to, and made good out of, the first Aids and Supplies to be granted to his Majesty by Parliament, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the said Sum was accordingly advanced by the Petitioners at 7*l.* per Cent.; but the next Session of Parliament, their said Fund, which undoubtedly was sufficient to have repaid them, was quite taken away, without the Petitioners Consents; and the next Session after, a Duty was laid upon Leather, &c. for Three Years, to repay the said Debt; which Duty expired in April last, leaving above 500,000*l.* Principal, and above Twelve Months Interest, Deficiency: That, in the Session of the 9th and 10th Years of the King, a Duty was again laid on Coals and Culin, for raising 500,000*l.* more, at 8*l.* per Cent.; and then the Petitioners prayed to be restored to their said first Fund, but their Petition was not received by the House: Wherefore the Petitioners now pray, That the House will take their deplorable Case into Consideration, and restore them to their first Security, or make some other effectual Provision for Payment of the said just Debt; wherein, as they conceive, the Honour and Justice, as well as Credit, of the Nation are highly concerned.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of the whole House, who

Election.

A Petition of Robert Steymer Esquire was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Proprietors of the several Freehold Estates within the Borough of Droitwich, in the County of Worcester, have ever had a Right of electing Members to Parliament for the said Borough; the Majority of whom did, at the last Election there, offer their Votes to the Petitioner; but the Bailiffs of the said Borough refused to take them, and have returned Philip Foley Esquire as a Burgess, to the Petitioner's great Wrong: And praying Relief therein.

Excise.

A Petition of Joseph Bruxby was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the great Fall of the Revenue of Excise has chiefly been occasioned through the Want of Skill and Judgment of the late and present Commissioners for Management thereof, who know not how to instruct or contradict their inferior Officers in the . . . . relating to the Brewing Trade; insomuch that the King has been frequently cheated of the Excise of 50 Barrels in 70 of Strong Drink, Three times a Week, in many Brewhouses: That the Petitioner can demonstrate how the Excise may be improved at least 100,000*l.* per Annum, if not Two; which will be advantageous to the Government.

And

And the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.
To the Honourable the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled:

May it please your Honours,

1. We the Trustees, appointed for putting in Execution Part of an Act of Parliament made in the 11th and 12th Years of his Majesty's Reign, intituled, An Act for granting an Aid to his Majesty, by Sale of the forfeited and other Estates and Interests in Ireland, and by a Land Tax in England, for the several Purposes therein mentioned, in Obedience to the last Clause of another Act, made the same Session, intituled, An Act for the appointing Commissioners, to take, examine, and determine, the Debts due to the Army, Navy, and for Transport Service; and also an Account of the Prizes taken during the late War; do humbly lay before your Honours a summary Account of our Proceedings.

2. As soon as the Act was printed, we had several Meetings in London, to consider of the necessary Preliminaries for the due Execution of our Trust; and nominated such Officers as we thought fit to carry over with us: And because the Act required many Things, under several Penalties, to be done and performed at or before certain Days therein prefixed, that all Persons might have due Notice thereof, we drew up a Memorial, containing an Abstract of the several Clauses thereunto relating; and presented the same to the Right Honourable the Earl of Jersey, then Principal Secretary of State; by whose means we procured a Proclamation to be issued by the Lords Justices here, for that Purpose.

3. Having made this Entrance on our Business, we agreed to meet in Dublin with all possible Expedition; which we did on the First of June, and qualified ourselves by taking the Oaths appointed by the Act.

4. This done, we immediately gave Notice, in Print, of the Time limited for receiving Claims; and to all Tenants and Occupiers of any of the forfeited Estates, to deliver in true Particulars of the Quantity, Quality, and real Value, thereof, pursuant to the Act; and required the Sheriffs of this Kingdom to publish the same throughout their several Counties: We gave our constant Attendance to the last Hour of the Time limited by the Act, and received every Claim that was tendered; the Whole amounting to Three thousand Ninety and Two.

5. Such of the Tenants and Occupiers of the said Estates, as delivered in their own Particulars, were sworn to the true Quantity, Quality, and real Value, of the Lands and Tenements by them severally possessed, in order to set the same to the best Advantage: Most of the Tenants, who lived in the remote Counties, we rather think out of Ignorance than Willfulness, have not herein complied with the Act; and many others sent them up by Post, or Persons that knew nothing of the Values, and so could not be sworn to any Purpose: Upon which, we generally continued the Tenants in Possession on Account without any Agreement; but to pay such Rent, as, upon Inquiry, the Lands should appear to be worth: Thereupon we appointed Receivers throughout the several Counties in this Kingdom; and gave them Instructions in Writing, to inquire into, and return up, the true Values of all the said Estates in their several and respective Districts, and under what Rents, Covenants, and Contracts, they are held and enjoyed; and, with our Approbation, to lett, and set the same; and to take Security from the Tenants for their true answering and paying their Rents: We have printed, and supplied the Receivers with all necessary Forms and Particulars, and Bonds for the Purposes aforesaid; and have taken Security from them, for the faithful Discharge of their Trust.

6. To make a better Estimate of the Quantity and Value of the Lands, we have appointed Surveyors in the several Parts of the Kingdom: And have already had so good an Effect of their Endeavours, that we promise ourselves this Service will abundantly recompense the Expence of it: And if the Surveyors were impowered to administer an Oath, for the better ascertaining the Meers and Bounds, it would save a great Expence to the Country People, who must otherwise be frequently summoned up to Dublin, to be examined; and be a great Satisfaction to the Purchasers.

VOL. 13.

7. By these methods, we humbly conceive, we shall come to the Knowledge of the Value of the Lands: But, by Reason of the great Rains that have fallen here this Winter, the Survey has been much delayed; and the Districts of the Receivers are so large, and their Instructions so particular, that we cannot, as yet, expect from them such an Account as we may rely upon, and consequently fit to be laid before your Honours: But, according to our best Observation, the Lands per Acre, will answer the Return of the last Commissioners: But the Claims upon them are so many, a great Part of which could not appear upon the former Inquiry, that we can make no probable Estimate what will be the net Produce.

8. The Claims on the private Estate are already heard, and we believe will answer in the Sale the Valuation in the last Report: though a great Part of the Lands in the Duke of York's Grant was never in his Possession.

9. Notwithstanding all our Care, we doubt, we shall not be able to raise the Rents, during our time, to the full Value: Most of the private Estate is in Lease to May next, at small Rents, and some Part of it longer: A great Part of the forfeited Estates is under beneficial Leases: A great deal more is either under Extents or Creditors, or in Possession of Mortgagees; some, of Persons who claim it as their own Inheritance; and a considerable Quantity is held in Dower and Jointure. Most of these we have continued in Possession, upon giving Security to answer the mesne Profits, in case their Claims should be dismissed: Besides this, we found it difficult to prevail with the Tenants, who had taken Leases from the Grantees, to advance their Rents: Most of them, being Protestants, and having made Improvements on their Lands, deserved all the Compassion we could justify: And further, we were afraid, That, if we used any Extremities, we should drive them off the Lands, and give ill Impressions to the rest of the Tenants, who were under great Apprehensions at our first coming over; the Consequence of which might be, to leave the Lands waste; it being impossible to get Tenants to remove their Stock and Families upon so short a Lease as our Time: So that we were obliged to continue the present Tenants in Possession, and raise them as high as we could: Therefore, we humbly conceive, we ought to make no Estimate of the Valuation of the Lands from the present Rents; and yet we hope they will answer more than double the whole Expence of our Commission, which, in Salaries, Survey, and Incidents of all kinds, we compute at near about 40,000 l. per Annum.

10. We set no Value upon the forfeitable Estates, having received Information, That Thirty-two Persons, active in the late Rebellion, and of a long time past, and now, resident in France, that were possessed of Estates in this Kingdom, who were lately indicted in the City of Dublin, upon the Statute of foreign Treason; and a Grand Jury, of as equal and indifferent Men as could be found, were impanelled; and though the Evidence against most of them, as appeared by the Examination laid before us, was clear and positive, yet they were all acquitted.

11. We have heard and determined all the Demands of the several Purchasers of Inheritance, from the Grantees, to the 21,000 l. allowed by the Act before the 10th of August last; and have directed Certificates to be given out of each Man's Share and Proportion, pursuant to the Act: A List containing the Names of the several Purchasers; the Sums by them respectively proved paid; the Grantees from whom each Purchase was made; with the particular Sum or Share of the 21,000 l. each Purchaser is intitled to, is hereunto annexed.

12. On the 20th of July we gave publick Notice, That we would sit on the 15th of August, to hear and determine Claims in the Order they were entered; and that all Claims should be posted Fifteen Days before the Hearing: And in this Method we continued, till we could get all the Claims abstracted: Then, for the greater Ease of

of the Country, and Expedition of our Business, we did, on the 9th of December last, further publish, That we would from the 7th Day of January, hear and determine all Claims on the same Estate together; beginning with the private Estate: By which means we shall dispatch more Claims in less time; they depending much on the same Title, and frequently the same Deeds and Witnesses; And as we clear Estates, we may thereby put them into a Method of Sale: We have and do sit Four Days every Week on hearing Claims; the Multiplicity of other Business being more than sufficient for the other Two Days: There has been posted already 1,133 Claims, about 800 whereof are heard and determined, many of which we found to contain several distinct Claims on different Titles and Estates: Those posted, and not heard, are postponed for want of Prosecution, or at the Claimant's Request: So that it will be impossible, with our utmost Industry and Application, to determine all the Claims within the Time limited.

13. Several of the Grantees of Debts have not complied with the Act, in paying the Monies by them received into the Exchequer, on or before the 24th Day of August; whereby they have forfeited double the Value.

14. Several other Grantees have neither paid the Rent-charges, or other Rents, issuing out of the Estates granted, nor the Interest of Mortgages, or other Securities, affecting the same, pursuant to the said Act, on or before the First of November; by which means, the Debts are increased to double the Money lent, and lie as an heavy Charge on the Lands, every Day giving fresh Instances of this kind: We therefore think it our Duty, humbly to lay this Matter before your Honours, for your Directions herein.

15. The Number of Discoveries already lodged amount to 600; but we are not able to make any Conjecture how valuable they are, not having time to hear them till after the 25th of March.

16. We have made Inquiry into the Wastes committed on the forfeited Woods in this Kingdom; which we find very considerable: The Trespassers, that are able, we shall punish; but most of the Destruction has been by the ordinary People of the Country, who are unable to make Satisfaction, or so much as answer the Expence of our Witnesses.

17. Great Arrears of Rent out of the forfeited Estates and Interests not granted, have incurred since the 13th of February 1688; and before the 2d of November 1699; which are neither paid to his Majesty, nor are we intitled to demand them; and which will never be discovered, unless invested in us, with due Encouragement to such as shall discover and pay them.

18. We hope it will not be thought presuming, if we humbly represent to your Honours some Instances, wherein, we conceive, we are not impowered to execute our Trust to the best Advantage of the Publick: By the present Provision of the Act, all Arrears of Rent due from the 2d of November, or which shall hereafter become due; all Penalties, Fines, and Forfeitures; all Debts due to forfeiting Persons; and all Bonds entered into for Security; are to be sued for in the Name of the King's Attorney General: We apprehend, many Debts of this kind may become due near the Expiration of our Commission, when there will not be time left us to recover them: Besides, we do humbly acquaint your Honours, That so many of the People of this Kingdom are so interested in the Forfeitures, that we have not hitherto thought it advisable to submit any thing to their Determination: We therefore do, with all Submission, lay it before your Honours, whether the Placing the last Result and Determination of these Matters in the Trust be not for the publick Service.

19. There is one other Part of the Act, which though we apprehend may not want Explanation; yet because we find an Opinion industriously spread here, which may tend to the Discouragement of Purchasers, we think it our Duty to mention it to your Honours: The Construction put upon the Vesting Clause, Fol. 8. is, That nothing is vested in us, but what the forfeiting Person had; so that he that has any Demand to, or out of, any of the said forfeited or other Estates or Interests, expects to be at Liberty, when our Commission is ended, to prosecute that Demand in the Courts here, though they have entered no Claim: Which Construction, we humbly conceive, may make the Claiming Clause of little Use: And, lest it should, in some Measure, frustrate the Ends of the Act, we lay it before your Honours; and submit it to your Consideration, how far the Validity of our Sales in general shall be left to be controverted any where, under any Pretence whatsoever.

20. We conceive also, that our not having Power, by the Act, to punish the Contrivers, Aiders, and Abettors, of false Claims, as well as the Claimants themselves, has been an Encouragement to Persons of Interest and Wealth, to procure Claims to be entered in the Names of insolvent People; whereby the Intention of the Act is defeated.

21. We do, further, humbly crave Leave to represent to your Honours, That if some Provision was made for enabling the Persons, having the Remainders, after the forfeited Estates for Lives, to mortgage their Interests, for the purchasing such Estates for Lives, they would become the best Purchasers; and that, in case such Persons, so in Remainder, were restrained from barring the forfeited Reversions vested in us, that the said Reversions would be more valuable than now they are; by reason of some Opinions prevailing here, that such Reversions may be barred by common Recoveries: And that if we had Power to accept and take Assignments, or Discharges of Incumbrances, claimed and allowed, as so much Monies for the Purchase of other Lands, most of the Persons having such Incumbrances would be the fairest Purchasers; which may increase the Number of Bidders, lessen the Burden of Interest, and expedite the Sales.

22. We were of Opinion, That the Quit and Crown Rents, issuing out of the forfeited and other Estates and Interests, vested in us, were, by Unity of Possession in his Majesty, extinguished; and that, in our Hands, they were not liable to such Rents, by the Words and plain Construction of the Act, that they shall be sold discharged of all Arrears: But the Commissioners of his Majesty's Revenue being advised, that the said Estates were chargeable with Quit and Crown Rents, during their Continuance in our Hands; we were willing, and did, for the Ease and Quiet of the Tenants, permit them to collect the said Rents in the usual Manner, and deposit them in the Exchequer: We do therefore most humbly represent this Matter to your Honours, for further Directions, whether these Rents shall be applied towards the Discharge of the publick Expence of this Kingdom, or go in Ease of the Subjects of England; and be applied, as Part of the Fund allotted by the said Act, to the Uses therein mentioned; such Rent amounting to about 5,000 l. per Annum.

23. We think it incumbent on us to lay some few Cases before your Honours, as Objects of Compassion; and wherein the Provisions of the Act are, as we conceive, short of your Intentions.

24. The Lady Baroness Dowager of Upper-Ossory did claim the Benefit of a Clause in the Act, for confirming a Grant from his Majesty, of a Maintenance to her, out of her late Husband's Estate, not exceeding 80 l. per Annum; And there being no Grant; but only a Letter from his Majesty, in order to a Grant; we humbly conceive, she is not so within the Letter of the Act, as to have an Allowance of her Claim: We have continued her in Possession, and chose rather to represent her Case, than disallow her Claim.

25. Captain James Roch is under the same Circumstance; only with this Difference, That, since the Act, his Grant is passed the Seals; and, as we humbly conceive, may want Confirmation.

26. The Grant of Francis de la Rue, made upon the most valueable Consideration, and intended to be 400 l. per Annum, by reason of the Adjudication of some Persons within Articles, whose Estates were comprised in his Grant, Grant, and by the Loss of a Diminicle, or original Minutes, which warrants the making up the Inquisition of some other forfeited Lands in the County of Galway within his Grant, he is like to be defeated of the greatest Part of his Majesty's gracious Intentions towards him.

27. We humbly crave Leave to acquaint your Honours, That Colonel Thomas Dungan, commonly called Lord Lymerick, did not enter any Claim to his Brother's Estate within the time limited; whereby he is intitled to the 8,000*l.* given him by the Act: And that he hath since offered to produce a Settlement, and to relinquish his Interest in the 8,000*l.* if he might be admitted to claim, of which we could take no Cognizance: And here we ought to take Notice, That all the Claims on the said Estate are heard and determined, and that the Grantee thereof hath sold to several Purchasers, to the Value of 8,113*l.*; one Third-part whereof is charged, by Act of Parliament, as a Debt on the said Estate.

28. There is a great Estate forfeited for Life, by the Attainder of John Bourk, late Lord Bophin; whose Wife and Nine Children have no Subsistence during the Father's Life: If some Provision were made before the Sale of the Estate, to enable them to treat with us for the Disposal of their reversionary Interest for Lands in Possession, it might be a present Relief to the Family, and an Advantage to the Sales: All which is humbly submitted to your Honours Commiseration.

29. We presume humbly to lay before your Honours one further Object of Compassion: There are about 150

Families of English and French Protestants planted on the Lands of Portarlinton, the Forfeiture of the late Sir Patrick Trant; who have laid out their whole Substance in purchasing small Leases now in being: Which Lands were Part of the Grant of the Right Honourable the Earl of Galway; who hath thereon erected and founded an English and French Church, and School; and endowed them with Pensions, amounting to near 100*l.* per Annum, which have been constantly paid till the said Lands were vested in us.

30. Having, according to our Duty, laid before your Honours the best Account we can at present give of our Proceedings; we most humbly beseech your favourable Interpretation of them: We are not insensible, That in so large a Trust, ungrateful to so many, that there may be some Misrepresentations of our Actions; which we hope will make no Impression upon your Honours, till we have an Opportunity to vindicate ourselves: And we doubt not, but we shall so justify our Endeavours for the publick Service as to deserve your Protection: And we crave Leave further to assure you, That as we esteem the great Trust reposed in us to be the highest Honour that can be conferred; so we shall spare no Pains or Industry in the faithful Execution of it.

Ordered, That Two of the said Trustees do forthwith attend this House.

Ordered, That Mr. Annesley, who brought over the said Report, be discharged from his farther Attendance.

St. Albans' Election.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared, touching the Election for the Borough of St. Albans, in the County of Hertford; and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Petition of John Gape Esquire, complaining of an undue Election and Return of Joshua Lomax Esquire, to serve for the Borough of St. Albans:

That the First Question, between the Petitioner and Sitting Member, was, the Right of Election; the Petitioner insisting, That the Right of Election was in the Mayor, Aldermen, Freemen, and such Housholders only as paid Scot and Lot; the Sitting Member insisting, That the Right of Election was in the Mayor, Aldermen, Freemen, and all Housholders, whether they paid Scot and Lot, or no.

And thereupon the Committee proceeded to examine several Witnesses.

The First Witness examined to that Point was,

Mr. Edmund Aylworth, the Town Clerk: Who said, That he had lived in St. Albans about Thirty Years, and had known the several Elections for Twenty Years: He said, He believed that those who did not pay Scot and Lot had, during that time, voted; but the Reason was, That they were so tumultuous, that there was no opposing them, and they had always been marked with a Quære: But the same had never been contested, because of the great Majority of one Side: However, he acknowledged, That Freemen had a Right to vote, whether they paid Scot and Lot, or no.

That, to maintain the Right of the Housholders at large, several Witnesses were produced on behalf of the Sitting Member; viz.

John Tisdale: Who had known St. Albans above Fifty Years.

John Lee: Who had known St. Albans Forty Years.

John Howard: Who had known St. Albans Sixty Years, and had been at several Elections: Who testified, That not only those who did pay Scot and Lot, but those that received Alms, have all along, to their Knowledge, voted without any Exception: But Mr. Lee said, They had been excepted to.

That the Counsel for the Petitioner did not think fit to call any other Witnesses, as to the Matter of Fact; but insisted upon it, That, by the Law of the Land, and in reason, those that did not contribute to the Charge of the Borough ought not to elect Representatives in Parliament for the same.

Whereupon the Committee came to this Resolution;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Right of electing Burgesses to serve in Parliament for the Borough of St. Albans, is in the Mayor, Aldermen, and Freemen, and such Housholders only as pay Scot and Lot.

That the Committee having come to this Resolution, the Sitting Member's Counsel yielded the Majority to be with the Petitioner; but insisted, That, by Bribes and Treats he had procured the Majority; and was thereby rendered unqualified to sit in the House: And thereupon, they called several Witnesses; viz.

John Beeson, Jos. Eaton, Nath. Tibbs, Tho. Chandler:

VOL. 13.

The Substance of whose Evidence was, That Beeson, Eaton, and Tibbs were at Chandler's House the Monday before the Election, the Election being on Wednesday then following, and there were Mr. Thomas Gape, the Petitioner's Brother, and John Bernard, who desired their Votes for the Petitioner: That Beeson had 5*s*. given him by Mr. Tho. Gape: That Eaton, on condition he would vote for the Petitioner, was promised, That my Lord should give him what he should desire in Reason: That Tibbs had Two Sixpences of Mr. Gape: That they staid at Chandler's till next Morning; and that Mr. Gape and Mr. Bernard paid the Reckoning, which came to Eight or Nine Shillings: However, they voted for Mr. Lomax: At the same time Chandler acknowledged, That, about a Week before the Election, he had drawn Drink to the Value of Forty Shillings, at twice, for Mr. Tho. Lomax, the Sitting Member's Brother, who was a Candidate at the said Election: That he did not know, That Mr. Tho. Lomax made an Interest for his Brother; but said, That Beeson, Eaton, and Tibbs, and others, drank of it; of whom some voted for one Party, and some for another.

Mary Bouton, Thomas Lee, testified, That Mr. Fothergill, Mr. Gape's Nephew, made an Interest for Mr. Gape; and that Mr. Fothergill told the said Mary Bouton, That, if her Husband would vote for Mr. Gape, he would deliver up an old Lease of a House which her Husband's Father had bought of one Pooley: However, her Husband voted for both the Lomax's.

Thomas Somerfield said, That, the Night before the Election, Mr. Gape's Nephew, Mr. Marson, came to his House, and asked him, Who he was for? That he answered, He was for Mr. Lomax; but the said Marson replied, He had better poll for his Uncle, and then demanded a Guinea for a Gun, that the said Somerfield had of Mr. Marson's: But withal, told him, That if he would not poll at all, he, the said Marson, would have nothing for it: That accordingly he did not poll; and he met Mr. Marson afterwards; who told him, he was very well satisfied.

Mary Springatt said, Mr. Fothergill came to her House and told her, if her Husband would vote for Mr. Gape, her Husband should have as great a Share of Gawen's Charity as any: And accordingly, he did vote for Mr. Joshua Lomax and Mr. Gape, but had not voted for Mr. Gape but for that Promise: She acknowledged her Husband had received nothing, and did not pay Scot and Lot.

Jos. Packer said, That Mr. Fothergill spake to him to be for Mr. Gape; and that he received 10*s*. Charity Money given to the Town; which he did, as he guessed, receive upon the Account of his Vote: That he did vote for Mr. Gape and Mr. Lomax; but he acknowledged, That he did not pay Scot and Lot, nor was free of St. Albans.

Anne Harrop said, That she was, about a Week before the Election, with Mr. Gape, for some Part of the Charity Money: That Mr. Gape's Son told her, there was some left in the Mayor's Hands; and asked her Husband's Vote for Mr. Gape; to which she replied, she did not know but her Husband might vote for him: And thereupon, he went and told his Father, who sent her Half a Crown by his Son; and afterwards, he sent his Son to her not to speak of it; for there was no more left: And the said Harrop said, That one Townsend's Wife had it at the same time: And Townsend's Wife, being called in, confirmed the same: But it appeared, That Harrop's Husband was admitted to live in the Parish by Certificate; and that Townsend did not pay Scot and Lot.

Henry Beech said, That he went to Richard Martin; and told him he would vote for Mr. Gape, if he could pick pick up 20 s. and Martin said, His Business should be done: And that old Mr. Gape asked his Voice for his Son; and said, If he would give his Son a Voice, he should have Part of the Charity Money: And, accordingly he ordered him 10 s. which he received of the said Martin; and afterwards told him, That Mr. Lomax could do him no Kindness, but we can: But he acknowledged he did not pay to Scot and Lot.

Wm. Butler was examined: Who said little more, than that the Earl of Marlborough was present at the Election; but he did not observe, that he meddled in it.

For the Petitioner, it was insisted, That there was very irregular and indirect Practices, on the other Side: And called,

Mr. John Fothergill, a Clergyman: Who said, That the Mob were so rude, they were ready to pull off his Gown, and insulted him in the Streets, when he went to speak on the behalf of Mr. Gape: That Mr. Gape's Friends, upon the Scrutiny, proved Twelve who voted for Mr. Lomax to have no Right; but the Mayor said, Those Things ought to be tried above: That the Mob threatened the Mayor in case he returned Mr. Gape; and put up these Verses on his House:

"If you return Lomax, we'll be still as a Mouse:

"If you return Gape, then down comes your House.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to these Resolutions; viz.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Joshua Lomax Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of St. Albans, in the County of Hertford.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That John Gape Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough of St. Albans.

The said Resolutions, being severally read a Second time, were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

Declared, That the said Election for the said Borough of St. Albans is a void Election.

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker do issue his Warrant to the Clerk of the Crown, to make out a new Writ for the electing a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of St. Albans, in the County of Hertford, in the room of Joshua Lomax Esquire, whose Election is declared to be void.

Limitation
of the Crown.

The House, according to Order, resolved itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider further of that Part of his Majesty's Speech, which relates to the Succession.

Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair.

Mr. Conyers reported from the said Committee, That they had made a further Progress in the Matter to them referred; and had directed him to move, That they may have Leave to sit again.

Resolved, That this House will, To-morrow Morning at Eleven a Clock, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider further of that Part of his Majesty's gracious Speech, which relates to the Succession.

Ordered, That all Committees be adjourned.

Committees.

And then the House adjourned till To-morrow Morning, Nine a Clock.

Mr. Stringer reported from the Committee, to whom it was referred to examine into the Matter of a Letter that was written down to Bramber, to corrupt the said Borough in the last Election of Members of Parliament there, That they had examined into the said Matter accordingly; and had directed him to report the same to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

That the Committee having taken the Examination of several Persons, the same is as followeth:

Mr. Thomas Waller, attending, according to Order, produced a Letter, dated the 17th of December 1700, from one William Clifton, his Uncle; wherein, amongst other Things, is written;

"I have a Person that is suitable for a Member to serve for your Town of Bramber: I will fling away 100*l.* or such a Thing, unknown to him: If you can be his Friend, I can fling 200*l.* into the River of Bramber."

Mr. Waller said, He never answered the said Letter; nor ever asked Clifton who the Person was he had recommended; he looking upon him to be a dangerous Man.

That Clifton was present and busy about the Election, and told him he took it unkindly he had never answered his Letter.

That the said Clifton being summoned to attend the Committee, the Serjeant's Messenger, who went to serve him with the Order, acquainted the Committee, That Mr. Clifton's Landlady told him, That Mr. Clifton had left his Lodgings the Friday before; and that she had heard since, that he was gone into Scotland.

Mr. Harvey said, That he, being at Bramber at the Election, was in Mr. Clifton's Company there; and that Clifton shewed him a Letter, which he said he had received from Mr. Millman, by the Hands of one Mr. Alexander Cutting; which said Cutting was directed, by the said Letter, to apply himself to Clifton for 10*l.*; and Clifton was to place it to the Account of Mr. Shepherd.

Mr. Cutting said, That he did receive a Letter from Mr. Millman, the Week after Christmas last, to carry to Mr. Clifton; and that he was to apply himself to Clifton for 10*l.* for which Sum he had given Mr. Millman a Note, when in Town; and believes the Money was to be placed upon Mr. Shepherd's Account, had it been paid; but Clifton pretending he had not Money, the said Cutting brought back the Letter to Mr. Millman, and had his Note delivered to him again:

That Clifton told him, That Mr. Millman was to have 100*l.* for his Interest in the said Election.

Mr. William Millman, attending the Committee, said, He did write a Letter to Mr. Clifton at Bramber, and sent it by Mr. Cutting, who was to have received 10*l.* of Clifton, Cutting having given him a Note for so much here; but that there was no Direction to place the same to the Account of Mr. Shepherd.

And, being asked to produce the said Letter, he said, That one Mr. Perris, of the Six Clerks Office, advised him to burn the same; which he did do about the beginning of last Week, because there was an Indorsement thereupon, which, he believes, was written by Clifton, and signed signed S. S.; which Indorsement he thought would have done Mr. Shepherd a Prejudice; but that he had kept a Copy of the Letter without the Indorsement; and produced a Paper, which he said imported such Letter.

But the said Mr. Harvey confronting him, said, That Letter was not a true Copy of the Letter he saw Clifton had from Cutting, because the Direction of placing the 10*l.* to the Account of Mr. Shepherd was omitted.

Mr. Millman, upon his further Examination, said, That, upon the 27th Day of December last, Mr. Martin, a Member of this House, came to him, and desired him to go with him to a Coffee-house; which he did: And in a private Room up Stairs in the Coffee-house, was Mr. Samuel Shepherd; which Mr. Shepherd, applying himself to Mr. Millman, told him, He knew the great Interest he had at Bramber; and therefore desired he would recommend a Gentleman he should propose to him; but refused then to name him, but desired the Recommendation might be by Letter, and that he would leave a Blank for the Name therein; which he did do: And Mr. Shepherd afterwards told him, the Gentleman he had his Recommendation for, was one Mr. Paschall, and his Name was put into the Blank of the Letter which was sent to Mr. Clifton:

That Mr. Shepherd told him, he had hired the said Cutting a Coach to go down to Bramber about the said Election, and had put 20 Guineas into his Pocket:

But that Clifton having written to Dalby Thomas, who communicated the same to Mr. Shepherd, That he found there was Money to be spent, and that it would cost 2 or 300*l.* more; Mr. Shepherd said, That as he had given Clifton Money already, he would not send him any more, nor go on any further in the Election.

Mr. Millman said further, That he having an Account from Cutting of the said Election, who told him, That Mr. Asgill had not fair Play; and that the Town would petition the House against the said Election; and that he had gotten a Petition drawn;

Upon which Mr. Shepherd came to Mr. Millman, and desired he would put a Stop to the Petition, because, he said, it would make a Clamour; and that Mr. Millman did stop the same accordingly:

That, upon Saturday the 1st of March, at Night, he was sent for to meet Mr. Shepherd at the Blue Posts; where was Mr. Shepherd, his Two Sons, Mr. Martin, Dalby Thomas, and one Mr. Lawton; which Mr. Lawton proposed a Method of Interrogation and Answers, upon a Supposition there should be an Examination of the said Letter; and told him, That he might say, That as he was sitting in a Coffee-house, a Gentleman came to him, a Stranger, and told him, He had heard of what Interest he had at Bramber; and therefore desired he would give him such Letter of Recommendation:

To which Mr. Millman making Answer, That Mr. Clifton would be able to contradict such Proposition;

He was told, Clifton could not come in; for he was gone upon a Commission into Yorkshire:

And Mr. Shepherd several times desired him not to mention his Name upon any Examination; and that, if he would stand Buff, they could make nothing of the said Letter:

That when he told them, He must speak the Truth, if he was examined, they upbraided him with being fearful and timorous:

That they had several Meetings upon Mr. Shepherd's Desire; and was to prevail upon Mr. Millman not to take Notice of Mr. Shepherd's Name upon any Examination:

That, upon Mr. Millman's applying himself to Mr. Dodd for Advice in the Premises, in case of an Examination, Mr. Dodd advised him to tell the whole Truth.

That, upon the Examination of other Letters, produced to the said Committee, there appeared to be one from the said Mr. Cutting to Mr. Millman, dated the 2d January 1700; whereby, among the rest that stood for Candidates, he writes, "And your Friend, which is not here;" and further writes, "Here is Money brought down, and, I believe, delivered amongst your Tenants."

And Mr. Cutting, who wrote the Letter, being asked to explain the said Letter; he said, He believed the Contents to be true, because those Tenants refused to vote for Mr. Stringer, but did so for Mr. Owen, who was a perfect Stranger to the Borough; which occasioned his Supposition of their being bribed.

That, by another Letter from the said Cutting to Mr. Millman, dated January the 4th, Twelve a Clock at Night, 1700; wherein is written, "I have Two Votes promised, which is their own Houses: I have promised them 10*l.* a piece to mend their Houses: It has cost me 13*l.* already: I hope you have returned me Money: It is too late to send a Messenger on purpose."

Mr. Cutting said, The Meaning of that Letter was, that Mr. Millman told him, That, if he sent a Messenger, he would return him 100*l.* to repair the Tenants Houses; and that was no Bribery; but that Money was not sent, because Mr. Millman's Interest miscarried.

A Message from the Lords, by Doctor Newton and Mr. Gery:

Mr. Speaker,

The Lords have passed a Bill, intituled, An Act to enable Sir Robert Marsham Knight and Baronet, to dispose of Lands in Hertfordshire; and to settle other Lands, of better Value, in Kent, to the same Uses as the Lands in Hertfordshire are settled: To which they desire the Concurrence of this House.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Banbury Election.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to them, upon the Double Return for the Borough of Banbury, in the County of Oxon; and the Resolution of the Committee thereupon; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

That the Committee have inspected and examined the Matter of the Double Return for Banbury.

That, upon Inspection of the Record, they find, That Charles North Esquire is returned by one Indenture; and that John Dormer Esquire is returned by another Indenture.

That, in Banbury, at present, and at the time of the Election, and for about Two Years last past, there have been Two contending Mayors; and which of them Two was the proper Officer to make the Return, was the Question before the Committee.

That this Fact was agreed on by both Parties, That Mr. Thorp was Mayor of Banbury, and died before his Year was up; viz. the 25th of February 1698; but the Question in Dispute was, which was his lawful Successor.

That the Corporation, by Charter, consists of Twelve Aldermen, Six Capital Burgesses, and Thirty Assistants; and the Mayor is to be chosen out of the Aldermen; that is to say, upon the annual Choice of a Mayor, the Aldermen, Capital Burgesses, and Assistants, have a Right to

The House being informed, That one of the Auditors of his Majesty's Land Revenue was at the Door; He was called in; and, at the Bar, presented to the House an Account of all such Fees and Allowances as belong to the several Auditors of his Majesty's Land Revenue.

And then he withdrew.

And the Title thereof was read:

vote; but if a Mayor die within a Year, then his Successor for the remaining Part of the Year is to be chosen by the Aldermen and Burgesses only.

That Mr. North's Return being affixed next to the Writ, his Counsel first began to maintain his Return, which was by John West senior; whose Succession to Thorp they derived thus: That, after the Death of Mr. Thorp, one Welshman was chosen Mayor for the succeeding Part of the Year; to him succeeded John West junior; and to John West junior succeeded John West senior; who made the Return of Mr. North.

That to make out Mr. West senior's Title of Mayor, the Counsel for Mr. North first proceeded to make out who had the Right of electing the Mayor of Banbury: And, for that, they produced their Charter of Confirmation, 6<sup>o</sup> Jacobi; which says, That the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses, Chamberlain, and Assistants of the Borough of Banbury, sive major pars eorum, de tempore in tempus, in perpetuum, perpetuis futuris temporibus, auctoritatem et potestatem habeant, et habebunt, annuatim, et quolibet anno, in die Lunæ, qui primo et proxime evenerit, acciderit, et contigerit, in mense Septembris, eligendi et nominandi, et quod eligere et nominare possint et valeant unum de aldermannis burgi prædicti fore et esse majorem burgi prædicti, to continue from Michaelmas Day following for One whole Year; and that the Mayor, so elected, before he be admitted to execute his Office, sacramentum corporale coram ultimo majore prædecessore suo, seu ejus deputato, aut seniore aldermanno, et cæteris aldermannis, et capitallibus burgensibus burgi prædicti, vel tot eorum, qui ad tunc interesse voluerint, in et supra quodlibet festum sancti Michaelis Archangeli, proximum post electionem et nominationem suam, præstabit: And the Charter further provides, That if the Mayor shall die within a Year, or, for just Cause, be removed, Quod tunc et toties bene liceat et licebit residuis de aldermannis burgi prædicti, et capitalibus burgensibus burgi prædicti, ad tunc superviventibus vel remanentibus, pro tempore existentibus, vel majore parte eorundem, unum alium de aldermannis prædicti burgi in locum et officium ipsius majoris burgi prædicti sic mori, vel amoveri, contingentis, eligere et præficere, secundum ordinationem et provisionem in his præsentibus declaratas; et et quod ille sic electus et præfectus in officio majoris burgi prædicti, officium illud habeat et exerceat, durante residuo ejusdem anni, sacramentum coporale in forma prædicta prius præstante; et, si nullum deputatum fecerit tunc succedat in ejus locum, officium, et authoritatem, senior aldermannus dicti burgi, pro tempore domi existens, ad faciendum et exequendum omnia et singula, quæ dictus major, si præsens fuerit, exequeretur aut faceret. The Charter also grants, That the said Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses, shall for ever have and hold a Court of Record, in every Week throughout the Year, coram majore burgi prædicti, vel ejus sufficiente deputato, ac uno alio aldermanno burgi prædicti, necnon recordatore ejusdem burgi pro tempore existente, vel ejus sufficiente deputato, et duobus capitalibus burgensibus burgi prædicti, vel aliquibus tribus eorum, quorum major, vel ejus deputatus pro tempore existens, unum esse volumus.

That the Counsel for Mr. North also produced a Copy of By-laws, made, amongst other Things, for the regulating the Elections of Mayors; by which By-laws it is provided, That, at the Choice of every Mayor, the Mayor for the Time being, or his Deputy, or senior Alderman, shall call unto him the next senior Alderman, and junior Alderman, and senior and junior Burgess, who shall separate themselves from the rest of the Company, and go into the little Chamber, and, by most of their Voices, shall agree upon One of the Aldermen to stand to succeed to be Mayor for the Year following; which Alderman, so agreed upon, shall depart into the minor Chamber, and there remain till he be called: Whereupon the Mayor for the Time being, and all the Aldermen and Burgesses, Chamberlain, and Assistants, shall proceed by Voices to the allowing, or disallowing, the said Choice, in manner following; viz. Every one of the said Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses, Chamberlain, and Assistants present, shall openly give his Voice to the said Choice affirmatively, or negatively, to be taken by the Chamberlain, or Town Clerk; and if the more Part of the said Assembly shall dislike of the said Alderman proposed, then the Mayor, Two Aldermen, and Two Burgesses shall, proceed to the Naming of some other Alderman, who shall be tried in like manner; and so continuing the same Course, until One shall be agreed upon to be one of the Aldermen to stand in Election to be Mayor of the said Borough for One whole Year, from the Feast of St. Michael the Archangel then next following; which being done, the like Course shall be taken for the Naming of One other Alderman, One of which shall be elected Mayor for the Year following, as aforesaid: And then the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses, Chamberlain, and Assistants present, shall openly give their Voices which of the Two shall be Mayor for the Year following, according to the Letters Patents, upon the Penalty of forfeiting 20s.

That the Right of electing Mayor being thus made out by the Charter, and By-laws; Mr. North's Counsel proceeded to the making out of the Fact; That Mr. John West was, at the time of the Return, rightful Mayor: And, for that, they called,

Mr. Philip Styles senior, the Town-Clerk: Who testified, That Mr. Thorpe died on Saturday the 25th of February was Two Years; and that the eldest Alderman, upon the Death of a Mayor, has Power to act; who summoned the Aldermen and Burgesses to meet together the same Day; and about Ten of them did meet; amongst others, Mr. Reynolds, who was for going to an Election that Night; but at last it was agreed to meet next Night, at Five a Clock; and it was then ordered, That all who had a Right to elect, should be summoned to attend; and accordingly Eight of them met at the eldest Alderman's, Mr. Richard Wheatly's, in Gowns; and then they went to the Town Hall, and rung the Bell, to give Notice: That some were out of the Way, and some would not come: That after they had stayed some time, they went to an Election, and had Five Nominators, according to the By-laws, and did elect Mr. Welshman for the remaining Part of the Year, who was sworn by the senior Alderman: That Eight voted for Mr. Welshman, and Nine kept away: But, however, he conceived the major Part appearing to have Power to elect; and, upon Search in the Books, had found 16 or 17 Instances of a Mayor elected without the Majority of all that had a Right to elect: That, the first Monday in the Month of September following, they sent the like Summons, and elected and swore John West junior; and, the First Monday in last September, they did, in like manner, elect and swear John West senior; who returned Mr. North: And that the Ensigns belonging to the Office of Mayor have, ever since Mr. Thorp's Death, been in their Possession successively.

Mr. Styles senior further said, That after the Aldermen and Burgesses are summoned, and meet, to elect a Mayor, he never knew them depart without making an Election; and the Reason they proceeded to elect Mr. Welshman on the Sunday following the Death of Mr. Thorp, was, because a Court was to be held next Day, which ought to be held by the Mayor; and though the senior Alderman does act in Court as Deputy Mayor, he never knew him act upon the Death of a Mayor.

Thomas Welford, Serjeant at Mace, said, That the same Day that Mr. Thorp died, there were Ten or Eleven met at his House; and some of them proposed to go to an Election immediately, but some of the Seniors thought it would be better next Day, but agreed it must be then, because of the Court; and that was to be held on Monday; and accordingly, some of them said, They would take Notice of it: However, he went to every one of their Houses afterwards, and summoned them as at all other times; and in like manner summoned them upon the Choice of Mr. West junior, and Mr. West senior.

That the Counsel for Mr. Dormer insisted, That where there is a Corporation aggregate, every Act of the Corporation that is obliging, must be done, not only by the major Part present, but by the major Part of the Whole; and instanced in the Case of Dean and Chapters; and that the By-laws could not alter the Manner of Election appointed by Charter, which says, shall be by the Majority of the Corporation; and that Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Samuel West were elected by such a Majority; and that it was not pretended, that the Mayors, under which Mr. North's Return was made, had such a Majority: They further insisted, That the senior and junior Alderman and Burgess was always understood of such as appeared: That the Matter of Welshman's Election was heard before the Council; and another Election directed by them, and called

Mr. Styles junior, who acted as Town Clerk under Mayor Sam. West, and Mr. Clark: Who said, after Mr. Thorp's Death, Mr. Reynolds was elected for the remaining Part of the Year; Nine appearing at that Election; and he was sworn before the Recorder, and other Aldermen: And that, the First Monday in September following, Mr. Samuel West was elected Mayor by 26 present; and, last September, the said Mr. West was again continued Mayor, by the Votes of 11 Aldermen and Burgesses, and 18 Assistants; but the senior Alderman was not present; and that Mr. Sam. West had also his Officers, and kept Courts; and had the Books of the Corporation, and the Seal of the Corporation: And Mr. Styles said further, That, upon the Choice of a Mayor to succeed another dying within the Year, he never knew them make use of Nominators.

John Stokes said, That he had known several Elections, at which the senior Alderman has not appeared, and the next senior Alderman has acted.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to this Resolution following; viz.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Charles North Esquire is duly returned a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Banbury, in the County of Oron.

The said Resolution being read a Second time;

And the Question being put, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That Charles North Esquire, is duly returned a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Banbury, in the County of Oron;

The House divided.

PRAYERS.

A PETITION of the Masters and Workmen of the Art and Trade of Wool-combing, of the Borough of Leicester, and Parts adjacent, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners, for many Years past, got a good Livelihood for themselves and Families, by their said Trade; which, of late, is very much prejudiced, by ignorant Persons falling into this Trade, who make ill-wrought Goods, and are constrained to put them off at under Prices; which Mischiefs, if not timely regulated by some good Act, will shortly ruin the said Trade: And praying the Consideration of the House in the Premises.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee appointed to inspect the Laws in being, relating to the Woollen Manufactures.

A Petition of the Masters and Journeymen of the Ditto. Mystery, Art, or Occupation, of Wool-combing, of the Town and Borough of Cirencester, in the County of Gloucester, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That many Thousands of Persons have been well maintained by the said Employment, which is much fallen to Decay of late, by reason that many who were never bred up in the said Trade, it not being within the Statute, intermeddle therein, upon Pretence of setting the Poor on Work; though it is only to put off their own Commodities to them at their own Prices, instead of Money, to the Ruin of the said Trade, and the poor People so employed: And praying, That Leave may be given to bring in a Bill, that none may use the Trade of Wool-combing, but such as have served Seven Years Apprenticeship to the same; or that their Grievances may be otherwise redressed, as the House shall think meet.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee appointed to inspect the Laws in being, relating to the Woollen Manufactures.

Resolved, That the Bill be read a Second time upon this Day Sevensnight.

A Petition of Nathanael Gould Esquire, a Member of this House, serving for the Borough of New Shoreham, in the County of Sussex, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That through Inadvertency, and a mistaken Apprehension of the Law, he had done that, before the Teste of the Writ, which may justly render him liable to the Displeasure of this House; and that the Thoughts thereof are so afflicting, that he rather chose to acknowledge his Error, than seem to justify the same by a Defence; and therefore, with the greatest Humility, submits himself to the Justice and Favour of the House, humbly professing, that the Expence which he so unfortunately made, was entirely on his own Account.

A Member

The said Copies were read by the Clerk; and are as follow; viz.

The Copy of Proposals made to the French Ambassador, by Mr. Stanhope.

Translation.

Whereas his Majesty the King of Great Britain, and the Lords the States General of the United Provinces, concluded, on the 25th of the Month March, of the last Year 1700, a Treaty of Partition with his most Christian Majesty, for preventing Troubles and a new War, which there was great Reason to apprehend, upon the Death of the King of Spain without Issue; and that, amongst other Things, the chief Prospect of the high Contractors in this Affair was, to preserve the Peace and general Tranquillity of Europe, and to establish the particular Security of his Majesty's Kingdoms; it is manifest, That although his most Christian Majesty has thought fit to accept the Will of the late King of Spain, departing from the Partition: yet his Majesty of Great Britain ought not to lose the Effect of that Treaty; but should obtain, at least, the Intention of the Treaty; to wit, the Peace, and general Tranquillity, and his particular Security, by some Equivalent, or other Means: And, to this End, Mr. Stanhope, the King of Great Britain's Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to the said States General, is ordered to propose to the Count D'Avaux, his most Christian Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary, the following Points and Articles:

That, to preserve the Peace, and general Tranquillity, upon which a great Part of the particular Security of the King of Great Britain's Dominions depends, his Imperial Majesty shall be invited to enter into this Negotiation; and that he be contented, and have reasonable Satisfaction given him, for his Pretensions to the Succession of Spain; which were regulated by the Treaty of Partition: And that his Imperial Majesty shall be admitted and included in the Treaty, which the King of Great Britain, and the States General, shall make with the most Christian King, and the Crown of Spain:

That his most Christian Majesty, within a certain time limited, and that as short as possible can be agreed on, shall withdraw all Troops from the Spanish Netherlands, without leaving any of them there; and that it shall not be lawful for him ever to send them thither again; but that, for the future, there shall be kept in the said Spanish Netherlands, except in the Places of Surety, which shall be mentioned in the following Article, only Spanish and Walloon Troops, or of the Countries in Subjection to the Spanish Monarchy, exclusive of all others, under the Oath, and in the Pay of Spain; and not any Troops of his most Christian Majesty, directly or indirectly: Provided nevertheless, That it shall and may be lawful for the King of Great Britain, and the Lords the States General, to send some of their Troops for the Defence of the said Netherlands, when they shall be thereto required:

That, for the particular Security of the Dominions of the King of Great Britain, the Towns of Ostend and Newport shall be yielded up, and entrusted to his Majesty's sole Custody, together with their Ports, Castles, and Citadels, and all the Forts and Works of the Fortifications thereto belonging, all in the Condition they now are; with Power to put in, and keep there, such Garisons, either of his own Troops, or those of his Allies, whom his Majesty should require for that Purpose, and as he shall find convenient; And that it shall not be lawful for France or Spain to put the least Garison therein; or to raise behind, or round about, the said Towns, Ports, and Fortresses, any other Forts, Lines, or Works of Fortification; or to do any thing whatsoever, that may occasion any Prejudice to the Guard of the said Towns and Fortresses, and hinder the Effect thereof:

That it shall be in the Power of the King of Great Britain to augment, lessen, and change the Garisons of the said Towns and Fortresses, as often as he shall think fit; and to send thither Victuals, Ammunition, Arms, Materials for Fortifications, and generally whatever shall be thought fit and necessary for the Service of the Garisons and Fortifications, without being hindered in the least, either by Sea or Land, directly or indirectly:

That the King of Great Britain shall have the full Command and Authority over the said Towns, Ports, Castles, and Fortresses; where he shall have Garisons and Commanders, such as he shall think fit, saving, and without Prejudice to, the Rights and Revenues of the Crown of Spain over and in the said Towns:

That, moreover, it shall be lawful for the King of Great Britain to fortify, and repair the Fortifications of, the said Towns, Ports, and Fortresses, as he shall judge fitting; and, generally, to do every thing which he shall find necessary for their Defence:

That no Kingdoms, Provinces, Towns, Territories, or Places belonging to the Crown of Spain, as well within as without Europe, and, especially, no Towns, Places, or Lands of the Spanish Netherlands, shall be yielded or transferred; neither shall they devolve or come to the Crown of France, by Gift, Purchase, Exchange, Contract of Marriage, Succession by Will, or ab intestato, or by any other Title whatsoever; and that they shall not any way be subjected to the Power, or be under the Authority, of the most Christian King:

That in the States and Kingdoms of the Spanish Monarchy, as well within as without Europe, and consequently in the Spanish Netherlands also, the Subjects of the King of Great Britain shall remain in the Enjoyment of all the Privileges, Rights, Freedoms, and other Advantages, as well in respect of their Navigation, Commerce, and free Use of Ports, as in any other Thing which they have, or ought to have enjoyed, till the Death of the late King of Spain; so that every Thing whatsoever, except what shall be otherwise agreed on by the Treaty to be made, shall be left in the Condition it was, at the Time of the late King of Spain's Death:

That all the Treaties of Peace and Commerce, and other Conventions between England and Spain, shall be renewed, or taken to be renewed, in such manner as shall be agreed on, so far forth, as they shall not be altered by the Treaty that shall be made:

Further, That the Subjects of the King of Great Britain shall enjoy, in all the Kingdoms, Dominions, Towns, Places, Bays, and Harbours, of the Crown of Spain, within and without Europe, the same Privileges, Rights, and Franchises, as also all the Immunities and Advantages, which the Subjects of the most Christian King, or any other Princes or Potentates, do enjoy; as well as those that shall be granted them, and which they shall enjoy for the future:

That, on the Part of France and Spain, a solemn Promise shall be made, of the strict Observation of all these Points in general, and of every one of them in particular:

That that Treaty which shall be made on that Subject, shall have the Guaranty of such Kings, Princes, and Potentates, as either of the high Contractors shall desire; and that in the firmest manner that they can invent, and agree on:

All this with a Reservation to amplify those Points in the Negotiation, as far as shall be thought necessary for the Explanation of the true Sense and Intention thereof; as also to prevent all manner of Dispute.

Tuesday, the 22 March 1701.

The Report of the Heer Van Essen, and other the States General, Deputies for the Foreign Affairs, was read: Whereupon, and according to their Resolution of the 11th Instant, importing a Commission, they have weighed and deliberated, how, and in what manner, they should proceed in the Negotiation, which they were to enter upon with Count D'Avaux, the French King's Ambassador Extraordinary, concerning the general Peace, and the Safety of their State: And, after due Consideration, it was resolved, That, in Concert with Mr. Stanhope, his Majesty of Great Britain's Envoy Extraordinary, the following Points should be proposed, in a Conference, to the said Count D'Avaux:

Whereas the King of Great Britain, and the States General of the United Provinces, have concluded a Treaty of Partition with the French King, on the 25th of March 1700, in order to prevent Troubles and Disturbances which might arise about the Succession of the late King of Spaine, in case he should die without Children; and that therein, amongst other Things, the chief Aim of the Parties concerned was, the Preservation of the general Quiet and Peace of Europe, and the particular Safety of this State: Wherefore it is evident, That the French King, by accepting the Will of the King of Spaine, as contrary to the aforesaid Treaty, cannot deny the States General the Effect of the aforesaid Treaty; but that, at least, by some Equivalent, or other Means, he ought to make good what they proposed to themselves by the said Treaty; viz. the aforesaid general Quiet and Peace, and particularly the Safety of this State: And therefore the States General do require, That, in order to establish the general Quiet and Peace, in which consists chiefly their Safety, the Emperor ought to have reasonable Satisfaction and Content given him, in his Pretensions about the Succession of Spaine, which were regulated in the aforesaid Treaty of Partition; and that he may be admitted and included in the Treaty which England and Holland is to make with France and Spaine; and consequently to be invited to this Negotiation:

That the King of France shall, within such time as shall be agreed on, draw his Troops out of the Spanish Netherlands, and not to leave any of them there, or send any thither at any time hereafter; but that, for the future, there shall be in the said Spanish Netherlands, except such Places named for Security in the following Articles, no other Troops, but what are either Spaniards, Walloons, or of the Low Countries, being under Command of the King of Spaine, and belonging only to him, and having taken an Oath to him, and being in his Pay; and no French, either directly or indirectly; but if the King of Spaine shall desire any Troops of England or Holland, for the Defence of the same, they shall be admitted:

That, for the particular Safety and Tranquillity of the States, there shall be delivered unto them, and they shall take Possession of, the Towns, Places, and Forts, of Venlo, Roermonde, Steevenswaardt, Luxembourg, Namur, Charleroy, Mons, Dendermonde, Damme, and St. Donaas, with the Castles of the said Towns and Places belonging, together with all the Forts, Fortifications, and Works, about or near them, in the same Condition as they now are; and they shall have Power to put and keep in them such Garisons, both of their own Troops, and their Allies, as they shall think fit; and that neither France nor Spaine shall, in the least, put any military Forces into the said Towns; and shall not raise any Forts or Strong-holds about or near the said Towns, Places, Castles, and Forts; nor shall do any thing that may in any-wise hinder or lessen the Effect of the aforesaid Possession:

That the States General shall have Liberty to augment, diminish, or change, their respective Garisons in the aforesaid Towns, Places, Castles, and Forts, as they shall judge proper; and to send thither Provision, Ammunition, Arms, Materials for Fortifications, and all that shall be useful and necessary for the said Garisons and Fortifications; and that, for transporting the same, and the said Garisons, there shall always be a free Passage through the Spanish Territories, and over their Rivers, both going and coming, without the least Hindrance or Molestation, either directly or indirectly:

That the States General shall have the full Command over such Towns, Places, Castles, and Forts, into which they have put Garisons, under such Governors and Commanders as they shall think fit; so that it be not any Prejudice to their former Rights, Privileges, and Revenues of the King of Spaine, in those Towns and Places:

Further, That the States shall have Power to fortify the aforesaid Towns, Places, Castles, and Forts, in their Possession; and to repair the Fortifications thereof; and to do all and all manner of Things which they shall think fitting for their Defence:

That no Dominions, Provinces, Towns, Territories, or Places belonging to the Crown of Spaine, within or without Europe, and particularly not any Towns, Places, or Countries, of the Spanish Netherlands, shall be given up, or delivered to, or shall devolve or come to the Crown of France, either by way of Gift, Sale, Exchange, Marriage, Inheritance, or Will, or ab intestato, or by what Title soever; nor shall the same, any otherwise whatsoever, be put under the Command or Jurisdiction of France:

That the Subjects and Inhabitants of the States shall continue to enjoy all such Rights, Privileges, and Immunities, and other Advantages, in the Dominions and Territories of Spaine, in, and out of Europe, as also in the Spanish Netherlands, in the Navigation, Commerce, and Freedom of the Ports, and all others, which they have enjoyed, or should have enjoyed, till the Death of the late King of Spaine; and consequently, that all Things whatsoever, except what shall be otherwise agreed on by the Treaty to be made, shall remain in the same Condition as they were, when the said King of Spaine died:

That the Treaty made between Spaine and Holland at Munster in the Year 1648, as also all other Treaties and Conventions, since that, concluded between Spaine and Holland, shall be renewed in the best manner both Parties can agree upon; so far forth as they shall not be altered by the Treaty to be made:

Further, That the Subjects and Inhabitants of the States shall have and enjoy, in the Countries, Towns, Places, Bays, and Havens, of the Crown of Spaine, both within and without Europe, the same Privileges, Liberties, and Rights, together with the Immunities and Advantages, as the Subjects and Inhabitants of France, or those of other Princes and Potentates, do there enjoy, or hereafter shall be permitted to enjoy:

That the Observation of the aforesaid Points in general, and of each of them in particular, shall be solemnly promised by the Kings of France and Spaine, their Heirs and Successors:

That the Treaty to be made hereupon shall have the Guaranty of such Kings, Princes, and Potentates, as either Party shall thereto desire; and that in the firmest manner that they can devise:

Reserving to themselves a Power to enlarge the aforesaid Points in the Negotiations, as shall be necessary for a further Explanation of the true Meaning of the same, and to prevent all Differences for the future.

And the Heer Van Essen, and other the States Deputies for the foreign Affairs, are hereby desired and commissioned to notify the Premises to Count D'Avaux; and enter into Conference and Negotiation with him, concerning the same.

This agrees with the aforesaid Register.

War

War in Ireland and Flanders, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That after Disbanding of the said Regiments, upon the Petition of the Petitioners to the Treasury, which was referred to the Lord Coningsby, he reported, That the Petitioners had no Accounts made up by their Captains; and the Captains say, They cannot get Accounts from the Colonels, according to the Directions of a late Act of Parliament, they have placed so many unwarrantable Deductions on the Head of Subsistence, that the Petitioners, and the Captains, Arrears are reduced to little or nothing; whereupon the Petitioners applied to the Commissioners of Accounts, who sent for the Captains, who owned, that there were Arrears due to the Petitioners, and desired the Commissioners to examine and determine the Accounts between them and the Colonels; but the Commissioners finding, that the said Regiments could not expect Debentures, being disbanded, and paid by the Government, they thought themselves not authorized to meddle therewith; so that the Petitioners remain remediless, in great Distress, for want of their just Dues; nor have they had any Consideration for their Cloathing, Two Years wanting: And praying, That the House will take their Case into Consideration, and relieve them therein.

Sir Edward Seymour,

The House has had a long Examination of several corrupt Practices, tending to the Destruction of the Constitution: They are sensible the Discovery thereof is owing to your Resolution, to your Love of the Publick; and is brought about at your Charge, and by your Conduct.

'Tis an Honour, Sir, to you, that you are descended from Ancestors, who have been successful in commanding Armies and Fleets of this Kingdom, and from a Protector of the Realm: But 'tis your personal Honour, that you have protected even the Constitution of this Place.

As the House has expressed their Zeal and Indignation against those who have endeavoured to undermine and ruin the Foundation of our Liberties; so they are desirous, at the same time, that your Name may stand upon Record, as being the Means, by which 'tis brought about:

Vol. 13.

Therefore they have commanded, That the Thanks of this House be given to you, for the great Service you have done the Publick, in detecting the Bribery and Corruption, which hath been practised in the Elections of several Members to serve in this present Parliament.

Whereupon Sir Edward Seymour spoke to the Effect following; viz.

Mr. Speaker,

The Honour I have received this Day, is sufficient to gratify the greatest Ambition, and the greatest Endeavours any Man is capable of, in order to the public Service, which was the only Inducement that occasioned me to undertake it: And I am extraordinary happy, that Success has crowned my Endeavours so far, as to entitle them to your Approbation: I must say, that I am indebted to several particular worthy Gentlemen, who have given their Assistance in this Matter; and that the great Honour you have been pleased to do me this Day, will be so great an Ornament to my Escutcheon, that it will wait upon me to my Grave.

A Petition of the Masters and Journeymen of the Art and Mystery of Wool-combing, within the Town and Borough of Chulmleigh, in the County of Devon, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That divers Persons, for several Years last past, in Cholmley, and the adjacent Parishes, have, and do make it their Endeavours to destroy the said Art of Wool-combing, by the irregular Management of divers Farmers, Shopkeepers, and others, who are of different Trades and Calling; and yet set divers People to Work, that never were bound or served Apprenticeships to the said Art, as the Law directs, under feigned Pretences of employing the Poor; although, by it greater Poverty ensues; they giving little or no Money for their Labour, only Goods and Commodities, at their own Rates; by Means whereof, the Petitioners Trade is undervalued, and under-sold by such Interlopers in Trade; so that the Master Workmen cannot subsist, and the Journeymen can scarce get Bread; and must unavoidably be brought to extreme Want, if not speedily relieved by some good Law for the better regulating the said Art; which may be a great Improvement to the Woollen Manufacture, and a Means to employ the Poor in general: And praying, That Leave may be given to bring in a Bill to redress the Inconveniences arising by Persons exercising the Art and Mystery of Wool-combing, who have not served their Apprenticeships therein.

And a Motion being made, and the Question being put, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee appointed to inspect the Laws in being, relating to the Woollen Manufacture;

Mr. Speaker,

And then the Messengers withdrew.

The House being informed, That Mr. Bennet, the Auditor of the Duchy of Lancaster, attended, according to Order;

He was called in; and, at the Bar, presented to the House an Account of all the Revenue of the Duchy of Lancaster; and the Incomes, and Issues, and Application thereof.

And then he withdrew.

And the Title thereof was read.

And the Account is bound up with the other Papers of this Session.

Ordered, That the said Account do lie upon the Table, to be perused by the Members of the House.

Ordered, That the Report from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, touching the Election for the Borough of Hindon, in the County of Wilts, be made upon Friday Morning next.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, touching the Election for the Borough of Orford, in the County of Suffolk, as it appeared to the said Committee; and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House;

House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Petition of Sir Charles Hedges and Sir Tho. Felton, complaining of an undue Election and Return of Sir Edmund Bacon Baronet, and Sir Edward Turner Knight, to serve for the Borough of Orford: That the Matter, as it appeared before the Committee, was thus:

That the Petition sets forth, That the Petitioners are duly elected to serve for the said Borough of Orford: And complaining, That Henry Cooper Esquire, High Sheriff of Suffolk, with an Intention to make a false Return, delivered his Precept to one John Saunders, to whom the Execution thereof did not belong; which the said Sheriff and Saunders well knew, by a solemn Tryal at Bar, in Michaelmas Term last; and afterwards did receive an Indenture, importing, though untruly, that Sir Edmund Bacon and Sir Edward Turner Baronets were elected Burgesses for the said Borough; and has returned the same, and refused a Return of the Petitioners from the Mayor of the said Borough.

That the Fact appeared to be thus:

In Orford are Two Persons who pretend to the Office of Mayor, Thomas Hastings and John Saunders: On the 26th of December, Mr. Edmund Foster went to Orford, where the High Sheriff lived; and acquainted him, That Mr. Hastings was the Mayor of Orford, and expected the Precept: And, on the 30th of December, he went to Orford, to John Saunders, and told him, he hoped, he would not meddle with the Precept; and did leave with the High Sheriff and John Saunders, a Copy of a Verdict at Bar, against John Morgan: And Mr. Foster said, That he was present when the Verdict was given, which was upon the Point, Whether Morgan was the real Mayor: Mr. Foster could not say but he demanded the Precept of the Sheriff, before the Sheriff had the Writ: But one Thomas French testified, That Mr. Hastings did demand the Precept of Mr. Saunders, after it came to Town; but he refused to deliver it.

That it further appeared to the Committee, That Saunders, having the Precept, gave Notice, That the Election would be the 10th of January; and accordingly, upon the 10th of January, went to the Town-hall, and there the Sitting Members were elected: That after Mr. Saunders, and those with him, were come out of the Town-hall, Mr. Hastings, and several of the Freemen, went into the Town-hall; and there the Petitioners were elected, by about the Number of 58.

That the Petitioners Counsel insisted, That they could make it appear, That John Saunders was not the lawful Mayor, the said Saunders claiming under Morgan.

To which Point the Committee did not think fit to hear them.

But it not being pretended, that publick Notice had been given of the Time of the said Election by Hastings, neither ever had he the Precept; and it also appearing, that no Person protested against Saunders' Proceedings while he was in the Town-hall, or any one demanded a Poll of him;

The Committee came to these Resolutions:

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Sir Edmund Bacon Baronet is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Orford, in the County of Suffolk.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Sir Edward Turner Knight is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough of Orford.

The First Resolution being read a Second time;

A Motion was made, and the Question being put, That the Merits of the Election for the said Borough be recommitted;

It passed in the Negative.

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Com-

The Second Resolution being read a Second time:

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That Sir Edward Turner Knight is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough of Orford.

And that, in relation to Newport, in the County of Southampton, Mr. John Glover, who was ordered to be committed to Newgate, also absconds, and cannot be apprehended.

And that, in relation to the Borough of Bramber, in the County of Sussex, Mr. Alexander Cutting, who was ordered to be taken into Custody, also absconds, and cannot be apprehended.

Whereas Mr. John Glover hath been charged with several Misdemeanors; and, in Contempt of the Authority of this House, absconds:

Resolved, That an humble Address be presented to his Majesty, That he will please to issue his Royal Proclamation for apprehending the said John Glover, with a Promise of a Reward for the same; and also for the apprehending of the said Mr. * Jeffries, and Mr. Perks, and the said Mr. Alexander Cutting.

Address for Proclamation to apprehend Persons absconding.

Ordered, That the said Address be presented to his Majesty by such Members of this House, as are of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

Resolved, That it appears to this House, That Wm. Clifton hath endeavoured, by Bribery, and other corrupt Practices, to procure an Election of Members to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Bramber, in the County of Sussex.

Person committed for Bribery.

Ordered, That the said William Clifton be, for his said Offence, taken into the Custody of the Serjeant at Arms attending this House.

Then the said Mr. Rogers was called in; and examined. And then he withdrew.

Ordered, That the said Mr. Rogers be discharged of his further Attendance.

Mr. Mason was called in; and examined.

And then he withdrew.

Resolved, That Provision be made, that no Member of this House, from and after the Dissolution of this Parliament, shall be concerned as a Commissioner, or other Officer in the Customs.

Resolution against Commissioners of Customs interfering in Elections.

Resolved, That Provision be made, that no Commissioner, or Officer of the Customs, shall concern themselves in soliciting any Election, or procuring Votes for any Election, of Members to serve in Parliament.

Then Mr. Bourman, Mr. Story, Mr. Clayton, Mr. Newark, and Mr. Bransby, were called in; and severally examined.

And then withdrew.

Resolved, That the further Consideration how this House will proceed, with Relation to the Crimes, whereof Samuel Shepherd senior, Esquire, stands convicted before this House, be adjourned till this Day Sevensnight.

And then the House adjourned till To-morrow Morning, Nine a Clock.

Memorandum;

Memorandum: The Fourth of the said Seven Accounts was made up for Sixteen Months, the Accountant being directed so to do, by a Warrant signed by his Majesty, and countersigned by the then Lords of the Treasury, dated the 11th Day of September 1689: Which Warrant takes Notice, That, by reason of the Interruption of the Musters from November 1688, to May 1689, the Payments to the Forces had been, for that time, so intermixed, that it would be most convenient for all Persons concerned, that the said Accounts should be made up for Sixteen Months; viz. From the First of January 1687, to the last of April 1689, from which time the New Establishment was to begin: And, by the said Warrant, the Fifth of the said Accounts is directed to be made up for Eight Months; viz. from the First of May 1689, to the last of December following; so that the said Fourth and Fifth Accounts take in Two Years; viz. from the First of January 1687, to the last of December 1689.

Memorandum also, That the Seventh of the said foregoing Accounts is made up for 15 Months; viz. from the First of January 1690, to the last of March 1692; because the great Establishment of the Forces which brought most of the Regiments that had served in the reducing of Ireland, under the Accountant's Care, begins from the First of April 1692.

The said State of the Poundage, and what was deducted of it by the Accountants within the time of the foregoing Account; viz.

By the several Establishments which took in the whole time of this Account, being Six Years and Three Months, ending as aforesaid, the last of March 1692, the Accountant was directed to deduct as usually, Twelve-pence out of every Twenty Shillings paid by him to the Forces, &c.; of which One Third Part was, by the Warrants directing the said Deductions, to be applied to the Exchequer Fees, and to the Paymaster of the Forces for the Time being; and the remaining Two Thirds were to remain in the said Paymaster's Hands upon Account, to be applied either to the Use of the Royal Hospital near Chelsea, or towards the lessening the Charge of the Establishments, according to Directions: But from the First of April 1692, when the great Establishment of the Forces began, which brought most of the Regiments that had served in the reducing of Ireland, under this Accountant's Care; and which amounted to 1,143,183 l. 10 s. 11 d. per Annum; the Third of the Poundage, applicable by the former Establishments, as aforesaid, to the Exchequer Fees, and to the Paymaster of the Forces for the Time being, was entirely extinguished; and the whole Poundage was left to his Majesty's Disposal; who was pleased to grant this Accountant, out of it, a settled Salary of 3,000 l. a Year, being what was then allowed to the Treasurer of the Navy.

As to the Two Thirds of the Poundage deducted from the First of January 1685, to the last of March 1692, which amounted to 136,622 l. 19 s. 2 d. this Accountant hath accounted for the same, in manner following:

	l.	s.	d.
In the First of the said Seven Accounts he charged himself with	5,155	4	8
In the Second of the said Seven Accounts he charged himself with	5,090	14	10
In the Third of the said Seven Accounts he charged himself with	10,243	17	8
Making together, towards lessening the Charge of the Establishment	20,489	17	2

And as to the Remainder of the said 136,622 l. 19 s. 2 d. being 116,133 l. 2 s. 0 d. the said Accountant hath charged himself therewith in Two Accounts, particularly relating to the Royal Hospital, near Chelsea; viz.

	l.	s.	d.
In the Account for the said Hospital, which begins the said First of January 1685, and ends the Last of December 1687, he charges himself, amongst other Sums, with Poundage, to the Amount of	20,489	17	2
And in the Account for the said Hospital, which begins from the First of January 1687, and ends the Last of March 1692, he charges himself with Poundage, to the Amount of	95,643	4	10

Total Charge in the said Two Accounts - 116,133 2 0

Memorandum: The First of the said Hospital Accounts is actually passed by One of the Auditors of the Imprests: And the other Account is ready for the said Auditors; but cannot properly be delivered to them, till the last of the aforesaid Seven Accounts, being for Fifteen Months, is actually passed: But, in the mean time, the Accountant hath delivered in a Draught of the said Account, upon his Oath, to the Commissioners of Accounts; at the End of which, there is a small Balance due to the Accountant.

Ranelagh.

The said Account beginning the First of April 1692, and ending the 25th of March 1699.

Sabbati, 15° Martii.

The Earl of Nottingham reported from the Lords Committees appointed to draw up, and state, the Facts, as to the Treaty now in Debate.

That the Committee had met, and thought it proper to set down such Facts as appeared to them; viz.

- 1st, That, by the Treaty of Partition, Naples, Sicily, &c. were to be given to the Dauphin.
- 2d, That the Emperor was not a Party to the Treaty, though principally concerned.
3. That no Minister of the States General met with the Plenipotentiaries of England and France, as was required by the Powers at the making of the Treaty in London.
4. That there were no Instructions in Writing to our Plenipotentiaries, though the Powers were unlimited; and that, if there were verbal Orders given, yet it appears not to us they were considered in any Council.
5. That the Treaty, when perfected, was not considered in any Council before it was ratified.
6. That it appears, that the Warrant for Ratification was countersigned by one of the Plenipotentiaries.
7. That the Treaty was transacted and signed, and the Great Seal affixed to it, during the Sitting of a Parliament.

Then the House, upon Consideration of the First Head in the said Report, agreed to the same, with the Alteration following; viz.

Instead of "given to," read "put into the Hands of."

Then the Second Head was read.

After Debate thereupon, the Question was put, Whether this Paragraph shall stand.

It was resolved in the Negative.

Dissentient,

1. Because it is manifest by the Treaty itself, that the Matter of Fact is true.
2. Because the Emperor, as we conceive, had been the most proper to have been treated with on this Occasion; for it was more prudent and safe to have treated with the Emperor to have restrained the Pretensions of France, than with France to lessen the Dominions of the House of Austria; which, in its full Strength, and in Conjunction with the most considerable Powers of Europe, and with the Expence of more than Sixty Millions Sterling to our Share, was scarce able to withstand the Arms of France.

3dly, But, admitting that the Emperor was not the most proper to be treated with; yet, to prevent the Umbrage which might be taken by uniting too many Dominions under one Prince, especially such a Prince, as, without any Additions, was formidable to all Europe; yet, of all others, the Emperor was the most improper to be left out of such a Treaty; for he was most concerned in it; and our Ministers could not, or at least did not, sufficiently support his Interests, or the just Balance of Europe: But, on the contrary, as we are informed by One Lord, who signed this Treaty, it was concluded against the express Desire of the Emperor.

3 Head. That no Minister of the States General met with the Plenipotentiaries of England and France, as were required by the Powers at the making the Treaty in London.

After Debate, the Question was put, Whether this Paragraph shall stand.

It was resolved in the Negative.

Dissentient,

1st, Because the Truth of this Proposition is Reason enough for asserting it; and it must certainly be of fatal Consequence, if Ministers, without any Directions by Instructions in Writing, shall presume to act contrary to the very Commission that impowers them: And, in this Case, the Assistance of the Dutch Minister was the more necessary, because the Emperor was no Party to this Treaty; and the States General are more immediately concerned than we are, to promote his Interests.

2dly, Because, if this Treaty was concerted with the Dutch Ministers in 1699, before his Majesty's Return into England, as was asserted by One of the Lords who signed it afterwards in London; then, 1st, This Treaty was made by those who had no Authority to transact it; for the Power was not granted by his Majesty till the Second of January following.

2dly, As they acted without Power, so without Instructions too in Writing; which never was practised in any former Transaction abroad.

Lastly, We conceive, That neither of the foregoing Facts ought, in Reason, according to the Method of Parliament, to be ordered to be omitted; because, till the Committee had formed the Address, pursuant to the Order, it was impossible to know what Use should be made of those Facts; for as they might have been improperly applied, and then would have been justly rejected, so there might have been so great Use made of them, and so opposite to the Design of the House in the intended Address, that it will be improper to omit them.

After Consideration of the Report made from the Lords Committees appointed to state Matters of Fact upon the Treaty in Debate, and to draw an Address thereupon; it is Ordered, by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled, That the Debate in the Fourth Paragraph in the Report, shall be, and is hereby, adjourned till Monday next, at Eleven a Clock; and all the Lords summoned.

Lune, 17° Martii.

The Order being read, for resuming the adjourned Debate upon the Fourth Paragraph in the Report from the Committee appointed to state Matters of Fact, and draw an Address to his Majesty upon the Partition Treaty;

Some Lords of the Council, having his Majesty's Leave, were heard relating to the Treaty: And Mr. Secretary Vernon being mentioned;

A Message was sent to the House of Commons, by Sir John Franklyn, and Sir Lacon William Child, to desire, That they will give Leave to Mr. Secretary Vernon, a Member of their House, to come to a Committee of the Lords now sitting in the Prince's Lodgings, to give an Account of some Matters relating to the Treaty of Partition, which their Lordships have now under their Consideration.

Ordered, That it be the same Committee as stated the Matters of Fact.

After some time, the Messengers sent to the House of Commons returned this Answer:

That the Commons have given Leave to Mr. Secretary Vernon to attend the Committee, as desired, if he thinks fit.

Hereupon the House was adjourned during Pleasure: And the Lords went to the Committee: Which being ended, the House was resumed: And the Earl of Nottingham gave the House an Account, That the Lords have been at the Committee, and heard Mr. Secretary Vernon to the Treaty of Partition.

Then, after reading the Fourth Paragraph, or Matter of Fact, reported from the Committee; and Debate thereupon;

The House agreed as follows;

Whatever verbal Orders or Instructions were given, yet it appears not to us, that the Draught of the Treaty, when perfected, was considered at any Council, when the King was present, or that it was advised or approved by any Council or Committee of Council.

Ordered, by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled, That the further Consideration of Matters of Fact, in the transacting the Partition Treaty, shall be adjourned till To-morrow at Eleven a Clock.

Martis, 18° Martii.

The House went into Debate, pursuant to the Order Yesterday, concerning the Treaty of Partition: And it being proposed,

That it appears, that there were Powers, dated the First of July, to treat with the Emperor, the Dutch, and French Ministers, for securing the mutual Friendship, upon Terms most suitable to the Circumstances at that Time; and we are informed, That, accordingly, there was some Progress made in that Negotiation; but afterwards there were new Powers granted, the First of January, to treat with the French and Dutch Ministers only; and the Treaty for the Partition of the Spanish Monarchy was concluded without the Emperor.

And after Debate thereupon;

This Question was put, Whether the said Proposals shall go to the Committee, to be one of the Heads for the Address.

It was resolved in the Negative.

Dissentient,

Granville,	Weymouth,	Guilford.

Then it was further proposed,

That it appears, that the French King's Acceptance of the Will of the King of Spain is a manifest Violation of the Treaty; and humbly to advise the King, That, in all future Treaties with the French King, his Majesty do proceed with such Caution, as may carry along with it a real Security.

After Debate thereupon;

This Question was put, Whether the said Proposal shall go to the said Committee, to be one of the Heads for the Address.

It was resolved in the Affirmative.

Dissentient,

1. Because it may be construed to be an Approbation of the Treaty; which, as we conceive, was not intended by the House.

2dly, Because it is impossible to know the full Meaning and Extent of real Security.

The Lord Chamberlain acquainted the House, That he had a Message from his Majesty in Writing: Which was read by the Lord Keeper; as followeth;

William R.

His Majesty having directed Mr. Stanhope, his Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary at the Hague, to enter into Negotiations, in Concert with the States General of the United Provinces, and other Potentates, for the mutual Security of England and Holland, and the Preservation of the Peace of Europe; and the said Mr. Stanhope having transmitted to his Majesty Copies of his Demands, made by himself, and the Deputies of the States, upon that Subject, to the French Ambassador there; his Majesty has thought fit to communicate the same to the House of Lords; it being his Majesty's gracious Intention to to acquaint ..... from time to time, with the State and Progress of those Negotiations.

Kensington, the 17th March 1701.

1st, The Proposal, made to the French Ambassador by Mr. Stanhope, was read.

2d, Translation of the Resolution of the States General for treating with Mr. D'Avaux, the 22d of March 1701.

Jovis, 20° Martii.

The Earl of Nottingham reported from the Lords Committees appointed to state Matters of Fact upon the Treaty of Partition, and to draw an Address thereupon, That the Committee had accordingly drawn an Address, to be presented to his Majesty: Which was read; and, with one Amendment, agreed to, as follows; viz.

We your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled, having read and considered the Treaty <sup>21 February</sup> <sub>3 March</sub> 1700, made with the French King, together with the separate and secret Articles which your Majesty hath been pleased to communicate to us, do, with all Humility, represent to your Majesty, That, to our great Sorrow, we find the Matters thereof to have been of very ill Consequence to the Peace and Safety of Europe: For, besides the Occasion it may have given to the late King of Spain to have made his Will in Favour of the Duke of Anjou, if this Treaty had taken Effect, the Prejudice to your Majesty and your Subjects, and indeed to all Europe, by the Addition of Sicily, Naples, several Ports in the Mediterranean, the Province of Guypuscoa, and the Duchy of Lorraine, had been not only very great, but contrary to the Pretence of the Treaty itself; which was, to prevent any Umbrage which might be taken, by uniting too many States and Dominions under one Head.

And, by all the Informations we have yet had of the Progress of this fatal Treaty, we cannot find, that the verbal Orders and Instructions, if any were given to your Majesty's Plenipotentiaries, were ever considered in any of your Majesty's Councils; or that the Draught of this Treaty was ever laid before your Majesty at any Meeting of your Council; much less, that it was advised or approved by any Council, or Committee of Council.

We therefore think ourselves obliged, in Duty to your Majesty, and Justice to our Country, most humbly to beseech your Majesty, that, for the future, your Majesty will be pleased to require and admit, in all Matters of Importance, the Advice of your natural-born Subjects, whose known Probity and Fortunes may give your Majesty, and your People, a just Assurance of their Fidelity in your Service; and, in order hereunto, to constitute a Council of such Persons, to whom your Majesty may be pleased to impart all Affairs, both at home and abroad, which may any way concern your Majesty, and your Dominions: For, as Interest, and natural Affection to their Country, will incline them to wish the Welfare and Prosperity of it much more than others, who have not such Ties upon them; and as their Experience and Knowledge of their Country will also render them more capable, than Strangers, of advising your Majesty in the true Interests of it; so we are very confident, that, after such large and repeated Demonstrations of your Subjects Duty and Affection, your Majesty cannot doubt of their Zeal in your Service, nor want the Knowledge of Persons fit to be employed in all your most secret and arduous Affairs.

And since it appears, That the French King's accepting of the King of Spain's Will is a manifest Violation of this Treaty; we humbly advise your Majesty, in future Treaties with the French King, to proceed with such Caution, as may carry along with it a real Security.

It being proposed to send to the House of Commons for their Concurrence to the said Address;

And Debate thereupon;

The Question was put, Whether this Address shall be communicated to the House of Commons for their Concurrence.

It was resolved in the Negative.

Dissentient,

Rochester,

W. Oxon,

Devonshire.

1st, Because we conceive, That the last Clause in the Address does necessarily imply a War, and That a very long one, by reason of the Extent, unintelligible, at least to us, of real Security, and the great improbability of obtaining any Terms of that Kind: And since this necessarily implies great Supplies, which cannot be granted without the House of Commons, we think their Concurrence in this Address absolutely necessary; and that 'tis very improper for us to desire That of the King, which, for want of such Concurrence of the Commons, we conceive his Majesty will not think fit or prudent to grant.

2dly, We conceive all the other Parts of the Address very fit to be communicated to the House of Commons; for upon the Success of it depends the future Happiness of this Nation: And as we cannot doubt of the Readiness of the Commons to join in any proper Measures towards it; so we think their Concurrence in it will highly contribute towards the obtaining a gracious Answer from his Majesty: And we cannot but think it reasonable, that the Advice of the whole Nation, assembled in Parliament, should be made known to his Majesty upon this Occasion.

3dly, Having desired the House of Commons to permit Mr. Secretary Vernon, a Member of their House, to come to a Committee of Lords, to inform them of some Matters relating to this Treaty; we apprehend, that the House of Commons may think it extraordinary, and not suitable to the good Correspondence which is highly necessary between the Two Houses, not to acquaint them with the Things which had come to our Knowledge, partly by the Information of their own Member.

4thly, And having been otherwise informed of some Transactions, relating to this Treaty, between the Earl of Portland and Mr. Secretary Vernon, by Letters, of which we have not had a full Account; we think it may be very useful to the Publick to communicate this Address to the Commons, who have better Opportunity, than we have had, of inquiring into this Matter; which seems to be yet in the Dark; and which their own Members may help to explain to them.

3. The said Earl doth agree to pay Four Fifth Parts, the whole in Five Parts to be divided, of all Monies which shall be laid out for the buying such good and sufficient Ship for the Purposes aforesaid, together with Rigging, and other Apparel and Furniture thereof, and providing the same with competent Victualling, the said Ship to be approved of by the said Parties; and the said other Fifth Part of the Charges of the said Ship to be paid by the said Robert Livingston and William Kidd.

4. The said Earl doth agree, That in order to the speedy buying the said Ship, and in Part of the said Four Parts of Five of the said Charges, he will pay down the Sum of 1,600*l.* by way of Advance, on or before the 6th Day of November next ensuing.

5. The said Robert Livingston and Captain William Kidd do jointly and severally covenant and agree, That on or before the said 6th Day of November, when the said Earl of Bellmont is to pay the said Sum of 1,600*l.* as aforesaid, they will advance, and pay down, 400*l.* in Part of the Share and Proportion which they are to have in the said Ship.

6. The said Earl doth agree to pay such further Sum of Money, as shall complete, and make up, the said Four Parts of Five, of the Charges of the said Ship's Apparel, Furniture, and Victualling, unto the said Robert Livingston and William Kidd, within Seven Weeks after the Date of these Presents; and, in like manner, the said Robert Livingston and William Kidd do agree to pay such further Sum as shall amount to a Fifth Part, of the whole Charge of the said Ship, within Seven Weeks after the Date of these Presents.

7. The said Captain Kidd doth covenant and agree to procure, and take with him, on board the said Ship, One hundred Mariners or Seamen, or thereabouts, and to make what reasonable and convenient Speed he can, to set out to Sea with the said Ship; and to sail to such Parts or Places where he may meet with the said Pirates; and to use his utmost Endeavour to meet with, conquer, and subdue the said Pirates, or any other Pirates; and to take from them their Goods, Merchandizes, and Treasure; also to take what Prizes he can from the King's Enemies, and forthwith to make the best of his Way to Boston in New England; and that without touching at any other Port or Harbour whatsoever, or without breaking Bulk, or diminishing any Part of what he shall so take or obtain, on any Pretence whatsoever; of which he shall make Oath, in case the same shall be desired by the said Earl of Bellmont; and there to deliver the same into the Hands or Possession of the said Earl.

8. The said Captain Kidd doth agree, That the Contract and Bargain which he will make with his said Ship's Crew, shall be, No Purchase, no Pay; and not otherwise: And that the Share and Proportion which his said Crew shall, by such Contract, have of such Prizes, Goods, Merchandizes, and Treasure, as he shall take, as Prize, or from any Pirates, shall not, at the most, exceed a Fourth Part of the same; and shall be less than a Fourth Part, in case the same may reasonably and conveniently be agreed upon.

9. The said Robert Livingston, and Captain Wm. Kidd, do jointly and severally agree with the said Earl of Bellmont, That in case the said Captain Kidd do not meet with the said Pirates, which went from New England, Rhode Island, New York, or elsewhere, as aforesaid; or do not take from any other Pirates, or from any the King's Enemies, such Goods, Merchandizes, or other Things of Value, as, being divided as herein after is mentioned, shall fully recompense the said Earl, for the Monies by him expended in buying the said Four Fifth Parts of the said Ship and Premises; that then they shall refund and repay to the said Earl of Bellmont the whole Money by him to be advanced, in Sterling Money, or Money equivalent thereunto, on or before the 25th Day of March, which shall be in the Year of our Lord 1697; the Danger of the Seas, and of the Enemy, and Mortality of the said Captain Kidd, always excepted: Upon Payment whereof, the said Robert Livingston and Captain Kidd are to have the sole Property in the said Ship and Furniture; and this Indenture to be delivered up to them, with all other Covenants and Obligations thereunto belonging.

10. It is agreed between the said Parties, That as well the Goods, Merchandizes, Treasure, and other Things, which shall be taken from the said Pirates, or any Pirates, by the said William Kidd, as also all such Prizes as shall be by him taken from any of the King's Enemies, shall be divided in manner following; that is to say, Such Part as shall be for that Purpose agreed upon by the said Captain Kidd, so as the same do not in the Whole exceed a Fourth Part, shall be paid or delivered to the Ship's Crew, for their Use; and the other Three Parts to be divided into Five equal Parts, whereof the said Earl is to have, to his own Use, Four full Parts, and the other Fifth Part is to be equally divided between the said Robert Livingston and the said Wm. Kidd; and is to be paid and delivered them by the said Earl of Bellmont, without Deduction or Abatement on any Pretence whatsoever: But it is always to be understood, that such Prizes as shall be taken from the King's Enemies, are to be lawfully adjudged Prize, in the usual manner, before any Division, or otherwise intermeddling therewith, than according to the true Intent of the said Commission, to be granted in that behalf.

Lastly, It is covenanted and agreed between the Parties to these Presents, That in Case the said Captain Wm. Kidd do bring to Boston aforesaid, and there deliver to the Earl of Bellmont, Goods, Merchandizes, Treasure, or Prizes, to the Value of 100,000*l.* or upwards, which he shall have taken from the said Pirates, or from other Pirates, or from the King's Enemies; that then the Ship which is now speedily to be bought by the said Parties, shall be and remain to the sole Use and Behoof of him the said Captain Kidd, as a Reward and Gratification for his good Service therein.

Bellmont.

Memorandum: Before the Sealing and Delivery of these Presents, it was covenanted and agreed by the said Earl of Bellmont, with the said Robert Livingston Esquire, and Captain William Kidd, That the Person to whom the Grant abovementioned in these Articles shall be made by his Majesty, shall within Eight Days at the most, after such Grant has passed the Great Seal of England, assign and transfer to each of them the said Robert Livingston Esquire, and Captain William Kidd respectively, their Heirs and Assigns, One full Tenth Part (the Ship's Crew's Share and Proportion being first deducted) of all such Goods, Treasure, or other Things, as shall be taken by the said Captain Kidd, by virtue of such Commission as aforesaid: And the said Grantee shall make such Assignment as aforesaid, in such Manner as by the said Robert Livingston Esquire, and Captain William Kidd, or their Counsel learned in the Law, shall be reasonably devised and required: And then these Presents were sealed and delivered, the Sixpenny Stamp being first affixed, in the Presence of us,

The said Sailing Orders.

London, 25th February 1694.

Captain William Kidd,

You being now ready to sail, I do hereby desire and direct you, that you and your Men do serve God in the best Manner you can: That you keep good Order, and good Government, in your Ship: That you make the best of your Way to the Place and Station where you are to put the Powers you have in Execution: And, having effected the same, you are, according to Agreement, to sail directly to Boston in New England, there to deliver unto me the Whole of what Prizes, Treasure, Merchandizes, and other Things, you shall have taken by virtue of the Powers and Authorities granted you: But if, after the Success of your Design, you shall fall in with any English Fleet bound for England, having good Convoy, you are, in such Case, to keep them Company, and bring all your Prizes to London, notwithstanding any Covenant to the contrary in our Articles of Agreement. Pray fail not to give Advice, by all Opportunities, how the Gally proves; how your Men stand, what Progress you make; and, in general of all remarkable Passages in your Voyage, to the Time of your Writing. Direct your Letters to Mr. Edmund Harrison. I pray God grant you good Success, and send us a good Meeting again.

PRAYERS.

RESOLVED, That this House will, upon Monday Supply. Morning next, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider further of the Supply to be granted to his Majesty: And that the Engineers and Officers, of the Ordnance, do then attend the said Committee.

Mr. Blathwaite, from the Commissioners of Trade and Plantations, presented to the House their Answers to the Order of the 12th of March instant, by which they were to lay before this House an Account of their Proceedings for the Improvement of Trade, since the 21st Day of March 1699, being the Time of the Delivery of their last Account.

And the Title thereof was read:

And the Answer is as followeth; viz.

In Obedience to the Order of this Honourable House, dated the 12th of this instant March, requiring from us an Account of our Proceedings for Improvement of Trade, since the 21st of March last; we humbly offer, That we did then represent to the Honourable House the Powers and Authorities committed to us by his Majesty; whereby we are directed to examine, and take an Account of, the State of Trade; and to do what in us lies, for the Encouragement thereof, in giving the Merchants, and others concerned, all the Satisfaction and Dispatch we can in their Business, from time to time; as also to make constant Inquiries into the Conditions of his Majesty's Plantations in America, as well with regard to the Administration of Government, as in relation to Commerce; and how those Colonies may be kept in good Order, and rendered most beneficial to this Kingdom; to prepare Commissions and Instructions to Governors; and to examine the Journals and Proceedings of the several Councils and Assemblies, and all the Acts and Laws made by them, in order to the Amendment, Approbation, or Disallowance thereof; to correspond with all the said Governors, and other Officers, in the publick Administration; and to make Representations to his Majesty, or the Privy Council, of what may occur to us upon the Heads or Matters aforesaid; wherein a considerable Part of our Time has been continued to be taken up, since the said Month of March last: The chief Particulars whereof, and of other incident Business, we shall now lay before this Honourable House, in the shortest Method we are able, referring ourselves, for a clearer Deduction of several Matters transacted by us, and under our daily Consideration, to our former Report, given at that Time.

The French Ambassador having presented to his Majesty a Memorial, complaining of the Royal African Company's trading into the River Senegall, and of their hindering the French from trading up the River Gambia; we thereupon heard the Company: And, finding that they deny their Trading up the River Senegall, and assert their Right to the sole Trade up the River Gambia, we represented the same to his Majesty, for Answer to the said Ambassador's Memorial; and offered, that the Trade along the Coast ought to be kept free, and common to both Nations.

In further Reference to that Trade, a Complaint having been made to his Majesty in Council, by Mr. William Bird and others, of the Seizure of their Ship, called the William and Jane, by the French, about Port Adally, on that Coast of Africa, where she was trading with a Licence from the Royal African Company, according to the late Act of Parliament; were presented to his Majesty the Company's Right, and constant Trade on that Coast; humbly proposing, that his Majesty would be pleased to insist insist upon the Restitution of the said Ship and Damages, and to give such further Orders, as should be thought fit, to prevent the like Violences for the future.

The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having understood from his Majesty's Consul at Algiers, by his Letter of the 13th April last, that the Dey of that Place had given no longer Time, than till September following, for all Ships belonging to his Majesty's Subjects to be provided with Admiralty Passes, which had been discontinued during the late War; insisting upon the Treaty made with them the 10th of April 1682; and declaring, That after that time, such Ships as should be met by their Cruisers, not being furnished with Passes in the Form required, would be seized, and carried up to Algiers; by which means the Plantation Ships, those to Newfoundland, and others employed in long Voyages, would have been in great Danger; and his Majesty having thereupon required us to consider and settle the Method of granting Passes to the Ships of his Majesty's Subjects, trading in the Way of the Algerines; we humbly reported to his Majesty the State of that Matter, not only in relation to the Forms of such Passes, but more particularly to the Places whither they should be sent to the Persons who might be intrusted with the Distribution thereof, and to the Directions and Instructions to be given to such Persons in the Execution of that Trust: And we humbly proposed, that the most pressing and effectual Means might be used with the Government of Algiers, to enlarge the Time that had been limited by that Government: All which having been accordingly directed, Passes were sent to the several Persons appointed to distribute them; and the Government of Algiers was prevailed with to prolong the Time for One Year more; viz. till the End of September next; by which Means the Navigation of his Majesty's Subjects have been preserved from that Danger.

Memorials from Mr. Broughton, his Majesty's Consul at Venice, relating to the Trade of Fish and Currans, between England and the Venetians Dominions, having, by his Majesty's Order, been referred to our Consideration; we consulted the Merchants trading in those Parts; and reported what we found to be the State of that Trade, not only with relation to those Two Commodities, but to the whole Trade between England and the Venetian Dominions in general: And we further set forth the Inconveniences and Hardships that, we had been informed, the English Merchants, trading in those Parts, do lie under.

Differences having arisen between the English Merchants residing at Lisbon, and the Judge Conservator of the English Nation there; and the Merchants of London trading to Portugal having thereupon applied to his Majesty, that he would please to interpose with the King of Portugal, for the Removal of the said Conservator; we gave his Majesty the necessary Informations in that Matter; and humbly proposed what we judged most for the Ease of the Merchants, and the Advantage of that Trade.

A Vessel, called the Beckford Gally, belonging to English Owners, having been seized at Madagascar, by Pirates, in Combination of some of the said Ship's Company; we did, at the Owners Desire, represent the Case to his Majesty; and Letters, prepared by us for his Majesty's Royal Signature, were thereupon dispatched to the Governors of the Plantations, for securing the said Ship and Men, and proceeding against them according to Law.

An Act of Parliament having been made, in the last Sessions, for the more effectual Suppression of Piracy; wherein it is provided, That Commissions be passed, either under the Great Seal of England, or under the Seal of the Admiralty, for the Tryal of Pirates in the Methods directed by the said Act; we did immediately represent to his Majesty the Necessity that those Commissions should be dispatched: And his Majesty having thereupon directed them to be passed under the Great Seal; we further humbly offered our Opinion upon the Form which had been prepared by Mr. Attorney and Mr. Solicitor

VOL. 13.

General: And, having consulted both the Old and New East India Companies, we settled with each of them, to what Persons and Places those Commissions might be fitly directed in those Parts: And soon after, we also laid before his Majesty a List of the Persons and Places to which the like Commissions might be directed in his Majesty's Plantations in America: All which having accordingly been done, and the said Commissions being passed and sent, we prepared Letters for his Majesty's Royal Signature, to the respective Governors of those Plantations, for sending hither all Accessories in Cases of Piracy, who, by the said Act, are not to be tried beyond the Seas.

And having since been required by his Majesty to consider of the Draft of a Proclamation, that had been prepared, for encouraging the Apprehending and Convicting of Pirates, in reference to the Time fit to be allowed them to come in, and make Affidavit, as thereby directed; we offered to his Majesty divers Considerations relating to Pirates: Upon which his Majesty was pleased to issue his late Proclamation of the 6th Instant.

There is a constant Return of Business every Year relating to the Trade and Fishery of Newfoundland; and, from the Commodore of the last Convoy, we received an Account of the Course and Progress thereof, with particular Respect to the Execution of the late Act of Parliament to encourage that Trade, in Answer to what was given him in Charge; and we have prepared other Instructions and Dispatches to the Commodore of the Convoy now going thither, for the rectifying several Abuses, and making further Inquiries into the State of the Trade and Fishery of his Majesty's Subjects there, and into that of the French in those Seas.

We have likewise taken again into Consideration the properest Methods of employing the Poor; but having, the last Session, represented to the House, That, for the making the Poor useful, and not burdensome, to the Publick, we had made divers Proposals, how we conceived that Work might be best effected; and having also, in pursuance of an Order of a Committee of the House at the End of the last Session, prepared an Abstract of all the Laws now in Force relating to the Poor, together with the Draught of a Bill, whereby they might be reduced into One Law, and laid the same before the Committee; we found, that we could not make a further Progress on that Subject, until this Honourable House shall have proceeded thereupon.

As to his Majesty's Plantations in America, we have made several Representations in Defence of his Majesty's Right to such of them as have been at any time claimed by the French, or other Foreigners; and having formerly set forth his Majesty's Title to the Island of Tobago, One of the Caribbe Islands in the Neighbourhood of Barbadoes, we have since offered to his Majesty such Considerations as put a Stop to the Design of some Persons here, who, under a Pretence of an Agreement with the Duke of Courland's Envoy, were contriving to settle the said Island under the Title and Protection of that Prince; and have thereby prevented the great Prejudice such a Settlement would have caused to the Island of Barbadoes, and the Trade of this Kingdom.

Having also formerly, in a Report to their Excellencies the Lords Justices, represented his Majesty's Right of Sovereignty over the Island of S. Lucia in the same Neighbourhood; and Directions having accordingly been given to the Governor of Barbadoes for maintaining the same: Upon which, the French Ambassador complained to his Majesty of these Proceedings; and insisted upon the French King's Right to that Island; we again laid before his Majesty a full Deduction of his Majesty's Title to the said Island, in Answer to the French Pretensions.

The said Ambassador having likewise presented to his Majesty a Memorial, complaining of a Design alleged by him to be carrying on by some of the Inhabitants of Barbadoes, in order to the Settling of the Island of Dominica, another of the Caribbe Islands; and having therein questioned the Right of the English to the said Island,

we did, by a like Deduction, state and assert his Majesty's Title thereunto.

Upon a Controversy between his Majesty's Province of New York and the Charter Government of Connecticut Colony in New England, relating to their Boundaries; we examined the Pretensions of both Sides; and reported to his Majesty the State thereof, together with Draughts of Letters for his Royal Signature, and an Instrument proper for the determining and settling those Boundaries.

We have, on many Occasions, represented to his Majesty, as we did likewise, in our last Report, to the late House of Commons, the State of such Plantations in America, as are under the Government of Proprietors and Charters; and how inconsistent these Governments are with the Trade and Welfare of this Kingdom:

That these Colonies, in general, have no ways answered the chief Design, for which such large Tracts of Land, and such Privileges and Immunities, were granted by the Crown:

That they have not conformed themselves to the several Acts of Parliament for regulating Trade and Navigation, to which they ought to pay the same Obedience, and submit to the same Restriction, as the other Plantations, which are subject to his Majesty's immediate Government; though, on the contrary, in most of these Propriety and Charter Governments, the Governors have not applied themselves to his Majesty for his Approbation, nor have taken the Oaths required by the Acts of Trade; both which Qualifications are made necessary by the late Act for preventing Frauds, and regulating Abuses in the Plantation Trade:

That they have assumed to themselves a Power to make Laws, contrary and repugnant to the Laws of England, and directly prejudicial to our Trade, some of them having refused to send hither such Laws as they have there enacted; and others having sent them, but very imperfectly:

That divers of them having denied Appeals to his Majesty in Council; by which, not only the Inhabitants of those Colonies, but others his Majesty's Subjects, are deprived of that Benefit enjoyed in the Plantations under his Majesty's immediate Government; and the Parties aggrieved are left without Remedy from the arbitrary and illegal Proceedings of their Courts:

That these Colonies continue to be the Refuge and Retreat of Pirates and illegal Traders, and the Receptacle of Goods imported thither from foreign Parts, contrary to Law; in Return of which Commodities, those of the Growth of these Colonies are likewise, contrary to Law, exported to foreign Parts: All which is likewise much encouraged by their not admitting Appeals, as aforesaid:

That, by raising or lowering their Coin from time to time, to their particular Advantage, and to the Prejudice of other Colonies; by exempting their Inhabitants from Duties and Customs, to which the other Colonies are subject; and by harbouring of Servants and Fugitives; these Governments tend greatly to the undermining the Trade of the other Plantations, and entice and draw away the People thereof; by which Diminution of Hands, the rest of the Colonies, more beneficial to England, do very much suffer.

Nor have we omitted to take Notice, That these independent Colonies do turn the Course of Trade to the promoting and propagating Woollen and other Manufactures proper to England, instead of applying their Thoughts and Endeavours to the Production of such Commodities, as are fit to be encouraged in those Parts, according to the true Design and Intention of those Settlements.

That these Governments do not put themselves into a State of Defence against an Enemy; nor do they sufficiently provide themselves with Arms and Ammunition; many of them having not a regular Militia, and some of them being no otherwise, at present, than in a State of Anarchy and Confusion.

To cure these, and other great Mischiefs in these Colonies, and to introduce such an Administration of Government, and fit Regulation of Trade, as may make them duly subservient and useful to England; we have humbly offered our Opinion, That the Charters of the several Proprietors and others, intitling them to a Right of Government, should be reassumed to the Crown, and these Colonies put into the same State and Dependency as those of his Majesty's other Plantations, without further Prejudice to every Man's particular Property and Freehold; which, we conceive, cannot otherwise be well effected, than by the legislative Power of this Kingdom.

Upon Occasion of several Complaints relating to the Administration of Justice in Barbadoes, we have given Directions for the more regular Holding of the Courts of Justice in that Island, and transmitting to us such Account of their Proceedings, as will tend to the Reforming of all Neglects and Irregularities in those Courts: We have also prepared Letters for his Majesty's Royal Signature, which have accordingly been dispatched, containing particular Commands to the Governor and Council of the said Island; for redressing all Miscarriages of that kind, and preventing Complaints of the like Nature.

And a Petition having been presented to his Majesty by the Agents of that Island, and other Persons having an Interest there; wherein they set forth the present Condition of that Island; and pray, That the Duty or Impost of 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  per Cent. arising there upon all dead Commodities exported from that Island, may be applied to the Reparation of the Ports, and other Uses; we laid before his Majesty the State of that Matter, expressing particularly the several Grounds and Considerations upon which the said Duty was given, and the Application that has been lately made thereof to the Uses mentioned in a late Act of Parliament for granting to his Majesty certain Duties, for the necessary Expence of his Majesty's Household, and other necessary Occasions: Further representing to his Majesty, That the Inhabitants of Barbadoes have expressed great Zeal, and been at considerable Expence, in his Majesty's Service, during the late War; and that the said Island, with respect to the present Conjuncture, may deserve a particular Regard, as well in reference to the Repairs and Improvement of the Fortifications, as to the Security of that Place and Trade, by Ships of War.

His Majesty having been pleased, upon our Representations, to recal the Governor of the Bermuda Islands, and to appoint another to succeed him, we prepared a Commission and Instructions for the new Governor, with the necessary Alterations; and, upon his Departure, considering the great Importance of those Islands to the Plantation Trade, and Navigation of England, we further proposed to his Majesty, That a Supply of Powder and Arms might be immediately sent thither; and that, upon the Governor's Arrival there, he should forthwith report what he might find further requisite to be done, or sent from hence, for the Security of the said Islands: All which having been approved by his Majesty, Supplies have been sent, and Directions given, accordingly.

In order to the Production of Naval Stores in the Plantations, we directed the Earl of Bellmont to use his utmost Endeavours to advance that Design in the Provinces under his Government: And he, finding the Deartness of Labour in those Parts, wherein the Inhabitants are not numerous, to be a great Obstruction to that Work, for which Nature otherwise afforded great Advantages, did thereupon form a Proposal or Scheme for making Pitch, and Tar, and Rosin, in the Province of New York, by the Labour of Soldiers; who might, at the same time, serve for the Defence of the said Province bordering upon the French:

And his Lordship having communicated to us this Scheme, which takes in as well the Security of that Frontier, as the Production of those Stores, we laid before their Excellencies the late Lords Justices a Report upon that whole Matter; setting forth the Difficulties that appeared to us therein; the absolute Necessity of putting some Part of it, relating to the Security of the Province, in Execution; the Advantages that would accrue from the Whole, in case it should be made practicable; and the Proceedings which had already been made therein: To which we added what seemed to us most proper to be further done done with regard to the present Circumstances of that Province: From all which we are expecting a good Effect.

And having therein referred the Subject of Masts, and other Ship Timber, to be considered apart, because of the Relation it might have to other Plantations as well as to New York, we soon after laid before their Excellencies a separate Report thereupon; setting forth the State of his Majesty's Woods in those Parts; the great Waste and Spoil that is daily committed in them, by converting Oaks and Pines of the largest Dimensions into Pipe Staves and Deal Boards; the great Consumption likewise of Timber by a Trade to Spain and Portugall, which is not prohibited by Law; and the Advantages that may be drawn from those Woods to England, if there was a due Provision by Laws, which we accordingly proposed to be made; and having thereupon received his Majesty's Directions, we prepared a Letter for his Royal Signature to the Earl of Bellmont, requiring him, That he would use his Endeavours with the Assemblies there to pass Acts proper for that End; or, in case he could not prevail with them to do what is requisite, that he would report particularly what may be fit to be done here: Which Letter has been sent to his Lordship.

The Northern Frontiers of the Province of New York being the most advanced of any of his Majesty's Plantations towards Canada, and the chief Security of the neighbouring Plantations against an Enemy depending upon the Preservation of those Frontiers, which that Province is not alone able to provide for, we have, upon several Occasions, represented what seemed to us necessary for that Service; and particularly upon an Information from the Earl of Bellmont that all the Colonies of New England were alarmed, and under great Apprehensions, from the Intelligence given them, on all Sides, of a general Insurrection and Rebellion intended by the neighbouring Indians, unto which they had been secretly instigated by the indirect Practices and malicious Insinuations of the French of Canada; and that our Five Nations of New York Indians were corrupted by those Artifices, and seemed inclining to shake off their Dependence on the Crown of England, and to associate with the other Indians in that Insurrection; we humbly offered, That a Supply of Money might be sent towards the Building and Repairing of Forts in the Frontiers of New York, together with Presents for our Five Nations of Indians in those Parts, and Recruits for the Forces there.

We further humbly proposed to his Majesty, That the other Colonies which are so much concerned in the Security of those Frontiers, should be required to contribute, towards the Building and Repairing of their Forts, a certain Sum, in reasonable Proportions, according to a Scheme that we laid before his Majesty, together with Letters for his Royal Signature; which have accordingly been dispatched.

And his Majesty has been pleased, out of his Royal Bounty, to give 2,500 l. towards the Charge of Forts; to send Presents for our Five Nations of Indians, to the Value of 800 l.; and to recruit the Soldiers at New York, who were but 180, with Men from hence to make them up 400.

The Defence and Security of the Plantations in general being a Matter of the greatest Importance to the Trade of this Nation, we have not confined ourselves to what relates to the Province of New York, but have also, in Two other Representations, laid before his Majesty the State of all his Plantations, both in the Islands and in the Continent of America, with particular Relation to the Forts, Fortifications, and Stores of War, now there; and what may be further necessary for the Defence of those Plantations with regard to the present Conjuncture: Which Representations, or any others afore-mentioned, we are ready to lay before this Honourable House, when the same shall be required; and to explain more at large such Particulars therein, as have fallen under our Consideration, in reference to Trade, and the Security of his Majesty's foreign Dominions.

A Petition

Duties on Stone, &c.

A Petition of several Persons, on behalf of themselves and many others, who advanced to his Majesty 564,700 l. on the Credit of an Act of Parliament made in the Sixth and Seventh Years of his Majesty's Reign, for granting to his Majesty certain Rates and Duties on Stone, Glass, and Earthen Ware, Coals and Culm, for the Term of Five Years, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners did lately petition this House, shewing, That their said Fund was taken from them without their Consent; and that they are left destitute of any Security for Repayment of their Money: Which Petition was referred to the Committee of the whole House, for a Supply to his Majesty; who reported their Resolution; to which the House disagreed, with Intent, as the Petitioners hope, to make them some effectual Provision for discharging the said Debt: And praying, that their deplorable Case may be again taken into Consideration, and, if the House think fit to grant them the Continuance of the Duties on Coals and Culm for a sufficient Term of Years, after the Expiration of the Time granted by Act of Parliament to others; or else to make the Petitioners other effectual Provision for the Payment of so just a Debt, and Interest.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of the whole House, who are to consider further of the Supply to be granted to his Majesty.

Lunæ, 31° die Martii;

13° Willielmi, Anno 1701.

PRAYERS.

A PETITION of the Clothiers of Kidderminster in the County of Worcester, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That, though many good Laws had been made to prevent the Exportation of Wool; and the Government hath been at great Charges in maintaining divers Vessels for that Purpose; yet, through the Neglect or Connivance of those concerned in those Vessels, as it is feared, many thousand Packs of Wool have, within these Two last Years, been exported into France; which Practice hath much decayed our Woollen Manufactures, and, if not speedily prevented, will destroy the same, and consequently ruin the Manufactures: And praying, That Inspections may be made into the Transporting of Wool; and that effectual Means may be used to prevent the same for the future, and to maintain the Good of the Woollen Manufacture of this Kingdom.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee, who are appointed to inspect the Laws in being relating to the Woollen Manufacture.

March 24. }

The Resolution of the States General, 4th April 1701, about Succours.

The Translation of the Envoy of the States Generals Memorial, March the 30th 1701.

And the said Message was read by Mr. Speaker ; and is as followeth ; viz.

William R.

HIS Majesty having received an Account from Mr. Stanhope, his Envoy Extraordinary at the Hague, That the French Ambassador there had declared to the Pensionary, that the King his Master had no other Answer to return to the Demands made by the States General of the United Provinces, than that he is ready to renew and confirm the Treaty of Ryswick, it being all the Security the States are to expect ; and that he has no Orders to give any Answer to his Majesty's said Envoy ; but, if his Majesty has any thing to demand, it may be done by his Ambassador at Paris, or to the French Minister at London ; and that he has no Commission to treat with any but the States : And his Majesty having also received Two Resolutions of the States, and a Memorial from their Envoy here, relating to the Ships they are sending to join his Majesty's Fleet, and the Succours they desire may be hastened to them, by virtue of the Treaty made the 3d of March 1677 : His Majesty has thought fit to communicate the Whole to this House, that they may be particularly informed of the present State of Affairs abroad, where the Negotiation seems to be at an End, by the positive Answer the French Ambassador has given to the States : Which his Majesty recommends to the serious Consideration of this House, as a Matter of the greatest Weight and Consequence ; and desires that they will give his Majesty such Advice thereupon, as may be for our own Security, and that of the States General, and the Peace of Europe.

Kensington, the 31st Day of March 1701.

And the Titles of the said Extract, and Translations, were read.

And the said Extract, and Translations, are as follow ; viz.

The said Extract.

The Sieur Councillor Pensionary Heinsius has reported to the Assembly, That the Count d'Avaux, Ambassador Extraordinary of the most Christian King, came to him to let him know, that the Courier he had sent into France with the Propositions delivered to him by the Deputies of their High and Mightinesses, concerning the Preservation of the publick Peace, and the Security of these States, being returned, has brought Orders to the Count d'Avaux, to tell the Sieur Councillor Pensionary, That his most Christian Majesty, to shew his Inclination for Peace, was ready to renew the Treaties of Ryswick, made in the Year 1697 ; and that the said Count d'Avaux had desired him to make Report thereof, and desire an Answer thereupon as soon as possible : Whereupon, Deliberation being had, it was thought good, and agreed, to require and give Order to the Sieur d'Essen, and other Deputies of their High and Mightinesses for foreign Affairs, to impart and communicate the same to Mr. Stanhope, Envoy Extraordinary of his Majesty of Great Britain, and to enter into Conference with him thereupon.

Extract of the Register of the Resolutions of the High and Mighty Lords the States General of the United Provinces of the Low Countries.

Monday 4th April 1701.

After previous Deliberation, it has been thought fit, and is concluded, to require and commission the Sieur d'Essen, and other Deputies of their High and Mighty Lordships for the foreign Affairs, to enter into Conference with Mr. Stanhope, the Envoy Extraordinary of his Majesty of Great Britain ; and to represent to him, that as soon as their Lordships had Notice of the Demand made by him the said Mr. Stanhope, in another Conference, in the Name, and by the Order, of his said Majesty, that they would give the necessary Orders for fitting out the Ships of War that his Majesty might require, in case of Necessity, for his Assistance, according to the Treaties between his said Majesty and their High and Mightinesses, they immediately took care to have the said Ships equipped, so that they are, at this time, most of them ready : That their Lordships have given Orders to the Admiralties, to send those Ships, with the first fair Wind, to their Rendezvous, in order to join his Majesty's Fleet : That their Lordships having on their Side prayed his Majesty, by the Sieur Geldermansen, their Envoy Extraordinary, that he would be pleased, in Consideration of the present Juncture of Affairs, to have in Readiness the Succour agreed on by the Treaties to be sent hither to the Assistance of their Lordships, in case they were attacked, they had understood, with great Satisfaction, the good Disposition his Majesty was in to perform the Treaties, and consequently to send them the Assistance demanded : The Case now happening, and their High Mightinesses seeing daily more Troops approaching to their Frontiers, and the Preparations for War that are making in their Neighbourhood, they cannot but apprehend their Country may suddenly be assaulted ; and that, in such Case, the time might be too short to bring over hither the said Succours with so much Expedition as Necessity might require : And as their High and Mightinesses did not only give Directions immediately for fitting out the Men of War required by his Majesty, but also ordered them to set Sail forthwith, to join his Majesty's Fleet ; they hope, for the Reasons before-mentioned, his Majesty will make no difficulty to send them likewise, immediately, the 10,000 Men for their Assistance, by virtue of the Treaty of the Third of March One thousand Six hundred and Seventy-seven-eight : And therefore the said Deputies shall desire the said Mr. Stanhope to employ his good Offices, that the said Ten thousand Men may be sent hither, and the sooner the better.

The said Translation of the Envoy of the States Generals Memorial, March the 30th, 1701.

The underwritten Envoy Extraordinary of the States General of the United Provinces has received Orders to represent, with very great Respect, to your Majesty, That your Minister at the Hague having, on your Majesty's behalf, demanded, that the Ships of War, wherewith they are obliged, by virtue of the Treaties, to assist your Majesty, might be forthwith equipped, they had immediately given the necessary Orders for that Purpose ; so that most of the said Vessels are actually ready, with Directions to set Sail, and join your Majesty's Fleet, with the first fair Wind.

Their High and Mightinesses having also, on their Side, desired of your Majesty by the Underwritten, That you would be pleased, in Consideration of the present Juncture, to have in a Readiness the Succours stipulated by the Treaty of the Third of March 1677-8 ; and having, with great Satisfaction, understood your Majesty's favourable Disposition in that Matter ; they have given Orders to the Underwritten to represent anew to your Majesty, That the Preparations for War daily increasing in their Neighbourhood, as well as the Number of Troops which approach their Frontiers, they think there is just Reason to apprehend they shall suddenly be attacked ; in which Case, your Majesty's Succours could not arrive so soon as Necessity might require ; which obliges them to desire your Majesty to send to them, without any further Delay, the Ten thousand Men stipulated by the said Treaty : And they the rather hope for it, since, on their Part, they have not only made ready the Ships of War which they are obliged to furnish, but have also actually given Order for their joining your Majesty's Fleet.

London, March 30th, 1701.

Mem. Most of the Receivers, mentioned in this Certificate, have returned their Arrears, by Bills, to Town; which would have been paid before this time, had Bills received such early and punctual Payments as formerly: But, in Three Weeks or a Month's time, most of those Bills will be paid.

Ordered, That the said Account do lie upon the Table, to be perused by the Members of the House.

A Petition of Anne Duchess of Bucclugh, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the late Resumption Duke of Monmouth was seised in Fee of Moore Park, of Grants. and the Lands in Com' Hertford; which, being forfeited to the Crown in King James's Reign, was by him granted granted to the Petitioner : That the Petitioner being possessed of a House, and a Piece of Ground, in Sohoe Square, for the Residue of a Term of Years, derived from the Crown, which will expire at Michaelmas 1734; the said King, in Consideration that the Petitioner should finish the said House, did grant the same, and Ground, to the Petitioner for 52 Years, to commence from Michaelmas 1734 : That the Petitioner hath expended great Sums in building at Moor Park; and at Sohoe : And praying a Clause may be inserted in the Bill to resume the Grants of all Lands, and other Revenues, since the Sixth Day of February 1684 ; and applying the same to the Use of the Publick ; for saving the Petitioner's Right.
VOL. 13.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of the whole House, to whom the said Bill is committed.

Hindon
Election.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported; from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, touching the Election for the Borough of Hindon, in the County of Wilts, and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered the same in at the Clerk's Table : Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Petitions of George Morley Esquire, and of several Inhabitants of Hindon, complaining of an undue Election and Return of Reynolds Calthrop Esquire, to serve for the said Borough of Hindon :

That the Candidates, at the said Election, were Sir James Howe, Mr. Calthrop, and the Petitioner : But the Election of Sir James Howe was not drawn into Question.

Upon the Poll there was, for

Mr. Calthrop - - 70.

Mr. Morley - - 62.

That the Petitioner insisted, That the Right of Election was in the Bailiff, Burgesses, and such Inhabitants only, as pay Scot and Lot : The Sitting Member insisted, That the Right of Election was in the Bailiff, Burgesses, and Inhabitants not receiving Alms.

The Petitioner's Counsel insisted, That the Law did exclude such from voting in Elections, who were not contributory to the common Charge of the Borough : And called,

Edward Lamb : Who said, That himself, his Father, and Grandfather, were born in Hindon; and that he had heard his Father and Grandfather say, That Parliament-men were to be chosen by the Lot and Scot Men; but acknowledged, that, during his time, the Inhabitants at large had voted.

That the Petitioner's Counsel produced Three Indentures of Returns; viz.

2 and 3 Ph. and M.

43 Eliz.

Which mention, That the Bailiff and Burgesses had elected.

That the Counsel for the Sitting Member insisted, That Hindon was a Borough by Prescription; and that Burgesses and Inhabitants are synonymous Terms; and that all the Inhabitants had a natural Right, unless the other Side could shew the Usage to the contrary : And, to prove the Usage to be with the Sitting Member, they called,

Robert Garrat : Who said, He had known the Elections of Parliament-men for Hindon for more than 40 Years; and that all the Inhabitants who did not receive Alms, have, during his time, voted in such Elections.

That the Committee, having considered the Evidence, and what had been argued by the Counsel of both Sides, came to this Resolution;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Right of electing Burgesses to serve in Parliament for the Borough of Hindon is in the Bailiff, Burgesses, and such Inhabitants only as pay Scot and Lot.

The Poors Rate for the Borough of Hindon was produced : And it appeared, that the Petitioner had the Majority of Voters who paid Scot and Lot.

The Sitting Member's Counsel insisted, That several Persons who had voted for the Sitting Member had been formerly in the Poors Rate, and were of Ability, and ought to have been inserted in the Rate; and therefore prayed they might be allowed to them as good Voters; and offered to call Evidence as to Fact :

But that the Committee were of Opinion that they were excluded by the former Vote, and ..... not think fit to hear Evidence touching that Matter.

And, upon the whole Matter, came to these Resolutions;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Reynolds Calthrop Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Hindon, in the County of Wilts.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That George Morley Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough of Hindon.

The First Resolution being read a Second time;

And a Motion being made, and the Question being put, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Resolution;

It passed in the Negative.

The Second Resolution being read a Second time;

Resolved, That it be re-committed.

Ordered, That the Matter, upon the Re-commitment, be heard before the Committee of Privileges and Elections upon this Day Three Weeks.

Resolved, That the Resolution, Yesterday, of the Advice of this House, given to his Majesty, be presented to his Majesty by such Members of this House as are of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

Address to be presented by Privy Council.

Sir Rowland Gwyn, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, touching the Election for the Borough of Leominster, in the County of Hereford, and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table : Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Leominster
Election.

Upon the Petition of Edward Harley Esquire, complaining of an undue Election and Return of John Dutton Colt Esquire to serve for the Borough of Leominster :

That the Right of Election was agreed to be in the Inhabitants paying Scot and Lot, and not receiving Alms.

That, upon the Poll, there was, for the Sitting Member, 145 Votes; for the Petitioner 116.

But the Petitioner's Counsel alleged, That upon the Heads of Persons excused from the Window Tax, receiving Alms, Bribery, and Threats, they should take off so many from the Sitting Member's Poll, as would give the Petitioner a Majority.

As to the Head of Alms; the Petitioner's Counsel called,

Mr. Jonathan Morgan, Mr. Samuel Clark, and Mr. Henry Seward : One or more of whom testified, That Robert Williams had received Alms in Bread, in the Year 1697 :

And his Wife, within a Quarter of a Year before and since the last Election :

That Thomas Spencer, or his Daughter, received the like in the Year 1697 :

That James Mitchell's Children go constantly a begging :

That James Badland's Children did the like :

That Miles Gitto's Wife has received Alms about Four Months since; and Gitto said, He must vote for Mr. Colt, because he kept him from starving :

That Rice Price's Children have received Charity at a Funeral since Christmas :

That Thomas Badnege's Children are kept by the publick Charity of the Town; and Badnege told him, That

Caswell

Caswell had promised him to be his Friend, as long as he voted for Mr. Colt.

That William Hooper's Children have received Charity within a Quarter of a Year:

That John Norman, and his Wife, have received Charity:

That Richard Baker's Wife and Apprentice have received Charity, . . . believes; since the Election:

That William Phillips' Wife has received Charity since the Election; and his Children did beg before and since the Election:

That John Taylor's Children have received Charity since the Election:

That William Carteret's Children have begged Forty times within these Two Months; and that he had not voted for Mr. Colt, but for Justice Bangham, who drank him hard that Night, and kept him till next Day he came to vote for Mr. Colt; and that there were Forty more at the same time:

That Richard Smith's Wife has received publick Alms before and since the Election:

That Richard Caswell's Wife has received Alms before and since the Election; and said, He must vote for Mr. Colt, for he had sent him a Piece of Beef and Six-pence against Christmas:

That Stephen Tayler's Wife has received Alms before and since the Election:

That John Price's Wife and Daughter have received publick Alms in 1097:

That John Watchman's Wife has received Charity both before and since the Election; and said, though he was in the Poors Rate, he was told he should be excused several Taxes, if he would vote for Mr. Colt:

That Samuel Tylor's Wife has received Charity within Three Months:

That the Witnesses could not deny but the Persons they gave Evidence of, were in the Poors Rate.

But the Petitioner's Counsel insisted, That the Assessment was made in favour of the Sitting Member.

And, as to that Matter, it appeared by the Evidence of Mr. Seward, Mr. Caleb Powell, Mr. Spencer, Richard Vaughan, and Mr. Clark;

That the Lewn, or Poors Rate, is made about Easter: And Seward and Powell said, Several were left out of the present Lewn, that were in before; and that neither Mr. Harley nor Mr. Colt was present when it was made; but the Magistrates of the Town appeared to be Friends of Mr. Colt's, and the Assessors signed the Lewn between Twelve and One a Clock at Night: And it was likewise testified, That, upon Complaint, some were put in; and afterwards Mr. Harley signed the Lewn.

That Mr. Harley desired a Copy of the Lewn of Mun the Overseer; which he allowed Mr. Harley's Man to write; but, before he had finished it, the said Mun took the Lewn from him, and refused to let Mr. Harley have a Copy, without paying Five Shillings, which, he said, was his Fee for it: That, afterwards, Caleb Powell demanded a Copy of the Lewn, producing the Order of the Committee for it; but Mun said, He did not value the Order, and he should not have it: Yet afterwards Mun came to Mr. Powell's House, desiring to speak with him in the Morning; and he, being a-bed, bid his Wife ask the said Mun his Business; and, if he had the Lewn, to leave it; but Mun went away, and did not leave the Lewn.

That, as to the Matter in relation to the Window Tax, it was insisted, by the Petitioner's Counsel, That, by the Statute for laying a Duty upon Houses, the Dwelling-houses of such Persons, as, by reason of their Poverty, are exempted from paying to Church and Poor, are discharged from the Duties granted by that Act: And that the Magistrates of Leominster had, to gain Votes for Mr. Colt, excused 52 Persons from paying to the said Tax: And, for that, they called

Mr. John Burt: Who said, He was Deputy Surveyor of the Window Tax last Year at Leominster; and that, about August was Twelve-months, he had charged 52 Persons there with that Duty, who were afterwards discharged by the Justices; viz. Mr. Caswell senior, Mr. Edward Bangham, Mr. Thompkins, and Mr. Thomas Price the Town Clerk; of which Persons Names he delivered in a List.

And, as to the ill Practice in discharging the aforesaid Persons; they called

William Henner: Who said, That Mr. Colt had asked him for his Voice, and he had denied him twice; and that, afterwards, Justice Bangham, and some others, sent for him by the Serjeant of the Town, and asked for his Vote for Mr. Colt; and asked him if he paid to the Light-money; to which he answered, that he did: The said Justice Bangham said, He would ease him of it, if he would vote for Mr. Colt.

William Davis said, That Mr. Colt asked him for his Vote; and he told him, He had promised it: Afterwards Mr. Colt and Mr. Bangham, and he, were together; and Mr. Bangham asked him for his Vote; and Mr. Colt said, There is Ten Shillings Light-money to pay, and now is the Time to help yourself, and, if you have Occasion, make use of me: However, he acknowledged he had but Five Windows, and was never charged to that Tax.

That, as to Matter of Bribery;

Somersett Phillips, who voted for Mr. Harley, said, Going along, he met Mr. Colt, who asked him how Business went in the Court; who saying, He thought pretty well, Mr. Colt turned back, and told him, He would give him Two Guineas, if he would not vote that Day; but he must swear not to divulge it: Yet he acknowledged, he had not spoke with Mr. Colt before that Time.

That the Petitioner's Counsel then applied themselves to take off, from the Sitting Member, several bribed: And called

Mr. Weaver, Mr. Seward: Who said, That John Howell had promised Mr. Harley his Vote before the Dissolution of the last Parliament; and, Three or Four Days before the last Election, Mr. Harley met the said Howell, and told him, He hoped he would be as good as his Word; but Howell said, He could not be for him, because Mr. Colt had paid him a desperate Debt, which had been a long while owing to him by one at Bristol; and that Howell did not deny, That he had said so at the Election; and Mr. Colt then owned, he had put it into an Attorney's Hand to sue for.

Mr. Clerk and John Whittington said, Richard Baskerville, being charged with promising his Vote to Mr. Harley, owned it; but said, Mr. Colt had bought his Voice: However, when he came to poll, he was taxed with it, and denied it.

Mr. Seward said, That, the Friday Night before Christmas, Mr. Colt, Mr. Bangham, and others, were drinking in Baskerville's House; and Mr. Colt paid Ten Shillings, and said there was Two Shillings to drink when he was gone; and Mr. Baskerville declared, he had got Three Pound, and more, by Mr. Colt; and that was as much as his Vote was worth.

That, John Walton being told by him, That he hoped the said Walton would be for Mr. Harley, as he had promised; he excused himself, saying, He owed his Lord 8*l*. who had threatened to sue him; and that Mr. Bangham had promised to lay it down, and so he must vote for Mr. Colt; and the said Walton did not deny it at the Poll.

Mr. Seward and John Powell said, That John Vale told Mr. Powell, If he would give him up a Bond of 5*l*. he would vote for Mr. Harley, otherwise he could make a better Hand of it; but he did not vote for Mr. Harley: And Mr. Powell said, That, next Day, the said Vale came and paid the whole Debt, for which he would have taken Twenty Shillings.

Mr. Caleb Powell said, That, after the Election was over, he met Edward Deane; who said, He would have voted for Mr. Harley; but, being low, Mr. Bangham let him have Forty Shillings of Mr. Colt's Money, and lent him Forty Shillings more: The said Deane signed the Petition.

Mr. John Alderne said, That Rees Prees was at his House, and he asked his Vote for Mr. Harley, but he said, Prees said he spoke too late; for Mr. Bangham had obliged obliged him to be for the Lord Coningsby and Mr. Colt; and he said, Prees told him, Mr. Harley's Friends had refused to lend him Money; and Mr. Bangham had lent him Thlrty or Forty Shillings.

Richard Hodges and Mr. Caleb Powell said, That Thomas Martin told Mr. Harley, That if he would pay Three Pound, which one David Powell owed him, he would vote for him; but Mr. Harley said, That, if he had a Hundred Votes, he would not give him a Penny.

Mr. Alderne said, That, Two or Three Months before the Election, young Seward told him, That he was sorry he could not vote for Mr. Harley, because he owed Mr. Bangham some Money, who had obliged him to vote for Mr. Colt, otherwise his Inclinations were for Mr. Harley.

And Mr. Henry Seward said, That young Seward told him he was a Weobly Man, and would vote for him that would give him most Money.

Mr. Caleb Powell testified, That Thomas Vale owned, that he had promised Mr. Harley his Vote; but could not be as good as his Word, because Mr. Bangham, and the Magistrates, had taken him off from the Window Tax, and several other Taxes.

He gave the like Evidence as to Jonathan Baker.

Mr. Clerk said, That Thomas Newton told him, If he voted for Mr. Harley, the Magistrates would put Offices and Taxes upon him; and that William Bubb told him, That he did not vote for Mr. Harley, because Mr. Bangham had given him 18*d.* or 20*d.* and had excused him the Window Tax; and that, if he voted for Mr. Harley, he should have Offices put upon him.

Mr. H. Seward said, That, about Three Days before the Election, he asked John Bach who he was for; and the said Bach told him, When Mr. Colt was in Town, he was kind to him, and the Magistrates were also for Mr. Colt, and he durst not go against the Magistrates.

Mr. Weaver said, That Jonas Child, sells Ale at Leominster; and that he asked the said Child, If he had promised his Vote to Mr. Colt; and the said Child told him, That Mr. Harley was an honest Gentleman; but he had promised his Vote to Justice Bangham, who had promised to take . . . . off from the Church and Poor, and the Land Tax; and for that Reason he must be for Mr. Colt.

That, as to Threats;

Mr. Seward said, That John Banister, being asked his Vote for Mr. Harley, said, He would be for him, but that he was a Servant to the Magistrates, and should be turned out of his Office.

Mr. Caleb Powell said, That John Lloyd had often declared a Kindness for Mr. Harley; but the said Lloyd told him, there was an Order of Sessions to take away his Licence, upon Pretence of his being drunk; and he was told, if he would be for Mr. Colt, he should have it again:

And a Copy of the Order of Sessions was produced.

Mr. Seward said, That John Morris, before the Election, had declared, That he would vote for Mr. Harley; but afterwards said he durst not; for he had been suppressed Two Years, and the Magistrates would ruin him upon the Statute.

Mr. Clerk said, He was at Thomas Cox's; who said he must vote for Mr. Colt, because he would never vote against the Magistrates; for they would suppress him for the least Fault, and then he was ruined.

Mr. Caleb Powell said, He asked John Greenly why he would vote against Mr. Harley; and the said Greenly said, He did not design it, but he was satisfied he should lose his Place of Serjeant, if he did vote for him.

Mr. Seward said, One Day since the Election, talking with John Baisey, the said Baisey said, That he had several Neighbours with him the Night before the Election; and that the Magistrates called them up at Four a Clock in the Morning, and gave them a Pot and Pipe, and then brought them out to vote; and the said Baisey said, Mr. Bangham and Mr. Colt had Money enough, and he had 5*l.* left to go on with the Cause.

That Francis Enoe said, He kept a Smith's Shop by Leave of the Magistrates; and, if he did not go with them, he must pull down his Shop.

Mr. Powell said, That, some time since the Election, he met John Vaston, and asked him why he would be worse than his Word to Mr. Harley; and the said Vaston answered, He could not help it, because otherwise the Magistrates would pull down his Sign, he selling Ale.

* Northgrave said, That before the last Parliament was dissolved, he was at Dick's Coffee-house; and there asking how Mr. Harley stood at Leominster, the said Caswell answered, But indifferently; for Mr. Colt was put up by the Magistrates; and he said he would return Mr. Colt, and let Mr. Harley dispute it in the House.

That the Counsel for the Sitting Member first applied themselves to answer the Exceptions made by the Petitioner; and then pursued the Method taken by the Petitioner; and excepted to the Petitioner's Voters, upon the Four Heads of Almsmen, Window Tax, Bribery, and Threats.

That, as to the Sitting Member's Voters excepted to, on the Account of receiving Alms; they called

Richard Nicholson, Francis Steed, and James Mathews: And it appeared, by one or more of their Evidence, That Robert Williams had paid Six-pence a Year to the Poor, for Fifteen or Sixteen Years; and rents Thirty or Forty Shillings a Year:

That Thomas Spencer has Three Pound a Year, Freehold; and has voted for Knights of the Shire, for Nine or Ten Years:

That James Mitchell's Circumstances were but low, and he had been a Soldier in Flanders; but he rented Four Pound a Year, and had an Estate of Seven Pound a Year: It was acknowledged his Children were unruly, and did beg sometimes, though corrected for it; and he was come away for Debt:

That James Badland rents Four Pound a Year, and has been Constable, and pays to the Poor:

That Nicolas Gitto rents Three Pound a Year, and pays to the Rate:

That Rees Prees rents Ten Pound a Year, and has Four or Five Pound a Year of his own:

That Thomas Badnage lives in a House worth Seven Pound a Year, and has a Mortgage upon it, of Fourscore Pounds: But it was acknowledged, that Badnage's Wife's Children, by a former Husband, did go from him about Half a Year since, and have asked Charity.

Piliph Mun said, That he took William Cooper to be a substantial Man.

Jon. Davis said, That John Norman is a Carpenter, and maintains his Family well, and pays Twenty Shillings a Year, Rent.

Richard Nicholson said, That Richard Baker has a Freehold of Forty Shillings a Year, and rents Six Pound a Year; his Children get their own Living, and he has a Provision of Corn and Hogs.

Jon. Davis said, That William Phillips has a Freehold of Fifty Shillings a Year:

That John Taylor is a Journeyman Glover, and lives in a House of his own, of Thirty Shillings a Year.

Nicholson, Steed, and Mathews, said, William Carterett has a Living of Fourteen Pound a Year; and Steed believed him to be worth Five hundred Pounds.

Jon. Davis said, That Richard Smith was a Shoemaker, and has a House of Fifty Shillings a Year, and voted for Knights of the Shire:

That Richard Caswell lives in a House of his own, of Twenty-five or Thirty Shillings a Year:

That Stephen Tyler rents about Fifty Shillings a Year:

That John Price rents about Forty Shillings a Year, and . . . Twenty or Thirty Pound at Use:

That John Watchman lives in a House of his own, of Four Pound a Year, and lets another of Fifty Shillings a Year:

That Samuel Taylor lives in a House of his own, . . . about Twenty-five Shillings a Year:

That

That, as to the Persons objected to upon the Account of the Window Tax; the Answer that was given to it; was, That it was no Objection, provided they were in the Poors Lewn.

That, as to the Evidence given by the Petitioner, of Bribery; the Sitting Member's Counsel called Witnesses; viz.

Lancelot Stevens, Richard Nicholson, Geo. Castwell, and Philip Mun: Who said, That John Howell, when he came to poll, was excepted to by Mr. Weaver, as having told him, That Mr. Colt had paid him a desperate Debt, due from one at Bristol, in Consideration of his Vote: And that, at first, he said, Howell denied that he had said so; but afterwards owned, that he had said so, and it was to get rid of their Importunity, who would have had him vote for Mr. Harley; and that the Fact was not true.

And George Castwell testified further, That the said Howell said, in Court, Mr. Weaver promised him Ten Pounds worth of Work at Amestry-Bridge, if he would vote for Mr. Harley.

Richard Baskervill denied, at the time of the Poll, what was charged upon him by the Clerk.

Roger Lewis said, That Edward Deane, about a Year and an Half ago, borrowed Forty Shillings of Mr. Bangham; and, about Three Months before the Election, came to him, to persuade Mr. Bangham to lend him Forty Shillings more; and that Mr. Bangham at first scrupled to lend it, because the Forty Shillings was not paid, but at last lent it; and that there was no Discourse about his Vote; and that Mr. Bangham had used to lend Money to Tradesmen.

Mr. Price said, That Samuel Seward junior was bound with his Father, by Bond, dated 6th September 1699, for Payment of Seven Pounds.

That, as to John Walton, John Vale, Rees Prees, Thomas Martin, Thomas Vale, Jonathan Baker, Thomas Newton, William Bubb, John Bach, and Jonas Child; there was no Answer to the Evidence against them: Only, as to the Evidence of Persons owning themselves to be influenced upon the Account of Taxes, the Sitting Member's Counsel left it to the Credit of the Petitioner's Witnesses;

And observed, that the Threats, given in Evidence, had not taken off any Voices.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel then proceeded to make out their Exceptions to the Petitioner's Votes:

And called

John Shooter, Phil. Mun: One or both of which said, That William Davis's Daughter has had Bread several times:

That Hugh Evans has received a great many Doles:

That Thomas Callowhill's Wife has received:

That Peter Taylor's Daughter received at Christmas, ... at Whitsuntide:

That Richard Baker's Family received last Year, and this:

That some of Daniel Powell's Children have received:

That Thomas Richards had, last Year, Bread:

That Thomas Marstin has received this Year, Two or Three times:

That Richard Smith received last Year, and the present Year; and Jon. Davis said, He was a poor Man, and Mr. Powell's Servant:

That John Bishop has received Bread:

That Thomas Holgate has received Bread.

That, as to Persons that polled for the Petitioner, that were excused from the Window Tax;

Jon. Davis was called: Who said, he was present when the Justices struck out the Names of several Persons from paying to the Window Tax: But it appeared, that he had taken an Account of that Matter from the Surveyor, and he could not say whether they were ever charged; only he found about 41 Names in Mr. Harley's Poll, who did not pay that Tax.

That then the Sitting Member's Counsel proceeded to the Point of Bribery.

Vol. 13.

Thomas Martin said, That Richard Crocket owned he received a Guinea of Mr. Harris, by Mr. Harley's Order: But it appeared his House was burned; towards which, also, my Lord Coningsby gave him Five Pounds.

William Phillips said, That he had Forty Shillings of Mr. Caleb Powell, who told him it was Mr. Harley's Money; and, before the Election, he told him he would give him Forty Shillings, if he would vote for Mr. Harley.

William Phillips, and John Taylor, said, That Caleb Powell sent for them into a Room, where were Mr. Avenant and Samuel Taylor; and Mr. Avenant told them, If they would vote for Mr. Harley, they should have 20s. between them, which they received; and he would make good what Powell should promise them further: But, at the same time, they acknowledged, they never did see Mr. Avenant before that Time, nor did promise their Votes for Mr. Harley; and both of them voted for my Lord Coningsby, and Mr. Colt: They did acknowledge, that there was a Report of Money left by one Mr. Crowder to his poor Relations, and they went over to the Widow; but she disowned the Relation: And by the Evidence of Jon. Davis, it appeared, That Mr. Avenant was a Gentleman of a good Estate, lived a Dozen Miles off of Leominster, and did not make an Interest for Mr. Harley at this Election; and that Taylor acknowledged, that he has been at Mr. Avenant's House, to seek Part of Mr. Crowther's Legacy.

Francis Martin said, That, at a former Election, Mr. Powell made an Interest for Mr. Harley; and Mr. Powell and Mr. Bangham lent him Four Pounds, for which he gave them a Bond; and that he heard nothing of the Bond till this Election, when Mr. Powell told him, If he would vote for Mr. Harley, he would give up the Bond: But he did actually vote for Mr. Colt; and, the Day after the Election, he paid the Money.

Thomas Evans said, That Mr. Samuel Clerk, who was an Agent of Mr. Harley, bid him Ten Pounds for his Vote, and to procure another for Mr. Harley; and told him, He would make up the Money the said Evans owed him Fifty Pound, and he should have it at Forty Shillings a Year Interest; and told the said Evans further, That he was a Commissioner, and he would excuse him from the Window Tax; and Mr. Powell also promised a Horse: That the said Evans not voting for Mr. Harley, the said Clerk called upon him the next Day after the Election, and insisted upon having all his Money paid him, which was Thirty-four Pound; whereof Four Pound was only by a Note, and yet he insisted to have Interest for it: And that the said Mr. Clerk said, He would ruin him; and when he came to vote for Mr. ...., Clerk shook his Hand at him.

John Vaston said, That, on Friday before Christmas, Mr. Samuel Clerk met him in the Market, and desired his Vote for Mr. Harley, and gave him Half a Crown to drink Mr. Harley's Health; and his Wife said, Now is the Time to pull down the Surplice and Common Prayer: And, upon St. John's Day, the said Vaston met Mr. Clerk, who desired his Vote for Mr. Harley; but he answered, He would promise none till he came to the Place: Whereupon the said Mr. Clerk told him, If he would come on the Morrow, he would give him a new Suit of Cloaths, if he would be for Mr. Harley, and then gave him Five Shillings to drink with his Neighbours.

Thomas Badnedge said, Mr. Powell the Lawyer asked him to vote for Mr. Harley; and if he would not be for Mr. Harley, if he would go out of Town, and not give his Vote at all, he should be met with Two Horses at the Town Field, and he would lend him Ten Pound for the Year, without Interest: He acknowledged, that he lay at Mr. Bangham's House, and went thence to poll.

That, as to Menaces;

Richard Nicholson said, On the Election Eve he met with one Grub, who said, he had promised to be for Mr. Colt; but he was very uneasy; for, if he voted for Mr. Colt, he should be ruined; for he owed Mr. Weaver Ten Pound; and, if he voted for Mr. Colt, he was threatened to be arrested

arrested on the Election Day; and that Browne voted for Mr. Colt, and was arrested.

Baptist Price said, That his Landlady deprived him of his Land which he had rented of her, and she had promised to continue to him, because he would not vote for Mr. Harley.

Richard Philpot said, That he and Mr. Spencer discoursed about the Election; and Spencer said, If Mr. Harley had but Ten Votes, he should carry it in the Parliament House; for he was better beloved than Mr. Colt; and that Somerset Phillips, said, He might say what he would before the Committee, for there was no Swearing.

Roger Lewis said, That, on the Election Day, Mr. Colt junior, and he, met Somerset Phillips; who said, Will you take Two Guineas? and he, holding out his Hand, said, You will tell nobody: And Lewis said, It was spoke aloud.

That, for the Petitioner, to answer the Evidence in relation to Mr. Avenant, it was insisted, That John Crowther had left Ten or Twenty Pounds to his poor Relations, to be distributed as his Executrix and Overseers should think fit Objects, according to their Necessities; and that Mr. Avenant was one of his Overseers.

And they produced an Extract of John Crowther's Will, by which it appeared, that there was such Legacy; and that Mr. Avenant was one of the Overseers of the said Crowther's Will: And

Mr. Clark said, That, last August, Mr. Houghton of Ludlow told him, That he heard his Sister speak of some poor Relations in Leominster; and that he was told Phillips and Taylor were so; and he wrote a Letter to him, to use his Interest with the Lady.

And also a Paper, although not signed by the Earl of Portland, yet was laid before their Lordships by him.

And that there were some Questions asked by the Lords: To which there was this Answer:

At the Beginning of the Summer of the Year 1699, when I was in Holland, at my Country House; and when the King would have me concerned in the Negotiating of this Treaty with the Emperor, the French King, and the States; being very unwilling to meddle with Business again, from which I was retired; before I would engage myself, I advised with my Friends in Holland, and writ into England to Mr. Secretary Vernon, as my particular Friend, Whether it was advisable for me to engage in Business again? To which Mr. Vernon answered, in Substance, That this would not engage me but for a little while: That I being upon the Place, and generally acquainted with the foreign Ministers, it would be easier for the King, and properer for me to be employed in it, than any body else, that must be otherwise sent for on purpose.

The Earl of Portland being desired by the Lord Somers, with the Leave of the House, to declare, if he pleased, Whether the Lord Somers's Name was mentioned in the Letter he received from Mr. Secretary Vernon;

The Earl of Portland declared, That if he had remembered any such Thing in the Letter, and not inserted it in the Paper which he had delivered to the House, he should have thought he had deceived the House.

1st, They observed, That, in the Letter from the Commissioners for Prizes of Yesterday, they were pleased to say, That the Books they had sent contained all that the Precept required; whereas it did appear by the Return from the High Court of Admiralty, That there had been condemned there about 1,295 Ships; and in these Books there is an Account of no more than 483 Ships, and the Ladings of 200 and odd more, which is not much more than Half. To which they answered, That several foreign Ships, condemned in that Court, were afterwards discharged; and therefore no Notice was taken of them in these Accounts. They were told, That this did not appear in the Books; and, though it were so, the Names of the said Ships should have been inserted, and an Account given of them accordingly. They were further acquainted, That, in one of their Books, they acknowledged to have received 297,686*l.* 14*s.* for the Ladings; and 124,181*l.* 9*s.* 2*d.* for the Hulls, Furniture, &c. of the Ships condemned as Prizes; making in all, * 421,867*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.*; whereas it does not appear from these Books, that they have paid more than 323,591*l.* 18*s.* 8*d.*; so that there should remain, in the Commissioners Hands, the Sum of 98,275*l.* 11*s.* 10*d.* To which they answered, That the Payments of their Agents in Out Ports would supply that, which they did not apprehend was required by the Precept; and that no Balance was remaining in their Hands. They were told, That what they said, did not appear from these Books; and the Board conceived the Commissioners were answerable for their Agents; and that the Payments made by them should have been brought into this Account, as well as any other: And here it was observed to them, That, had the Instructions which appear in one of their Books, given, by the principal Commissioners, to the Sub Commissioners, and other Officers in Out Ports, been complied with, and a proper Register of them made in their Office, they would have been able, with much less Difficulty than it appears now they can, to have answered the Schemes in the Precept. They said, in Answer, That the said Officers had been often pressed to do it, but could never be brought to comply. Then they were acquainted, That Copies were wanting of the Warrants and Orders from the King, Treasury, &c. for the Disposal of any Ships or Goods which were required in the Body of the Precept: And they answered, That the Originals were with Mr. Jodrell, from whom they would get Copies. Then they said, The Commissioners for Prizes desired the Board would acquaint the Honourable House of Commons, That the Books brought in were pursuant to the Precept and Schemes; and were told, That it was true, the Books did appear to be drawn in that Form; but that, besides what is before-mentioned, and what might further appear upon better Examination than it was possible for the Board to make in so short a time, and when so many other Matters were depending, some of the Columns were left wholly blank; and Reference made, for the filling them, to the Accounts of the Receiver General; who being always under their Direction, and ordered, by a Vote of the House, to assist them, they ought to have obliged † them to have enabled them to do it; and, in other Places, Blanks were left, the filling of which was of Consequence; particularly it is not mentioned, when, or to whom, several Ships and Ladings were disposed: And, upon the Whole, they were acquainted, That the House of Commons not having required the Commissioners to send them any Account of what Return had been made to the Precept, and these Defects appearing, they conceived, That what they had hitherto enabled them to say, could not be of much Service to them; and therefore desired they would make their Application as they thought fit.

April 9th. The following Letter was received from the Commissioners of Prizes:

Gentlemen,
THE Persons we desired to attend you, according to the Directions of your Letter in that behalf, having been with us, and given us to understand, That there are some Objections, in relation to your Precept, which you require us to answer;

We are very sorry that the Books we have given in, which were, with indefatigable Labour, completed in so short a time, should not, in all and every Particular, answer the Intention of your said Precept; and do assure you, we are not apprehensive that it did not contain any more than there is inserted in the said Books, having offered to lay before you the original Accounts, and Vouchers of our Agents in the Out Ports: But, to the End that nothing may be wanting on our Parts to give you Satisfaction in this Matter, we will forthwith cause such a further Account to be laid before you, as may particularly answer all those Objections you have made. We are,

Jo. Parkhurst,
John Paschall.

Tower, 9th Apr. 1701.

April 9th. The Gentlemen, who brought this Letter, did offer, from the Commissioners for Prizes, to lay before the Board the original Accounts for the Agents of the Out Ports, and their Vouchers; which, he said, were very voluminous, and would require a great deal of Time to bring, in the Form of an Account: And they were answered, That, the Time of the Commission being now so very short, it was impossible to make any Use of them; besides, it was always expected, that those should have been brought into the general Account, answerable to the Scheme of the Precept. To which they replied, That it was impossible for them to do it within the Time.

S. Atkins.

A Copy of the Letter from the Lord Sommers to his Majesty, which his Lordship delivered in to the House Yesterday, dated the Eight-and-twentieth of August One thousand Six hundred Ninety-eight, was read; and is as followeth; viz.

Lord Sommers' Letter

Sir, Tunbridge Wells, 28th August 1698.

HAVING your Majesty's Permission to try if the Waters would contribute to the Re-establishment of my Health, I was just got to this Place, when I had the Honour of your Commands: I thought the best Way of executing them would be, to communicate to my Lord Orford, Mr. Mountague, and the Duke of Shrewsbury, who, before I left London, had agreed upon a Meeting about that time, the Subject of my Lord Portland's Letter; at the same time letting them know, how strictly your Majesty required, that it should remain an absolute Secret.

Since then, Mr. Mountague and Mr. Secretary are come hither; and upon the whole Discourse, Three Things have principally occurred, to be humbly suggested to your Majesty;

1st, That the entertaining a Proposal of this Nature seems to be attended with many ill Consequences, if the French did not act a sincere Part; but we were soon at Ease as to any Apprehension of this Sort, being fully assured, your Majesty would not act but with the utmost Niceness in an Affair wherein your Glory, and the Safety of Europe, were so highly concerned.

The Second Thing considered, was, The very ill Prospect of what was like to happen upon the Death of the King of Spain, in case nothing was done previously, towards the providing against that Accident; which seems probably to be very near; the King of France having so great a Force in Readiness, that he was in a Condition to take Possession of Spain before any of the other Princes could be ready to make a Stand: Your Majesty is the best Judge whether this be the Case, who are so perfectly informed of the Circumstances of all the Parts abroad.

But, so far as relates to England, it would be want of Duty not to give your Majesty this clear Account: That there is a Deadness, and Want of Spirit, in the Nation universally, so as not at all to be disposed to the Thoughts of entering into a new War; and that they seem to be tired out with Taxes, to a Degree* beyond what was discerned, till it appeared upon Occasion of the late Elections: This is the Truth of the Fact, upon which your Majesty will determine what Resolutions are proper to be taken.

That which remained, was, The Consideration what would be the Condition of Europe, if the Proposal took place: Of this we thought ourselves little capable of judging; but it seemed, that, if Sicily was in the French Hands, they would be intirely Masters of the Levant Trade: That if they were possessed of Final, and those other

* The Word "beyond" is inserted from the original Letter.

Sea Ports on that Side, whereby Milan would be intirely shut out from Relief at Sea, or any Commerce, that Duchy would be of little Signification in the Hands of any Prince; and that, if the King of France had Possession of that Part of Guipuscoa which is mentioned in the Proposal, besides the Ports he would have in the Ocean, it does seem he would have as easy a Way of invading Spain on that Side, as he now has on the Side of Catalonia.

But it is not to be hoped, that France will quit its Pretences to so great a Succession, without considerable Advantages; and, we are all assured, your Majesty will reduce the Terms as low as can be done, and make them, as far as is possible in the present Circumstances of Things, such as may be some Foundation for the future Quiet of Christendom; which, all your Subjects cannot but be convinced, is your true Aim: If it could be brought to pass, that England might be some way a Gainer by this Transaction, whether it was by the Elector of Bavaria, who is the Gainer by your Majesty's Interposition in this Treaty, his coming to an Agreement to let us into some Trade to the Spanish Plantations, or in any other manner, it would wonderfully endear your Majesty to your English Subjects.

It does not appear, in case this Negotiation should proceed, what is to be done on your Part, in order to make it take place; whether any more be required, than that the English and Dutch should sit still, and France itself is to see it executed: And, if that be so, what Security ought to be expected; that if, by our being Neuters, the French be successful, they will confine themselves to the Terms of the Treaty, and not attempt to make further Advantages of their Success.

I humbly beg your Majesty's Pardon, that these Thoughts are so ill put together: These Waters are known to discompose and disturb the Head, so as almost totally to disable one from Writing. I should be extremely troubled, if my Absence from London has delayed the Dispatch of the Commission one Day. I have put the Seal to it without expecting the Return of the Warrant which Mr. Secretary sent; begging of your Majesty, that it may be soon transmitted to myself, or to Mr. Secretary, so as it may not be known but that I had it in time. You will be pleased to observe, that Two Persons, as the Commission is drawn, must be named in it; but the Powers may be executed by either of them: I suppose your Majesty will not think it proper to name Commissioners who are not English, or naturalized, in an Affair of this Nature.

I pray God give your Majesty Honour and Success in all your Undertakings! I am, with the utmost Duty and Respect,

Sir,

Your Majesty's most dutiful, and most obedient Subject and Servant.

The Commission is wrote by Mr. Secretary; and I have had it sealed in such a manner, that no Creature has the least Knowledge of the Thing, besides the Persons already named.

Ordered, That the said Copy of the said Letter be referred to the Consideration of the said Committee.

Ordered, That Mr. Bruges and Mr. Howe do withdraw into the Speaker's Chamber, and translate a Letter from his Majesty to the Lord Sommers, dated August  $\frac{1}{2}$  1698, which his Lordship also Yesterday delivered in to this House; and report the same to the House.

A Motion being made, and the Question being put, That an humble Address be presented to his Majesty, That he will be pleased to remove John Lord Sommers from his Council and Presence for ever;

The House divided.

The Yeas go forth.

Tellers for the Yeas, { Mr. St. John,
Mr. Winnington: } 162.

Tellers for the Noes, { Mr. Roberts,
Sir Will. Strickland: } 107.

So it was resolved in the Affirmative.

Resolved, That an humble Address be presented to his Majesty, That he will be pleased to remove Edward Earl of Orford from his Council and Presence for ever.

Resolved, That an humble Address be presented to his Majesty, That he will be pleased to remove Charles Lord Hallifax from his Council and Presence for ever.

Resolved, That an humble Address be presented to his Majesty, That he will be pleased to remove William Earl of Portland from his Council and Presence for ever.

Resolved, That an Address be drawn up, upon the said Resolutions; and, upon the Debate of the House, to be presented to his Majesty.

Ordered, That it be referred to the Committee, who are to draw up the said Articles of Impeachment, to draw up the said Address.

Resolved, That the said Address be presented to his Majesty by the whole House.

Mr. Bruges reported, That he and Mr. Howe had, according to Order, translated the Letter from his Majesty to the Lord Sommers: And he delivered the same in at the Table: Where the said Translation was read; and is as followeth;

At Loo, the  $\frac{1}{2}$  of August 1698.

I imparted to you, before I left England, That in France there was expressed to my Lord Portland some Inclination to come to Agreement with me, concerning the Succession of the King of Spain; since which, Count Tallard hath mentioned it to me; and hath made Propositions, the Particulars of which my Lord Portland will write to Vernon, to whom I have given Orders not to communicate them to any other beside yourself; and to leave to your Judgment, to whom else you would think proper to impart them: To the End I might know your Opinions upon so important an Affair, and which requires the greatest Secrecy, if it be fit this Negotiation should be carried on, there's no Time to be lost; and you must send me the full Powers, under the Great Seal, with the Names in Blank, to treat with Count Tallard: I believe this may be done secretly, that none but you and Vernon, and those to whom you shall have communicated it, may have Knowledge of it; so that the Clerks, who are to write the Warrant, and the full Powers, may not know what it is. According to all Intelligence, the King of Spain cannot outlive the Month of October; and the least Accident may carry him off every Day. I received Yesterday your Letter of the 9th. Since my Lord Wharton cannot at this time leave England, I must think of some other to send Ambassador to Spain: If you can think of any one proper, let me know it, and be always assured of my Friendship.

WILLIAM R.

Ordered, That the said Letter and Translation be referred to the Consideration of the said Committee.

The Order for the Report from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, touching the Election for the Borough of East Retford, to be made this Day, being read;

And a Motion being made, and the Question being put, That the said Report be received upon Thursday next;

The House divided.

The Yeas go forth.

Tellers for the Yeas, { Mr. Bright,
Mr. Topham: } 76.

Tellers for the Noes, { Mr. Brotherton,
Mr. Freeman: } 177.

It passed in the Negative.

Resolved, That the said Report be now received.

Sir Rowland Gwynne, according to Order, reported, from the said Committee, the Matter touching the said Election, and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Petition of Sir Willoughby Hickman Baronet, complaining of an undue Election of Thomas White Esquire, to serve for the Borough of East Retford:

That

Addresses for removing Lord Sommers, &c.

East Retford Election.

That the First Thing that came in question before the Committee, was, the Right of Election :

The Petitioner's Counsel insisted, That the Right was in the Burgesses being Freemen at large; the Sitting Member's Counsel insisting, That the Right was only in the Freemen resident within the Borough.

Upon the Poll, there was,

For the Sitting Member, 24.

For the Petitioner, 17.

That the Petitioner, as to the Right of Election, called several Witnesses :

William Bunby said, That Sir Edward Nevill, though not resident, voted above 14 Years ago, and in several Elections, and continued an Alderman : That his Brother Richard Bunby continued Auditor, and did vote when not resident :

That Ræson was out of Town above a Year and Day, and voted at last Election, and had been a Soldier for 3 Years; however it was acknowledged, That his Wife lived in Town : That William Gabitus voted, a Dozen Years ago, in the Election of an Alderman, or junior Bailiff; and Robert Mason voted the last Election before this.

Lawrence King said, That, in King Charles the 2d's Time, John Ryley had lived above a Year and Half out of Town, at Wheatly; and was sent for to vote; and his Vote was not questioned.

Wm. Moody said, That William Atkinson continued Alderman when he lived out of Town, and has voted for Officers; but himself had lived out of Town Twenty Years.

That the Petitioners insisted further, That the non-resident Burgesses were only excluded by an Order of the Corporation.

And they produced an Order, in an ancient Book, made by the Bailiffs and Aldermen, by which several Persons, not resident within the Borough, are, by Name, disabled and exempted from giving of any Voices at or for any Election or Elections whatsoever : And, in the same Order, it is ordered, established, and decreed, by the Bailiffs, and the Aldermen, That if any Burgess or Burgesses of the said Borough shall, at any time then after, remove his or their Dwelling or Dwellings forth of the Liberties of the said Borough, and so shall continue the same for the space of One whole Year; that then all and every such Burgess and Burgesses shall from thenceforth be and stand likewise disabled and exempted from giving of any Voice or Voices at or for any Election or Elections whatsoever within the said Borough.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel insisted, That the Non-residents had no Vote : And called,

Richard Brownlowe; who was Apprentice at East Retford in 51 :

William Jessop; who had known East Retford 46 Years : And,

Marmaduke Cotton; who had known East Retford 40 Years :

And they said, That they took the Custom of East Retford to be, That if any Freeman was absent a Year and Day, he did lose his Right to vote : And Jessop also said, That there was some Order to that Purpose.

And Brownlowe said, he was denied his Vote, being not resident, though he lived but Half a Mile off Retford : And Cotton said, That one Popple could never have a Vote, though he lived within a Quarter of a Mile of East Retford.

That the Committee, upon considering the Evidence, and the Order that was produced, came to this Resolution ;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Right of electing Members to serve in Parliament for the Borough of East Retford, in the County of Nottingham, is as well in the Burgesses non-resident, as in the Burgesses resident, within the said Borough.

That the Petitioner then proceeded to give Evidence of such Persons who had a Right, and would have voted for the Petitioner, and were refused :

And, by the Town Books, it appeared, That Richard

VOL. 13.

Bunby, John Hodgkin, William Gabitas, Robert Mason, Geo. Popplewell, were disfranchised : The first Four was, for Non-residency : The Objection to the others Disfranchisement, was, That it was by the Bailiffs and Aldermen, without the Consent of the Burgesses.

William Nicholls said, That John Leary was the eldest Son of a Freeman; and was sworn by William Popplewell, the junior Bailiff :

And that drew on another Question, of the Qualifications that intitled any Person to his Freedom; the Petitioner's Counsel insisting, That all the Sons of a Freeman, and all such as had served an Apprenticeship, had a Right to their Freedoms : The Sitting Member's Counsel did not controvert the Right by Service; but insisted, That no Person had a Right by Patrimony, but the eldest Son born after his Father was a Freeman.

And thereupon the Petitioner's Counsel called several Witnesses :

Wm. Bunby said, That himself, and Robert Mason, were both younger Sons of Freemen, and, as such, were made free about 11 Years ago.

Thomas Moody said, He was the Second Son of a Freeman, and served an Apprenticeship at Mansfield; and that he, and his Two younger Brothers, were made free by his Father's Copy, paying the Court Fees.

William Moody, the eldest Son, was called : And confirmed the Testimony of Thomas Moody : And said, That William Smith, the younger Son of a Freeman, was made free; and that he never knew any Freeman's Son denied, paying the Court Fees.

That as to the Persons so intitled, and refused ;

William Nicholls said, That Martin Colton junior is the only Son of a Freeman : That Robert Read, John Hodgkin, are the eldest Sons of Freemen : That Thomas Bonifant, John Colton, and Savile Atkynson, were the Sons of Freemen; and besides that, Savile Atkynson, has been an Apprentice : That Bonifant and Colton had demanded their Freedoms, and were sworn by Popplewell, the junior Bailiff, in 98; and that all the rest of them had, some Years before this Election, demanded their Freedoms, and would have voted for the Petitioner at the Election :

That it was testified, That there was a Court held since Michaelmas; but Nicholls said, These Persons durst not offer themselves then, because they had been before threatened to be laid by the Heels, if they did; and one of them, particularly Tho. Bonifant, was committed; but it was the Election before this.

Martin Colton said, That John Stevenson and Thomas Ryley had served him 7 Years as his Apprentices, and had demanded their Freedoms, and were denied : The Objection to Stevenson was, That, by a Covenant in his Indenture, he was to serve the London Carrier as a Porter, as he did before he was bound Apprentice; and accordingly he did attend the said Carrier once a Week, as his Porter : The Objection to Ryley was, That the Indentures, by which he claimed his Freedom, were out so long before he asked his Freedom, that they gave a Suspicion.

That there was also Thomas Clarke, who had served as an Apprentice Five years to a Freeman, when his Master died; and it was testified, That there was no other of that Trade in Town.

And it was said, That these Persons would have voted for the Petitioner.

That then the Petitioner's Counsel proceeded to give Evidence of indirect Practices :

That it did appear, That at this Election, the Doors were shut, and none but the Freemen resident admitted to be present.

William Francis said, That Mr. Chappell, Steward to the Duke of Newcastle, did Promise him to help him to an Exciseman's Place, if he would be for Mr. White : And,

William Johnson said, That Mr. Chappell did make an Interest for Mr. White.

Stephen Johnson said, Richard Warr, who voted for Mr. White, declared, He could not be for Sir Willoughby, because he owed a Debt to one Dunstan; and, if he would

6 K

East Retford Election.

Election.

would vote for Mr. White, Dunston would forgive him the Debt.

John Appleby said, That a Fortnight before Michaelmas, Mr. Reynolds junior came to his House; and, talking of making Freemen, he said, If the said Mr. Appleby would vote for Mr. Thornhagh, and his Friend, he would speak to Mr. Bailiff Jackson to let him have his Freedom.

James Clarke said, That in November, Mr. Bailiff Jackson asked him, If he was willing to have his Freedom. To which he answered, Yes; provided he might vote for whom he would: The said Jackson replied, If that be your Principle, I have no more to say.

That the Counsel for the Sitting Member insisted, That they should add several to their Poll, and take off several from the Petitioner's Poll; and also shew indirect Practices by the Petitioner.

That, as to the Right and Manner of making free;

John Reynolds said, That the Manner of making free was, That such who desired their Freedom, come to the Bailiffs, and make their Request; who bid them acquaint the Aldermen with it; and then, if the Aldermen condescended, next Court they were admitted to their Freedom: That he had known the Corporation between 30 and 40 Years; and no younger Son, to his Knowledge, as such, has been made free. And,

Wm. Holland said, That Martin Colton came, 23d of September, into Court, to demand his Freedom; and he was told, He might come next Court, and have it. And,

John Walker said, That, about 18 or 20 October last, Martin Colton declared, That he might have his Freedom; but he would save his Money towards buying a Hat.

John Reynolds said, That Robert Read was born a Year or Two before his Father took up his Freedom; and he said, He never knew any Person to have any Right to his Freedom, who was born before his Father was free; and that Mr. Jackson, for that Reason, came in by Redemption, though the eldest Son of a Freeman, having been refused 9 or 10 Years: And he also said, That they commonly have the Consent of the major Part of the Aldermen, in case of making free; and that he never knew the junior Bailiff hold Court for that Purpose:

That the Answer to Atkynson, was, That he had not served out his Time:

That to Stevenson, That he had served the Carrier, by Covenant, Part of his Time.

William Booth said, That Thomas Ryley, 23d of last September, desired his Freedom, and produced Indentures of an old Date; and the Court desired to be satisfied of his Service; and never heard of him since:

That, as to Clarke, the Answer was, That he had served but 5 Years.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel proceeded to give Evidence against 4 that had polled for the Petitioner, as having no Vote: And called,

Wm. Bellamy, Wm. Booth: Who said, That, towards the Middle of last November, they overtook Edward Fox, as he was coming from Teurbury Market; who said, That when he took Gabitas' Shop, it was upon Consideration, that he should vote as Mr. Wharton pleased.

Wm. Booth said, That William Buttery was very poor; and has received 2s. a Year, for several Years, of Mr. Wharton's Gift, which was commonly paid in April and May.

Bellamy said, That Geo. Hoskyns was at Edward Thompson's House; and Bellamy, drinking Mr. White's Health, said, He believed that Mr. White was an honest Gentleman; but he owed Mr. Wharton and Mr. Nicholls Money, and he durst not vote for Mr. White, because they would arrest him; and Tears ran down his Face:

That Martin Colton receives 20s. a Year of Clerk's Charity; and is a very poor Man; and was excused his Rent by the Corporation, in respect of his Poverty: However, it was acknowledged, That he was free, and had always voted.

That, by way of adding to the Sitting Member's Poll; they called,

Mr. Lowther: Who said, That he did, at the Request of Mr. Tucker, demand of the Bailiff, that Mr. Thornhagh, Mr. Jessop, Mr. Brownlow, and Mr. Storrs, might be polled for Mr. Thornhagh and Mr. White. And,

Mr. Jessop said, That these 4 were all in Town at this Election, and were Freemen, though not resident; and particularly, that Mr. Thornhagh, Mr. Jessop, and Mr. Brownlow, had demanded to be polled:

That, as to the shutting the Doors at this Election, it appeared to have been the Practice to do the like at former Elections.

That then the Sitting Member's Counsel called Witnesses to the Point of Bribery:

Rebecca Holland said, That a Week before the Election, Mr. Nicholls sent to her Husband to drink a Glass of Ale with him; and that John Greathead, of Worksoppe, told her, That if she could persuade her Husband to vote for Sir Willoughby Hickman, he would give him 10l.; and that Greathead told her, Mr. Nicholls had sent him to know if her Husband would vote for Sir Willoughby Hickman; and said, She might have Twenty Guineas: And that Mr. Nicholls asked her, if her Husband did not deal in wild Leather; and told her, If her Husband would be for Sir Willoughby Hickman, he should have the Income of Three Parks: That she told her Husband of it the Night before the Election; but her Husband did actually vote for Mr. White and Mr. Thornhagh.

William Holland said, That, the Saturday after Christmas, John Greathead told him, He might have Money as well as the rest; and, if he would vote for Sir Willoughby Hickman, he would give him 10l. and afterwards he invited the said Holland to his House; and told him, He had told Berry all; and if he would be for Sir Willoughby, he might have 10l. home with him.

Edward More said, That, Six Days before the Election, Mr. Nicholls sent for him, and asked him, If he wanted Money: To which he answered, That he did want 50l. Nicholls said, If he would vote for Sir Willoughby, he should have it; and Luke Fryth told him, He might have the Close, if he would vote for Sir Willoughby, with 40 or 50l. to put him into Stock; which is now taken by another.

Richard Palfryman said, That George Wharton came to his House, a little before the Election, and desired him to be for Sir Willoughby; and he would have given him Money; and that afterwards he was at Mr. Nicholls', and offered Money again; and they put their Hands in their Pockets, but did not shew him any Money.

Thomas Rawson said, He was threatened if he voted for Mr. Thornhagh and Mr. White, he should be arrested: and that he did vote for them, and was arrested Three Times the Election Day.

Bellamy said, That Mr. Hoar the elder, upon 8th January last, came to Thompson's House, and said, He was for Sir Willoughby, and were for such Gentlemen as were for the Country, and not for the King; for he said, when the Parliament gave 4s. in the Pound, the Country had the Advantage of not more than 2s. 6d.; and he said Mr. White should not sit in the House.

Bellamy, Lowther, said, That Mr. White was invited by the Corporation to stand, and desired to be excused: Whereupon the Corporation would have had Mr. Hewet to stand; but that Mr. Hewet excused himself, for that his Health would not serve: And afterwards Mr. White declared, If the Corporation would choose him he would serve: And Lowther said, That Application had been made to Mr. Thornhagh junior to stand, and he had declined it, before Mr. White declared he would stand.

And

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons in Parliament assembled, do humbly crave Leave to represent to Your Majesty the great Satisfaction we have, from our late Inquiry concerning the Treaty of Partition, made in the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-eight, on which the Treaty in the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-nine was founded, to see Your Majesty's great Care of your People, and this Nation, in not entering into that Negotiation without the Advice of Your English Counsellors; and find, That John Lord Somers, on whose Judgment Your Majesty did chiefly rely in that so important Affair, did, in Concert with Edward Earl of Orford, and Charles Lord Hallifax, advise Your Majesty to enter into that Treaty, of so dangerous a Consequence to the Trade and Welfare of this Nation; and who, to avoid the Censure which might justly be apprehended to fall on those who advised the same, endeavoured to insinuate, That Your Majesty, without the Advice of your Council, entered into that Treaty; and under Your sacred Name to seek Protection for what themselves had so advised: Of which Treatment of Your Majesty, we cannot but have a just Resentment: And, that they may be no longer able to deceive Your Majesty, and abuse Your People, we do humbly beseech Your Majesty, That you will be pleased to remove John Lord Somers, Edward Earl of Orford, and Charles Lord Hallifax, from Your Council and Presence for ever; as also William Earl of Portland, who transacted these Treaties, so unjust in their own Nature, and so fatal in their Consequences to this Nation, and the Peace of Europe.

The House being informed, That Mr. Hewitt, the Queen Dowager's Auditor, attended, according to Order;

He was called in; and, at the Bar, presented to the House an Abstract of the several Grants from the Crown to her Majesty, and her Trustees: And also,

An Abstract of such Reversionary Grants of Lands, now in Jointure to her Majesty, as have been made since the Demise of King Charles the Second, and entered before his Majesty's Auditor.

And then withdrew.

And the Title of the said Account was read.

And the Account is as followeth; viz.

Abstracts of the several GRANTS from the Crown to Her said Majesty the Queen Dowager, and Her Trustees; as followeth; viz.

King Charles the Second, by Letters Patents, bearing Date the 18th of January, in the 15th Year of his Reign, did grant unto his then Royal Consort, the now Queen Dowager, from the Feast of St. Michael the Archangel, which was in the Year of our Lord 1662, for and during her natural Life, as Part of her Jointure, sundry annual or Fee-farm Rents within the Survey of the Exchequer, amounting to the clear yearly Sum of	10,484	8	10 $\frac{1}{2}$
His said Majesty, by other Letters Patents, bearing Date the 30th of June, in the 17th Year of his Reign, did grant unto her said Majesty, and to the Lord Holles and others, her Trustees, sundry annual or Fee-farm Rents; the Honour of Grafton ; and several demiseable Lands within the Survey of the Exchequer and Duchy of Lancaster ; viz. the said annual or Fee-farm Rents to her Majesty, from Lady-day 1664, for her Life; and the Honour of Grafton , and other the said Demesnes, to the Trustees for 99 Years, from Lady-day 1664, aforesaid; in Trust, and for the Use of her said Majesty, during her Life; and afterwards, in Trust for his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors; which annual Fee-farm, and other the said Rents of demiseable Lands, amount to the clear yearly Sum of	12,391	2	1 $\frac{1}{2}$
And, by Indenture Tripartite, made the 31st of July 1672, between the said King's Majesty, of the First Part; and the Earl of St. Albans , and others, surviving Trustees of the Queen Mother, of the Second Part; and the Lord Holles , and others, in Trust for her said Majesty, now the Queen Dowager, of the Third Part; the said Queen Mother's Trustees, by the Command, and with the Consent and Approbation, of his said Majesty, did assign over to the said Queen Dowager's Trustees several Honours, Lordships, Manors, and Lands, as well within the Survey of the Exchequer as of the Duchy of Lancaster , late Parcel of the said Queen Mother's Jointure, for and during the Rest and Residue of several Terms therein mentioned; in Trust for the said Queen Dowager, during her Majesty's Life; and afterwards, for the said King, his Heirs and Successors; the clear yearly Rents of which said several Honours, Lordships, Manors, and Lands last mentioned, amount to, per Annum	6,566	4	5 $\frac{1}{2}$ q.
The Particulars of all which Rents, and Land Revenue, as the same came to, and were valued to her Majesty, are specified in Three Books of Rates thereof made by Sir Charles Harbord , then his Majesty's Surveyor General; of which I have only imperfect Copies, but presume the King's Surveyor General may have more exact ones; amounting to the clear yearly Sum of	29,441	15	5 $\frac{1}{2}$ q.
But, of this, there proving defective	414	14	8 $\frac{1}{2}$
There remains	29,027	0	8 $\frac{1}{2}$ q.

And,

To the Honourable the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled.

I N Obedience to your Order, I humbly pray Leave to acquaint this Honourable House, That the Revenue, now in Jointure to her Majesty the Queen Dowager, consists chiefly in Fee-farm Rents; which, or the greatest Part thereof, as I humbly conceive, were, from the Demise of her said Majesty, sold by Act of Parliament, in or about the Year 1672; but I do not find any Deed of such Sale entered before her Majesty's Auditor.

And of the Remainder of her Majesty's Land Revenue, consisting of sundry Manors and Demesnes, I have been informed a great Part hath been granted in Reversion; but there being no Coveuants obliging the Grantees to inroll their Grants with the said Queen's, but rather before the King's Auditor, I have not wherewithal to enable me to lay before this House an Account of the Lands, Rents, and Estates, Parcel of the said Jointure, undisposed of, and of the Reversions, nor have I any Survey or Muniments that set forth the improved yearly Values of any Part thereof; the Business of her Majesty's Auditor having been chiefly to make up her Treasurers, Receivers, Bailiffs, and other Ministers Accounts; I, to inroll such Commissions, Patents, Grants, Leases, Assignments, Deputations, Orders, and the like, as have been granted, executed, and ordered, by her Majesty, and Trustees, her Council Board, Officers, and Servants, pursuant to the Powers to them, from time to time, given by the Crown; insomuch that there hath been only Three Reversionary Grants of any Lands, Parcel of the said Jointure, since the Decease of his late Majesty King Charles the Second, entered before the said Auditor; an Abstract whereof is hereunto annexed, and most humbly submitted.

Rob. Hewitt.

And, in Obedience to another Order of the 11th Instant, That the Auditor to the Queen Dowager do lay before this House a particular Account of her Majesty's Jointure; and distinguish what Part of it was the Queen Mother's, and what was granted by King Charles the Second, and how augmented by King James the Second; I do humbly lay before you;

Trade, and Courts of Justice, in Plantations.

Mr. Pryor, from the Commissioners of Trade and Plantations, presented to the House their Answer, concerning Trade, and Courts of Justice, in the Plantations, pursuant to the Order of the 2d of April Instant:

And the Title thereof was read:

And the Answer is as followeth; viz.

IN Obedience to an Order of this Honourable House, dated the 2d of this Instant April, requiring from us an Account of what Complaints have been made to us in relation to the Trade, or Courts of Justice, in the several Plantations in America, whether in the Proprietary Governments, or elsewhere; and what we have done thereupon; we humbly offer;

In the Plantations under his Majesty's immediate Government.

Barbados. A Complaint made by the Commissioner of his Majesty's Customs at Bridge-town in Barbadoes, to the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, having been referred to our Consideration; and finding thereby, That he, and other Officers of the Customs in Barbadoes, by their Diligence in making Seizures, upon some Violations of the Acts for Trade and Navigation, had made themselves Enemies, and laboured under Difficulties in the Execution of their Trusts; but that, by the Countenance of the Governor, they had been enabled to proceed in discharging their Trust; we found it absolutely necessary, that not only the Officers of the Customs, but those also of the Admiralty, should be very particularly recommended to the respective Governors of all his Majesty's Plantations: And accordingly we humbly proposed to their Excellencies the then Lords Justices, That they would be pleased to sign circular Letters, which we prepared, to the said Governors, and especially to those in Propriety and Charter Governments, requiring them to give constant Protection, and all due Encouragement to the said Officers, in the Discharge and Execution of their respective Duties: And the said Letters were accordingly dispatched.

It having been represented to us by the Executors of Sir Peter Colleton, That Mr. James Colleton, of Barbadoes, Brother to the said Sir Peter, had, upon his Brother's Death, seized his Estate in that Island, and converted it to his own Use; and that they the said Executors, having brought their Actions against him, could not obtain Redress, by reason that he, the Party concerned, was Judge in the Precincts where the Controversy was depending; we thereupon gave Directions to the President and Council of that Island, the Governor being then dead, That they should appoint some other impartial Judge to hear and determine that Matter; and further take care, that no Person should either be Judge in his own Case, or, by being Judge in any Precinct where Matters in Controversy between him and others lie, should have it in his Power to obstruct the Course of Justice: But, having some time after been informed by the said Executors, That they had not obtained Relief, we represented the Matter to their Excellencies the Lords Justices; and, Mr. Grey being then constituted Governor of that Island, we wrote to him by their Excellencies Order, to the same Effect; and, in Answer thereunto, have received from him a Certificate signed by the Attornies of the foresaid Executors there, declaring; That, though their Suit had been tedious, yet they could not charge Judge Colleton with making any Use of his Authority in causing those Delays; but that they imputed them to the Death of the late Governor Colonel Russell, and the Changes that had ensued in the Commissions of Judges.

And, to the end that a strict and continual Care might be taken in all Matters relating to the Administration of Justice in that Island, we sent to Mr. Grey the following Directions; viz.

That he should send to us a Copy of the Register and Minutes of the Chancery; and of the Minutes and Business done at a Court of Errors; since his Arrival in that Island:

That he should send a particular Account, and List, of all Causes that now stand entered in the Chancery, or are depending there; and how long each of them has been so depending:

An Account, likewise, specifying each Day of the Month that a Court of Chancery, and Court of Errors, hath been held; and how many successive Days that Court has at any time continued to sit since his Arrival in that Government: In which Account the Proceedings of each Day are also to be severally set down; and the Names of such Members of Council, as attended each Day, inserted:

An Account how many final Decrees have been made there since his Arrival; how many Injunctions granted, how many dissolved, and how many remain still in Force.

And whereas by an Act of that Island, made in the Year 1661, the Five several Courts of Common Law have certain Days appointed for their Sitting; That we expected from him a particular Account, how many of the said Days each of those Courts had sat since his entering upon that Government, together with an Account of the Business they have done each Day, copied from their Minutes: These Accounts to be fully and plainly given by the Registers, or other proper Officers, of the respective Courts, and sufficiently attested:

And that we further expected, That for the future, he should hold the Court of Chancery as often, and for so long time, as should be requisite for Dispatch of the several Causes depending before that Court; and that an exact Account should be always kept of the Names of such of the Council as do give their Attendance during the Sitting of the said Court; so that the Register, or other proper Officer, may be able to give a particular Account thereof on Oath, from time to time, if the same shall be required: To all which Heads we are expecting his Answers.

A Petition having since been presented to his Majesty, in the Name of John Loder Esquire, and others; complaining of a great Neglect in holding Courts of Chancery in that Island, and Want of Dispatch of Business in those Courts; which his Majesty was pleased to refer to our Consideration; we thereupon directed, and instantly required, Mr. Grey to be more careful in the Expediting of of Justice; and to hold Courts of Chancery, without any Recess or Intermission, till all the Causes depending there should be determined.

About the same time, also, Two other Petitions having been presented to his Majesty, the one by Isaac Marchins, the other by Thomas Hodges, Esquires; containing, in like manner, great Complaints of Delays, and undue Proceedings, in the Courts of Justice in Barbadoes; upon which his Majesty was pleased to require us to examine those Matters; and to report what we conceive proper to be done therein; we made our Report accordingly; and further proposed, That his Majesty would be pleased, by Letters under his Royal Signature, to give Directions to Mr. Grey for the Redress of all Irregularities of that Nature: Which Letters were prepared by us, and sent; being as follows:

WILLIAM R.

Trusty and Well-beloved, We greet you well. Whereas John Loder, Isaac Hawkins, and Thomas Hodges, Esquires, in behalf of themselves, and others, have, by their humble Petitions, severally laid before Us divers Complaints of great Delays, and undue Proceedings, in the Courts of Justice in Our Island of Barbadoes; in the setting forth whereof they have offered to prove, That there were lately about 800 Causes depending at one time in Two of the Courts of Common Pleas in that Island; besides what more might be depending in the Three other Courts of the same Kind, whereof they had not been yet informed; and have imputed this Disorder, amongst other Causes, to the Partiality of some Persons appointed to sit in the Judicatories of the said Island, who are themselves much indebted; have many Suits depending against them; and are thereby frequently interested, either directly, or by Consequence, in the Issue of the Suits that are brought before them: And whereas it has been further represented by the said Petitioners, That the Method practised in the Courts of Chancery, in determining Controversies, and pronouncing Decrees, is very irregular; and that the Neglect in holding those Courts, and the Want of Dispatch of Business there, have been such, that there has been sometimes but one Court held in the Space of 8 or 9 Months, and very little done in it since your entering upon that Government; so that there are more than 300 Causes depending, in the said Court, many of which are of several Years standing: And also that, since your being there, not any Court of Error did sit in Two Years Time; by which Means all Judgments at Common Law, whereon Writs of Error have been brought, were stayed from Execution: All which Delays, and undue Proceedings, do tend to the very great Prejudice of the Petitioners, and other Suitors: And it being highly necessary, that all Irregularities of this Nature, which are so grievous to Our Subjects, be reformed; and that, the Grounds of all such Complaints being thoroughly inquired into, effectual Care be taken, that they be, for the future, intirely removed; We have, in order thereunto, directed Our Commissioners for Trade and Plantations to transmit unto you the Copies of the foresaid Petitions, and of the Memorials offered thereupon, for your Answers, not only to the particular Cases of the Petitioners, but also to the more general Complaints afore-mentioned: And We do further hereby will and require you to take especial Care, that no Person interested in the Suits depending in any of the Courts of Our said Island be appointed or permitted to sit as Judge in the Causes wherein they are concerned: That Justice be every where duly and speedily administered: That the Complainants have such Redress as is agreeable to Law: And that you do yourself constantly hold Courts of Chancery, until all the Causes there be determined. We do likewise hereby declare Our Royal Will and Pleasure, That no Members of our Council in that Island be exempted from any Prosecution, in Law or Equity, for the Payment of their just Debts, except only during the time that the General Assembly of Our said Island shall be sitting; which you are accordingly to declare unto them: And, for the better Observance of Our Directions in all this Matter, as well as for the Satisfaction of all Persons concerned, you are to cause Entry to be made of this Letter in Our Council Books. So We bid you Farewel. Given at Our Court at Kensington, the 16th Day of March 1700-1 in the Thirteenth Year of Our Reign.

By his Majesty's Command,

Ja. Vernon.

And whereas it has been alleged, That Presents made by the General Assemblies of Plantations, to Governors, have sometimes been a Temptation to them to defer or pervert Justice; and there being Two Acts of the General Assembly of Barbadoes before us, for Presents to the Governor, which, by his Instructions, he is not permitted to receive without his Majesty's Leave first obtained; we have suspended our Report upon those Acts, until we be further satisfied how the Governor has discharged his Duty in all Matters relating to the Administration of Justice.

Bermuda. The Disorders in the Bermuda Islands having been considered by us, both in respect to Trade, and to the the Administration of Justice; Two Lieutenant Governors of the said Islands, viz. Captain John Goddard, and Mr. Samuel Day, have, upon the Representations we made of the Irregularities of their Conduct in those Matters, been recalled; and, upon the constituting of Captain Benjamin Bennet to be Governor, we have, in the Instructions which he has received from his Majesty, inserted such Clauses as may tend to reform the Abuses which his Predecessors have been guilty of.

Leeward Islands. As to the Leeward Islands, some Inconveniencies having arisen in the Administration of Justice, by reason that some of the Judges or Assistants of the inferior Courts have also been Members of the Council of that Island, where the Governor usually resided; which is the supreme Court for hearing and determining Appeals from all the others; we prepared an Instruction, which his Majesty was accordingly pleased to give to Colonel Codrington, the present Governor, for Reforming of that Irregularity: And before his going over, a Complaint having been brought to us, in the Name of divers Inhabitants of St. Christopher's, against Captain James Norton, Lieutenant Governor of the English Part of that Island, for several Oppressions, Exactions, and illegal Practices, we directed Colonel Codrington, by Order of the Lords Justices, to inquire into those Matters: And he has now acquainted us, That, upon a full and impartial Hearing, the Substance of those Complaints, especially in respect to Breaches of the Acts of Trade, had been proved against the said Norton; and that he had thereupon suspended him from the Office of Lieutenant Governor.

He complains also of some Irregularities in Trade, especially of a private Trade with the French Islands, in those Parts; whereby the Islands under his Government are clandestinely supplied with all sorts of French Commodities, and the Consumption of English Commodities is very much hindered: Which Abuses he promises to take all possible Care to reform.

Jamaica. As to Jamaica, the Governor of that Island has represented to us the People's Uneasiness under the Restraint laid upon them by the Acts of Trade and Navigation; and their Desire of a greater Liberty in Trade than is consistent with the Interest of England; which they observe to be practised in the neighbouring Plantations, under Proprietors: But he has, in pursuance of our frequent Recommendations, assured us of his Care, that those Acts be strictly complied with.

He has often acquainted us, That the Inhabitants, and more especially the seafaring Men, of that Island, complained much of the irregular Proceedings of some Commanders of his Majesty's Ships, in pressing Men: Which having been represented, by us, to his Majesty, Regulations have been made, and Directions given, by the Lords of the Admiralty, for the Conduct of the Commanders of his Majesty's Ships, in reference to the Pressing of Seamen throughout all the Plantations.

And he has further informed us, That the Insinuations continually made, by the Proprietary Colonies on the Continent, of the great Liberties and Exemptions they enjoy under those Governments, and of the Advantages they they make by receiving Pirates, had enticed away much People from Jamaica; and tended greatly to the Prejudice of that Island.

Virginia. From Virginia some Complaints have been made to us, That the Members of the Council of that Colony were not subject to Prosecutions at Law, for the Payment of their just Debts; and that other Inconveniencies had ensued, as well in relation to Trade as Justice, by the Methods settled, and ordinarily practised, in the Administration of that Government: Whereupon we offered to their Excellencies the Lords Justices the Draught of several Instructions, which we conceived proper to remedy what appeared to us not fit to be allowed; together with the particular Reasons that moved us to propose each Alteration: And those Instructions were accordingly given, by their Excellencies, to Colonel Nicholson, at his First Entrance upon that Government.

Maryland. Upon Complaints also, from Maryland, of Inconveniencies in the Methods of administering that Government, and the Want of some further Provision for preventing undue Practices both in Trade, and in the Course of Justice; in order to the Remedying thereof, we offered to their Excellencies several Alterations to be made in the Governor's Instructions: Which were accordingly given to Colonel Blakiston, together with the Commission for the Government of that Province.

New York. As to New York, the Governor of that Province, the Earl of Bellomont, having transmitted to us great Complaints of the Irregularities that he found there, especially with respect to illegal Trade, and Piracy; and having also acquainted us, how, upon the Evidence he received, that some Members of his Majesty's Council, and others in Places of Trust there, were engaged in carrying on such Practices, he had, in pursuance of his Instructions, suspended several Persons from their Employments, and put in others to officiate in their stead, till his Majesty's Pleasure were known; we represented the same to their Excellencies the Lords Justices; and further proposed what we thought necessary for reforming the Abuses there; which was according approved by their Excellencies: The Earl of Bellomont's Proceedings in the Change of Officers was confirmed; and Directions were given him to continue his Endeavours in the further rectifying those Disorders.

Since which time, some Merchants of New York presented to his Majesty a Petition; complaining, That the Earl of Bellomont being Governor of New England, as well as of New York, and having been absent from New York, the common Course of Justice was retarded, Trade decayed, and the Industry of the Planter discouraged, in that Province: But, soon after that Petition was presented, we had an Account of his Lordship's Return to New York, where he has ever since resided: And we find, by the Entry of the Customs, That the Trade there is increased, and in a thriving Condition.

As to the Administration of Justice; upon his Lordship's complaining of the Want of Persons, in that Province, fitly qualified; and desiring that . . . Chief Justice and Attorney General might be sent from hence; his Majesty has been pleased to appoint such Officers; who are now upon their Voyage: And they are further authorized by Admiralty Commissioners, the one to be Judge, and the other Advocate General, in the Admiralty Courts, both there, and in the neighbouring Colonies.

New Hampshire. Not long after our Entrance upon this Commission, we had great Complaints of a Disorder in the Province of New Hampshire, occasioned by a Difference between the Lieutenant Governor, and some Members of the Council there, who forcibly displaced him, and had assumed the Government in his stead: Which we accordingly represented to the Lords Justices: But, that Difference being terminated by the Earl of Bellomont's Commission, which superseded their Authorities, or pretended Authorities, on both Sides; and their Heats having been in good measure allayed by his Presence amongst them; we have not since had any Complaint about the Administration of Justice there, until within these very few Days, that his Majesty has required us to consider, and report our Opinion, upon a Petition from Mr. Samuel Allen; complaining, That the superior Court of Judicature had denied to admit his Appeal from a Verdict and Judgment there given against him the 13th August 1700; and praying, That his Majesty would please to direct, That his Appeal should be admitted: Which is a Matter of great Weight, relating to the Right of Property, and that whole Province; and is at present under our Examination.

The Trade of that Province is not considerable: The chief Port Piocataway lies very convenient for carrying on a Fishery; but the Inhabitants neglect it, the Woods affording them a more easy Gain, by cutting down Timber, and carrying it not only to England, but to Spain and Portugall; which Trade is not prohibited by Law, as we have lately offered to this Honourable House; but does, however, deserve to be brought under due Regulations, by a Clause in some Act of Parliament, that shall pass, relating to Trade.

Newfoundland The Trade and Fishery of Newfoundland being carried on without any settled Colony, we have nothing to offer concerning the Administration of Justice there: But we humbly offer, That we have had many Informations of Irregularities practised by the Masters of Ships, and others, who resort thither in the Fishing Season; which we endeavour to redress by Instructions given to the Commanders of the Convoys going thither: The enumerated Plantation Commodities, especially Tobacco and Sugar, which ought not to be transported to any foreign Parts, without having been first landed in England, are frequently carried thither, and sold to the Fishing Ships, who carry them directly to Italy, Spain, and Portugal, to the great Prejudice of his Majesty's Revenue in the Customs, which ought to be paid here: And, on the other Side, European Commodities are carried thither from foreign Parts, and sold to the Plantation Ships trading there; who disperse them, at their Return, in the several Plantations whither they are bound, contrary to Law, and to the great Prejudice of this Kingdom; for which there may be some Remedy likewise by a Clause in an Act of Parliament.

PROPRIETIES.

In relation to Proprieties, and Charter Governments.

Massachuset Bay. The Inhabitants of the Massachusetts Bay are guilty of carrying on illegal Trade: Their Courts of Justice have been very partial in protecting it: They have refused to admit Appeals to his Majesty from Judgments in those Cases; and the very Members of his Majesty's Council there have openly declared their Averseness to the Laws of England.

Though that Colony be under the Inspection of a Governor appointed by his Majesty's Commission; yet the Power of that Governor is so tied up by their pretended Privileges, and by their not settling any fixed Maintenance either upon him, or other Funds, for occasional Services; his Authority, and his very Subsistence amongst them, are so precarious; that it is impossible for him, as the Case now stands, to make any considerable Step towards their Reformation.

Rhode Island. The Irregularities and Misdemeanors of the Government of Rhode Island have been so great, that we thought it incumbent upon us to represent to his Majesty the Necessity of granting a Commission for making a particular Inquiry thereinto: The Earl of Bellomont accordingly went thither; but found such a Reception, by their opposing his Majesty's Authority, and the Acts of Trade and Navigation, that no good Effect could be obtained from that Commission; they pretending, by their Charter, to be independent on the Government of England: Which we accordingly represented to his Majesty in Council.

Connecticut. Connecticut Colony, which lies next, besides the Irregularities common to them with other Proprieties, are more directly guilty of refusing to admit Appeals to England. Upon the Petitions of John and Nicolas Hallam, and and of Edward Palmes and John Hallam, Inhabitants of that Colony, complaining of Obstruction of Justice there, we did write, by his Majesty's Order in Council, to the Governor and Company of that Colony; asserting his Majesty's Right to receive and determine Appeals from all his Colonies in America, and requiring them to admit Appeals from thence: But we have since understood, by another Petition presented to his Majesty by the said John and Nicolas Hallam, and by other Informations received from thence, that our Letter, with his Majesty's foresaid Order, having been duly delivered, and an Appeal accordingly demanded, the superior Court of that Charter Government did peremptorily refuse the same; and that the Governor, who is one of the Judges of the said Court, did publickly declare, That no Appeals should be allowed from thence to his Majesty in Council.

East and West New Jersey. The Colonies of East and West New Jersey are at present in utter Confusion: There being no Governor in East Jersey; and the pretended Governor in West Jersey being neither approved by the King nor acknowledged as Governor by the Generality of the People; some of the Proprietors have thereupon proposed to surrender their pretended Right of Government to his Majesty; but, others insisting upon it, nothing could yet be done sufficient for the Settling of any orderly Government amongst them, nor for preventing unlawful Trade.

Pensylvania. The Complaints against Mr. Markham, Lieutenant Governor of Pensylvania, for the Harboursing and Protecting of Pirates; and against the whole Government of that Colony, for their Opposition to the Court of Admiralty erected there, as in other Places, pursuant to the late Act of Parliament for preventing Frauds, and regulating Abuses, in the Plantation Trade; have been very great: But Directions having been given, by their Excellencies the Lords Justices, to Mr. Penn, upon his going thither, for the Reforming of those Disorders, we received afterwards an Account from Colonel Quary, Judge of his Majesty's Admiralty Court there, as well as from Mr. Penn himself, That he had made several Advances in what had been required from him: Nevertheless we have of late again received Complaints from Colonel Quary, That Mr. Penn, by granting Commissions to all the Sheriffs of Counties to be Water Bailiffs, had broke into the Admiralty Jurisdiction, and invaded the Powers thereof; and, by denying the Admiralty any Right of Jurisdiction within the Body of the Province, had, in effect, taken it wholly away: We have likewise had fresh Informations, from Colonel Quary, of private Trade between Pensylvania, and Curassaw, a Dutch Plantation, carried on chiefly by Scotchmen, who clandestinely and illegally export Tobacco, and import such great Quantities of Iron, Linen, Wine, and other European Commodities, that they are sold there as cheap as in England.

As to Pirates; several Persons, who have themselves been formerly suspected of Piracy, are settled near the Capes of Delaware River: These Persons, when Kid was there, received his Boats, and supplied him: They went on board him constantly, and took on Shore Quantities of East India Goods: Mr. Penn has imprisoned these Men; and seized some of the Goods, which, as he informs us, shall be sent over.

Carolina, and the Bahama Islands. As to Carolina, and the Bahama Islands; the Misbehaviour and ill Conduct of the Governors and Inhabitants of those Colonies, in harbouring and protecting Every, and other Pirates, is notorious.

In relation to Trade; we have, amongst other Irregularities of this Propriety Government, had Information of a Practice of conveying Tobacco privately out of Virginia into North Carolina, and from thence carrying it to New England, and other Charter Plantations, without paying the Duty of One Penny per Pound established by Law.

The Governor of Virginia has also complained to us, That, though Endeavours have been several times used to fix the Boundaries between them and North Carolina, it had not yet been effected; and that, when Commissioners had been appointed on both Sides to treat, yet nothing could be concluded, because the pretended Governor of North Carolina, who appointed those Commissioners, was not himself duly qualified by Law.

As for the Course of Justice; a Complaint having been laid before his Majesty, by some Merchants of London, Owners and Freighters of a Vessel called the Cole and Bean Galley, of the unjust Proceedings of the Admiralty Court of South Carolina, in condemning their said Ship and Cargo, and refusing to admit an Appeal to his Majesty from that Sentence; his Majesty was pleased to refer the same to our Consideration: And we thereupon humbly proposed, as the most proper Means for the Petitioners Relief, That they might be admitted to appeal from thence to his Majesty in Council.

As to the Propriety and Charter Governments in general; no Governor whereof has qualified himself according to the late Act of Parliament, except the Governor of the Bahama Islands; for whose good Behaviour Security has been refused to be given by the Proprietors, their Independency making it absolutely necessary that some speedy and effectual Care be taken to render them more subservient and useful to this Kingdom; we humbly refer ourselves to our Report, dated the 27th March last, wherein we humbly represented to the Honourable House, That the Charters of the several Proprietors, and others, intitling them to absolute Government, be reassumed to the Crown; and those Colonies put into the same State and Dependency as these of his Majesty's other Plantations, without Prejudice to any Man's Freehold or Property; which, we conceive, cannot otherwise be well effected than by the legislative Power of this Kingdom.

All which being offered by us in pursuance of the Order of this Honourable House;

The same is most humbly submitted.

A Petition of Thomas White Esquire, William Hodgkinson, Richard Burbridge, Antony Woodhouse, and Joseph Hodgkinson, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners having undertaken to drain many ancient Mines within the Parish of Ashover, in the County of Derby, which were so drowned, the Owners thereof could have no Benefit thereby; and, for such their Pains, were to take the Ore there gotten to their own Uses, reserving to the several Owners certain Shares of the said Ore, when gotten: That, by a Bill now depending in this Honourable House, for settling and ascertaining the Tythes of Lead-ore in the County of Derby, their said Work will be liable to pay a Tythe or Tenth Part, which was never yet paid: And praying, a Clause may be inserted in the said Bill, for exempting the said Mines from Payment of Tythe Lead-ore.

St. Martin's Parish Estate.

A Petition of the Vicar and Churchwardens, and other Inhabitants, of the Parish of St. Martin's in the Fields within the Liberty of Westminster, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That King James the First, and King Charles the First, by several Letters Patents, did grant unto the said Parish a certain Piece of Ground, containing One Acre, with the Buildings thereupon, lying near his Majesty's Mews, to the Intent that Part of the said Ground should be used and employed for a Church-yard; and the Rents and Profits of the Buildings be disposed for the Relief of the Poor of that Parish for ever: That the said Buildings are become so ruinous, that they must shortly be pulled down: That a certain Passage called Hemming-row, adjoining to the said Church-yard, is so narrow, that Two Coaches, meeting, cannot pass by each other: That, by taking a little Slip out of the said Acre of Ground, and laying the same into the said Passage, the same will be made more commodious, and the Front Ground will be of more Value: That the present Archbishop of Canterbury hath some time since, at his own Charge, erected a large Brick Building for a Library, and a Free School; and endowed the same: And praying, That Leave may be given to bring in a Bill for empowering the said Vicar and Churchwardens to grant Leases to Builders, of such Part of the said Ground as is improveable; and for laying some other Part thereof, which is not improveable, by building into the said Church-yard; and for enlarging the said Passage; and also for confirming of the said Library, and Free School, according to the Settlement made thereof by the said Lord Archbishop.

Mr. Speaker reported, That he, with the House, did Yesterday present to his Majesty their humble Address: And that his Majesty was pleased to give a most gracious Answer thereunto; as follows; viz.

Answer to Address.

I AM willing to take all Occasions of thanking you very heartily for the Assurances you have frequently given me, and now repeat, of standing by, and supporting me, against all our Enemies both at home and abroad; towards which, nothing, in my Opinion, can contribute so much, as a good Correspondence between me and my People: And therefore you may depend upon it, that I will employ none in my Service but such as shall be thought most likely to improve that mutual Trust and Confidence between us, which is so necessary, in this Conjunction, both for our own Security, and the Defence and Preservation of our Allies.

Resolved, Nemine contradicente, That the humble Thanks of this House be given to his Majesty, for his Majesty's most gracious Answer to the said Address.

Thanks on Answer.

Ordered, That such Members of this House as are of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, do give his Majesty the said humble Thanks of this House.

Mr. Secretary Hedges acquainted the House, That his Majesty had been pleased, in pursuance of his gracious Declaration, That he would inform this House of the Progress that should be made in the Negotiations he had entered into, to direct him to lay before this House the Translation of the States General's Resolution of the Twenty-third of April, New Stile: And he delivered the same in at the Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

Progress of
tations.

Extract out of the Register of the Resolutions of the High and Mighty Lords the States General of the United Provinces, of Saturday, the 23 April 1701, S.N.

HAVING heard the Report of the Sieurs D'Essen, and other Deputies of their High and Mightinesses for the foreign Affairs, who, by virtue of their Resolution, importing a Commission of the 22d of this Month, have examined the Memorial of Mr. Stanhope, Envoy Extraordinary from his Majesty of Great Britain, being in Answer to the Resolution of their High and Mightinesses of the 4th last past; and communicating to their High and Mightinesses the Resolution of his Majesty, not only to make good the Conditions of the Treaty of Alliance in the Year 1677-8, but also to enter into such other Ways and Means as shall be thought proper to procure their Safety, as is more at large mentioned in the said Memorial, and in the Acts of Yesterday: Whereupon having deliberated, it has been found good, and agreed, to represent, by a Letter to his Majesty of Great Britain, That the Resolution of his Majesty, which is so just and conformable to their High and Mightinesses Desires, must of Necessity produce in them a particular Joy and Satisfaction; especially at a time when they see the Propositions which they have made, jointly, with his Majesty, for the Preservation of the Peace, and for their common Safety, are treated in the most indifferent Manner that can be; and that they see, at the same time, the Forces and Preparations of War do daily increase on their Frontiers; which gives them a just Apprehension: That their High and Mightinesses have always relied on his Majesty's Friendship and Affection for their Republick, as also on the natural Equity and Faithfulness with which his Majesty is wont to make good his Engagements; and therefore they never doubted but that his Majesty would perform the Treaties they have the Honour to have concluded with his Majesty: And these new Assurances, which his Majesty is pleased to give them at this time, are to them a new Pledge, so much more effectual and valuable, as it is supported by the Desires of his good and loyal Subjects assembled in Parliament, and by their unanimous Concurrence in the same Design; and that, in the evident Danger with which their State is threatened, it confirms the Hopes and Expectations they have, that the required Succour will not be long delayed; and that, at all times, they shall have the full Effect and Performance of the said Treaty: That their High and Mightinesses have so true a Sense of it, that they think themselves obliged to demonstrate to his Majesty their sincere Acknowledgement thereof; and to return him their most hearty Thanks; and to assure his Majesty anew, as they have done heretofore, That, on their Side, they will likewise at all times, strictly perform what they are obliged to by the said Treaty: That they are as thoroughly persuaded as it is possible for them to be, that their Interests in the Preservation of the Peace, and in relation to their Safety, and the Maintenance of their Liberty and Religion, are intirely united, and inseparable from those of his Majesty, and his Kingdoms: And, his Majesty taking their Interest so much to Heart, they protest, That they will in no wise separate themselves from those of his Majesty; and that, upon this Principle, they are resolved to take no Measures in the Negotiations begun on this Subject, but in Concert with his Majesty, in the manner they have begun; knowing that his Majesty, as well as they, has no other End than to maintain the publick Tranquillity, and their common Safety: That the Letter which is to be writ in consequence hereof, shall be sent, with a Copy of this, to the Sieur de Geldermalsen, Envoy Extraordinary from their High and Mightinesses to the Court of his said Majesty, that he may present the same to his Majesty: The Sieurs d'Essen, and other Deputies of their High and Mightinesses for the foreign Affairs, are further required, and commissioned, to communicate the Contents of the present Resolution to Mr. Stanhope above-mentioned; and to thank him for his good Offices which he has employed in this Business; desiring him to continue them, to the end that the required Succour may be sent, the sooner the better.

Exchequer
Fees.

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to examine into all Fees received at his Majesty's Exchequer, concerning publick Monies; and to report to the House:

And it is referred to Sir Richard Cocks, Dr. Dacenant, Mr. Mounstevens, Mr. Scobell, Mr. How, Mr. Mompesson, Earl of Dysert, Sir Godfrey Copley, Sir Joseph Tredenham, Mr. Tredenham, Colonel Byerly, Sir Rowland Gwyne, Sir *Geo. Ordered, That the several Accounts of Fees of the Officers of the Exchequer, which have been presented to the House, be referred to the said Committee.

Ordered, That it be referred to the said Committee to inquire into what Places have great Salaries, and need none, or but little, Attendance; and to report the same to the House.

Julius Samborn, Joseph Wimbleton, Edward Wareham, Charles Bransby, John Newark, and John Haysham, were, according to Order, brought to the Bar: Where they, upon their Knees, received a Reprimand from Mr. Speaker. Privilege—Persons reprimanded and discharged.

Ordered, That the said Julius Samborn, Joseph Wimbleton, Edward Wareham, Charles Bransby, John Newark, and John Haysham, be discharged out of Custody, paying their Fees.

Resolved, That this House will, upon Saturday Morning next, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, upon the Bill for resuming all Grants of Lands, and other Revenues, since the 6th Day of February 1684; and applying the same to the Use of the Publick. Supply Bill; Resumption of Grants.

Mr. Conyers, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of the whole House, to whom it was referred to consider of Ways and Means for raising the Supply granted to his Majesty, the Resolution, which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered it at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz. Ways and Means.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That, towards the Supply granted to his Majesty, an Aid of Three Shillings in the Pound, for One Year, be laid upon all Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments, Offices, Pensions, and personal Estates.

The said Resolution being read a Second time;

An Amendment was proposed to be made therein, by leaving out "of," and inserting, instead thereof, "not exceeding:"

And the Question being put, That "of" stand Part of the Resolution;

It was resolved in the Affirmative.

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That, towards the Supply granted to his Majesty, an Aid of Three Shillings in the Pound, for One Year, be laid upon all Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, Offices, Pensions, and Personal Estates.

Ordered, That a Bill be brought in upon the said Resolution: And that Mr. Attorney General, Mr. Conyers, and Mr. Lowndes, do prepare and bring in, the same.

Resolved, That this House will, upon Tuesday Morning next, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider further of the Bill for the further Limitation of the Crown; and better securing the Rights and Liberties of the Subject. Limitation of the Crown.

The Committee having examined the Allegations contained in the said Petition, it appeared to them, by the Information they received from the Petitioner, as also from one Mr. Huntbach, That, notwithstanding the Penalties inflicted upon Offenders, by the several Acts of Parliament for laying a Duty upon Salt; yet the same is found not sufficient to deter Persons from defrauding his Majesty of a great Part of that Duty:

That a great Part of the Salt made within the Borough of Droitwich is fraudently conveyed away, without Payment of the Duty for the same:

That the Justices of the Peace, who are Justices, by virtue of their Charter, within that Borough, are Salt-makers; and, whenever any Persons are detected for Running of Salt, the said Justices are the Judges which try and determine these said Abuses; whereby several Persons, who are great Dealers in Salt, are favoured by the said Justices: Mr. Huntbach said, That he hath seen 40, 50, and 60 Bushels of Salt carried off at a time, without paying any Duty; and that he hath heard the Proprietors of the Salt-works at Droitwich make their Boast of running Salt; and that several Men in the said Town have carried away very great Quantities of Salt, without paying the Duty; and have armed themselves, to defend them against such as should oppose them:

That the greatest Part of the Inhabitants of Droitwich are Runners of Salt; and that above Thirty Horses are kept on purpose to carry off such Salt: And that he hath seen several Sums of Money paid to the Proprietors, for Salt, of which the Duty has not been paid to the King.

Mr. Steyner said, That he saw above 150 Bushels of Salt taken out of Mr. Edward Launch's Crib at Droitwich, without paying any Duty:

That several Families in the said Town are maintained by Running of Salt; and refuse to work, to get an honest Livelihood, because they get more Money in that fraudulent Practice.

Mr. Huntbach said, That one of the Supervisors surveyed all the Salt in the Town of Droitwich, and entered the same in a Book; after which, Mr. Wood, one of the Proprietors, run a whole Crib of Salt at one time.

Mr. Steyner said, That he verily believed, that the King is defrauded of the said Duty to above the Value of 10,000*l.* per Annum, within the Borough of Droitwich.

Upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to these Resolutions;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That several great Quantities of Salt, made within the Borough of Droitwich, in the County of Worcester, have been sold, and conveyed away, the Duty whereof has not been answered, or paid to his Majesty.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the House be moved for Leave to bring in a Bill to prevent the Abuses in Running of Salt.

And the First Resolution being read a Second time;

Ordered, That the said Report be re-committed to the same Committee.

Mr. Topham, according to Order, presented to the House a Bill for raising the Militia for the Year One thousand Seven hundred and One, although the Month's Pay, formerly advanced, be not repaid: And the same was received; and read the First time.

Ordered, That the said Address be presented to his Majesty by such Members of this House as are of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

And it is referred to Sir Richard Onslow, Mr. Harvey, Mr. Clayton, Lord Marquis of Hartington, Sir Jo. Mordant, Sir Charles Bloys, Sir Sam. Bernardiston, Sir Richard Cocks, Mr. Smith, Mr. Mountague, Colonel Byerly, Mr. Cox, Mr. How, Mr. Marks, Mr. Foley, Mr. St. John, Mr. Chandler, Sir William Ashurst, Sir Jacob Ashley, Lord Hyde, Mr. Heysham, Mr. Hoblin, Mr. Wollaston, Sir Barth.

Message from the King—Demand of Succours by Holland.

And the Message was read by Mr. Speaker; and is as followeth; viz.

WILLIAM R.

HIS Majesty having lately received an Account, from Mr. Stanhope, of the present Posture of Affairs in Holland; and likewise a Letter from the States General, which is of the greatest Importance: And his Majesty, who who has so perfect a Knowledge of their Country, being intirely convinced of the Hardship of their present Condition, and the great Pressures they now lie under, which are particularly expressed in the above-mentioned Letter; has thought it absolutely necessary to communicate the same to this House, that the Expectation the States have of present Assistance from his Majesty may more fully appear; and his Majesty does not doubt but this House will be so justly sensible of those immediate Dangers to which they stand exposed, as to take the same into their most serious and effectual Consideration; it being most evident, that the Safety of England, as well as the very Being of Holland, does very much depend upon your Resolutions in this Matter.

Kensington, May 8, 1701.

Then a Letter from the States General to his Majesty was read; which is as followeth; viz.

SIR,

SINCE the Protestation was made to your Majesty, in our last Letter of 23d April, not to enter into any Negotiation with France but in Concert with England, we have judged it proper to ask Count d'Avaux, Ambassador Extraordinary from his most Christian Majesty, if he was inclined and authorized to enter again upon the Negotiation, in the manner it was begun jointly with the Minister of Your Majesty, as Your Majesty will see by our Resolution of the 2d of this Month, here inclosed: Count d'Avaux, having sent it to his most Christian Majesty, after the Return of his Express, presented a Memorial, of which we likewise add a Copy to this Letter: We immediately communicated it to Mr. Stanhope, Your Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary; and, having consulted with him about it, we found some Things obscure in the said Memorial; which made us doubt of the true Meaning of it: Therefore we thought it necessary to acquaint the said Count d'Avaux with the Letter we had the Honour to write to Your Majesty the 23d of April last past; and that we were not engaged to take any Measures in the Negotiation but in Concert with Your Majesty. Count d'Avaux made Answer to our Deputies, That he was come hither to treat about the Means of preserving the general Peace, and establishing our particular Safety: That, if we would concert thereupon with your Majesty, he had nothing to object against it; and that he was content, that Your Majesty's Envoy should assist at the Conferences that are to be held on that Subject; but that he was not at all authorized to enter into Negotiation with him about the Concerns of England, which were to be treated elsewhere. To which our Deputies represented, That, in the Preservation of the general Peace, in which Your Majesty is equally concerned with us, our Safety could no-ways be separated from that of England: That the Interest therein was common to both the Two Nations; and that, in the present Negotiation, Your Majesty could not, without doing You Wrong, be looked upon otherwise than as a principal Party, as well as we: But, notwithstanding the many Instances, and all the Reasons, our Deputies could allege, Count d'Avaux persisted in his aforesaid Answer; saying, That he had no other Orders: That he would send our Resolutions, of which Your Majesty will find herewith a Copy, to the Court of France; without giving the least Hopes of receiving an Answer, agreeable to our Sense of Matters. Upon the Report which was made to us of this Matter, we judged, That by this means the Interest of England would be separated from those of our Republick, whereas we think them inseparable: And since it is evident, that they are so, we could draw no other Conclusion from this Proceeding, than that France has a mind to put an End to these Conferences; and to grant none of the Securities demanded, and which are so necessary for the Preservation of Your Majesty's Kingdoms, and of our State. We are obliged to make all this known to Your Majesty; and do again protest, That, our Interests being the same with those of Your Majesty, in this present Negotiation, and not to be separated one from the other, we will not suffer them by any means to be divided. At the same time, Sir, we cannot but represent to Your Majesty the great Need we have of being assisted without Loss of Time, if we will prevent the Ruin which threatens us, and the evident Danger we are in. Your Majesty knows perfectly well the State of our Affairs, and will easily judge, if it be possible, in the Condition we are, to resist the Forces of France, so much superior to ours; which was the Reason of our earnest Request to Your Majesty, to perform the Treaty made, with the Approbation of the Parliament, in the Year 1678, between King Charles the Second, of glorious Memory, and this State. We do now repeat our most pressing Instances, That we may have speedily the Succours stipulated, and the intire Effect of the said Treaty. We hope Your Majesty will seriously consider the State we are in, especially after the positive Assurance Your Majesty has given us, That Your Parliament had resolved to interest themselves with Vigour for our Preservation; and to assist us, in our present Necessity, by furnishing the Succours agreed on. We will acquaint Your Majesty with the Posture France puts itself in; and Your Majesty will thereby judge, whether our Fear is ill-grounded, which animates our Demands. France, not being satisfied with having taken Possession of all the Places that belonged to Spain in the Netherlands, does daily put into them, and causes actually to march thither, very formidable Forces. They are drawing a Line from the Scheld, near Antwerp, to the Maes; and beginning another Line, as we are informed, from Antwerp to Ostend: They send to the Places which are nearest to our Frontiers, a very great Number of Cannon: They erect, with all Diligence, a great many Magazines in Flanders, Brabant, Gelders, and at Namur; which they fill with all Sorts of Ammunition, and Provision for War; besides the vast Quantity of Forage they lay up every-where: They build Forts under the Cannon of our Towns: Moreover, they have endeavoured, and do still endeavour without ceasing, to separate the Princes our Friends from our Interest, and to engage them in * our Alliance, or at least to a Neutrality. In fine, our Friends are made useless to us by the Intrigues and Divisions in the Empire, and those of France augmented; so that we are surrounded on all Sides, except by Sea. You see, Sir, without any Disguise, the true State and Condition to which we are reduced, without the Addition of any thing but what is Matter of Fact. This makes us hope, that, as Your Majesty knows perfectly well our Affairs, You will agree with us, that our Condition at present is worse than it was during the last War; and worse than if we were actually in War; since they build Forts under the Cannon of our strong Places, and make Lines along our Frontiers; and that we cannot hinder them, as we could do, if we were in War. These Reasons oblige us to put ourselves in a defensive Condition, more than if we were actually attacked; to put our Country under Water, and even to cut our Dikes, to secure our Frontiers: We find ourselves forced to make use of these Means, and whatever else we could have done in an open War; insomuch that our Subjects suffer already more than they did in the last War. Hitherto the Winter has been some sort of a small Security to us: That Season is now past, and we do expect every Moment to be invaded and over-run, unless we are speedily succoured: We do promise it ourselves from You, Sir; especially since it has pleased Your Majesty to assure us, That Your Parliament had taken favourable Resolutions in our behalf; and, as our Necessity is very pressing, so we beseech Your Majesty to consider well the Extremity we are in; and the Impossibility we are under of avoiding the Ruin and Overthrow of our State, if we are left in this Condition. Sir, we believe the Interests of England so closely united to ours, that we will expose ourselves to all Events, rather than suffer them to be separated, or to take any other Measures than in Concert with Your Majesty. It is very needless to represent to Your Majesty, That the Preservation of Your own Kingdoms should engage you to prevent our Ruin, seeing we think their Loss is inseparable from ours. The Reasons, Sir, are better known to You than than to us, as well as the fatal Consequences they will be exposed to in leaving us in this Condition; which persuades us, that, by your Majesty's great Prudence, and the good Intentions of your Parliament, You will direct all Things so, as to let Europe see, that nothing is more conducing to its Safety, than the Alliances with England, and Your Friendship for us. We expect without Delay the Succours, and the Performance of the afore-mentioned Treaty; and pray to God, Sir, to preserve Your Majesty's Sacred Person in a long State of Health, and Your Dominions in a flourishing Prosperity. At the Hague, 13th of May 1701.

Your Majesty's very humble Servants,
The States General of the United Provinces,
J. Wichers.

By Order of the States.
J. Fagel.

And a Letter from Mr. Stanhope to Mr. Secretary Hedges was read; which is as followeth; viz.

Copy of Mr. Stanhope's Letter to Mr. Secretary Hedges, dated at the Hague, the 1st May 1701.

SIR,

THE Conference, I told you in my last, the States Deputies had invited me to for next Morning, was, to acquaint me in Form with the Count d'Avaur's last Memorial, a Copy whereof I then also sent you; and to consider what was fit to be done next. I answered, That was wholly their Business, and not properly mine, further than to serve them, as I should be always ready to do; for, as to all Affairs of the King my Master, I was as much excluded from the Conferences by this Memorial, as by Monsieur d'Avaur's former Answer; and desired it might be read before them: They were all of the same Opinion. I proposed then, That it would be convenient to be informed, whether Monsieur d'Avaur understood it in the same Manner; which they approved: And considering of the Manner, it was agreed, The only proper Way for them was, to demand a Conference with him. To that the Pensionary objected, That . . . had already one Conference without me: If they should have another, it might . . . Occasion to some ill-minded People to blow it abroad, as if the States were treating something for their own particular Interests, separate from those of England. I easily obviated that, by saying, That, as I had represented to his Majesty their former Conference in quite different Colours, as a Product of their great Respect and Veneration of his Majesty, that they would not expose his Minister to Monsieur d'Avaur's Caprices, till they knew from himself how he should be received; and the Conference now proposed would be justified by the same Reasons, since it was designed only for the further clearing of the same Point, as I engaged to inform you that it was. Being satisfied with this, they resolved on a Conference; and, after having had it at Five in the Evening Yesterday, they desired me to meet their Deputies this Morning at Eleven; and delivered me the inclosed Copy of their Resolution, which was the Substance of the Conference on their Part. Monsieur d'Avaur's Answer was; He had no Orders to admit me at the Conferences with them on any other Terms; but, upon their repeated Instances, he would write again to the King his Master for a further Eclaircissement; though he believed nothing would be altered. I found them in great Apprehensions of some sudden Invasion from the French, by fresh Advices from Flanders of extraordinary Motions of their Troops there; and Letters writ to the Governors of all the Towns, not to be opened till such a Day, and then immediately executed, all on the same Day; more Forces coming into the Country, and Transports of prodigious Quantities of Cannon, Mortars, Bombs, Ammunition, from several Parts, towards their Frontiers: And, for these Reasons, they resolved to write this Post to Monsieur Guildermalsen, to move his Majesty again for the Succours they expected from England; and desired me to do the same; as I perform, by letting you know it.

Resolved, That this House will, To-morrow Morning, take into Consideration his Majesty's most gracious Message.

Sir Bartholomew Shower, according to Order, reported, from the Committee, to whom it was referred to draw up Articles of Impeachment against the Lords impeached, the Articles of Impeachment against Edward Earl of Orford; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were once read; and are as follow; viz.

Earl of Orford's Im-
peachment.

Articles exhibited by the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeses, in Parliament assembled, in the Name of themselves, and of all the Commons of England, against Edward Earl of Orford, in Maintenance of their Impeachment against him for high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

THAT whereas, for many Years past, there hath been a long and expensive War, both by Sea and Land, carried on by his Majesty, and his Allies, against the French King, for the preserving the Balance of Europe, and for preventing the Growth of the immoderate Power of the said French King; towards the Prosecution of which War, great Sums of Money have been given and levied by Authority of Parliament; and many Debts have been contracted, which remain a very heavy Burden upon the People of England; the said Earl being then of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, but always preferring his private Interest to the Good of the Publick, and taking Advantage of the ready Access he had to his Majesty's Person during the Continuance of the said War, in Violation of his Duty and Trust, hath procured from his Majesty One or more Grant or Grants of several Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments, within the Kingdom of England or Ireland, or elsewhere within his Majesty's Dominions, of a great yearly Value, and also of exorbitant Sums of Money, to be made to him, or others in Trust for him, but to his Use; the Profits whereof he now enjoys; whereby the standing Revenues of the Crown of England, which ought to be applied to the Service of the Publick, are greatly diminished, and the People of England thereby burdened with Debts, and subjected to grievous Taxes.

2. That, in Breach of the Trust reposed in him, whilst he was Commander in chief of the Navy Royal of England, in or near the Streights of Gibraltar, and within the Time aforesaid, he the said Earl did receive great Sums of the publick Money, issued out to him for the Service of the Navy, which he hath converted to his own private Use; and unlawfully and unjustly procured a Privy Seal, or Privy Seals, to discharge him from accounting to the Publick for the same; and also hath received other great Sums of Money from his Majesty's Exchequer, as Paymaster or Receiver General of the Navy, without giving a due and legal Account thereof; whereby he hath occasioned great Clamours and Discontents among the Seamen, and others, belonging to his Majesty's Navy; who are thereby reduced to great Miseries and Necessities, for want of their just Dues; to the great Discouragement and Discredit of the publick Service.

3. That he the said Earl, while he was in several Ports belonging to the King of Spain's Dominions, did receive from the said King of Spain, and others, considerable Sums of Money, and great Quantities of Wine, Oil, and other Provisions, for the Fleet, to a very great Value; for all which he ought to have accounted; but the said Earl did convert the same to his own Use, and did either imbezzle those Provisions, or reckon them as bought with the Money allowed for furnishing the Navy with fresh Provisions: And that, for the advancing his own private Interest, and securing himself for rendering any Account to the Publick, he the said Earl, during the said War, procured, enjoyed, and possessed, divers great Offices, which were inconsistent, and in their Nature improper to be executed by one and the same Person, and which ought to be, and, by the Laws and Usages of this Realm, were and and are appointed and designed as Checks one upon the other; in Breach of the said Laws, to the Dishonour of his Majesty, and Prejudice of his People.

4. That the said Earl, within the Time aforesaid, hath clandestinely, contrary to the Law of Nations, sold, and disposed of several Vessels, with their Ladings and Cargo, taken, under Pretence of Prize, by his Majesty's Ships of War, without Condemnation, or judicial Proceeding, and converted the Money to his own Use; well knowing, if they had been condemned, as by Law they ought to have been, One-tenth, after Customs allowed, and One-third Part of the Value thereof, the Customs, and the said Tenth, being deducted, are, by Act of Parliament, appropriated to especial Uses; by which Proceedings the Publick has been greatly endamaged and defrauded, and the Debts of the Nation increased.

5. And whereas Complaints have been made to the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of England, where the said Earl at that Time presided, by the Company trading to the East Indies, of divers Piracies committed in the South-east Seas, to the Destruction of their Trade; desiring they might have Letters of Marque granted to them, whereby to be empowered, though at their own Charge, to suppress such Pirates; but the said Earl, preferring his own Interest, discouraged and rejected their Request and Proposal; and in some short Time after, jointly with others, did procure a Commission for one William Kidd; as likewise a Grant under the Great Seal of England, to and for the Use of him the said Earl, and others of the Ships and Goods of certain Persons therein named, and also of all Goods found on board the said Ships: And the said Company, having Intimation of a Commission granted to the said Kidd, being apprehensive of the ill Consequence of the same, did apply themselves to the said Board of Admiralty, desiring to know what Powers and Instructions were given; but such their reasonable Request was denied; and Kidd, who was known to be a Person of ill Fame and Reputation, ordered to pursue the intended Voyage, in which he did commit divers Piracies and Depredations on the high Seas, being thereto encouraged through the Hopes of being protected by the high Station and Interest of the said Earl; in Violation of the Law of Nations, and the Interruption and Discouragement of the Trade of England.

6. That the said Earl, within the Time aforesaid, when an horrid Conspiracy was discovered against his Majesty's Sacred Person, and the Kingdom was under an Apprehension of an immediate Invasion from France; and divers Ships of War, particularly the Ship Duchess, were armed out, equipped, and manned, in Defence of the Realm; to oppose the intended Invasion, did his utmost Endeavour to prejudice and weaken the Navy Royal of England; for that the said Earl, by colour of his Office, being then First Commissioner for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of England, without the Privity of the other Commissioners, contrary to his Oath and Duty, and preferring his Hopes of Gain to himself to the Safety of the Publick, did order Captain Steward, Commander of the Ship Duchess, to deliver over, and put on board the said Kidd, mentioned in the foregoing Article, out of the said Ship the Duchess, a great Number of able Seamen, levied and provided at the Expence of the Publick, and then discharging their Duty in Defence of their Country; and against their own Consent; to the Prejudice of the publick Security, and to the endangering of the said Ship the Duchess, if it had been attacked by the Enemy.

7. That the said Earl, during the said War, and at a Time of the greatest Exigency and Necessity, when Ships, Men, and Money, were wanting to guard the Seas, and protect our Trade, did, by Misrepresentations, and contrary to his bounden Duty, and the Trust reposed in him, procure a Grant, or Order, for his Majesty's Ship the Dolphin, then fitted out, manned, and equipped, for the Service of the Publick, to be employed in a private Voyage and Undertaking for the Advantage of himself, and others concerned with him; in pursuance whereof, and for their private Gain, the said Ship was, at the publick Expence, continued in foreign Parts for several Months; to the Destruction and Loss of his Majesty's Subjects on board the same; to the Weakening the Navy, by rendering the said Ship unserviceable, and the Increasing the Debts of the Publick.

8. That the said Earl, during the Time of his commanding the Navy Royal of England, did, through Neglect and in Contempt of Orders, unnecessarily hazard, and expose to imminent Danger, the said Navy; and that, during the Time aforesaid, having had many Opportunities of taking or destroying the Ships belonging to the French King, the said Earl, contrary to Advice, in Disobedience to Orders, and in Neglect of his Duty, did suffer and permit the said Ships to return safe into their own Harbours.

9. That the said Earl, well knowing our Sovereign Lord the King to have been engaged in several Alliances with the Emperor of Germany, and other Princes and States, particularly in a Treaty concluded with his Imperial Majesty, in the Year of our Lord 1689; the End and Intention of all which Leagues and Treaties were, to prevent the Growth of the Power of the French King, and to secure England, and the ancient Allies of England, against the same; did, notwithstanding, in Concert with other false and evil Counsellors, advise our said Sovereign Lord the King, in the Year 1698, to enter into one Treaty for dividing the Monarchy and Dominions of Spain; in pursuance whereof, in the Year 1699, one other Treaty was entered into, to the like Purpose; by which Treaties, great Injustice was done to the Emperor, an ancient Ally of our said Sovereign Lord the King; and a large Part of the said Spanish Dominions were to be added to the Crown of France; both which Treaties were prejudicial to the Interest of the Protestant Religion all over Europe, ruinous to the Trade of England, and dishonourable to our Sovereign Lord the King, and the People of these Kingdoms.

All which Crimes and Misdemeanors were committed and done by him the said Earl, against our Sovereign Lord the King, his Crown and Dignity, the Peace and Interest of this Kingdom, and in Breach of the several Trusts reposed in him the said Earl.

10. And he the said Earl of Orford was one of the Lords Justices during his Majesty's Absence, beyond the Seas, the First Commissioner for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of England, Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Navy Royal, and one of his Majesty's Privy Council, and Treasurer of his Majesty's Navy, or in some or one of the said Stations, during the Time that all and every the Crimes before set forth were done and committed.

That the said Commons, by Protestation, saving to themselves the Liberty of exhibiting, at any Time hereafter, any other Accusation or Impeachment against the said Earl; and also of replying to his Answers, or to any of them; and of offering Proofs to all the said Premises, or any of them; or any other Impeachment or Accusation that shall be exhibited by them, as the Case shall, according to the Course of Parliament, require; do pray and demand, That the said Earl may be put to answer for all and every of the Premises; and that such Proceedings, Examinations, Tryals, and Judgments, may be, upon every of them, had and used, as is agreeable to Law and Justice.

Resolved, That the said Articles be read a Second time, Article by Article.

And the same were severally read a Second time; and, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto, by the House, to be the Articles of Impeachment against the said Earl of Orford.

Ordered, That the said Articles of Impeachment be ingrossed.

Resolved, That such Witnesses, as are necessary to be made use of in relation to the said Impeachment, have the Protection of this House during their Attendance upon that Service.

Litchfield Election.

Sir Rowland Grayne, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to the Committee, touching the Election for the City of Litchfield, and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Petition of Humphrey Wyrley Esquire, complaining of an undue Election and Return of Richard Dyott Esquire; and also upon the Petition of Sir Michael Biddulph Baronet, complaining of an undue Return of William Walmsley Esquire; to serve for the City of Litchfield:

That the First Thing controverted before the Committee, was, the Right of Election: And Litchfield being anciently a Borough, and now, and for a long time past, a City and County, it was insisted for the Petitioner Mr. Wyrley, That the Right of Election was under a threefold Capacity; viz. In such as held by Burgage Tenure: In such as were Freeholders of 40 s. a Year: And in such as were Freemen, not receiving Alms. As to the first Two Qualifications, they were agreed by the Sitting Member's Counsel: But, as to the Third, it was by them restrained to such Freemen as did pay Scot and Lot.

That, upon the Poll, there was,

For Captain Dyott 176.

Mr. Wyrley 167.

But the said Mr. Wyrley's Counsel insisted, That they should take off so many from the Sitting Member's Poll, and add others to theirs, that would give them a Majority; and also should insist upon several indirect Practices by the Sitting Member.

But the First Thing they applied themselves to, was the Point of Right; and particularly to the Qualification of paying Scot and Lot by Freemen: And for that they called several Witnesses; viz.

John Matlock; who had known Litchfield 20 Years;

John Lamb; who had known Elections there 25 Years:

William Frogatt; who remembered 3 Elections:

George Harding; who had known Litchfield 30 Years;

By whose Evidence it appeared, That such who did not pay Scot and Lot, had all along, according to their Observations, voted in Elections of Members to serve in Parliament: And Matlock said, That in St. Mary's Parish, where was the fewest Poor, some Houses of 5 l. or 6 l. a Year did not pay to the Poors Rate; and they named several that did not pay, and had voted; and said, They never knew any refused till this Election.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel, as to this Point, called several Witnesses; viz.

James Hammond; who had known Litchfield 40 Years: And.

Richard Wakefield, the Town Clerk; who had known Litchfield 30 Years:

Who said, That though it was true, that such as did not pay Scot and Lot, had been polled; yet there had been several times Q's put upon them: And said, At this Election, such as did not pay, were excepted to, as well by the Petitioner as the Sitting Member: And the Books were called on both Sides; and such as did not pay, were struck out.

That it did not appear, That the Right of Election for this City had been ever settled in Parliament: And the Committee came to these Resolutions;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Bailiff, Magistrates, Freeholders of 40 s. a Year, and all that hold by Burgage Tenure, have a Right to vote in the Election of Citizens to serve in Parliament for the City of Litchfield.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That such Freemen only of the said City, as are inrolled, and pay Scot and Lot, have also a Right to vote in the Election of Citizens to serve in Parliament for the said City of Litchfield.

That the Petitioner's Counsel then proceeded to give an Account of several, who, they alleged, had a Right to vote, and would have voted, for the Petitioner, and were refused: And they first proceeded on the Head of the Freeholders: And called several Witnesses:

John Lambe said, That Remembrance Ashford would have voted for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmsley; and was refused: And that he had a Freehold of 50 s. a Year, being Part of a House; but it had been divided for some time:

That John Lees would have voted for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmsley; and has a Freehold in 2 Houses of about 56 s. a Year; and has been Owner of it 6 or 7 Years; and was refused:

That Thomas Martyn junior would have voted for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmsley; and has a Freehold of about 50 s. a Year; and his Father has voted for it; but it had never been let: And that these Three would have all sworn to their several Freeholds:

That Edward Merry would have voted for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmsley; and was refused.

John Matlock said, That Edward Merry held Two Houses for Three Lives, worth about 4 l. a Year:

That Dr. Bincks a Canon, Mr. Kimberley, and Mr. Gretton, would have voted for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmsley; and were refused.

Mr. Chandler said, That there was a common Estate belonging to the Church, of about 33 l. a Year, divided amongst Five; whereof Dr. Bincks, and Mr. Kimberley were Two: But, however, it was acknowledged, That they refused to swear; but said, The Dean was admitted without it.

Matlocke said, Dr. Bincks and Mr. Kimberley's Predecessors had voted; and particularly Mr. Hutchins and Mr. Comyns:

That as to Mr. Gretton it was agreed, That he had a Freehold; but it was as he was a Trustee, with others, for a Charity. And

Mr. Matlock, said, That Nicolas Coxon the last Election before this, had voted for the same Freehold he had now in Possession; and was then sworn; and would, at this Election, have sworn again, and voted for Mr. Walmsley and Mr. Wyrley; and yet was refused: And that

Mr. John Bayly carried himself partially: And, if any Persons declared themselves for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmsley, he would cry, Down with them; down with them.

Lambe said, That Christopher Holmes had a House in Litchfield of 5 l. a Year; and was never denied, but once, before this; and has also an Acre of Land worth 20 l.; and would, at this Election, have voted for Mr. Walmsley and Mr. Wyrley: But, however, it was acknowledged, That there was a Mortgage on the House for 30 l.; and he did wear a Cap and Coat given to poor Men:

That Henry Jennings has a Freehold of about 4 l. a Year; and would have voted for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmsley; and was refused: But the Witness believed he had a Cap and a Coat.

That then the Petitioner's Counsel proceeded to give an Account of several Freemen, that, they insisted, had a Right to vote, and would have polled for the Petitioner; and were refused.

6 S

And

Litchfield
Election.

And the First Person they would have added to their Poll was Charles Gee Taylor; who was inrolled in the old Book of the 'Taylors Company': But he was objected to by the Sitting Member's Counsel; they insisting, That none were intitled to vote, but only such as were inrolled in the new Book.

And as to that it did appear, That the Company of Taylors had their By-laws according to the Statute in that Case allowed, and approved by the Justices of Assize 18<sup>o</sup> Eliz.; and had kept a Book, wherein the Freemen of that Company were entered, which is called the old Book: And that, 3d May, 9<sup>o</sup> of the present King, there was, upon the Petition of the Taylors, a new Regulation and Constitution of the said Company, by the Corporation of the City of Litchfield; and thereupon they made another Book for the inrolling the Names of the Freemen of the said Company: And, upon producing, as well the Instrument by which the By-laws were approved by the Justices of Assize, as aforesaid, and the new Constitution which was made by the Corporation of the City of Litchfield; and hearing what was alleged by the Counsel on both Sides; the Committee came to these Resolutions;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That such Freemen of the Taylors Company, as are inrolled in the old Book of the Constitutions of the Taylors Company, in the City of Litchfield, have not a Right to vote in the Elections of Citizens to serve in Parliament for the said City.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That such Freemen only of the Taylors Company, as are inrolled in the new Book of Constitutions of the Taylors Company, in the City of Litchfield, have a Right to vote in the Election of Citizens to serve in Parliament for the said City.

That then the Petitioner's Counsel proceeded to give an Account of other Persons that were qualified to vote, and were refused: And

John Stubbs said, That Richard Stubbs had an Annuity of 14 l. a Year for his Life, being a Rent-charge.

John Lamb, Cha. Howard, said, That William Baggaley is a Freeman, and is charged 4 d. to the Church, and 4 d. to the Poor, at Tamworth; but his Landlady was, by Contract, to pay the Poors Rate for him.

Lambe said, That Samuel Emery had a Burgage-house, which his Father lived in; and is now upon the Burgage Jury.

Lambe and Frogat said, That Richard Markland has also a Burgage-house; and that both would have voted for Mr. Wyrley.

Mr. Henry Rothbone said, That Mr. Wyrley desired to poll for himself; Sir Michael Biddulph, and Mr. Dyot, having polled for each other: But it was acknowledged, That the said Mr. Wyrley had before given a single Vote for Mr. Walmesley; and some Persons had polled between his voting for Mr. Walmesley, and the Time of his desiring to vote for himself.

That the next Thing the Petitioner's Counsel proceeded on, was, to take off from the Sitting Member Mr. Dyot's Poll.

Henry Rothbone said, his Brother Edmund Rothbone had surrendered his Freehold Estate to him, and accepted a Bond for Payment of a certain Sum for his Life; and he produced a Lease granted to himself; but he allowed his Brother Edmund to take Part of the Profits of the Estate: As to Tho. Sprat, a Surrender by him was produced to the Committee:

That there was also produced a Lease to Richard Deane for 21 Years:

That there was also produced a Lease for 40 Years to John Bruiton; which Mr. Lambe said, was by Assignment come to George Plymmer: But these Four Persons did, at the time of the Poll, swear they had Freeholds.

Lambe said, That William Luinator's House was worth but 28 s. or 30 s. a Year:

That Tho. Denston's House was worth about 30 s. a Year.

That it was agreed that Tho. Gollard, Ralph Spencer, Wm. Hinck, Samuel Emery senior, were Taylors, and not inrolled in the new Book: But the Sitting Member's Counsel alleged they were Freeholders.

Matlock said, That John Blake did not pay to the Rate, and was poor; though it was acknowledged he was a Serjeant of the Town:

That, some Freeholders, who would have sworn, were rejected; and some were helped up, who were for Mr. Dyot; and some pushed down, who polled afterwards for Mr. Wyrley: And

Mr. Matlock said, the Sheriff acted partially; and that Thomas Matlin came, with some Cover for a Blemish he had on his Face, and offered to swear; but Mr. Wakefield said, He would not swear any one in a Mask: And that Captain Dyott acted as a Justice of the Peace, and committed John Acton upon common Fame, as having been convicted of Horse-stealing; and made his Escape, 14 Years ago.

Frogat said, That those who would vote for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmesley were more strictly examined as to their Freeholds, and asked for their Deeds: Whereas several on the other Side were not asked for their Deeds; but only, if they would swear they had 40 s. a Year.

That Benjamin Lamb was asked for his Vote ; who answered, He had disposed of it : To which it was replied, If he would not go along with the Corporation, he would be turned out of his House : And that Wakefeild asked for her Husband, and said, There was a Charge against him for breaking Ruthin Gaol ; and, says he, This he has got by voting : And that, on the Election-day, her Husband coming to vote, Mr. Dyott did commit her Husband to Litchfeild Gaol, for Suspicion of breaking the Gaol of Ruthin, after Conviction for Horse-stealing ; though her Husband had lived in Litchfeild 21 Years, and had voted for Sir Mich. Biddulph and Mr. Dyott last Election : And she further said, That Mr. Monsley had caused her to be whipt, for taking some of his Peas, she being with Child, and longing for them, though the Peas were not worth above 2 d. and she would have paid 10 s. for them ; and that, by reason of such Whipping, she miscarried soon after.

As to Threats ;

Oliver Gennett said, That the Bailiffs Monsley and Gamble, because he voted against the Corporation, said, He should not continue his Standing, unless he would pay 12 d. a Day, whereas before, he paid but 3 d. a Quarter ; and they pulled down his Stall, after the Election, he voting otherwise.

William Nightingale said, That Captain Dyot, and the rest of the Corporation, came to their House Two Days after Christmas, and asked his Father for his Vote ; but he would not promise them : And, Two Days after, Mr. Hacker arrested him, and told him, if he would have voted as the Corporation would have had him, that would not have happened : And Mr. Wakefeild laid an Action upon him at Wriah's Suit, whereby he was prevented from voting.

Biddulph* and Mr. Dyot, he would engage my Lord Stanhope's and Sir Michael Biddulph's Custom for him ; and said, He should be reduced, on the Rate, from 4 d. to 2 d. to the Poor ; but Mr. Dyott told him, If he had promised, he could not desire his Vote.

Thomas Barber said, That Mr. Dyot said, about Three Weeks or a Month before the Election, That Mr. Rawborne the Postmaster had been violent against him ; and he had taken away his Employment in the Excise, and he would take away the Post Office from him : However, Barber acknowledged, That he was to have the Profit of the Office so long as he was Tenant in the House ; and there had been some Discourse of Mr. Dyot's and others Letters having been opened and detained.

That Mr. Grimley, to induce him to vote for Mr. Walmesley, said, It should be the best Day's Work that ever he made ; and Mr. Walmesley was a charitable Man : And the said Mr. Grimley said, He believed he could procure him 40 s. : And Mr. Weale sent to him, to tell him, That, if he did not vote as he did, he would trouble him for the Money he owed him.

Thomas Barber, said, He heard one Quinborough say, That Parker was indebted to him ; and that he had promised to forgive him the Debt, if he would vote for Mr. Dyott and Sir Michael Biddulph ; but could not say whether the Words were spoken before or after the Election.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel first applied themselves to speak to those whom the Petitioner would have added to his Poll.

James Hammond said, That Remembrance Ashford lives with his Father, and his Father voted : But Lambe said, His Father had made a Lease to Remembrance for Life :

That John Lees his Estate is not worth above 30 s. a Year :

That, as to Mr. Wyrley, the Answer was, That he did not offer to vote for himself, when he gave his First Vote.

That the next thing the Petitioner's Counsel applied themselves to, was, to justify their own Votes:

Mr. Wakefeld said, That the Warrant against Acton was made out, before the Election, upon Mr. Bailiff Gamble's asserting, That he had been convicted of stealing his Horse, and broke Gaol the Day of his Execution; Mr. Bailiff Gamble being unwilling to act in his own Cause.

That Samuel Morgitt and Richard Stubbs were put into the Poors Rate; but were so poor, the Parish agreed to put them out; yet would officiously pay a little before the Election: And that Thomas Osborne and Henry Osborne, though they were in the Rate, did not pay.

As to Bribes, and indirect Practices, the Sitting Member's Counsel called several Witnesses:

Bennett said, That Mr. Walmsley desired his Vote for Mr. Wyrley; and that Mr. Walmsley, about 12 Months ago, sent a Letter by him to Mr. Harding, the Parson of Newcastle; the Contents of which, as the Carrier told him, were, That the said Carrier should threaten the said Bennett to put him out of his Employment, if he did not vote for himself: And Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmsley declared, If he would vote for them, he would procure their Markets to be free from Tolls and Arrests: And said, He had given 200 l. in Two Years for poor Tradesmen; but he supposed it was out of the Commutation-money, because, he said, he could not afford it out of his own Estate.

Cary said, About the Middle of December, Mr. Walmsley desired his Vote for himself and Mr. Wyrley; and said, That Mr. Walmsley told him, He had been kind, and given 200 l. to poor Tradesmen; and, if the City would choose them, he would make the Markets free from Tolls and Arrests: And that Mr. Walmsley declared, It was in his Power to distribute 200 l. a Year among them, if they would oblige him.

Ralph Spencer said, That, 6th of January, at a publick Meeting of the Taylors Company, Mr. Walmsley declared, If they would choose him and Mr. Wyrley, he would endeavour to make their Markets free from Arrests and Tolls.

Biddulph*:

That, before the Election, he worked with Simon Tuxford as a Taylor; and, because he did not vote for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmsley, he was turned off.

Thomas Sissilby said, That, about 9 Days before the Election, Mr. Walmsley came to him, and asked him for his Vote for Mr. Wyrley and himself: That he denied Mr. Walmsley his Vote; whereupon Mr. Walmsley offered him 3 Things.

1st, That he would place his Trade in a Sea-port Town.

2d, Because he had said, He had Thoughts not to vote at all, in regard of the Heats in the Town, and so it might be a Damage to him; Mr. Walmsley told him, If he lost 5 l. by it, he would give it him.

3dly, That he had lent several Persons 5 l. to oblige them to vote for himself and Mr. Wyrley; and if he would give them his Vote, he would do the like for him.

John Knight said, That Mr. Walmsley sent for him, and asked his Vote for himself and Mr. Wyrley: And that the said Knight telling Mr. Walmsley he had promised Mr. Dyot; and it might be a Damage to him to vote against Mr. Dyot, in regard that Mr. Dyot might make him build a Wall, he having then the Advantage of Mr. Dyot's Wall, as a Partition-wall; Mr. Walmsley told him, He would build the Wall at his own Charge; and ordered him to bespeak Bricks, which accordingly he did; and that he believed the Wall might cost 40 or 50s.: And that the said Knight saying, He was afraid he should be raised in the Parish Rates; Mr. Walmsley told him, What Charge he was at, he would pay him again; saying, John, Dost think that I, who have distributed so many 100 l. can't make good thy Loss?

Mr. Lambe denied, that Mr. Walmsley made Knight any Promise to build the Wall.

That, for the Petitioner Mr. Wyrley, by way of Reply, the Counsel called,

Lambe: Who said, His Son was a Freeholder in Litchfield, of above 40s. a Year; and had swore and voted as such in 3 Polls.

Mr. Chandler said, That he was present in Court when Bond charged Mr. Walmsley with offering him 2, 3, or or 5l. : And, being asked where it was, and who was by, he contradicted himself.

Lambe said, That he was at Mr. Walmesley's; and John Knight came in, and said, He could not be for Mr. Walmesley, because Mr. Dyott had threatened to turn a Spout; and threatened to throw down the Timber off his House, which was fixed upon Mr. Dyott's Wall; and he said, That the Charge would be 50s.; but, when the said Lambe saw it, he told him, That it might be done for 30s. : The said Lambe acknowledged, That Mr. Walmesley desired him to go down, to see what Damages it would be.

John Smith said, That John Knight owned he had promised to be for Mr. Walmesley and Mr. Wyrley; but said, He would turn for his Interest : And that, being at the George about the Beginning of Christmas Holidays, Bond said, They put upon him as if he had had Money of Mr. Walmesley, but he never had any.

Frogat said, That Sissilby was but of indifferent Reputation, and robs Fish-ponds.

And that upon this Evidence, the Committee came to this Resolution ;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Richard Dyott Esquire is duly elected a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of Litchfield.

That then the Committee proceeded upon the Petition of Sir Mich. Biddulph, complaining of an undue Return of William Walmesley Esquire to serve for the City of Litchfield.

That the First Thing the Petitioner's Counsel applied themselves to, was, to prove indirect Practices by Mr. Walmesley : And, for that, they examined several Witnesses ; particularly Thomas Bennet, Wm. Cary, John Bond, Tho. Sissilby and John Knight ; who had been before examined on the Part of Mr. Dyott : And they gave their Evidence to the Effect before set forth.

The Counsel for Sir Mich. Biddulph also examined, as to indirect Practices, some new Witnesses :

Thomas Rachford said, That Mr. Walmesley and Mr. Wyrley, about Christmas, came to a Neighbour's House, and sent for him, and some Neighbours, to drink Ale with them ; and that they asked them for their Votes : And Mr. Walmesley told them, That, if they would send Mr. Wyrley and him up, he would make their Markets free from Tolls and Arrests : And Mathew Smith said, That Mr. Walmesley asked him his Votes : And he told him, He could not promise him both, but he owed Mr. Russell, upon Mortgage, 18l. : To which Walmesley replied, That signified nothing ; for his Brother Mr. Ryder, or any body else, might take the Mortgage : Whereupon he shewed Mr. Ryder the Writings : And he said, He would do it ; but, however, he drove it off till the Election was over, and then Mr. Russell arrested him for the Debt : He said, Mr. Russell, before, had asked him to be for Mr. Dyott and Sir Mich. Biddulph ; and said, He would be kind to him.

Hen. Hill said, That he hearing Mr. Walmesley used to give away Money, he desired Mr. Bakewell to speak to Mr. Walmesley on his Behalf : And the said Hill went, before Michaelmas, to Mr. Walmesley, who did not then ask him for any Vote ; but the said Hill, of himself, told Mr. Walmesley, If there was occasion, he would give him a Vote ; and afterwards Mr. Walmesley gave him a Guinea, which Mr. Walmesley owned at the Election : That Peter Tompkins, the Day after Christmas Day, met him, and told him, If he would vote for his Master and Mr. Wyrley, he would engage they should give him 10l. : And that Lambe told him, If he would vote for Mr. Walmesley, he should have a Paritor's Place : And that Mr. Walmesley and Mr. Wyrley, the Night before the Election, bid him go to Nightingale's, and he should be treated, and accordingly he did go and drink there.

John Clewleys said, That, about 15 Days before

VOL. 13.

Christmas, Mr. Walmesley sent for him, and desired his Vote ; and said, He would be kind to him : That, having Occasion for 30s. Mr. Walmesley lent it him, taking a Note under his Hand ; and at the same time asked him for his Vote ; but he had promised Mr. Walmesley his Vote before he lent him the 30s.

That, in Christmas Holidays, being under an Arrest, Mr. Tompkins said, He would tell his Master and Mr. Walmesley of it : And afterwards Mr. Hans brought him 17s. and set him at Liberty ; for the Repayment of which 17s. Clewley gave him a Note.

Wm. Hicks said, That one Night he was at Mr. Walmesley's House ; and Mr. Walmesley desired his Vote ; which Hicks said he should have, if he would give him a Paritor's Place : And Mr. Walmesley said he would do it : And Hicks said, That he did vote for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmesley ; but had not the Place.

Hugh Moncaster said, That he was at the Swan, where Mr. Walmesley set up his Horses ; and there were some Birmingham Men, some of which had Votes, who staid there Two Days : And that he told Mr. Davis, Mr. Wyrley's Clerk, what the Reckoning came to : Who said, It was not well done of them, to leave any thing to pay ; because they had Money to come : And he also said, there were several Persons treated at the time of the Election ; viz. Edward Carteret and George Horse, by Peter Tompkins ; and John Hincks, who was treated by Mr. Wyrley : And that Martlock bid him say nothing about the Election, but what the said Martlock could answer above.

James Hammond said, Mr. Wyrley, about 12 Months ago, sent an Ox, with 12d. apiece to drink : And that Cotterell said, He must vote for Mr. Walmesley, because he had lent him 10l. ; but could not say when the Money was lent.

Richard Quinborne said, That Parker owed him 6s. and one Mr. Harding, who made an Interest for Mr. Walmesley and Mr. Wyrley paid it ; and said, He had paid Debts for this Person, to the Value of Thirty Pound : And that a Gentleman met Lambe, and speaking of the Election, asked him, Why the old ones would not serve : To which Lambe answered, That Mr. Walmesley had been very kind ; and himself had distributed near 100l. for him.

Samuel Kitwell said, He had a Son, who lived with Mr. Heathcote, who desired his Vote for Mr. Wyrley and Mr. Walmesley ; which he not being willing to do, Mr. Heathcote sent his Son Home : That he voted for Mr. Walmesley and Mr. Wyrley, and Mr. Heathcote took his Son again : That he would have voted for Mr. Dyott and Mr. Walmesley, but on Account of his Son.

Mr. William Baker said, Mr. Chandler brought him a Letter from Mr. Walmesley : And, the said Mr. Baker being Divinity Lecturer at Litchfield, Mr. Chandler told him, That Mr. Walmesley had observed something, with relation to him, against the Act of Uniformity ; and, if he would not vote for Mr. Wyrley, as well as himself, he would turn him out of his Place.

That the Counsel for the Petitioner would then have proceeded to prove themselves a Majority of legal Votes upon the Poll ; but, there being nothing leading to that in the Petition, the Committee were of Opinion not to hear Evidence to that Matter.

That then the Sitting Member Mr. Walmesley's Counsel were heard, by way of Answer to the aforesaid Evidence : And called several Witnesses :

John Gee said, That in Christmas Holidays, he met John Bond ; who said, They had raised a scandalous Report, That Mr. Walmesley had given him Money ; but he declared, Mr. Walmesley never had given or offered him any ; and that he was free to vote for whom he pleased.

Mr. Chandler gave the same Account of what Bond said at the Election, as he had given before on the behalf of Mr. Wyrley ; And Lambe testified to the same Effect as before, in relation to the Evidence given by John Knight.

John Gee said, That he met with Hill in the Hall; who told him, He had declared, That he would vote for Mr. Walmesley and Mr. Wyrley; but, he said, his Circumstances were low; and he was threatened, and hired to vote on the other Side; but he did not say by whom.

Harding said, He asked Hill, Why he would not be for Mr. Walmesley and Mr. Wyrley, according to his Promise: And Hill said, He could not do it; for the other Side would lay him in Gaol.

Tho. Green said, That Hill told him, He was to come up to London, and the Corporation was to bear his Charges; and he was to have 5*l.* more, but did not name of whom.

Wm. Nightingale said, That on Christmas Day, he and Hill went to Mr. Walmesley's, and Hill promised Mr. Walmesley his Vote; but afterwards told him, He could not be for Mr. Walmesley, for Mr. Monsley would sue him.

John Smith gave the same Evidence in relation to John Knight, as he had given before on the behalf of Mr. Wyrley.

Benedict Lant said, That, a Week before last Christmas and a Week before Easter was Twelve Months, he distributed Two Five Pounds for Mr. Walmesley, and he was directed to give it to whom he thought fit, so they were not Beggars, but poor Housekeepers; and that John and Michael Lamb had the same Orders for distributing other Money: And, of those that Lant gave to, there was 8 that voted for Mr. Dyot, and Sir *Mich. Election.

And they produced several Indentures of Return, which gave the Name of Burgators to the Electors; viz.

13 Car' II.

29 Car' II.

That the Counsel for the Sitting Member insisted, That the Right of Election was in the Bailiff, Burgesses, and Inhabitants not receiving Alms; and alleged, That Burgators, Burgesses, and Inhabitants, of a Borough, were synonymous Terms:

And insisted on the Returns mentioned in the former Report; viz.

2 and 3 Ph. & M.

1 Eliz.

43 Eliz.: Which were by Bailiffs and Burgesses.

Besides these Returns, several Witnesses were produced on both Sides; viz. For the Petitioner, James Feilds and Jacob Gould: Who said, they had heard, That former Elections had been by the Burgators; but they could not deny, but the Practice, for their Times, had been, That the Inhabitants not receiving Alms had voted: And Robert Garrat, Thomas Giles, and Walter Hickes, who had been acquainted with many Elections, being examined on the behalf of the Sitting Member, did testify, That the several Elections, which they had been acquainted with, were by the Inhabitants not receiving Alms: Whereupon the Committee came to this Resolution;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Right of electing Burgesses to serve in Parliament for the Borough of Hindon is in the Inhabitants of the said Borough not receiving Alms.

That the Petitioner's Counsel proceeded to make out their Majority of Votes; And, first, they said, They would add Four to their Poll: And called

Wm. Pistell: Who said, That Henry Forward would have voted for Sir James How and Mr. Morley; and that he keeps a Shop within the Borough, and pays Scot and Lot; and has Two or Three Apprentices and Journey-men: However, it was acknowledged, That he boarded with his Father; who voted:

That Joseph Lambe would have voted for Sir James How and Mr. Morley; and that he has a House of his own; and rents Two Burgages; and does all Duties: However, it was acknowledged, That he boarded at his Father's.

Wm. Pistell and Ja. Gould said, That Tobias Powell keeps a House of Entertainment in the Borough: That his Son lives in Part of the House; yet the House had been divided Two or Three Years; and there had been Two Votes for the same before the Father came to live there.

Richard Street said, That Augustine Gatehouse would have voted for Mr. Morley; and was a Joiner; and lived in a House by himself, and had done so for a Year.

That the next Thing was, to take off from the Sitting Member's Poll.

Wm. Pistell said, That John Hews lived with his Son; who maintained him:

That Henry Harbin rents Part of an House of one Andrews; but Andrews was refused:

That Robert Pitman lives with his Father-in-law, as an Hostler:

That Gabriel Edwards has had a Family in Town for Seven or Eight Years; but himself is commonly abroad as a Tapster; and is now at Mere.

James Feild said, That . . . Humphrys and Henry Stephens live in One House; so that but One of their Votes ought to be allowed:

That Francis Smith went out of the Town by Certificate:

That Richard Stevens lives with his Brother, and came down just at the Election:

That Jerm. Sherlock came down but Two or Three Days before the Election; and is no Housekeeper, but a Journeyman Shoemaker:

That William Stevens and Roger Waterman are on the Poors Book for Alms.

That then the Petitioner proceeded to take off several from the Sitting Member's Poll, on Account of Bribery.

Henry Hill said, That Mr. Burlington, Mr. Hicks, and Mr. Stevens made an Interest for Mr. Calthorpe; and that the said Henry Hill, Richard Hill, William Chiverell, Nic. Dowly, Ben. Chelsey, John Wyer, James Stevens, Antony Lambe, Edward Hazard, Fra. Ranger, and John Chiverell, were asked to vote for Mr. Calthorpe, and received 2 s. apiece; but several of them voted as well for Mr. Morley as Mr. Calthorpe.

Roger Sherrington said, That he received 20 s. of Mr. Burlington; who, at the same time, desired him to give Mr. Calthorpe a good Word at the Cross, being the Place of the Election.

Roger Sherrington junior said, That Freeke and Burlington came to him, and told him, Mr. Calthorpe sent him 20 s. and desired his good Word at the Cross: He voted for Mr. Calthorpe and Mr. Morley:

That Roger Farthing, John Lawrence, and Wolston Hellyer, acknowledged they had received the like.

Matthew Keeble said, That he voted for Mr. Calthorpe and Mr. Morley; and received the like Sum of 20 s. of Freeke and Burlington:

That Mr. Burlington asked the said Keeble, Why he did not see Mr. Calthorpe; the said Keeble told Mr. Burlington, That he had drawn a Hogshead of Beer; which Mr. Calthorpe had promised to pay for; but had not: Whereupon Mr. Burlington told him, he should be paid for it in some Time; but he could not spare Money at present, for he had laid out 70 l.:

That John Huddon acknowledged he had received 20 s. of Mr. Calthorpe's Money.

Jacob Gould said, That John Tyly had made the like Acknowledgement,

Field said, That Rynald Bolls voted for Mr. Calthorpe; and acknowledged he had received 20 s. of Mr. Calthorpe's Money a little before the Election; and had received before 5 l. and was to have 40 s. a Year as long as he voted for Mr. Calthorpe:

That William Andrews also acknowledged, That he had received 20 s.

Richard Street said, That John Harding voted for Sir James How and Mr. Calthorpe: And he owned, That he had received 20 s. from George Stevens and Walter Hicks; and that George Stevens was an Agent for Mr. Calthorpe.

William Wogar said, Mr. Burlington made an Interest for Mr. Calthorpe; and that Mr. Burlington told him, He had brought Threescore and Ten Pounds from Salisbury in Gold, which was to be distributed amongst Mr. Calthorpe's Friends.

That the Petitioner did also insist upon some other Matters; and, first, of the Partiality of the Bailiff:

To which Sam. Powell, Wm. Pistell, Richard Street, and Henry Hill, were called as Witnesses:

The Substance of whose Evidence was, That Mr. Morley, after the Poll was cast up, demanded of the Bailiff a Scrutiny; which the Bailiff refused: And Mr. Calthorpe desired the Bailiff to declare for him; and pulled the Bailiff by the Arm, and took the Bailiff away from the Cross with him.

Francis Pistell said, That Mr. Calthorpe desired his Vote, and told him, If he had any Place of Profit, be it 500 l. or more or less, he would give it to the Borough.

Wm. Obon said, That Mr. Morley was invited to stand by several of the Town; and he was sent to him upon that Account.

That, as to the Four Persons that the Petitioner would add to his Poll, the Sitting Member's Counsel called,

Nic. Gilbert: Who said, That Henry Forward and Joseph Lambe lived in Houses with their Fathers; who voted:

That Tobias Powell lives with his Son; who voted.

Geo. Stevens said, That Augustine Gatehouse pretended to live in a House a Day or Two before the Election, and would.

would have lett it a Week, after the Election; and that he House was not glazed, nor any Bed in it:

And he said, It was agreed, That the Right of the Voters should be decided as they came to vote.

That, as to the 10 that the Petitioner would take off from the Sitting Member's Poll, the Sitting Member's Counsel called,

Randyll Hughes: Who said, That John Hughes was a Housekeeper, and had been so 40 Years:

That Henry Harbin is an Inhabitant, and an Exciseman; but it was acknowledged, That Thomas Andrews lives at one End of the House:

That Robert Pitman lives in a divided House; but there have been Two Votes for the House several Years.

Walter Hicks said, That Robert Pitman lives in a Part of a House divided for 30 Years; and which always has had Two Votes.

John Young said, That Gabriel Edwards has been a Housekeeper in Hindon 10 Years, though he was at Mere as a Drawer, at the time of the Election.

That Francis Smith is an Husbandman, and lives in a House of his own:

That Richard Stevens has a distinct Family, and there used to be Two Votes for the House he lives in.

Sam. Norton, as to Richard Stevens, gave the same Account:

That Jeremy Sherlock is an Inhabitant, and has an Estate in the Borough, after the Death of his Mother: And John Young said, That Sherlock paid him the Land Tax the last Year.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel endeavoured to add Two to their Poll; viz. John Gilbert and Matthew Lovell: And called,

Geo. Stevens and Robert Gerard: Who said, That John Gilbert would have voted for Mr. Calthorpe; but was denied, as an Inmate: And that he has a distinct Apartment, and Family, and has borne Offices.

John Young said, That Matthew Lovell would have voted for Mr. Calthorpe and is an Inhabitant; but he was under Age.

That the next Thing the Sitting Member's Counsel proceeded on, was, to take from the Petitioner's Poll.

That the Counsel observed, That it was proved before, That Samuel Powell had a Vote.

George Stevens said, That Anthony Purchase and William Gillam had received Alms, as appears by the Overseers Book of Disbursements:

That, as to the Matter of demanding a Scrutiny, the Sitting Member's Counsel called several Witnesses; viz.

Mr. Edw. Slade, Mr. Hughes, Nic. Gilbert, and Woolaston Hilyard: The Substance of whose Evidence was, That they were present at the time of taking the Poll; That it was agreed, That the Right of the Voters should be determined, before they were put down; and accordingly the same was put in Practice: And that, though they were near Mr. Morley, they did not hear him demand a Scrutiny, till the Bailiff was gone from the Cross: And Mr. Hughes said, That all the Q's, except Two, were determined as they came to vote.

That then the Sitting Member's Counsel proceeded to give an Account of indirect Practices by the Petitioner: And called,

John Tyley: Who said, That Samuel Powell did endeavour to get Voices for Mr. Morley on the Election-day in the Morning; and he gave him a Guinea, and 10s. out of which he returned 6d. to vote for Mr. Morley, otherwise he would have voted for him: And that Mrs. Street made Voices for Mr. Morley; and offered him a Gold Ring, that was then in Pawn, if he would vote for Mr. Morley; and that he had drank Beer, and Cyder, and Brandy, several times, and did not pay.

40s.; and if he lost he should have 20s.: That, after the Election was over, the said Wyer went to Sangon, who gave him 5s.; and told him, When all was over, he should have the rest: And that Farmer Sangon told him, If he would not go to London, he would give him Half a Crown, and bear his Charges while he was out of the Way: And that he eat and drank at Edwards', and Oban paid for it.

Sarah Burkett said, That after the Election, she met Henry Hill in Westminster-hall; and she asking him, Who was elected, the said Hill answered, That Mr. Calthorpe and Sir James How had it; but he hoped Mr. Calthorpe would not continue in the House, for he was for them that would give him most Money; and Mr. Morley had been very liberal.

Thomas Gyles said, That he received 40s. of Sam. Powell for his Vote for Mr. Morley, otherwise he would have voted for Sir James How and Mr. Calthorpe: And that he drank Gooseberry Wine on the Election-day in the Morning, without paying.

Randyll Hughes said, He was present when William Harding asked John Becket for his Vote for Mr. Morley, and told him, That if Mr. Morley carried it, he should have 40s.; and if he lost it, he should have 20s.

Samuel Lawton said, He received a Guinea, and voted for Mr. Morley, or otherwise he would not have voted for him: And that he had drunk before the Election that Week, and did not pay for it: And that Sunday 13 April after Dinner, he was sent for to Mrs. Street's; and she told him, If he would keep Counsel, he might have a new Coat.

John Young said, That James Morley declared, That Mr. Morley had offered him a Treat to be for him, or otherwise he would have been for Mr. Calthorpe.

That the next Thing the Sitting Member's Counsel proceeded on, was, Treating by the Petitioner: And, for that, they called Three Witnesses; viz.

Margaret Waterman, Sarah Frith, and Robert Edwards, The Nature of whose Evidence was as follows: Mr. Morley, when he was in the Country, had his Lodgings, and kept a Table, at Mr. Mackrowe's House, and had Five or Six Dishes of Meat a Day for his Dinner; and when the Dishes came from Mr. Morley's Table, several of the Voters did, on Saturday and Sunday before the Election, and on Monday the Election-day, come into the Kitchen, and eat and drank; at which Time and Place Sarah Frith was a Servant.

The Nature of the Evidence of Margaret Waterman was, That she was a Servant at Jacob Gold's, the Lambe in Hindon, where Mr. Morley's Servants and Horses were lodged and kept; and several of the Voters came and drank with the Servants, which Reckonings were put to Mr. Morley's Account, which Mr. Morley paid; and both of them together spake to the Number of about 27 of the Voters, which eat or drank at one or both of those Places: And

Robert Edwards said, That William Obon ordered him to draw Beer, the Reckoning whereof came to 3l. wanting Half a Crown, which was drank by Mr. Morley's Friends; and he named about Six Persons that had drank of it.

Edwards said, He was not paid the Money: And that Oben would have had carried half his Bill to Mr. Calthorpe; for, said he, there was no Reason Mr. Morley should pay all.

Mr. Edward Pitman gave an Account, That Mr. Calthorpe came down to Salisbury about a Week before the Election; and Mr. Calthorpe and Mr. Burlington were at his House: And that Mr. Burlington telling Mr. Calthorpe, He had given Money, Mr. Calthorpe was very angry: And that Mr. Burlington owned, He had distributed the Money without Mr. Calthorpe's Direction.

Mr.

Hindon

Mr. Woodford and Mr. John Tous gave Account of several charitable Acts done by Mr. Calthorpe, both at the Town where he lives, and several other Places: Particularly Mr. Woodford said, That Mr. Calthorpe had for Ten Years distributed Money in his Parish, and in other Parishes.

That the Petitioner's Counsel, by way of Reply, called,

Mr. Pistell: Who said, That John Tyley, when he was coming to London, acknowledged, That he had a Coat and Money, to be a Witness against Mr. Morley.

Ja. Field said, That John Tyley was at his House drinking, and talking of the Election: And Tyky said, He never had received any Money of Mr. Morley, nor could do him any Hurt.

Mrs. Street said, That John Tyley came to borrow 40s. of her, but she did not lend it; and afterwards he went to Samuel Powell's the Election-day in the Morning, who lent him 40s. as Powell declared, of his own Money; and Powell called her to be a Witness of it.

James Feild and Samuel Powell said, That William Wyer declared, He never received a Farthing of Money of any body to vote for Mr. Morley; but, right or wrong, he would do Mr. Morley's Business, because he endeavoured to take away his Vote.

Ja. Gould said, That Thomas Gyles, the Monday before Shrove Tuesday, declared, he had never received Money on Mr. Morley's Account; and would not say it for all the World.

Richard Street said, That Thomas Gyles declared, He could not live in Peace for George Stevens; for he would have him go and testify Money, when he had none.

Feild said, He was discoursing with Norton; and Feild declared, He never received any Money of Mr. Morley.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to these Resolutions;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Reynalds Calthorpe Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Hindon, in the County of Wilts.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That George Morley Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough of Hindon.

The Two First Resolutions, being severally read a Second time, were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

The Third Resolution being read a Second time;

Bishop's Castle
Election.

Sir Rowland Gwynne, according to Order, also reported, from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to the said Committee, touching the Election for the Borough of Bishop's Castle, in the County of Salop; and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Petition of Sir Wm. Brownlowe, complaining of an undue Election of Charles Mason Esquire to serve for the Borough of Bishop's Castle; and also upon the Petition of Sir Gilbert Gerard Baronet, complaining of an undue Election of George Walcott Esquire; to serve for the said Borough:

That the First Petition in Time was, that of Sir William Brownlowe against Charles Mason Esquire.

On the Poll, there was,

For Charles Mason Esquire, 38.

For Sir Wm. Brownlowe, 34.

But the Petitioner's Counsel insisted, That the Sitting Member Mr. Mason had been guilty of Bribery in several Instances.

Edward Minton said, That Mr. Mason told him, He would give him Five Guineas, if he would swear on a Bible not to discover it: And that Mr. Mathews, Mr. Mason's Brother-in-law, came to him on Christmas Eve and asked him for his Vote; and that, Minton telling Mr. Mathews he had promised one, Mr. Mathews would have engaged him for his other Vote; and offered him 5*l.*; and that, afterwards, Mr. Mathews gave him Six Guineas, Five of which were upon the Account of Mr. Mason, and One on the Account of Sir Gilbert Gerrard; and at the same time Mr. Mathews asked Minton for a Note for the Money, saying, He must give Mr. Mason an Account of it: And Minton further said, That he would have returned back the said Guineas; but Sir Francis Charlton told him, He would stand his Friend in it.

Robert Minton said, That Mr. Mason came the Day before the Election, and asked him for both his Votes; and at the same time he asked him for his little Boy, and said, He would put him Apprentice: That Mr. Mason told the said Minton, That he had given Mr. Mathews a Bond of the said Minton's of 4*l.* to be delivered up to him; and that afterwards Mr. Mathews told him the Bond was lost; but, the Day before the Election, Mr. Mathews gave him a Receipt for the said 4*l.* with Mr. Mason's Hand to it; though, in Fact, he did not pay any Money:

That the said Receipt, bearing Date 2 January 1700, was produced, and read to the Committee.

Wm. Minton said, That Mr. Mason told him, the Morrow after the Writ was proclaimed, If he would vote for him and Sir Gilbert Gerard, he should have 5*l.*: That, the said Minton saying, He would not take his Word; Mr. Mason said, He should have the Money, if he would swear not to discover it; and that Mr. Mathews should bring it to him: And that Mr. Morris afterwards came to him, and told him, That the Money Mr. Mason had promised him, he should have; but Mr. Mason had not then above Two Guineas: That afterwards he met Mr. Bright, who told him, He must go to Mr. Mathews, Mr. Mason's Brother; and accordingly he went to Mr. Mathews, who told out 5*l.* to him: And, the said Minton asking upon what Account it was, answered, It was upon the Account he should vote for Mr. Mason and Sir Gilbert Gerard: And the said Minton said, That afterwards he did shew the Money to Sir Francis Charlton, and another.

The Three Mintons voted for Sir Wm. Brownlowe and Mr. Walcott.

Thomas Bright said, That Charles Bright, his Brother's Son, declared, He was to have for his Vote for Sir Gilbert Gerard, and Mr. Mason, 10*l.*; but that he would not give them his Vote, unless he had 10*l.* due to him for last Election: That they had promised him both, after the Election was over; and he should have Security in the mean time; and that they had made over the Paintry Wood to him for the same.

That Charles Bright senior, said, he was promised, for his Vote for both 6*l.*; but he had not been paid his Money, nor for his Drink since the last Election; and so he desired Bright the Witness not to vote for him: That afterwards the said Bright told him, That he had received 6*l.* of him, or otherwise he would not have voted for him.

Vincent Hamore said, That Bright junior declared, He had the best Part of 10*l.* for his Vote: He voted for Mr. Walcott and Mr. Mason: And the other Bright declared, He would not vote for Mr. Mason, till he had his Gratuity; And that Wollaston desired his Voice, and told him, He could procure him 5 or 10*l.*; but he did not promise promise his Vote; and voted for Sir William Brownlowe and Mr. Walcott.

Walter Goreing said, That Mr. Mathews came, the Night before the Election, and called him out, and asked his Vote for Mr. Mason: And he, said Goreing, telling Mr. Mathews he had promised Sir Francis Charlton, Mr. Mathews gave him Half a Guinea: But he acknowledged, That Mr. Mathews owed him 10s. and he gave him 9d. out of the Half Guinea: The said Goreing voted for Sir William Brownlowe and Mr. Walcott.

Robert Wollaston said, That, the Day before the Election, Samuel Wollaston sent for him to the Old Globe, and asked him, If he had disposed of his Voices: And, Robert Wollaston answering, That he had; Samuel Wollaston, as an Argument to vote as he did, told the said Robert Wollaston, That my Lord Macclesfield was a very honourable Person, and had given him a Place of 18l. a Year, otherwise he would not have voted for Sir Gilbert Gerard and Mr. Mason.

The sitting Member, Mr. Mason, insisted, That in respect of the Death of Sir Wm. Brownlowe, he was surprised, in bringing on this Matter: However, he called several Witnesses:

Walter Wollaston said, That he did see Letters from Mr. Mason to John Holmes, wherein he desired there might be no Expences or drinking on his Account; and that himself gave Mr. Mason a Caution to beware of the Mintons.

Nath. Farmer said, That he was at Robert Minton's House; and Minton asked Farmer, Which way he would vote; and told him, If he would vote as he did, he should fare no worse than himself: And further told him, That, if he would not vote for Mr. Charles Mason, he did not care who he was for; for he had hindered the said Minton from getting 50l. and told him, If he would be for Jeremy Brown's Interest, perhaps he would help him to 10 Guineas.

Samuel Richards said, That William Minton told him, That there were so many of the said Minton's Family, as would make Nine Voices: And Brown told him, He would give 50l. to have Mr. Mason out: And at another Time Browne was at Minton's House, and he told Minton, He was sorry he would not be ruled by him, for it would make him, and his Children; and told him, If he came on the Morrow Morning, he should have a Gratuity to be for Sir William Brownlowe against Mr. Mason.

John Holmes said, He received Two Letters from Mr. Mason, wherein he gave positive Orders, that no Friend of his should spend any Money on the Account of his Election; for he would not break a Law he had been concerned in the making of: And that all the Mintons said, They expected several Sums on the Account of the former Election; and his Master wrote him Word, That he would have him receive Money of the Tenants, and pay it over to Mr. Mathews, to answer their Demands upon the Account of the former Election; and accordingly he did pay Money to Mr. Mathews.

Morrice Pugh junior said, That several Persons, about Two Years ago, did demand Money of Samuel Richards, and others, for Arrears upon Elections before: And that a great many, at former Elections, had let the Burgesses have Drink, and depended on Mr. Mason's Kindness to be paid.

And that the Committee, upon this Evidence, came to this Resolution;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Charles Mason Esquire is not duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Bishop's Castle, in the County of Salop.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Charles Mason Esquire is guilty of notorious Bribery, in endeavouring to procure himself to be elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough of Bishop's Castle.

That the next thing proceeded on, was, the Petition of Sir Gilbert Gerard against Mr. Walcot.

VOL. 13.

Samuel Wollaston junior said, His Master Ben. Felton told him, If he would vote for Mr. Walcott, he would deliver up his Indentures, and set him up; and his Indentures, on that Account, were delivered into Mr. Broughton's Hands, and were to be delivered up in April following: However, it was acknowledged, That Mr. Walcott was present, and said, He would have nothing to do with Bribery: And that the said Wollaston does work with his Master since.

That Mr. Walcott, last Summer, went to the Bowling-green, and rode up to Colbach's Door, and asked him for his Vote: And, Colbach saying he had an Inclination to an Exciseman's Place, Mr. Walcott promised him to do him what Kindness he could.

Nath. Farmer said, That all the Three Mintons voted for Sir William Brownlowe and Mr. Walcott; and that he had Discourse with them: And they asked him to vote as they did, and they would help him to 10 Guineas of Brown; for he would out Mr. Mason, if it cost him 500l.:

King's Bench and Fleet Prisons.

Then the Managers went to the Conference.

And, being returned;

Mr. Carter reported, That the Conference was managed by the Lord *; Who acquainted them, That the Lords having made considerable Amendments to the Bill, intituled, An Act for regulating the King's Bench and Fleet Prisons, they thought fit to give Reasons for so doing, to preserve a good Correspondence between the Two Houses; viz.

1. The Bill makes a total Change in the Method of Proceedings in the King's Courts at Westminster; which is, That Persons arrested by Process out of those Courts, should be brought to those Prisons; the Officers of which Prisons are under the immediate Inspection of those Courts, and are always present in the Courts, to answer Complaints and Actions that may be brought against them, without arresting them.

2. Country Gaolers, being remote from the Courts at Westminster, may more easily oppress their Prisoners, or give them too much Liberty; and the Judges at the Assizes cannot possibly have Time nor Power to redress Complaints against the Gaolers.

3. Men arrested for Debt in their own Countries may more easily obtain Favour there from the Gaolers.

4. If the Prisoners are permitted to have Liberty in the Towns where the Prison is, the Inhabitants will probably connive at it, by reason of the Profit they will get by entertaining them in their Houses.

5. It lays a heavy Burden upon the Sheriffs, who must answer for all Escapes; whereas now the Plaintiff or Defendant, or the Sheriff himself, may by Habeas Corpus, remove the Prisoner to the King's Bench or Fleet Prisons, and so the Sheriff be discharged; and, though the Sheriff may take Security from the Under Sheriff, or Gaoler, yet he must take such Security as he can get, and the Security may prove insolvent.

6. If a Man be in Execution in a Country Gaol, and the Sheriff die, the Gaoler, before a new Sheriff made, may discharge the Prisoner, and the Creditor is without Remedy; but, when a Prisoner is in the Custody of one that hath the Inheritance of the Office, he is still in Custody, though the Officer die.

7. If a Man be in Prison for Debt, and the Sheriff dies, as soon as a new Sheriff hath his Patent, the Prisoner is in his Custody: If, in that Case, the Gaoler suffers an Escape before he hath given Security, the new Sheriff may be answerable.

8. If a Man be a Stranger in a Country, and is arrested in a Corporation, if he cannot find Bail, the Cause must be tried there; though perhaps the Mayor, or other Judge of the Court, and Jurymen, may be all the Plaintiff's Friends.

9. The Country Gaols, which are primarily intended for Felons, and Breakers of the Peace, have not Room enough for all Prisoners for Debt; and, besides, it is not reasonable, that Prisoners for Debt should be kept amongst Felons; and this Mischief will be very great in London and Middlesex.

10. The Bill, as it came from the Commons, instead of regulating, doth, in effect, take away, the Prisons of the King's Bench and Fleet; for, if they are to have no Prisoners, they, by a necessary Consequence, cease to be Prisons; and, though they still remain Prisons, to receive such as are committed by their respective Courts for Contempts, yet they will be so few, that the Profits thereby accruing will not be a proportionable Recompence to the Officers to attend the Courts; so that the King's Four Courts at Westminster will be without Prisons, and without Officers to assist them; for the Sheriffs of the Counties are not to attend these Courts, their Business being confined to their own Countries: Hereby these Courts will be reduced to a more mean Condition than the most inferior Courts of Record in the Kingdom, and be disabled to keep the Peace, or to do Justice; and be liable to all the Insults and Affronts that shall be offered to them; and the Judges thereof will be deprived of all coercive Power.

Resolved, That this House will, upon this Day Seven-night, take the said Report into Consideration.

The House, according to Order, resolved itself again into a Committee of the whole House, upon the Bill for granting an Aid to his Majesty, for defraying the Expence of his Navy, Guards, and Garisons, for One Year; and for other necessary Occasions.

Mr. Speaker left the Chair.

Mr. Conyers took the Chair of the Committee.

Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair.

Mr. Conyers reported from the said Committee, That they had made a further Progress in the Matter to them referred; and had directed him to move, That they may have Leave to sit again.

Resolved, That this House will, upon Saturday Morning next, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider further of the said Bill.

Resolved, That this House will, upon Tuesday Morning next, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider further of the Bill for the better preventing Bribery, and other undue Practices, in Elections; and for preserving the Dignity and Constitution of Parliaments.

Earl of Orford's Im-
peachment.

The Answer of Edward Earl of Orford to the Articles of Impeachment against him was, according to Order, read; and is as followeth; viz.

The Answer of Edward Earl of Orford to the Articles exhibited against him by the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled, in the Name of themselves, and of all the Commons of England, in Maintenance of their Impeachment against the said Earl, for high Crimes and Misdemeanors supposed to be committed by him.

THE said Earl, saving to himself all Advantages of Exception to the said Articles, and of not being prejudiced by any Words, or Want of Form, in this his Answer; and saving to him all Privileges and Rights belonging to him, as One of the Peers of this Realm; for Answer to the said Articles, humbly saith,

To the 1st Article,

That he having, for several Years, rendered his Majesty his utmost Service and Duty as a good and loyal Subject ought to do, his Royal Majesty was graciously pleased, upon several Occasions, to take notice of the same; and out of his wonted Bounty, and of his free Will, was pleased to give the said Earl Two Grants; one whereof was a reversionary Grant, for Years, of some Houses, depending then upon a precedent Estate for about 29 Years; which being a reversionary Interest at so great a Distance, although the said Earl thankfully received the same from his Majesty, as his Grace and Bounty, yet the same was of no great Value; and the other of them was a Grant of the Remainder of a gross Sum, amounting to about 2,000*l.* a Year, for Five Years; which are the only Grants of any Manors, Messuages, Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, or Sums of Money whatsoever, which he or any in Trust for him, hath had from his Majesty; and which said Two Grants his Majesty was graciously pleased, after many Years Service, freely to bestow upon him the said Earl, without any Surprise, sinister or indirect Means, of the said Earl in obtaining the same; and which Grants, he humbly conceives, were not unusual in like Cases: The accepting whereof, he humbly hopes, was not any Violation of his Duty, or of any Trust in him the said Earl reposed.

2. To the 2d Article,

The said Earl answereth and denieth, That he, at any time, converted to his own private Use any publick Money issued to him for the Service of the Navy; or that he the said Earl ever procured or had any Privy Seal, or Privy Seals, to discharge him from accounting for the same; but saith, That he the said Earl did make up, and, upon Oath, pass his Accounts for the Monies imprest to him for the Service in this Article mentioned; which Account was legally declared, and passed, upon very strict and great Examination, by the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury; and he the said Earl hath his Quietus est, in due Course of Law, upon the same: But the Commissioners of the Victualling Office making some unusual Objections to Part of the said Account, concerning some Provisions furnished to the Fleet, by the said Earl, in the King of Spain's Dominions; although the same were truly and really had and spent by the Seamen in the Fleet, and paid for by him the said Earl; and which Objections, in like Cases, had not been made, or stood upon, nor could be reasonably expected; his Majesty was pleased to direct and order a Privy Seal, to dispense with the Form in that Particular; but the said Earl did make no Advantage to himself thereby, nor was his Majesty, or the Government, in the least defrauded therein; it appearing, upon a very strict Examination, that less Rates were allowed for the said Provisions, than had been allowed before in like Cases, or, as the said Earl is informed, hath been since allowed: And, to the latter Part of the said Article, saith, That, for the Monies by him received, as Treasurer, or Receiver General of the Navy, he hath already delivered in his Accounts; and is ready to perfect the same, according to the ordinary Method; some of them lying ready with the Auditors, to be declared; and the rest of them being made up, and delivered in to be examined, in order to be passed: And saith, After just Allowances had, he does not believe he shall appear to be indebted upon the said Accounts; and also denies, that any Persons are Sufferers for want of their Dues, in respect of the said Accounts; or that the publick Service is or hath been any-ways discouraged or discredited thereby, as in the said Article is alleged.

3. To the 3d Article the said Earl answereth, and denies, That he received any Monies whatsoever from the King of Spaine, or any other Person, as in the Article Article is alleged: And saith, That what Wine, Oil, or other Provisions were received from the King of Spain, or any others, for the Fleet, were duly delivered, and distributed amongst the Officers and Seamen thereof: And denies he did convert the same to his own Use, or did imbezzle any of the Provisions, or reckoned them, or any Part of them, as bought with the Money allowed for furnishing the Navy with fresh Provisions: And does deny that the said Earl did enjoy any Offices inconsistent in their Nature, as he is advised, one with the other, or which were, or ought to be, Checks one upon the other; or that he anyways secured, or pretended to secure, himself from rendering any Account to the Publick, by any Office or Offices whatsoever; or that he is guilty of the Breach of any Laws, to his Knowledge, by executing any Office or Offices, or ever executed the same, to the Dishonour of his Majesty, or to the Prejudice of his People, as in the said Article is alleged.

4. To the 4th Article the said Earl answereth, and saith, He believes that the Prizes taken in the late War were appropriated as by the Act of Parliament in that behalf is provided; but denies that he did, at any time sell or dispose of any Vessel or Vessels, or their Ladings, or Cargo, taken as, or under the Pretence of, Prize, by any of his Majesty's Ships of War, without Condemnation, or judicial Proceedings; or converted the Monies arising by Sale of any Vessel or Vessels, or their Lading or Cargo, taken as, or under Pretence of, Prize, by any of his Majesty's Ships of War, to his own Use; but, on the contrary, did, from time to time, in his Station, give Orders, that the Prizes taken should be carefully preserved, without Imbezzlement, and duly proceeded against, and the Produce answered as the Law directs: And therefore humbly insisteth, That the Publick hath been no-ways endamaged, or the Debts of the Nation increased, by any Neglect or Default of the said Earl.

5. To the 5th Article the said Earl saith, That the East-India Company, about the Beginning of March 1696, did apply to the Admiralty Board, of which the said Earl was One, to empower their Ships and Officers to seize and take all Pirates infesting the Seas within the Limits of their Charter; and likewise to erect a Court of Admiralty in those Parts, to try and condemn such Pirates as they should take: Upon which Application, the Board of Admiralty did take Advice, and were informed they had no Authority to grant the same: And denies he the said Earl ever discouraged or rejected the Company's Request therein, unless it were by telling them, that the Admiralty, by Law, could not grant the same: And denies that the Company was ever denied Letters of Marque in common Form, to the Knowledge of the said Earl: And saith, as to the Matter of Kidd, in this Article mentioned, he was gone upon his Expedition about 12 Months before that Time: And as to his Commission, and the Grant, in the said Article mentioned, the said Earl humbly conceives, and is advised, the same were not contrary to Law; but, sure he is, the said Expedition was intended for the publick Good and Service: And saith, The said Kidd hath no Powers and Instructions from the Board of Admiralty, other than the ordinary and common Letters of Marque, the Contents whereof are common, and well known to the Merchants: And the said Earl doth deny, that he knew the said Kidd to be of ill Fame and Reputation; but in case the said Kidd hath committed any Piracies, he the said Kidd is answerable, and ought to answer, for the same, he never being ordered by the said Earl so to do; nor had he ever any the least Encouragement given him by the said Earl, or any other, to his Knowledge, to expect or hope for any Protection therein, in any illegal Action done or committed by him.

6. To the 6th Article the said Earl saith, He believes it to be true, that there was a horrid and barbarous Plot and Conspiracy against his Majesty's Sacred Person; and that there was an Apprehension of an immediate Invasion; but the said Earl hopes no Neglect of Duty in his Station can be imputed to him, to prevent the same: And as for the Ship Duchess, which was, amongst many others, armed and equipped in Defence of the Realm, the said Earl saith, That the Men, in the said Article mentioned to be taken from on board her, were but some of the very Persons that were just before taken on board Captain Kidd, and returned, by their own Consent, on board Captain Kidd again, not being above 20 in Number: And saith, all Fears of the Invasion were then over, and at an end: And denies that the same was intended to weaken, or did weaken, the said Ship, or the Navy Royal; or that the said Seamen, so returning on board the said Kidd, were levied or provided at the Expence of the Publick; or did return, or were put, on board the said Kidd against their own Consent, or to the Prejudice of the publick Security; or that the Ship Duchess was thereby endangered, if she had been attacked, as in the said Article is alleged.

7. To the 7th Article the said Earl answereth, and denies that he did, by Misrepresentation, or otherwise, obtain or procure a Grant or Order for his Majesty's Ship Dolphin, to be employed in a private Voyage or Undertaking, but what was done therein, was done after the Peace concluded, and by his Majesty's Command, at the Instance and Request of other Persons, and not of the said Earl, but contrary to his Opinion; nor was the said Earl any-way concerned in Interest therein, till after his Majesty's Orders were given about the said Ship; and then, and not before, some of the Persons concerned in the said Adventure desired the said Earl to take some Shares therein, the Number whereof he doth not remember, which the said Earl accordingly did; but humbly insists that his Actings therein were not contrary to his Duty, or the Trust in him reposed, or the Debts of the Nation thereby increased.

8. To the 8th Article the said Earl answereth, and denies, that, at any time, while he commanded the Navy Royal, he did, through Neglect or Contempt of Orders, unnecessarily hazard, or expose to Danger, the said Navy: And also denies, that, upon any Opportunity of taking or destroying the Ships of the French King, he did, contrary to Advice, or in Disobedience to Orders, neglect to do the same: And also denies, that he did suffer or permit any of the French King's Ships to return into their own Harbours, when he had Opportunity to prevent the same; and humbly insists, he is not guilty of any Neglect or Omission of his Duty herein; nor did expect, in this Particular, to be charged therewith, considering his Services rendered against the French Fleet.

9. To the 9th Article the said Earl saith, He believes it to be true, that his Majesty hath been engaged in several Alliances with several Princes, and particularly with the Emperor, in the Year 1689; and that the End of those Alliances was, to prevent the Growth and Power of France, and to secure this Kingdom, and its Allies: But the said Earl does deny, that he did advise his Majesty to enter into the Treaty of Partition charged upon the said Earl in this Article; and, so far as the said Earl was any-ways acquainted therewith, he objected to, and gave his Opinion against, the same.

10. To the 10th Article the said Earl answereth, and saith, That, true it is, his Majesty was pleased to employ and intrust him in the several Offices and Stations in this Article mentioned for several Years, as his Majesty's Occasions required, although not for all the Time in the said Article mentioned: And hopes, and humbly insisteth upon it, that he the said Earl did, from time to time, according to his Duty, and the Trusts in him reposed, discharge the said Offices and Employments with Loyalty, Faithfulness, and Zeal, to his Majesty, and his People.

And, having thus laid his Case before your Lordships, he the said Earl doth humbly insist, and answer to the said Impeachment, and all and every the Articles aforesaid exhibited against him, That he is not guilty of all or any the Matters or Things by the said Articles charged, in Manner and Form as the same are therein and thereby alleged against him; and that the Matters by him before set forth to be done and transacted, or any of them, were not done or committed by him the said Earl against our Sovereign Lord the King, his Crown and Dignity, or the Peace or Interest of this Kingdom, or in Breach of the Trust reposed in him the said Earl: And humbly submits himself herein to your Lordships Judgment.

Ordered, That the said Answer be referred to the Committee appointed to draw up the Articles of Impeachment.

Ordered, That the said Committee do prepare a Replication to the said Answer: And that the said Committee do meet this Afternoon at Five a Clock, in the Speaker's Chamber; and do sit de die in diem.

Lord
Sommers' Impeachment.

Mr. Harcourt reported from the Committee appointed to draw up Articles of Impeachment, That they had drawn up Articles accordingly against John Lord Somers Baron of Evesham, in Maintenance of the Impeachment against him for high Crimes and Misdemeanors: And he read the same in his Place; and afterwards delivered them in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read.

Ordered, That the said Articles be read, Article by Article.

Ordered, That the Serjeant do go into Westminster-hall, and Courts there, and Court of Requests, and summon the Members there to attend the Service of the House immediately.

And he went accordingly.

And, being returned;

The said Articles were read, Article by Article; and, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House to be Articles of Impeachment of high Crimes and Misdemeanors against the said Lord Somers: And the same are as follow; viz.

Articles exhibited by the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeesses, in Parliament assembled, in the Name of themselves, and of all the Commons of England, against John Lord Sommers Baron of Evesham, in Maintenance of their Impeachment against him for high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

1st, THAT a Treaty and Alliance between Leopold the Emperor of Germany, and the States General of the United Provinces, was made and concluded, in the Year of our Lord 1689, upon their Consideration of the Greatness of the common Danger which then threatened all Christendom, from the excessive Power of France, and the unconstant Faith of the French in the Observance of Treaties; whereby it was agreed, That there should be and remain for ever, a constant, perpetual, and inviolable Friendship, and good Correspondence, between his Imperial Majesty and the States General: That each of them should be obliged to promote the other's Interest; and, as much as in them lay, prevent all Damages and Inconveniencies to each other.

That, during the Continuance of the War, there should not be only a defensive, but also an offensive, Alliance between the said Parties, by virtue whereof, they should both of them act in an hostile Manner, with all their Forces, by Sea and Land, against the French King, and such of his Allies as should refuse to separate themselves from him:

That, after the War should be ended, and a Peace concluded, there should remain between his Imperial Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, and the States General, a perpetual defensive Alliance against the Crown of France, and its Adherents:

That, if the Crown of France should again attack either of the said confederate Parties, at what Time soever the same should be done, they should faithfully assist each other:

That his Imperial Majesty, and the States General, should at all Times, by all Means, and with all their Forces, protect and defend all the Rights of each other, against the Crown of France and its Adherents:

And other Provisions were thereby made for their mutual Security, as well during the Continuance of the War, as after the Conclusion of a Peace.

That certain separate Articles were also, at or about that time, made; whereby the States General maturely considering that France had openly declared in several Courts, That, notwithstanding the most solemn Renunciation, they continued their Pretensions, by Force of Arms, to assert, for the Dauphin, the Succession of the Spanish Monarchy, in case the King of Spain should die without Issue; and also considering what a Blow their State would receive, and what a Prejudice might happen thereby to the publick Affairs and Quiet; did promise, That, in case his said Catholick Majesty should die without lawful Issue, they would, with all their Forces, assist his said Imperial Majesty, or his Heirs, in taking the Succession of the Spanish Monarchy, lawfully belonging to that House, together with its Kingdoms, Provinces, Dominions, and Rights; and in their obtaining and securing the quiet Possession thereof against the French, and their Adherents, who should directly or indirectly oppose that Succession; and, with Force, repel the Force which should be brought against them:

That, at the Instance of the States General, in pursuance of the said Treaty, and separate Articles, our most gracious Lord and Sovereign his most Excellent Majesty King William the Third was invited to enter into the Alliance of the aforesaid Treaty, and into the Agreement of the said separate Articles, and thereupon, for restoring and preserving the publick Peace and Quiet, did afterwards, in the said Year of our Lord 1689, enter into, and, under the Great Seal of England, accept, approve, and ratify, and, in the most solemn Manner, engage and promise religiously and inviolably to observe the same, without violating the said Treaty, or separate Articles, in any Article, or suffering the same, to the utmost of his Power, to be violated:

That in the Year of our Lord 1698, a Treaty was projected and contrived in France, to be set on Foot between his Majesty, the French King, and the States General; for a Partition of the Spanish Monarchy; whereby many large Territories thereunto belonging, were to be allotted and delivered up to France:

That the Tenour and Design of the said last-mentioned Treaty, whilst the same was in Negotiation, was communicated to the said John Lord Somers, then one of the Lords Justices of England, Lord Chancellor of England, and One of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council:

That the said Lord Sommers, well knowing the most apparent evil Consequences, as well as the Injustice, of the said Partition, did not, according to the Trust and Duty of his said several Offices, dissuade, or endeavour to obstruct, its taking Effect; but, on the contrary, having neither Regard to his Majesty's Honour engaged by the said Treaty with the Emperor and States General as aforesaid, to the Trade and known Interest of this Kingdom, or the Peace of Europe, did advise his Majesty to enter into the said Treaty; and did so far encourage and promote the same, that the said Treaty was concluded, and ratified under the Great Seal of England, then in the Custody of the said Lord Sommers; and thereby the Kingdoms of Naples and Sicily, the Places depending on the Monarchy of Spain situate on the Coast of Tuscany, or adjacent Islands, comprehended under the Name of Santo Stephano, Porto Herculo, Orbitello, Telamone, Porto Longone, Piombino, the Town and Marquisate of Final, the Province of Guypuscoa, particularly the Towns of Fantarabia and St. Sebastian, situate in that Province, and especially the Port of the Passage, which is therein comprised, with several other Parts and Things of or belonging to the said Kingdom of Spain, were allotted to the Dauphin for his Share; and the Crown of Spain, and the other Kingdoms, Islands, States, Countries, and Places, depending thereon, except such Part as aforesaid, which was thereby allotted to the Dauphin for his Share; and the Duchy of Milan, herein after mentioned, was given and assigned to the Electoral Prince eldest Son to the Elector of Bavaria, for his Share, to enjoy the same to him, his Heirs, and Successors for ever, never to be molested therein, on any Pretence of Rights or Claims on the Part of the French King, or the Dauphin, or his Issue, Heirs or Successors; nor of the Part of the Emperor, the King of the Romans, the Archduke Charles his his Second Son, and other Children, or his Heirs and Successors; and the Duchy of Milan was thereby agreed to be given to the said Archduke, for his Share; and, in Extinction of all Pretensions and Rights, which the said Emperor, the King of the Romans, the said Archduke Charles, all his other Children, Successors, and Heirs, might have to the said Succession of Spaine: By which Treaty it was also further agreed, That, if any Prince whatsoever should oppose the taking Possession of the Shares thereby agreed on, as aforesaid, his Majesty, the French King, and the States General, should assist one another against such Opposition, and hinder the same with all their Power:

That, by a secret Article of the said Treaty, in like manner ratified under the Great Seal of England, it was provided, That, if the King of Spaine should die without Issue, and the Electoral Prince of Bavaria should afterwards die without Issue, his Electoral Highness of Bavaria, his Father, should succeed him in all the Kingdoms, Islands, States, Countries, and Places, assigned to the Electoral Prince, as aforesaid, and enjoy the same, to him, and his Children, Successors, and Heirs, then born, or to be born; so as neither the Emperor, his Children, nor any other Person, should, or might, under any Pretext, form the least Pretension to that Succession; his Majesty, the French King, and States General, thereby engaging themselves to employ all their Power, by Land, and by Sea, for maintaining the Order established by the said secret Article, relating to the Succession of the Monarchy of Spaine:

That the said Treaty was ratified under the Great Seal of England, then in the Custody of the said Lord Sommers, as an Agreement between his Majesty, the French King, and States General; notwithstanding the said Lord Sommers well knew, that the same had been concluded between his Majesty's Commissioners and the French Ambassador, or the Commissioner of the French King, only; and that the Purport thereof had never been communicated to the States General, at the time of the Ratification thereof under the Great Seal of England, notwithstanding the Negotiation thereof in Holland.

2. That, for the more effectual carrying on the said Treaty, One or more Commission or Commissions was or were prepared, amended, enlarged, or altered, by the said Lord Sommers, without any lawful Warrant for his so doing; whereunto the said Lord Sommers, contrary to the Duty of the said several Offices, and in Violation of the great Trusts reposed in him, in or about the Month of September 1698, without communicating the same to the rest of the then Lords Justices of England, or advising in Council with his Majesty's Privy Council thereupon, did presume to affix the Great Seal of England:

That no certain Persons of known Honour, Fidelity, and Experience, were therein nominated Commissioners at the time of the affixing the Great Seal of England thereto; but a Blank, or empty Space, was left in the said Commission or Commissions, at the time of the sealing thereof, wherein the Commissioners Names were to be afterwards inserted, beyond the Seas; notwithstanding which, an unlimited Power was thereby granted to the Commissioners, whose Names were therein afterwards to be inserted, as aforesaid, or to either of them, without any written Instructions whatsoever, to restrain, guide, or direct them in the Exercise thereof, in his Majesty's Name to confer and treat with the Commissioner or Deputy, or Commissioners or Deputies, of the French King, and also with the Commissioners or Deputies of the States General, for preserving the publick Peace, and touching the Succession to the Crown of Spaine; and his Majesty doth thereby engage himself to approve, ratify, and confirm, whatsoever should be thereupon concluded by them, or either of them.

3. That the said Lord Sommers, contrary to the Duty of the said Office of Lord Chancellor, did affix the Great Seal of England to the said Commission or Commissions, not having first received any lawful Warrant for that Purpose; in Hopes of concealing which evil and most dangerous Practice, the said Lord Sommers, after he had sealed the said

Commission or Commissions, used his Endeavour to procure a Warrant to be transmitted to him for affixing the Great Seal to the said Commission or Commissions; and that it might not be known, but that he had it in due time.

4. That the said Lord Sommers, contrary to the Duty of the said several Offices, affixed the Great Seal of England to the Ratification of the said Treaty, made in the Year of our Lord 1698, not having first communicated the same to the rest of the then Lords Justices of England, or advised in Council, with his Majesty's Privy Council, thereupon; and, at the time of his affixing the Great Seal thereto, one intire blank Sheet, and many other Blanks, were left in the said Ratification, with an Intent to be afterwards filled up by other Persons beyond the Seas, as should be thought fit.

5. That, in the Year of our Lord 1699, another Treaty was entered into, in pursuance of the said Treaty made in the Year 1698, and concluded by, and between, his Majesty, the French King, and the States General, and also ratified under the Great Seal of England, then in the Custody of the said Lord Sommers; whereby the Kingdom of Spaine, in case his Catholic Majesty should die without Issue, was agreed to be divided, and many large Territories thereof were allotted to the Dauphin for his Share: Which Treaties were evidently destructive of the Trade of this Realm, dishonourable to his Majesty, highly injurious to the Interest of the Protestant Religion, and manifestly intended to disturb the general Peace of Europe, by altering the Balance of Power therein, and strengthening France against the good Friends, and ancient Allies, of our Sovereign Lord the King.

6. That whereas, by the Laws and Usages of this Realm, all Commissions under the Great Seal of England, for the making any Treaties or Alliances with any foreign Princes, States, or Potentates, and all Ratifications under the said Great Seal of all such Treaties or Alliances, ought to be inrolled, and entered of Record, in the Court of Chancery, with, or by, the Prothonotary of the said Court, for a perpetual Memorial thereof; and that the Merchants, and other Subjects of England, having Commerce or Correspondence in foreign Parts, may not, through Ignorance of the same, incur the Pains and Penalties by the Law due to those who shall any-ways infringe, break, or act contrary to such Treaties; he the said Lord Sommers, not minding the Duty of his Office, did not, in any manner, inroll, or enter of Record, or cause to be inrolled, or entered of Record, any of the said Commissions or Ratifications, in the foregoing Articles mentioned, as by the Duty of his Place he should and ought to have done; but so to do did totally neglect and omit, in Breach of his said Duty, and in Violation of the Laws of this Realm.

7. That the said Lord Sommers, when the Custody of the Great Seal of England was committed to him, did swear, well and truly to serve our Sovereign Lord the King, and his People, Poor and Rich, after the Laws and Usages of this Realm; and truly to counsel the King, and his Counsel to keep, and not to know nor suffer the Hurt or Disinheriting of the King, or that the Rights of the Crown should be decreased, as far forth as he might lett it; and, if he could not lett it, that he would make it clearly and expressly to be known unto the King, with his true Advice and Counsel; and that he should do and purchase the King's Profit in all he reasonably might; or to that Effect:

And the said Lord Sommers afterwards took the said Oath, as Lord Chancellor of England.

That the said Lord Sommers, being Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, or Lord Chancellor of England, and one of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, whilst this Nation was engaged in a most tedious and expensive War against the French King, for preserving the Balance and Liberties of Europe, and almost exhausted with Supplies and Taxes for carrying on the same, and under such heavy Debts, as, without the utmost Frugality, or laying insupportable Taxes on the Commons of England, were impossible

Lord

impossible to be satisfied, contrary to his said Oath, did pass many great, unreasonable, and exorbitant Grants, under the Great Seal of England, of divers Manors, Lordships, Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, Revenues, and Interests, belonging to the Crown of England, amounting to a most prodigious and excessive Value; and did advise, promote, and procure, divers great, unreasonable, and exorbitant Grants to be made of several of the late forfeited Estates in Ireland; in Contempt of the Advice of his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of England in Parliament assembled, and without any regard to his Majesty's most gracious Assurance thereupon to both his Houses of Parliament; and engaged to procure, and accordingly did procure, divers Acts, prepared for confirming the said Grants in Parliament in Ireland, to be approved in Council in England; and afterwards remitted the same, under the Great Seal of England, to be passed into Laws in Ireland.

8. That the said Lord Somers, during the time of his being Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, and Lord Chancellor of England, did not only receive and enjoy the Fees, Profits, and Perquisites, of or belonging to the Great Seal, established by Law, as a sufficient and ample Recompence and Reward for the faithful Discharge of that high Station; but also, as a further Encouragement, through his Majesty's most abundant Grace and Bounty, received an annual Pension, or Allowance, from the Crown, of 4,000*l.* and many other Profits and Advantages; notwithstanding which, the said Lord Somers, not being contented therewith, contrary to the said Oath, begged and procured, for his own Benefit, many great, unreasonable, and exorbitant Grants of several Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Hereditaments, and Revenues, belonging to the Crown of England:

That, in or about the Month of April 1697, the said Lord Somers, being then Lord Chancellor of England, and of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, contrary to his said Oath, did procure and pass a Grant under the Great Seal of England, without any real Consideration whatsoever, to Joseph Jekyll Esquire, and his Heirs for ever, of the Manor or Manors of Rygate and Howligh, with all and singular their Rights, Members, and Appurtenances, situate and being in the Parish of Rygate or elsewhere, in the County of Surry, and of all Quit Rents, Rents of Assize, Free Rents, Conventional Rents, Copyhold and Customary Rents, and all other Rents whatsoever, to the said Manor or Manors belonging or appertaining, with the Site of the ruined Castle, and of all other Demesne Lands of the said Manor or Manors, with the Rents reserved on any Leases then in being, of any Parts thereof, and of all other Lands, Meadows, Feedings, Pastures, Messuages, Houses, Edifices, Buildings, Barns, Stables, Dove-houses, Tolls of Market or Fairs, with the Market-house there; and also of all Warrens, Chases, Parks, Commons, Woods, Underwoods, Woodlands, waste Grounds, Courts Leet, Courts Baron, and other Courts, Services, Franchises, Heriots, Fines, Issues, Amerciaments, and all other Profits and Perquisites of the said Courts, Rights, Royalties, and Jurisdictions, and of divers other Matters, Hereditaments, and Appurtenances, to the said Manor or Manors, or either of them, or to the Royalties thereof, belonging, or in any-wise appertaining; which Premises were Parcel of the Demesnes and Revenues of the Crown, and of the Value of 12,000*l.* and upwards:

That, under Pretence of purchasing divers Fee-farm Rents, and other Rents, vested in Trustees for Sale thereof, in pursuance of several Acts of Parliament, made in the Reign of his late Majesty King Charles the Second; the said Lord Somers, in the Year of our Lord 1697, procured a Warrant from his Majesty under his Sign Manual, to the Commissioners of the Treasury then being, to contract, or give Warrant to the Trustees for Sale of Fee-farm Rents to contract, with Humphry Hetherington Esquire, or such as he should nominate, for as many Fee-farm and other Rents, then remaining unsold, except such Rents as were set apart for Payment of Pensions in the Pension Deeds, as should amount unto 800*l.* per Annum, at the Rate of Sixteen Years Purchase; and that, upon such Contract, the said Commissioners of the Treasury should give Warrant for conveying the said Rents to the said Humphrey Hetherington, or such as he should appoint, and his Heirs:

That, under the like Pretence, and at or about the same time, the said Lord Somers procured another Warrant from his Majesty, under his Sign Manual, to the said Commissioners of the Treasury, to contract, or give Warrant to the said Trustees to contract, with Richard Adny Esquire, or such as he should nominate, for as many Fee-farm and other Rents, then remaining unsold, except as aforesaid, as should amount to 700*l.* per Annum, at the Rate of Sixteen Years Purchase; and that, upon the said Contract, the said Commissioners should give Warrant for conveying the said Rents unto the said Richard Adny, or such as he should nominate, and his Heirs:

That, under the like Pretence, and at or about the same time, the said Lord Somers procured another Warrant from his Majesty, under his Sign Manual, to the said Commissioners of the Treasury, to contract, or give Warrant to the said Trustees to contract, with Samuel Newton Esquire, or such as he should nominate, for as many Fee-farm and other Rents, then remaining unsold, except as aforesaid, as should amount unto 600*l.* per Annum, at the Rate of Sixteen Years Purchase; and that, upon such Contract, the said Commissioners should give Warrant for conveying the said Rents unto the said Samuel Newton, or such as he should nominate, and his Heirs:

That, in pursuance of Warrants of the said Commissioners of the Treasury thereupon, certain Contracts were made, or pretended to be made, with the said Humphrey Hetherington, Richard Adny, and Samuel Newton, for the real Sale of divers Fee-farm Rents, and other Rents of the several and respective yearly Values aforesaid; by virtue whereof, the said Humphrey Hetherington, Richard Adny, and Samuel Newton, became obliged to pay into the Receipt of his Majesty's Exchequer at Westminster, for the Purchase of the several and respective Rents to them respectively to be conveyed, as aforesaid, the Sums herein after mentioned; that is to say, The said Humphrey Hetherington, 12,800*l.* the said Richard Adny, 11,200*l.* and the said Samuel Newton, 9,600*l.*

That, in pursuance of such Contracts, or pretended Contracts, through the Power of the said Lord Somers, and by his Means and Procurement, divers Fee-farm Rents, and other Rents, were, by certain Indentures Tripartite of Bargain and Sale, bearing Date on or about the 6th Day of January 1697, in Consideration of 3,200*l.* therein mentioned to have been paid by the said Humphrey Hetherington, unto his Majesty, at the Receipt of his Exchequer at Westminster, or by other Assurance in the Law, granted and conveyed by the said Trustees, by the Appointment of the said Humphrey Hetherington, to Leonard Hancock, of Cheshunt, in the County of Hartford, Esquire, and John Warner, of the Parish of St. Clements Danes, in the County of Middlesex, Goldsmith, and their Heirs:

And, by other Indentures of Bargain and Sale, of the same Date, or other Assurance in the Law, divers other Fee-farm Rents and other Rents therein mentioned, in Consideration of 9,600*l.* therein mentioned to have been paid by the said Humphrey Hetherington to his Majesty, at the Receipt of his Exchequer at Westminster, being the Residue of the said Sum of 12,800*l.* were, by the said Trustees, granted and conveyed to the said Humphrey Hetherington, and his Heirs; which Fee-farm and other Rents, so conveyed unto, or by the Appointment of, the said Humphrey Hetherington, amount to the full yearly Value of 800*l.*

And, by other Indentures of Bargain and Sale, of the same Date, or other Assurance in the Law, and in Consideration of 2,400*l.* therein mentioned to have been paid by the said Richard Adny unto his Majesty, at the Receipt of his Exchequer at Westminster, other Fee-farm Rents, and other Rents, were, by the Appointment of the said Richard Adny, granted and conveyed by the said Trustees to the said Leonard Hancock and John Warner, and their Heirs.

And, by other Indentures of Bargain and Sale, of the same Date, or other Assurance in the Law, in Consideration of 8,800 l. in the same Indentures mentioned to have been paid by the said Richard Adny to his Majesty, at the Receipt of his Exchequer at Westminster, being the Residue of the said Sum of 11,200 l. divers other Fee-farm Rents, and other Rents, therein mentioned, were granted and conveyed by the said Trustees to the said Richard Adny, and his Heirs; which Fee-farm and other Rents, so conveyed to, or by the Appointment of, the said Richard Adny, amount to the full yearly Value of 700 l. per Annum.

And, by other Indentures of Bargain and Sale, bearing Date on or about the 25th Day of April 1698, or other Assurance in the Law, in Consideration of 2,400 l. therein mentioned to have been paid by the said Samuel Newton to his Majesty, at the Receipt of his Exchequer at Westminster, other Fee-farm Rents, and other Rents, therein mentioned, were, by the Appointment of the said Samuel Newton, granted and conveyed by the said Trustees to the said Leonard Hancock and John Warner, and their Heirs.

And, by other Indentures of Bargain and Sale, of the same Date, or other Assurance in Law, in Consideration of 7,200 l. therein mentioned to have been paid by the said Samuel Newton to his Majesty, at the Receipt of his Exchequer at Westminster, being the Residue of the said Sum of 9,600 l. divers other Fee-farm Rents, and other Rents, therein mentioned, were granted and conveyed by the said Trustees to the said Samuel Newton, and his Heirs; which said several Rents, so conveyed unto, or by the Appointment of, the said Samuel Newton, amount to the yearly Value of 600 l.

That the said several Manors, and Rents aforesaid, were granted to the said Joseph Jekyll, Humphrey Hetherington, Richard Adny, and Samuel Newton, and their Heirs respectively, as aforesaid, in Trust only for the said Lord Somers, and his Heirs.

9. That the said Lord Somers, in order to procure a Grant of the said Fee-farm Rents, for his own Benefit, whilst he was Lord Chancellor of England, and One of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, whilst his Majesty was engaged in the said War, and the Nation under such heavy Debts as aforesaid, did enter into several Treaties, and had many Communications, with divers Persons intrusted with the Care and Management of the said Fee-farm Rents; and particularly with Reginald Marriot, of the Parish of St. Clement Dances, in the County of Middlesex, Auditor of the Rates, or acting as Auditor; and with John Digby, of the Parish of St. Bride's, London, Clerk of the Trustees for Sale of the said Fee-farm Rents; and other evil disposed Persons: And for encouraging the said Marriott, Digby, and others, to discover to him such particular Fee-farm and other Rents, as then remained undisposed of, to the Intent the said Lord Somers might beg the same, he the said Lord Somers contracted, and agreed with the said Marriott, to give the said Marriott, for himself and his Accomplices, as a Reward for the said Discovery, One full Fourth-part of all such Rents so discovered, whereof the said Lord Somers should procure a Grant from the Crown: And accordingly the said several Grants from the said Trustees to the said Hancock and Warner, being together of the yearly Value of 500 l. per Annum, and upwards, were so made by the Direction of the said Lord Somers, in Trust for the said Marriott, Digby, and others.

10. That notwithstanding the pretended Contracts and Payments, there was not any Sum of Money whatsoever, really, and bona fide, paid as the Consideration of the Conveyances of the said Rents from the said Trustees; but such Contracts and Payments of the said several Considerations, amounting, in the Whole, to 33,600 l. were colourably and fraudently contrived and made by Direction of the Lord Somers, contrary to his said Oath, in

VOL. 13.

Deceit of his Majesty, and Elusion of the said Acts of Parliament.

Lord Somers
Impeachment.

11. That many Quit-rents and Copyhold-rents, standing in Charge as Parcel of, or belonging to, several Manors, or reputed Manors, Rents reserved upon Leases or Estates, the Reversion whereof was in his said Majesty King Charles the Second, at the making the said Acts; Rents conveyed before in Lease, and granted to other Persons; Rents appropriated by, or in pursuance of, Act or Acts of Parliament, for Payment of Pensions, Stipends, Salaries, Annuities, Alms, and Allowances, for the Maintenance of Grammar Schools or Scholars, or for or towards the Reparation of Churches, Chapels, Highways, Causeways, Bridges, Schools, Alms-houses, Castles, or other Uses; and many Quit-rents of Manors, and other Rents, by Act of Parliament, united and annexed to the Castle of Windsor, with Intent to support and maintain the yearly Reparations and Charges of the said Castle, and discharge and pay the Fees and Wages of the Officers, Servants, and Attendants, at the same Castle, and the Forests, Chaces, and Parks, to the same belonging, and for many Years applied, according to the Intention of the said Acts; and also many Quit-rents of, or belonging to, divers ancient Manors, heretofore, and yet, Parcel of the Demesnes or Possessions of the Crown, as if the same had been intire Fee-farm Rents issuing out of those Manors; were by the aforesaid several Indentures of Bargain and Sale, through the Direction and Power of the said Lord Somers, conveyed, by the said Trustees for Sale of Fee-farm Rents, to the said Humphrey Hetherington, Richard Adny and Samuel Newton, and to the said Hancock, and Warner, and their Heirs, or unto some of them, contrary to the true Intent and Meaning of the said Acts of Parliament; to the great Vexation and Oppression of many of his Majesty's good Subjects, and creating many new and unreasonable Charges on other Revenues of the Crown.

12. That by the Direction of the said Lord Somers, the said Humphrey Hetherington, Richard Adny, Samuel Newton, Leonard Hancock, and John Warner, surrendered several of the said Rents to them granted, as aforesaid, amounting to the yearly Value of 347 l. 11 s. 5 d. on Suggestion, that the same were either conveyed before in Lease, set apart for Payment of Pensions, old Supers, bad or illeivable, or Part thereof bad or illeivable, or wrong conveyed: And the said Lord Somers, in the Year of our Lord 1699, being then Lord Chancellor of England, and one of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, in Breach of his Duty, and contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, procured other Rents, of the yearly Value of 391 l. 0 s. 3 d. to be allowed by way of Reprize, and to be conveyed to Richard Adny, and his Heirs, in Trust for the said Lord Somers, and his Heirs, as if the said yearly Rents of 347 l. 11 s. 5 d. so surrendered, had been really, and bona fide, purchased, in pursuance of the said Acts for Sale of Fee-farm Rents.

13. That, in the Year of our Lord 1695, the said Lord Somers, being then Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England, as also One of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, together with Edward Earl of Orford, then First Commissioner for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of England, and Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Navy Royal, and one of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, Richard Earl of Bellamont in the Kingdom of Ireland, Governor of New-York and New-England, and others, then in high Stations, and in great Power and Authority, procured a Commission to be granted unto one William Kidd, a Person of evil Fame and Reputation, and since that time convicted of Piracy, to apprehend, and take into his Custody, divers Persons therein named, and all such Pirates as the said Kidd should meet with upon the Coasts or Seas of America, or in any other Seas or Parts, with their Ships and Vessels, and also such Merchandizes, Goods, and Wares, as should be found on board, or with them: And afterwards the said Lord Somers, in the Year of our Lord 1697, with the Assistance of the said Earl of Orford, and other Persons aforesaid, procured a Grant from his Majesty; and the said Lord Somers passed the same under the Great Seal of England; whereby all and whatsoever Ships, Vessels, Goods, Merchandizes, Treasure, and other things whatsoever, which, since the 30th Day of April 1696, had been taken or seized upon or with, or did belong to, or which should be taken or seized upon or with, or did or should belong to, Thomas Soo, John Irelands, Thomas Wake, and William Maze, in the said Letters Patents mentioned to have been complained of, and informed against, for committing many Robberies, Piracies, and Depredations, upon the Seas in the Parts of America, and other Places, but never convicted or attainted for the same; or which, since the said 30th Day of April 1696, had been taken or seized upon; or which did or should belong to any of the Adherents of the said Thomas Soo, John Ireland, Thomas Wake, and William Maze, or any other Pirates, Freebooters, and Sea Rovers, by the said William Kidd, or other Commander of the Adventure Gally; or which by, or by Means of the said Ship or Gally, should be taken, or forced on Shore, in any of his Majesty's Plantations of America; were granted unto the said Richard Earl of Bellamont, and unto *Edmund Harrison Merchant, Samuel Newton Gentleman, William Rowley Gentleman, George Watson Gentleman, and Thomas Reynolds, of St. Martin's, * **, their Executors, Administrators, and Assigns, to their own sole Use and Benefit, and as their own proper Goods and Chattels, without any Account thereof or therefore to be made; in which Grant, the Name of the said Samuel Newton was used in Trust, and for the only Benefit and Advantage of the said Lord Somers: Which said Grant, under the Great Seal of England, manifestly tended to the Destruction and Discouragement of Trade and Navigation, the great Loss and Prejudice of Merchants and others, being his Majesty's Subjects, or Subjects of the Friends and Allies of his Majesty, and the Dishonour of the King and Kingdom; and the said Lord Somers was, by procuring and passing the said Grant, guilty of a notorious Breach of his Duty.

14. That the said John Lord Somers, to the great Oppression of the Subjects, and contrary to Magna Charta, and divers good Statutes of this Realm, and in manifest Breach and Violation of his Oath as Lord High Chancellor of England, hath, in several Causes depending before him, by many extraordinary Methods, and unwarrantable Practices, for several Years, delayed Proceedings in the said Causes; and, by colour of his Office, hath made divers arbitrary and illegal Orders, in Subversion of the Laws and Statutes of this Realm; and hath, of his own Authority, reversed Judgments given in the Court of Exchequer, and without calling before him the Barons of the Exchequer to hear their Informations, and the Causes of their Judgments, as the Statute, in those Cases, expressly directs; assuming thereby to himself an arbitrary and illegal Power: And hath declared and affirmed, in publick Places of Judicature, That particular Subjects might have Rights and Interests, without any Remedy for Recovery of the same, unless by Petition to the Person of the King only; or to that Effect: Which Position was highly dangerous to the legal Constitution of this Kingdom, and absolutely destructive to the Property of the Subject.

And the said Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, by Protestation, saving to themselves the Liberty of exhibiting, at any time hereafter, any further Articles, or other Accusation or Impeachment, against the said Lord Somers; and also of replying to his Answers, which he shall make unto the said Articles, or any of them; and of offering Proofs to all and every the aforesaid Articles, and to all and every other Articles, Impeachment, or Accusation, which shall be exhibited by them, as the Cause shall, according to the Course of Parliament, require; do pray, That the said John Lord Somers may be put to answer the said Crimes and Misdemeanors; and that such Proceedings, Examinations, Tryals, and Judgments, may be thereupon had and given, as is agreeable to Law and Justice.

Resolved, That this House will, To-morrow Morning, resolve itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider further of Ways and Means for raising the Supply granted to his Majesty. Ways and Means.

Discharging

the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

That the Committee directed the Secretary of the Admiralty to attend them; and to lay before them what Orders were given for discharging the Seamen from the Fleet; and what Orders were given for the Payment of the Bounty-money to the Seamen.

The Committee also directed the Commissioners of the Navy to lay before them what Orders they had received from the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty for paying the Seamen their Wages, and Bounty-money.

Accordingly, the Secretary of the Admiralty attended them; and delivered in to the Committee, from the Lords of the Admiralty,

1. The Reasons for discharging the Seamen from the Fleet, and not paying them on board their Ships:

2. Copies of Orders from the Lords of the Admiralty to the Navy Board, about paying Wages, and Bounty-money, to Men discharged from the Fleet:

3. Copies of Orders from the Lords of the Admiralty to the Flag Officers and Captains, about discharging Men from the Fleet:

4. Several Precedents for reducing Men from his Majesty's Ships, without paying them their Wages at the time of such Reduction.

There was also laid before the Committee a Copy of the Order of the Commissioners of the Navy, received from the Lords of the Admiralty, for soliciting for Money to pay the Seamen ordered to be discharged from the Fleet, for reducing their Complements; with Copies of their Letters to the Treasurer of the Navy; and other Proceedings thereupon.

All which Papers are submitted to the Consideration of the House, the Committee having no other Power than to inquire into the Reasons, how the Seamen came to be discharged without being paid.

The said Papers are as follow; viz.

Admiralty Office, 8<sup>o</sup> May 1701.

IN pursuance of the Directions of a Committee of the Honourable House of Commons, appointed to inquire into the Reasons, how the Seamen came to be discharged from the Fleet without being paid, there is herewith delivered to the said Committee, Copies of what Orders have been given by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty for discharging the said Men, and paying them their Wages and Bounty; but, since there was nothing, but Exchequer Bills, to pay them, that it was very uncertain when they could be reduced to Money, and altogether impracticable to pay the Men with the said Bills, by reason of the small Sums due to each Man, it was not thought convenient to send the said Bills to the Place where the Men were discharged, but rather to pay them their Wages, and Bounty, in Town; which is now doing, and to their full Satisfaction: To which may be added, That since the Ships in Sea Pay in April last did require upwards of 28,000 Men, and that there was actually borne on them 26,000, it was judged adviseable to begin with this Reduction, that so a good Strength might be kept at Sea the Winter Months, without exceeding 15,000 Men, one Month with another, the Year round; and, had not this Method been taken, these Men, which, generally speaking, are Land-men, would, in all Probability, have been kept near Three Weeks longer in Wages and Victuals; which would have cost the Government near 300*l.* a Day: And to shew, that it has been the common Practice, not only to reduce the Complements of Ships, but even not to pay the Men, so reduced, before the Payment of those Ships they served in, there is herewith delivered as many Precedents thereof, as the Shortness of Time would admit; by one of which, in January 1697-8, it will appear, That the Men of the whole Fleet then in Pay, except some few Ships bound on foreign Voyages, were reduced to their lowest Complements, and no Provision made for paying the said Men, till such time as the Ships they were discharged from were paid.

By the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of England, Ireland, &c.

Memorial to his Majesty.

THERE being no more than 780,000 l. in Prospect for the Sea Service this Year, which will maintain but 15,000 Men, one Month with another, for the 13 Months; we do most humbly inform his Majesty, That there is now about 26,000 Men in Pay; and that, if the Ships employed at home are brought to their lowest Complements, it will reduce them to about 24,000 Men: That, if that Number be kept up all the Month of May, there can be no more employed than 16,000 in the Month of August: If the said 24,000 Men are kept in Pay the Month of June, then there can be no more than 16,000 Men employed in July and August; and 10,000 Men from the First of September to the First Day of January following; which will bring each Month in the Year to 15,000.

A Petition of divers Merchants and Drapers of the City of London, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners being importers and Dealers in great Quantities of foreign Linen, which have generally been the Product of our Woollen Manufactures; but, by reason of the great Quantities that have been, and daily are, stolen in upon our Coast, they are much discouraged, and, in a little time, will be rendered incapable of carrying on their Trades; to the great Prejudice of his Majesty's Customs, the Discouragement of our English Manufacture of Linen and Canvas, and the Ruin of fair Traders: And praying Redress of the said Grievance.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee, to whom the Petition of the City of Exeter is referred.

A Petition of Colonel Nicolas Sankey, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioner commanded a Regiment the First Campaign in Ireland; which being reduced by the great Sickness at Dunkirk, it was, with others, broke: That the Petitioner had a Promise of Half-pay, till he was provided for; and he received the same for some time: That the Petitioner served several Years Campaign as Volunteer in Ireland and Flanders; by which he having contracted several Debts, he went to the Isle of Man, to reside; during which time he was left out of the List of broken Officers, laid before this House: And praying, That he may have the same Favour of receiving Half-pay, as other Officers.

Ordered, That the said Petition do lie upon the Table until the Report from the Committee appointed to inspect the Papers relating to Half-pay shall be made.

A Petition of John de la Croix, a late Officer, who served in the late Wars, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioner hath served, during the late War, both in Flanders and Ireland, and was disbanded on the 14th March 1699: That the Petitioner, being prevented of making his Application to this House, by a severe Fit of Sickness, is deprived of the Benefit of receiving Half-pay: And praying, That he may be admitted into the List of Half-pay, with other Officers of the Army.

Ordered, That the said Petition do lie upon the Table, until the Report from the Committee appointed to inspect the Papers relating to Half-pay shall be made.

A Petition of several Planters interested in, and Merchants trading to, the Island of Barbadoes, on behalf of themselves, and the rest of the Proprietors, and Inhabitants, of the said Island, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That there is a Duty of 4 and  $\frac{1}{2}$  per Cent. laid on the Commodities of the Growth of the said Island exported, by an Act of the Country, in Consideration of the great Charges necessary for the maintaining the Honour and Dignity of his Majesty's Authority there, the publick Meetings of the Sessions, the often Attendance of the Council, the Reparation of the Forts, the Building Building of a Sessions House and Prison, and defraying all other publick Charges incumbent on the Government, as may appear by the said Act, which passed there in September 1663: That the said Duty hath been ever since collected in the said Island by Officers appointed thereunto, by and under the Directions of the Commissioners of his Majesty's Customs in England; but the Produce thereof hath been applied to other Uses here than by the said Act was intended; whereby the Forts, and other Fortifications there, are become very much out of Repair, and in no Condition of Defence: That the Petitioners are informed, That by the Act passed in the 9th and 10th Year of his Majesty's Reign, intituled, An Act for granting to his Majesty a further Subsidy of Tonage and Poundage, towards raising the yearly Sum of Seven hundred thousand Pounds, for the Service of his Majesty's Household, the said Duty of 4 and  $\frac{1}{2}$  per Cent. collected in Barbadoes, is made applicable towards the raising the said 700,000*l.*; which, they presume, had not been done, if this House had been rightly informed to what Uses the said Duty was appropriated: And they rather presume so, for that it will be a great Discouragement to the Subjects in the Plantations, to raise Money for the Security and Support of the Governors thereof, and they shall be taken away, and applied to other Uses: And praying Relief in the Premises.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of the whole House, who are to consider further of Ways and Means for raising the Supply granted to his Majesty.

Woollen Manufacture.

A Petition of George Harrison, William Aldred, Abraham Vol, Zacheus Skingley, and other the Tradesmen in Colchester, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Woollen Manufactures in and about the said Borough are so considerable, that the Poor of the said Town, for Weaving, and of the Country 20 Miles round, for Spinning, have their Dependence thereon: That, for Supply thereof, Wool is weekly conveyed from London by common Carriers; and, after due Preparation, thence to Spinners in the Country: That the said Carriers, by reason of bad Weather, and divers Accidents, cannot make their weekly Returns, without sometimes exceeding the Hours limited by several Acts for preventing the Exportation of Wool; nor the Petitioners send to their Spinners in the Country, without doing the same: That the common Carriers of this Town have not been known, in Man's Memory, to carry any Wool for Exportation; notwithstanding which, certain Persons, deputed by the Commissioners in the said Acts appointed, have, of late, presumed to seize the Wool carrying to Spinners, and several Bags of Wool brought from London in Waggon; which, by the badness of the Weather only, had exceeded a few Hours appointed by the said Acts for their travelling in: That the Persons deputed had no Reason to suspect, that the said Wool was carried with any Intent to be exported, the Horses being out of the Waggon when the Seizure was made: Which Practices, if continued, will be a great Discouragement and Detriment to the Petitioners: And praying, That Consideration and Relief may be had in the Premises.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee to whom it is referred to consider of the Laws relating to the Woollen Manufacture.

Ditto.

A Petition of Sir Edward Deering Knight, Sir Stephen Evance Knight, John Deacle, William Young, Philip Raleigh, William Lawrance, Esquires, in behalf of themselves, and many more, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Woollen Manufactures of this Kingdom are the Jewel and Indies of England; which, rightly managed, is not only the Riches of the Nation, but hath an Influence on the Lands and Condition of all Persons, from the highest to the lowest: That the Exportation thereof, for many Years past, is fallen to Decay in Germany, and other Places, through the ill-manufacturing the same: The Petitioners do therefore humbly represent to this House, That the Means to recover this lost Trade, is, by making all Goods, to be exported, perfect and true, according to the Laws and Statutes in being; and that such Trade be carried on by a Company, to be erected by his Majesty's Letters Patents, by Leave of this House; and will engage, by voluntary Subscriptions of the Natives and Aliens in England, One Million of Pounds, for and towards such a Trade: And praying, That Leave may be given to bring in a Bill for the Ends aforesaid; and for the Improvement of the Woollen Manufactures of this Kingdom.

Ordered, That Leave be given to bring in a Bill, according to the Prayer of the said Petition: And that Mr. Freeman and Mr. Blofield do prepare, and bring in, the same.

A Message from the Lords by Sir Robert Legard and Dr. Edisbury:

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Ordered, That the Answer to the Lord Somers to the Articles of Impeachment exhibited against him be read To-morrow Morning at Eleven a Clock.

A Message from the Lords, by Sir Robert Legard and Dr. Edisbury:

Mr. Speaker,

The Lords have agreed to the Amendments made by this House, to the Amendment, Clause A, made by the Lords to the Bill, intituled, An Act for preventing any Inconvenience that may happen by Privilege of Parliament.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Mr. Bromley, according to Order, reported from the Committee, to whom it was referred to inquire by what Methods and Means the Waste and Destruction is made in Enfield Chace, That they had inquired into the same accordingly; and that they had directed him to report the Matter of Fact to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

That Mr. Ayloff, Deputy Auditor of the Duchy of Lancaster, presented to the Committee a Certificate from Mr. Westlake to Thomas Earl of Stamford, Chancellor of the Duchy and County Palatine of Lancaster, bearing Date the 25th June 1700:

A Warrant from the Earl of Stamford to Cheek Gerard Esquire, Clerk of his Majesty's Duchy of Lancaster, or his Deputy; and bearing Date 4th July 1700:

A Commission of Hugh Westlake Esquire, to cut, sell, and dispose of, Woods, Underwoods, and Trees, in Enfield Chace, during the King's Pleasure; dated 11th July 1700, Anno 12<sup>o</sup> Gul. 3<sup>tiu</sup>:

Articles of Agreement between Hugh Westlake, on behalf of his Majesty, on the one Part, and John Shelley, Citizen and Vintner of London, on the other Part; bearing Date 13th December 1700.

Mr. Westlake's Certificate to the Earl of Stamford sets forth, That, in Obedience to his Lordship's Warrant, the 21st of May last past, he had surveyed all the Woods, Underwoods, and Trees, within Enfield Chace, and found the same, consisting of Oak, Beech, and some few Ash, to contain 3,947 Acres, or thereabouts; and that, on every such Acre, one with another, great Part being very thick, may be growing 160 Trees; in the Whole,

631,520

631,520 Trees; whereof the most Part are 30 Foot high: That a great Part are Oak, standing in a very good Soil, from 6 to 10 or 12 Inches and upwards in Diameter; and, in time, may be large Timber: That it is necessary some should be cut down, in order to the better Growth of the rest: and the Wood will be improved thereby, and the Deer receive no Damage.

Wherefore, he humbly conceives, many Thousand Trees, together with the Underwoods, may be cut, and sold, without prejudice to the Chace and Deer yearly, and for several Years, for his Majesty's Use and Benefit.

His Majesty's Warrant to the Earl of Stamford requires him forthwith to prepare a Warrant, to pass the Duchy Seal, empowering Mr. Westlake the Surveyor, according to a Survey by the said Westlake lately made of all the Woods, Underwoods, and Trees, within the Chace of Enfield, at all seasonable Times, yearly, by the Directions and Orders, from time to time, of the said Earl, during his Majesty's Will and Pleasure, to cut, sell, and dispose of, all such Woods, Underwoods, and Trees, within the said Chace, as may be conveniently cut, and disposed of, without Destruction of the Chace, or Prejudice of such Fee-wood, as is or shall be yearly due, and of ancient Right belonging to the Officers within the Chace; the Money, after all Charges and Fees deducted, to be paid to the Receiver General of the Duchy; to be applied and disposed of for his Majesty's immediate Use, in such manner as his Majesty shall, from time to time, direct.

The Earl of Stamford's Warrant to Cheek Gerrard Esquire, or his Deputy, directs him to prepare a Warrant, to pass the Duchy Seal, directed to Hugh Westlake Esquire, Surveyor, &c. according to the Directions of his Majesty's Warrant, bearing Date 1<sup>o</sup> July 1700, therewith sent.

The Commission to Mr. Westlake recites the King's Warrant to the Earl of Stamford, and the Earl of Stamford's Warrant to Mr. Westlake; and that Westlake having lately surveyed the Woods, Underwoods, and Trees, in Enfield Chace, and certified, that considerable Quantities may be yearly cut, felled, and disposed of for his Majesty's Use, without Destruction of the said Chace, or Deer therein, commands him, according to the said Survey, and such further Directions and Orders as the said Chancellor of the said Duchy shall, from time to time, give for that Purpose, at all seasonable Times, yearly, during his Majesty's Will and Pleasure, to cut, sell and dispose of, all such Woods, Underwoods, and Trees, within the Chace, as may conveniently be fallen, and disposed of, without Destruction of the Chace, or the Vert and Cover of the Deer, or Prejudice to the Fee-wood due to the Officers of the Chace; having due regard to the Laws and Statutes of the Realm, made for the Preservation of Woods, and for saving and preserving the Springs of the Woods to be cut: And that, upon every Sale of Wood, the Contractors pay the Money to the Receiver General of the Duchy; who, by Warrant from the Chancellor of the Duchy, is to pay such Sums as shall necessarily be expended in Execution of this Commission; the Residue to be applied to his Majesty's Use, as he shall direct: And that all Contracts, Bargains, and Sales, of the said Woods and Trees, shall be reduced into Writing; the same to be delivered to the Clerk of the Revenue, to be produced as Occasion shall require.

The Articles of Agreement between Mr. Westlake, on the Behalf of his Majesty, on the one Part, and John Shelley, of the other Part, set forth; That, in consideration of 1,044*l.* to be paid Westlake by Shelley, in Manner therein mentioned, and in Consideration of the Covenants to be observed by Shelley, Westlake grants, bargains, and sells, to the said Shelley, his Executors, Administrators, and Assigns, for ever, great Quantities of Wood, Underwood, and Trees, in the said Articles specified; containing in the Whole, 261 Acres, or thereabouts, except and reserved all young thriving Oaks and Ashes, then growing on the respective Ridings, or within the intended Square or Centre, as should be thought convenient to be left standing, and so appointed in the Presence of the said Enfield Chace. Shelley, or Thomas Barnett, of East Barnett, in the County of Hertford, Gentlemen, or by some sufficient Deputy or Servant of the said Westlake, on or before the 25th March next ensuing; so as such young Oaks or Ashes shall not be more than reasonably sufficient, well to stock the said Ridings, Square, or Centre, with young, flourishing, and single Trees, at the usual Distance from each other.

To these Articles there is a Bond, of equal Date, affixed, from John Shelley, and Thomas Barnett, to Westlake, in the penal Sum of 2,000*l.* for Performance of Covenants.

Sir Basil Firebrass, Woodward and Master Forester of Enfield Chace, informed the Committee, That, in the last Civil Wars, there was such Waste and Destruction made of this Chace, no Timber was left; and it has been the constant Care of the Crown, ever since the Restoration, to preserve the young Trees and Timber, even to the restraining those from cutting, who have, by their Offices, a Right to Fee-wood; but that, of late, very great Quantities of Wood, of all Kinds, there, as Ulme, Ash, Hornbeam, and fine thriving young Oaks, of about 30 Years Growth, likely to make good Timber, have been cut down, under Colour of a Commission for making Ridings.

He acknowledged, some new Ridings he thought necessary; and when he heard of this Design, he, with Consent of Sir Henry Bellaise, and Mr. Lister, who have Walks in this Chace, and in the Presence of the Verderers, did set out and appoint several Ridings, in proper Parts of the Chace, as, by a Writing under the Hands of the Verderers appears: That Mr. Westlake, without any Regard to the same, made a new Plan, setting out other Ridings; and has allowed one John Shelley, a Man of little Substance, under Colour of the aforesaid Contract, to fall and dispose of Wood in the Chace, for making Ridings: That 2 or 300 Workmen have been employed in it for some time; and have observed no Method in falling the Trees, nor in leaving any standing at usual Distances; but have generally cut the best Trees, and gone to all Parts of the Chace for them, leaving others smaller, not so thriving, nor likely to make good Timber:

That he has seen the Articles betwixt Westlake and Shelley; and knows Trees are cut in several Parts of the Chace, not mentioned in them:

That the Trees are cut a little above Ground; not grubbed any of them up; and, as if their Masters were ashamed of what they have done, the Workmen have covered the Stools with Moss, to hide them:

That he verily believes the Brush-wood alone of the Trees fallen, is worth as much as Shelley is to give for all:

That he complained to the Earl of Stamford, in the Painted Chamber, of this Waste and Destruction of the Wood; who said, He had the King's Orders; and would go on, unless the King forbid him: And, speaking further to the said Earl of the burning Charcoal in the Chace, which, he heard, was intended, he answered, He had the King's Order; and, in a slighting Manner said, If he had any Complaints, he might put them in Writing, and bring them to his Lodgings; but he has been, at other times, so treated by this Earl; and his Lordship's Proceedings have been, in many Instances, so arbitrary, that he is quite discouraged from applying to him for Remedy upon any Complaints whatsoever:

That the ancient legal Method of the Chace has not been observed in setting out this Wood to be fallen: That the proper Officers within the Chace have been superseded doing their Duty by the Chancellor's Order; for that the Warrants for cutting Wood ought to have been directed to the Master of the Game and Deer, the Woodward and Bailiff, the Ranger, and divers Tenants: That the Homage should have valued it: The Chancellor afterwards is to direct the Sale; and the Keepers are to see it made:

That no Wood ought to be disposed of, till valued by the Verderers; and an yearly Account ought to be given to the Homage: That they know no such Officer in the Chace

Enfield Chace.

Chace as a Surveyor: However, the Earl of Stamford, without consulting the Officers of the Chace, and with the Surveyor of the Duchy only, has, in a summary Way, proceeded, and directed the Cutting, Falling, and Disposing, of the Wood, to the great Waste and Destruction thereof, and Injury of the Chace and Deer.

That, discoursing one Day with Mr. Westlake about this selling the Wood, Mr. Westlake told him, He would not sell, without reserving a Third Part to himself; offered him the Liberty to come in for a Share in the Contract and Sale: Which Sir Basil Firebrace refusing, Mr. Westlake desired he would not speak of this again; but said, If he did he would forswear it.

Sir Basil produced to the Committee a Valuation of the Wood in Cockfoster's Riding, amounting to 155*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.* all Charges deducted; though the same, he says, was sold for about 44*l.*

He says, No publick Notice was given of this Sale of the Wood, that so it might have been sold to the best Bidder.

Samuel Mitchell, Foreman of the Jury in the Chace, and William Bosgrave, Tho. Harrison, and Henry Cole, Verderers, acquainted the Committee, They had taken a particular Account of the Trees lately fallen, and intended to have been fallen, if not stopped by the Address of this House; and find the same to be as followeth:

That 3,981 Oaks, being young, thriving Trees, are cut down in the Ridings, and remain upon the Ground, besides many carried away:

That 2,791 Oaks more were intended to be cut down in the Ridings, if not prevented by the late Stop put to the falling them:

That 239, being the worst Oaks, are marked for Standards to be left in the Ridings:

That 2,709 Oaks, now standing in the Square, were intended to be cut down, but preserved by the late Stop to the falling them:

So that, besides Trees carried away, there remain, upon the Ground, Oaks cut down	3,981
Oaks intended to be cut down in the Ridings	2,791
Oaks intended to be cut down in the Square	2,709
	5,500

In all - - - 9,481

That the several Ridings, where the Wood is cut down, contains 286 Acres, all wooded, without Plains, which make, of Woodland-measure, 580 Acres:

That the Square contains 360 Acres, of which 294 Acres of the Wood are fallen:

That 73 Loads and an Half of Bark now lie in the Chace: That several Ridings are almost cleared, and the Trees and Wood carried away:

Samuel Mitchell further says, That in one Riding, he counted 400 Oaks cut down, and only 9 of the least and worst were left standing.

Charles Wilford, Keeper to Sir Basil Firebrace, says, That in cutting and falling the Trees in Enfield Chace, no Regard has been had to any Ridings: That they have gone into all Parts of the Chace for the best Trees: That they are cut off above-ground, the Stools covered with Moss in many Places, that they might not be discovered, and not any grubbed up:

That, on Wednesday the 14th Instant, about 9 in the Morning, he disturbed the Workmen, as they were falling the Trees, and told them of the Votes of this House; they went with him to one Moson, Mr. Westlake's Kinsman, and Shelly; who answered to the Votes, They signified nothing without an Act of Parliament; and that they would go on: And though the Order for stopping the cutting was with them about an Hour afterwards, the Workmen continued cutting till 6 at Night.

William Bosgrave says, Five of the Workmen told him, They worked all the next Day till 6 at Night, cut down and barked.

Mr. Westlake produced a Plan to the Committee, with the Ridings set out, as they were intended to be made:

He owned, the Ridings in his Plan were something different from those set out by Sir Basil Firebrace, and the Verderers; and that the latter was only signed by them; but said, They were shewed his Plan, and consented to it; which Sir Basil Firebrace, and the Verderers, positively denied.

He said, The Earl of Stamford directed him in the setting out the Ridings, and falling the Wood, to advise with the Verderers, and observe their Orders:

That the Contract with Shelley was only for 261 Acres; but that 400 were intended to be cut down; and that Shelley was to give for them at the Rate of 4*l.* an Acre; though this was only a verbal Agreement, and appears not in the Articles of the Contract:

That there was any such Conversation with Sir Basil Firebrace, as is mentioned in his reserving a Third Part of the Wood for himself, is absolutely denied; but he remembers, at another time, discoursing with Sir Basil about the Wood, Sir Basil desired he would reconcile him to the Earl of Stamford; and then they might make a good Hand of the Wood:

That there was no publick Notice of the Sale, he confesses; but he thought he sold it to the best Advantage:

That he received an Order for stopping the cutting the Wood, which was in the Chace, on Wednesday the 14th Instant, about 10 or 11 a Clock in the Morning; and believes the Workmen gave over Work immediately.

Mr. Joel Gascoyne, who was employed by Mr. Westlake to survey this Chace, says, The Plan delivered in to the Committee, was approved by Sir Basil Firebrace, and the Verderers:

That the Earl of Stamford told him, the Plan was shewed to the King in November last; and that his Majesty approved it:

That the Trees cut down, he judges, may be worth, one with another, 2*s.* 6*d.* a Tree:

That the Trees fallen in the several Ridings have been numbered, and he takes them to be 3,020; and that none have been carried away, to his Knowledge.

John Boson, says, The Oaks left in the Chace were of the best Trees he could mark out: That the Plan was shewed to the Verderers, and they approved it.

Thomas Barnett says, He first contracted with Mr. Westlake for the Wood in Cockfoster's Riding, at 5*l.* per Acre; afterwards for the Whole, at 4*l.* per Acre round.

Resolved, That it appears to this House, That great Waste and Spoil hath been committed in Enfield Chace, belonging to his Majesty's Duchy of Lancaster, by destroying great Quantities of Wood, and young Oaks, to the great Damage and Prejudice of the Publick.

A Motion being made, and the Question being put, Earl of Stamford censured.
That the Destruction of the Wood and young Oaks in Enfield Chace, hath happened through the Neglect of Duty, and Breach of Trust, of Thomas Earl of Stamford, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster;

The House divided.

Tellers for the Yeas,	{ Mr. Tredenham , Mr. Gulston :	136.

New Way to Lincoln's-inn-fields.

Sir Humphrey Mackworth reported from the Committee, to whom the several Petitions of Cavendish Weedon Esquire, and others, relating to the new Way out of Chancery-lane into Lincoln's-inn-fields, was referred, That they had examined the Matter thereof, and had come to several Resolutions; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz:

That the Committee having examined the Allegations contained in the said Petition of Mr. Weedon, it appeared, That, by an Act made the last Sessions of Parliament, intituled, An Act for the speedy and effectual making a convenient Way out of Chancery-lane to Lincoln's-inn-fields, and Places adjacent, a Tax was given for making the said new Way before the 25th Day of March, then next ensuing; viz. The Sum of Two Shillings and Six-pence a Quarter upon all Hackney Coaches within the Bills of Mortality; and the like Sum upon Cars, Carts, Tumblers, and Drays, within the several Parishes of St. Giles in the Fields, St. Andrew's Holbourn, St. Clement Danes, St. Dunstan's in the West, and St. Bride's, for the Term of Six Years; with Liberty to borrow Three thousand Pounds, at Six Pounds per Cent. per Annum, the better to expedite the said Way:

VOL. 13.

That the said Tax on the said Coaches amounts unto Three hundred and Fifty Pounds per Annum; and the Carts, Cars, Tumblers, and Drays, to Ninety-three Pounds per Annum; in all, Four hundred and Forty-three Pounds per Annum; but, deducting the Charges in collecting the same, the clear Product of the said Act is Four hundred and Thirteen Pounds per Annum; which, at Six Years End, in all, amounts to the Sum of Two thousand Four hundred Seventy-eight Pounds:

That, by the said Act, Eighty-nine Feet of Jackanapes-alley was granted to be sold towards the said Way; which is accordingly sold for One hundred and Five Pounds; and the Materials of the old Houses were sold for Sixty Pounds: So that the whole Value given by the said Act is Two thousand Six hundred Forty-three Pounds:

That the Petitioner Mr. Weedon, to serve the Publick, effected the said new Way Six Months sooner than the Time limited by the said Act: And it appeared to the Committee, that he underwent very great Trouble, Charge, and Hazard, in executing the said Act, when other the Commissioners would not venture to join in the same:

That the Committee also having examined the Allegations contained in the Petition of Shem Bridges and John Thornicroft Esquires; as also of Jane Dring, an Infant, on behalf of herself and Tenants; it did appear, That the said Mr. Bridges and Mr. Thornicroft were, by the said Act of Parliament, to be paid for their Houses, that were to be pulled down for making the said new Way, the Sum of Two thousand Six hundred Pounds; That no Person being willing to lend any Money upon the said Act, the Petitioner Mr. Weedon, and Two other of the Commissioners named in the said Act; viz. Mr. Atwell and Mr. Turner; assigned the said whole Tax, and Jackanapes-alley, in Mortgage, to Mr. Wotton and Mr. Townesend, in Trust for Mr. Bridges and Mr. Thornicroft, for the Sum of Two thousand Six hundred Pounds; whereby they claimed Interest for the said Two thousand Six hundred Pounds; which amounts to the Sum of Seven hundred Ninety-six Pounds, or thereabouts: But the said Act being deficient to make good the same; and the said Mr. Bridges and Mr. Thornicroft being willing, Mr. Weedon, who had nothing left but the Sixty Pounds for the said old Houses, to carry on the said Way, as also all other Persons, should be satisfied their Damages on account of the said Way, having agreed to wave their Interest; which being deducted, there appears due unto the said Mr. Bridges and Mr. Thornicroft, upon the said Act, the Sum of Two thousand Six hundred Pounds for their Principal, and Seventy-two Pounds for their necessary Charges they have been put unto by reason of the said Act;

In all, the Sum of - - 2,672 0 0

It did also appear, upon the said Mrs. Dring's Petition, That she, and the Proprietors, and Tenants on both Sides of the Way; viz. Mr. Houghton, Mr. Rich, Mr. Norton, Mr. East, Mr. Haves, Mr. Foster, and Mr. Walker; have sustained real Damages, to the Sum of - - 455 0 0

And to Mr. Weedon, for all manner of Charges, Expences, and Demands, in making the said new Way, as by his Bill appeared - - 1,021 7 7

Which said Three Sums above-mentioned do amount unto the Sum of - 4,148 7 7

And the Profits arising by the said Act, amounts unto the Sum of - - 2,643 0 0

So that the Act falls short, and is deficient, the Sum of - - 1,505 7 7

Tythe of Lead-ore.

The Answer of the Lord Somers to the Articles of Impeachment exhibited against him was, according to Order, read; and is as followeth; viz.

Lord Somers'
Impeachment.

The Answer of John Lord Somers, Baron of Evesham, to the Articles exhibited by the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled, in the Name of themselves, and of all the Commons of England, in Maintenance of their Impeachment against him, for high Crimes and Misdemeanors supposed to be by him committed.

THE said Lord Somers, saving to himself all Advantages of Exception to the said Articles, and of not being prejudiced by any Words, or Want of Form, in this his Answer; and also saving to himself all Rights and Privileges belonging to him, as One of the Peers of this Realm; for Answer to the said Articles, humbly saith,

1. To the First Article, That, he believes, the now Emperor of Germany, and the States General of the United Provinces, being, in the Year One thousand Six hundred Eighty-nine, engaged in a War with France, a Treaty and Alliance was concluded between them; and a separate Article then made, to the Effect in this Article mentioned; and that his Sacred Majesty did afterwards enter into, ratify, and approve, the same; to which Treaty, separate Article, and Ratification, for more Certainty thereof, he referreth himself: And further saith, That, in the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-and-eight, his Majesty, before he left England, was pleased to tell him, That some Intimation had been given to the Earl of Portland, when in France, that the French King inclined to come to an Agreement with his Majesty concerning the Succession to the Crown of Spain; and afterwards, in August One thousand Six hundred Ninety-and-eight, his Majesty being then in Holland, and the said Lord Somers at Tunbridge Wells, by his Majesty's Permission, for Recovery of his Health, Mr. Secretary Vernon communicated to him a Letter he had then received, written by the Earl of Portland, by his Majesty's Order; wherein it was mentioned, that Count Tallard, who was then Ambassador from the French King to his Majesty, had had declared, an Accommodation might be found out in relation to the Succession of Spain, in case of that King's Death; and that his Majesty had sounded France upon what Terms an Agreement might be made; and the Conditions were near of this Nature; viz. That the Electoral Prince of Bavaria should have the Kingdoms of Spain, the Indies, the Low Countries, and all that depends upon the Spanish Dominions, except the Kingdom of Naples and Sicily, Sardinia, the Province of Guypuscoa on this Side of the Pyreneans, Fontarabia, and St. Sebastian, Finall, and the Places in Tuscany, of which Spain then stood possessed; in Consideration of which France was absolutely to renounce the Right it pretended to the Succession of Spain; and Milan was to be given to the Archduke, Second Son to the Emperor; and that his Majesty commanded the said Mr. Secretary to speak to him, the said Lord Somers, touching that Matter; and that his Lordship should discourse it with those he thought he might trust with that Secret; which to keep with the utmost Care was, by the said Letter, mentioned to be of the highest Importance: And, at the same time, the Lord Somers received a Letter from his Majesty, signed by himself, intimating, that Count Tallard had made some Propositions touching an Agreement with his Majesty, concerning the Succession of the Kingdom of Spaine, the which the said Earl of Portland would write to Mr. Secretary Vernon, to the end his Majesty might have some Opinions upon that Affair, which required the greatest Secrecy, and in which no Time was to be lost, if that Negotiation were to be carried on; and, for that End, his Majesty thereby commanded the said Lord Somers to send full Powers to him, under the Great Seal of England, with Blanks for the Names of Commissioners to treat with Count Tallard; which his Majesty, by the said Letter, was pleased to say, he believed, might be done secretly, that none, but the said Lord Somers, and Mr. Secretary Vernon, and those to whom the said Lord Somers and Mr. Secretary should communicate it, might have Knowledge thereof; and that the Clerks, who were to write the full Powers, might not know what they were; or to the like Effect: And the said Lord Somers did immediately return the Earl of Portland's said Letter to Mr. Secretary Vernon, and desired him to communicate the Contents thereof to the Earl of Orford, and the now Lord Hallifax, Two of the then Lords Justices, who, as he was assured, were then in Town; and also to such others as they and Mr. Secretary Vernon should think fit; who, in regard of the King's Command to have that Affair kept a Secret, thought fit to impart it to the Duke of Shrewsbury only, as the said Mr. Secretary afterwards acquainted the said Lord Somers; and, some time afterwards, the said Lord Hallifax came down to the said Wells, and Mr. Secretary Vernon coming thither also about the same time, they and the said Lord Somers had discoursed together concerning the said Proposal: And the said Lord Somers, by Letter dated the Eight-and-twentieth of August One thousand Six hundred Ninety-and-eight, did, as his own Thoughts, and as what he apprehended to be the Result of their Consideration, humbly represent to his Majesty; First, That the Entertaining of such a Proposal, as was mentioned by Count Tallard, seemed to be attended with many very ill Consequences, if the French did not act a sincere Part; but that they were soon at Ease as to any Apprehension of that sort, being fully assured, his Majesty would not act, but with the utmost Niceness, in an Affair, wherein his Glory, and the Safety of Europe, was so highly concerned: That the Second Thing they considered was, the very ill Prospect of what was like to happen upon the Death of the King of Spain, in case nothing was done previously towards the providing against that Accident, which seemed probably to be very near, the King of France then having so great a Force in such a Readiness, that he was in a Condition to take Possession of Spaine before any other Prince could be ready to make a Stand; that his Majesty was the best Judge whether that was the Case, who was so perfectly informed of the Circumstances of all Parts abroad; but, so far as related to England, it would be want of Duty not to give his Majesty this clear Account, That there was a Lord Somers Deadness and Want of Spirit in the Nation universally, so Impeachment. as not at all to be disposed to the Thoughts of entering into a new War; and that they seemed to be tired out with Taxes to a Degree beyond what was discerned, until it appeared upon the Occasion of the then late Elections; that That was the Truth of the Fact; upon which his Majesty would determine what Resolutions were proper to be taken: The remaining Consideration was, What would be the Condition of Europe, if the Proposal took place? but of That they thought themselves little capable of judging; but, it seems, that, if Sicily was in the French Hands, they would be intirely Masters of the Levant Trade; that, if they were possessed of Finall, and those other Sea Ports on that Side, whereby Milan would be intirely shut-out from Relief by Sea, or any Commerce, that Duchy would be of little Signification in the Hands of any Prince; and that if the King of France had possession of that Part of Guypuscoa, which is mentioned in the Proposal, besides the Ports he would have in the Ocean, it did seem, he would have as easy a Way of invading Spaine on that Side, as he then had on the Side of Catalonia: But it was not to be hoped, that France should quit its Pretensions to so great a Succession, without considerable Advantages; and they were assured his Majesty would reduce the Terms as low as could be done, and make them, as far as was possible in the then present Circumstances of Things, such as might be some Foundation for the future Quiet of Christendom, which all his Majesty's Subjects could not but be convinced was his true Aim; and, if it could be brought to pass, That England might be some way a Gainer by that Transaction, whether it was by the Elector of Bavaria, who was the Gainer by his Majesty's Interposition in that Treaty, his coming to an Agreement to let the English into some Trade to the Spanish Plantations, or in any other Manner, it would wonderfully endear his Majesty to his English Subjects.

That it did not appear, in case the Negotiation should proceed, what was to be done on his Majesty's Part, in order to make it take place; whether any more was required, than that the English and Dutch should sit still, and France itself was to see it executed; and, if that were so, what Security ought to be expected, that, if by their being Neuters, the French should be successful, they would confine themselves to the Terms of the Treaty, and not attempt to make further Advantages of their Success? And the said Lord Somers saith, That, after the Writing of his said Letter, he had no Account whatsoever, nor heard any thing, of the said Treaty, or knew or heard, whether the same was proceeded upon, or not, until towards the latter End of September following, when he was acquainted by Mr. Secretary Vernon, that he had received an Account, that a Treaty, relating to the Succession of the Crown of Spaine, had been adjusted, concluded, and signed, by the Commissioners named by his Majesty for that Purpose, and the Ambassador and Plenipotentiary of the French King: And the said Lord Somers doth deny, that the said Treaty of Partition, or any Proposition for such Treaty, or the Transaction thereof, was communicated to him the said Lord Somers; nor was he acquainted with the same, or the Design thereof, or any other Matter relating thereto, at any other time, or in any other Manner, before he was told of the Concluding and Signing thereof, as aforesaid, than as is herein before-mentioned to be done by his Majesty, as aforesaid, and by his and the said Earl of Portland's Letter herein before-mentioned: And the said Lord Somers doth deny he did, at any time whatsoever, advise his Majesty to enter into the said Treaty, or any way encourage or promote the same; but, having made the Objections before-mentioned, in his said Letter to his Majesty, against the Propositions so communicated to him as aforesaid, and clearly laid open such Thoughts and Observations as occurred to him upon the said Matter, he did thereby, as he conceived, fully and faithfully discharge his Trust, and the Duty incumbent on him: And the said Lord Somers further saith, That afterwards Mr. Secretary Vernon did acquaint him, that he had received, by his Majesty's

Lord Somers' Impeachment.

Majesty's Command, a Copy of the Treaty relating to the Succession to the Crown of Spain, and of Two secret Articles relating to the Matter of that Treaty; and that he had likewise his Majesty's Command to prepare the Instruments for the Ratification of the same, and to leave Blanks therein for the Names of the Commissioners of the States General; and accordingly the said Mr. Secretary did prepare the said several Instruments, and did bring the same, so prepared, to the said Lord Somers, to pass the same under the Great Seal; which was done accordingly, the said Lord Somers having a good and lawful Warrant so to do; and the said Ratification was transmitted to his Majesty, to have the same perfected in his Presence: Which Treaty, and secret Articles, were to such or the like Effect as in this Article is set forth; but, for more Certainty, he refers himself to the said Treaty and Articles.

And the said Lord Somers, not being privy, in any other Manner than as aforesaid, to the said Treaty, or the Transaction thereof, doth not know when, or in what manner, the same was communicated to the States General.

2. 3. To the Second and Third Articles, the said Lord Somers saith, That he having received his Majesty's express Commands, by his Letter mentioned in his Answer to the First Article, to send to his Majesty full Powers, under the Great Seal of England, for negotiating the said Treaty, with Blanks for his Majesty's Commissioners Names; which, he humbly conceives, and is advised, was a sufficient Warrant for him to pass a Commission under the Great Seal for that Purpose; and the same being prepared in the usual Form of Commissions or full Powers with Blanks for Commissioners Names, according to his Majesty's Direction, he did affix the Great Seal to the same; and the said Commission was sent to his Majesty, then in Holland, to be perfected in his Presence, by inserting the Names of such Persons as his Majesty should think fit to commissionate therein, as, he conceives, might legally be done; which Commissioners were to receive their Instructions from his Majesty for the Execution of their said Power, together with the said Commission, in usual Manner: But what Instructions, or whether any Instructions, in Writing, were given to the Commissioners, in relation to the executing the said Power, the same no ways concerning the Lord Somers, he knows not: And the said Lord Somers saith, He did desire his Majesty, that a particular Warrant for the said Commission, which had been before sent by Mr. Secretary Vernon to his Majesty, as he informed the said Lord Somers, for his Signing, might be signed, and returned; not that he doubted his Majesty's said Letter to be a sufficient Warrant, but for that such Warrant might be more proper to be produced, if Occasion should require, than his Majesty's said Letter; which, by reason of other Matters therein contained, ought not to be produced without his Majesty's Permission, and which is now made use of by his Majesty's gracious Leave: And the said Lord Somers further saith, That his Majesty having, by his own and the Earl of Portland's Letter before-mentioned, directed that his Majesty's said Commands should be kept secret, he did not communicate the making of the said Commission, otherwise than to the Persons mentioned in his Answer to the said First Article.

4. To the Fourth Article he saith, That Mr. Secretary Vernon having prepared, by his Majesty's Command, the Instruments for Ratification of the said Treaty, with Blanks therein, as is before set forth, he did affix the Great Seal to the said Ratification with such Blanks; which he conceives, and is advised, he might lawfully do: And having also his Majesty's Command, that the said Treaty should be kept secret, he did not communicate the same to the rest of the then Lords Justices, or his Majesty's Privy Council; which besides, he conceived, was unnecessary to be done, in regard his Majesty had then, by his Commissioners perfected the said Treaty; so that the same could not be altered.

5. To the Fifth Article, the said Lord Somers saith, He believes, that, in the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-and-nine, another Treaty was entered into, and concluded between his Majesty, the States General, and the French King, to such or such-like Effect as in this Article is mentioned; to which Treaty, for more Certainty thereof, he referreth himself; And denieth, that he had any Knowledge of such Treaty, or any Transaction in order thereunto; save only that a Draught of the said Treaty was read over in the presence of divers of the Lords of his Majesty's Privy Council, whereof the said Lord Somers was One: to which Draught the said Lord Somers, as well as others then present, did make several Objections; but they were informed by his Majesty's Plenipotentiaries for transacting the said Treaty, who were then also present, That the said Treaty was so far perfected, that nothing could then be altered therein; and his Majesty afterwards, by his Warrant, requiring the Ratifying of the said Treaty under the Great Seal, he did affix the Great Seal to such Ratification, being, as he conceives, obliged so to do.

6. To the Sixth Article, he saith, He conceives it was not incumbent upon him, as Lord Chancellor, to see the Commissions or Ratifications, in this Article mentioned; inrolled; the same being prepared, and brought to the Great Seal, by the Secretaries of State, ready ingrossed; and, when sealed, taken away by them, and the original Treaties remaining in their Custody; but the Care of inrolling the same, if necessary, doth, as he conceives, belong to the Prothonotary of the Court of Chancery.

7. To the Seventh Article, he saith, That, when the Great Seal was committed to his Custody, he took the Oath of Office to the Effect in that Article set forth; and, during the time he had the Custody thereof, he did carefully, diligently, and honestly, endeavour to keep the said Oath; and hopes and believes he hath duly observed the same; and doth acknowledge, That, during the time he was Lord Keeper and Lord Chancellor, he did pass several Grants to divers Persons of several Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments, belonging to his Majesty in Right of the Crown of England; but saith, That, before any of them came to the Great Seal, the same were regularly passed through the proper Offices, and brought, with sufficient Warrants, for the Great Seal; and believes more considerable Grants have passed, in the like Number of Years, in most of his Predecessors Times; and conceives, and is advised, that, being required by his Majesty, by proper Warrants, to pass the same, he ought so to do: And denies, That he did ever advise, promote, or procure, any Grant to be made to any Person whatsoever, of any forfeited Estate in Ireland, or did procure any Act or Bill, prepared for confirming any such Grant in the Parliament in Ireland, to be approved in the Privy Council in England: And saith, That, what Bills of this Nature were remitted under the Great Seal of England, to be passed into Laws in Ireland, the same were first approved, and passed, in the Privy Council in England, according to the usual Form in such Cases; and being so approved, were, by Order of Council, sent to the said Lord Somers; who was, by the said Order, required to affix the Great Seal thereto.

8. To the Eighth Article, he saith, He did, during the time he had the Custody of the Great Seal, receive the Profits and Perquisites thereto belonging, which, before his Time, were become very inconsiderable; and did also receive an annual Pension or Allowance from his Majesty of Four thousand Pounds, being the like Pension that had been allowed to several of his Predecessors: But denies, that he did ever beg, or use any Means to procure, any Grant whatsoever from his Majesty, for his own Benefit: But saith, That what his Majesty was pleased to give him proceeded from his Majesty's own Motion, and of his mere Bounty, and, as his Majesty was pleased to declare upon that Occasion, as an Evidence of his gracious Acceptation of the said Lord Somers's zealous Endeavours for his Service; and the same was done without any previous Solicitation by him the said Lord Somers, or any other, to his Knowledge or Belief; and that, in the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-seven, his Majesty, of his own Motion, did grant, for the Benefit of the said Lord Somers, the Manor or Manors of Rygate and Howley, as in the said Article is mentioned; but the same was, and is, far short of the Value thereby suggested: And the said Lord Somers further saith, He never pretended to purchase, in his own Name, or in the Name or Names of any other Person or Persons in Trust for him, any of the Fee-farm Rents, or other Rents, vested in Trustees for Sale; but his Majesty taking notice, that several of the said Fee-farm Rents, and other Rents, so vested in Trustees, were unsold; and the said Trustees being, by the Acts of Parliament vesting in them the said Rents, declared to hold the same for the Benefit of his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors; his Majesty did, in the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-seven, of his own Motion, without any Solicitation, Procurement, or Means, used by the said Lord Somers, acquaint the then Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, or some or one of them, That it was his Majesty's Pleasure, that Two thousand One hundred Pounds per Annum of those Rents should be granted to, or for the Benefit of, the said Lord Somers, and his Heirs; and that all proper Methods should be used for vesting the same for his Benefit, as of his Majesty's free Gift; and the said Acts of Parliament having directed, That the said Trustees on Sales should convey the said Rents pursuant to Contracts to be signed by the Lord Treasurer, or Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, for the Time being, or any Two of them, for the Satisfaction of the said Trustees only; and according to the Method that had been used, from the Time of making the said Acts, in passing Grants of any of the said Rents, even such as were merely of the Bounty of his Majesty's Predecessors, and of his Majesty; such Warrants were made by his Majesty to the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury to contract, or give Warrants to the Trustees to contract, for the said Rents; and such Contracts were, pursuant thereunto, made; and such Grants of the said Rents were passed, as in the said Article is mentioned; and the Money, mentioned in such Contracts, was, for the Perfecting of his Majesty's said intended free Gift, discharged by Tallies struck for that Purpose: And the said Lord Somers saith, The said Contracts were not intended or designed to make the Grantees of the said Rents appear to be Purchasers; but the said Lord Somers always acknowledged he received the said Grants of his Majesty's Bounty; and, he humbly conceives, it was lawful for him so to accept the same.

9, 10. To the Ninth and Tenth Articles the said Lord Somers saith, That, after his Majesty had given such Direction to the Lords of the Treasury for granting Fee-farm Rents, and other Rents, to the yearly Value aforesaid, for the Benefit of the said Lord Somers, and his Heirs, and after Warrants were signed by the Lords of the Treasury to the said Trustees, for making Contracts for conveying Rents of the said yearly Value, for the Benefit of the said Lord Somers, it did appear, that the said intended Contracts and Grants could not be perfected; for that neither the Lords of the Treasury, nor the said Trustees, were sufficiently informed what Fee-farm Rents, or other Rents, remained undisposed of; so that the whole Benefit of his Majesty's intended Bounty would have been lost, without Information could be granted of such particular Rents: And the said Lord Somers being informed, that Reginald Marriott, and John Digby, in this Article named, were the most likely, if not the only, Persons capable to give Information therein, Application was made to them for that Purpose; and the said Marriott and Digby, being so applied to after the said Warrants of his Majesty, and the said Lords of the Treasury, were executed, as aforesaid, did refuse to give any Account of such Rents, unless they might have, as a Reward for their so doing, Rents amounting to near a Fourth-part of such Rents, whereof they should give such Account, conveyed in Trust for them, in such manner as in the said Article is mentioned; which the said Lord Somers did, as he conceived, he lawfully might, it being only to his own Loss and Prejudice, comply with; not in order to any such End as is suggested in the said Article, but that he might perfect the Grant before designed and appointed to be made to him by his Majesty of his own free Will, and not at the said Lord Somers's Solicitation; the Discovery of any of the said Rents not being made by the said Marriott and Digby, or any other Person, till after the said Warrants of his Majesty, and the Lords of the Treasury, as aforesaid; and accordingly the several Grants, in this Article mentioned, were made to Hancock and Warner, in Trust for the said Marriott and Digby, as was affirmed to the said Lord Somers: And the said Lord Somers saith, There was not any Sum of Money paid as the Consideration of the Grants of the said Rents; but the Contracts were made, and the Payment of the several Considerations thereof were discharged, in the Manner, and for the Reasons, herein before set forth; and were not colourably or fraudulently contrived, in Deceit of his Majesty, or Elusion of the said Acts of Parliament.

11. To the Eleventh Article the said Lord Somers saith, He believeth, that several of the Rents, mentioned to be granted in Trust for him, as aforesaid, had been before granted to other Persons by the said Trustees; and that others of them were not in the Power of the said Trustees to grant; which was, and is, very much to his Prejudice: And believes the same were inserted by mistaken Informations given touching the same, and not out of any Design; and the like Mistakes have frequently happened in other Grants of other of the said Rents: And denies, that, to his Knowledge or Belief, any of the said Rents, so granted for his Benefit, were ever united or annexed to the Castle of Windsor for any Purpose whatsoever; or that any Oppression or Vexation hath happened to any of his Majesty's Subjects, by Reason of the Granting of any of the said Rents, and, as he believes, little or no new Charge to the Crown.

12. To the Twelfth Article the said Lord Somers saith, That, his Majesty having designed, of his Bounty to him the said Lord Somers, and his Heirs, Fee-farm and other Rents, to the annual Value in the said Grants mentioned; and the said Trustees having covenanted, as was usual for them to do, that they had not made any former or other Grant or Conveyance of the said Rents, or any of them; and Three hundred Forty-seven Pounds Eleven Shillings and Three-pence Farthing per Annum of the said Rents, so granted as aforesaid, having appeared to be granted before, or not to be grantable, by the said Trustees, or not leviable on Surrender of such Rents; the said Trustees, by Warrant of the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, who were thereunto sufficiently authorized, in Lieu and Satisfaction of the said Rents, and Arrears thereof, and in Discharge of the Covenants of the said Trustees, did, the Twenty-first Day of October One thousand Six hundred Ninety-and-nine, grant divers other Rents, amounting to the yearly Value of Three hundred Ninety-one Pounds and Three-pence Halfpenny, to Richard Adney, and his Heirs, as in the said Article is mentioned, which were not so granted, as if the said yearly Rents of Three hundred Forty-seven Pounds Eleven Shillings and Three-pence Farthing had been bona fide, purchased, but was in Lieu and Reprize for the same as granted of his Majesty's Bounty, for the Benefit of the said Lord Somers, and his Heirs, as aforesaid; which, he conceives, might be, and was, lawfully done.

13. To the Thirteenth Article the said Lord Somers saith, He doth admit, that, in the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-five, he then being Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England, his Majesty, being informed, as the Truth was, that Thomas Too, John Ireland, Thomas Wake, and William Maze, and several other of his Majesty's Subjects in his Plantations of America, had associated themselves, and did frequently commit great Piracies, Robberies, and Depredations, on the Seas in the Parts of America, and other Parts, to the Hinderance and Discouragement of Trade and Navigation, for preventing the said Mischiefs, did grant a Commission, as in this Article is mentioned, unto William Kidd, in this Article named, who was the Commander of the Ship called the Adventure Galley, and was not then, to the Knowledge or Belief of the said Lord Somers, esteemed a Person of ill Fame or Reputation, to apprehend, seize, and take into his Custody, the said Thomas Too, John Ireland, Thomas Wake, and William Maze, and all such other Pirates as he should meet with in the Seas of America, or any other Seas, with their Ships and Vessels, and such Merchandizes, Monies, and Wares, as should be found on board, or with them, and to cause such Pirates to be brought to a legal Tryal; the Granting of which Commission was then apprehended to be necessary for the Preservation of Trade and Navigation. And the said Lord Somers doth also admit, That a Grant, dated the Seven-and-twentieth Day of May One thousand Six hundred Ninety-seven, did pass under the Great Seal of England, as in this Article is mentioned; whereby, reciting the said Commission so granted to the said William Kidd, and that the said Adventure Galley was, with his Majesty's Knowledge, and Royal Encouragement, bought and fitted out to Sea, for the Execution of the said Commission, at the Charge of the Earl of Bellamont, Edmund Harrison, Samuel Newton, William Rowley, George Watson, and Thomas Reynolds, in this Article named; his Majesty for encouraging and rewarding the said Undertaking, did grant unto the said Earl of Bellamont, Edmund Harrison, William Rowley, George Watson, Thomas Reynolds, and Samuel Newton, who was named by and in Trust for the said Lord Somers, their Executors and Administrators, all and whatsoever Ships, Vessels, Goods, Merchandizes, Treasure, and other Things whatsoever, which, since the Thirtieth Day of April One thousand Six hundred Ninety-six, had been taken or seized upon or with, or did belong to, or should happen to be taken or seized upon or with, or which did or should belong to, the said Thomas Too, John Ireland, Thomas Wake, and William Maze, or their Adherents, or any other Pirates, by the said William Kidd, or other Commanders of the said Adventure Galley, or which, by, or by Means of, the said Ship or Galley, should be taken, or forced on Shore, on any of his Majesty's Plantations in America, so far as the said Premises, or any of them, did, should, or might, belong to his Majesty, or could or might be granted or grantable by him, or was or were in his Power to dispose of; which Grant was not intended to be without an Account; for the said Lord Somers saith, That, by Indenture bearing Date the Two-and-twentieth Day of May One thousand Six hundred Ninety-seven, made, after the Warrant for the said Grant was signed, and before it was passed, between his Majesty of the one Part; and the said Earl of Bellamont, Edmund Harrison, William Rowley, George Watson, Thomas Reynolds, and Samuel Newton, of the other Part; they the said Earl of Bellamont, Edmund Harrison, William Rowley, George Watson, Thomas Reynolds, and Samuel Newton, did covenant, promise, and agree, with his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, well and truly to account for, and deliver, upon Oath, to the Use of his Majesty, his Heirs and Successors, or the Commissioners of his or their Treasury, or his or their High Treasurer, a clear Tenth Part, the Whole in Ten equal Parts to be divided, of all and every such Ships, Vessels, Goods, Merchandizes, and other Things whatsoever, which in and by the said Grant should be given, or which should, from time to time, be taken, or seized, or secured, by them, or any of them, their or any of their Executors or Administrators, Officers, Agents, Servants, or Assigns, by virtue or colour thereof; to which Grant and Indenture the said Lord Somers, for more Certainty referreth himself: And further saith, He conceives, and is advised, That the said Grant did not any way tend to the Obstruction or Discouragement of Trade or Navigation, or to the Loss or Prejudice of Merchants, or others his Majesty's Subjects, or the Subjects of his Friends or Allies; or to the Dishonour of his Majesty, or the Kingdom; nor was the Passing of the same any Breach of the Duty of the said Lord Somers; but the said Grant was for and as a Recompence to the said Grantees, who, at their own Charge, had provided and fitted out the said Ship, to enable the said William

Kidd to execute the Powers in the said Commission mentioned; whereby the Publick might have received great Benefit, had the said William Kidd faithfully discharged the Trust in him reposed by his Majesty, and the said Grantees; which he failing to do, the Owners of the said Ship have lost all their Expences, and have not received any Benefit of his Majesty's said Grant.

14. To the Fourteenth Article the said Lord Somers saith, He did not delay any Proceedings in any Cause or Causes depending before him, as Chancellor of England, longer or otherwise than as the Circumstances and Justice of each Cause required; but did, to the very manifest Impairing of his Health, constantly apply himself to the Dispatch of the Causes depending before him: And denies that he did ever make, by colour of his Office, any arbitrary or illegal Order, to the Subversion of any Law or Statute of this Realm; or did ever assume to himself any arbitrary or illegal Power; or ever reverse any Judgment given in the Court of Exchequer, otherwise than as is warranted and allowed by the Law, and in the Presence of the Barons of the Court of Exchequer, who were always present in the Court of Exchequer Chamber when their Judgment were examined, as the Statute in such Cases directs: Nor did ever deliver in any Court of Judicature, or other Place whatsoever, any Position whatsoever dangerous to the legal Constitution of the Kingdom, or destructive to the Property of the Subject, as is charged by the said Article.

And as to all other Matters and Things in the said Articles contained, and not herein before particularly answered unto, the said Lord Somers saith, he is not guilty of them, or any of them, in Form as the same are charged upon him in and by the said Articles; and humbly submitteth himself to your Lordships Judgment.

Sir Rowland Gwynne, according to Order, reported, from the Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to them, touching the Election for the Borough of Clifton-Dartmouth-Hardness, in the County of Devon, and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz. Dartmouth Election.

Upon the Petition of Thomas Vernon and William Ball Esquires, complaining of an undue Return of Nathanael Herne and Frederick Herne Esquires to serve for the Borough of Clifton-Dartmouth-Hardness:

As to the Matter of the Return, the Committee did not think fit to come to any Opinion; because the Merits of the Election came before them at the same time.

But the State of the Case was thus;

That there was in Dartmouth, at the time of the Election, Two Persons pretending to the Office of Mayor: viz. Mr. Floud and Mr. Bully.

The

Dartmouth
Election.

The Mayor of Dartmouth enters upon his Office on the Monday after Michaelmas.

That Mr. Floud, from the Monday after Michaelmas to the Day of the Election, had kept the Town Courts, and had possessed himself of the Mayor's Seat in the Church: Mr. Bully had in his Possession the Seal and Maces of the Corporation: The Precept was delivered to Mr. Bully, which was afterwards demanded by Mr. Floud, and denied him by Mr. Bully: Mr. Bully afterwards gave Notice of the Election, and went, at the Time appointed for the Election, to the Town Hall, which he found Mr. Floud possessed of; whereupon he adjourned to Bescone, and proceeded to the Election in that Place, where Mr. Floud followed him: And Two Polls were taken, one by Mr. Floud, and the other by Mr. Bully: And Mr. Bully sent an Indenture to the Sheriff, importing, That the Petitioners were duly elected: And Mr. Floud sent him another Indenture, under another Seal of the Corporation, importing, That the Sitting Members were duly elected: Both these Indentures were sent up, by the Under Sheriff, to Mr. Granger, who acted for him in London, with Direction to him to advise upon it, if he did see Occasion: And Mr. Granger offered the Petitioners to make a Double Return, if they thought fit; but, they not agreeing to that, the said Mr. Granger made a Return only of the Indenture sent to the Sheriff by Mr. Floud; upon which the Sitting Members are returned to this House.

That, as to the Merits of this Election upon the Poll taken by Mr. Bully, the Numbers were as follow;

That for the Petitioners, 51.

That for the Sitting Members, 49.

That, upon the Poll taken by Mr. Floud, the Numbers were thus;

For the Sitting Members, 49.

For the Petitioners, 33.

But, however, the Petitioners Counsel insisted, That they would disqualify several that voted for the Sitting Members: And, as to Fourteen, the Objection was, That they were made free when Mr. Palmer was Mayor, without a competent Number of the Chamber: And, as to that, they called,

Simon Lumley: Who said, That Mark Hayman, Edward Reynolds, Hugh Kiss, George Stroud, John Hinde, Francis Hill, John Myrch, Giles Wheeler, Richard Henley, Rich. Savery, Sampson Mathews, Richard Cole, and Enoch Cole, were some of the Eighteen that were made free by Mr. Palmer:

That, at the Chamber, when these Persons were made free, there only appeared Mr. Palmer the Mayor, Mr. Floud, Mr. Veasy, old Whitrowe, Mr. Bully, and Mr. Toser: That old Whitrowe and Bully said, There was no Chamber, and went away before they were made free; so that there was only the Mayor and Three Magistrates in the Chamber; whereas it is generally esteemed, that the Mayor and Six Magistrates make a Chamber to make Freemen.

Nath. Straw said, That Mr. Whitrowe and Mr. Bully, being come to the Chamber at the time these Persons were to be made free, asked them, What they were about to do: And, it being answered, They were about going to make some Persons free, the said Mr. Whitrowe and Mr. Bully said, There was no Chamber; and went away:

And said, At the same time these Persons were made free, some eldest Sons of Freemen demanded to be made free; and were denied by the Mayor.

Jacob Stone said, That he came to Dartmouth in Seventy-one, and had lived there ever since, and has been Serjeant there: And he said, He never knew them make any Persons free, without the Mayor and Six Magistrates; and that the Mayor and Five have met, and they have gone away, and done nothing, for want of the Sixth.

Thomas Garrett said, That he was one of the Eighteen made free by Mr. Palmer: And that he did promise to vote for Sir Joseph Herne, or otherwise he had not been made free.

Edward Chant said, That being Three Years ago at Dartmouth, and being in Company with the Mayor, and talking of the Election, he heard such a one would set up, naming the Person: And the Mayor said, He did not doubt of his not coming in; for they would make Freemen enough to keep him out.

And they produced Two Constitutions: One, Two-and-Twentieth August One thousand Five hundred and Fifty-eight, by which it was agreed, by the Mayor, his Brethren, and the whole Council of the Town, That no Mayor, after the said Day, should make free of the same Town any manner of Person whatsoever, without the Consent of the Council of the Town; and another Constitution, Thirtieth of January One thousand Six hundred and Seventy-two, That no Person should be made free, without the Consent of Seven Magistrates.

The Petitioners Counsel objected to John Fownes Esquire, and Giles Yard Esquire, as honorary Freemen, because the Oath of honorary Freemen is different from that of a trading Freeman; the Oath of the latter obliging them to perform the Duties of the Corporation, which is not mentioned in the Oath of an honorary Freeman.

That the Petitioners Counsel also objected to Five; viz. William Cock, John Manoway, John Clarke, Francis Yard, and William Lang; as being made free by Mr. Rocket, who was no Mayor.

And the Short of that Case is this: Mr. Whitrowe was Mayor of Dartmouth, and died within his Year: Mr. Whitrowe had been sworn by Mr. Bully, that was Mayor before him: After the Death of Mr. Whitrowe, Mr. Bully swore Mr. Sykes Mayor; but Mr. Rocket, being a Candidate for the Mayoralty, and thinking himself aggrieved, the Day before Michaelmas, when Mr. Sykes was at London, broke open the Guildhall, and kept Possession: And afterwards brought a Mandamus for Mr. Bully to swear him Mayor; which Mr. Bully refusing to do, and making a Return, That Mr. Rocket was not duly elected, Mr. Rocket brought an Action against Mr. Bully, for a false Return; and had a Verdict against Mr. Bully; the Exemplification of which was produced to the Committee: And Mr. Floud succeeded Mr. Rocket, and Mr. Bully succeeded Mr. Sykes; but there was no Account of any Act done by Mr. Bully, as Mayor, except that he had received Bushelage, and signed some Passes: And Mr. Floud has acted as Mayor to the time of the receiving the Precept, without Interruption of Mr. Bully, and ever since:

That, as to the Poll, the Sitting Members Counsel excepted to several that had polled for the Petitioners, under several Heads; viz. to Ten that were made free by Mandamus, on Pretence of being the Sons of Freemen, or having served Apprenticeships:

To Five others made free by Mr. Sykes, on the same Pretence; and to Four others, by several Mayors, on Pretence of a Right that the Mayor for the Time being had, of himself, to make One Person free in his Mayoralty:

That the Names of the Ten made free upon the Mandamus, were, Thomas Lidston, John Hutchins, Robert Hodge, Geo. Channell, Wm. Bowden, Wm. Elliott, John Stone, Stephen Smith, Sam. Budley, John Cawley:

And Newman said, That these Ten were made free by Mr. Bully, when he was Mayor, upon bringing the Second Mandamus, suggesting, That, by Custom, such as were the eldest Sons of Freemen, or had served Seven Years Apprenticeship to Freemen, had a Right to their Freedom; whereas several of the Chamber said, There was no such Right; and would have had Mr. Bully have made that Return to the Mandamus; and only Mr. Whitrowe, of the Magistrates, consented to their being made free: And Newman said, That the Judge did declare at the Assizes, That one Reason of the Jury's giving a Verdict against Mr. Bully, upon the Action brought for a false Return of the Mandamus sued out for the Swearing of Mr. Rocket Mayor, was, That the Jury were of Opinion, That those made free by Mr. Palmer, were well made free; and that these Ten Persons were not well made: However, it was admitted, That they were all of them the Sons of Freemen, or had served Seven Years Apprenticeship.

Mr. Newman further said, That the Occasion of making Freemen by Mr. Palmer was, That, the Session before, before, there were Two Tryals; and, having Occasion for Two Juries, and the Freemen being always of the Juries, it appeared to the Judge, That there was a Want of Freemen; and the Judge directed Mr. Palmer to make more Freemen:

That, as to the other Five Freemen, their Names were Samuel Surway, Richard Sampson, Geo. Diggon, Geo. Hingston, John Lidston senior.

And Newman said, That these Five were made free by Mr. Sykes, on the same Pretence of Right as the Mandamus Freemen were made: And that there was no Magistrate but the Mayor and Mr. Bully present:

That the Four objected to, as made Free by Right claimed by several Mayors, and are commonly called the Mayor Freemen, were, John Sykes, Jacob Clift, Sylvanus Evans, Nic. Weekes.

And several Entries in the Books were produced, that made out the same:

That, as to the Usage, the Counsel called,

William Mamory: Who said, He had known Dartmouth Forty Years; and the usual Custom of making free, was by the Mayor, and major Part of the Magistrates who appeared: And the Practice of the Mayor's Freemen were grounded upon this; That the Mayoress would choose an able Man; and, by Consent of the Magistrates, he was made free.

That, by way of Reply,

The Petitioners Counsel insisted, That, by the Law of England, the eldest Sons of Freemen, and such as had served Apprenticeships, had a Right to their Freedom:

And produced several Instances, wherein several Persons, being mentioned, in the order of their Admittances, to be the eldest Sons of Freemen, and having served Seven Years Apprenticeship, were admitted for small Fines; viz. the eldest Son for 6s. 8d. Fine, and the Apprentices for 10s. Fine:

That the Petitioners Counsel also produced several Entries, in their Books, of Persons made free, as the Mayor Freemen; viz. One Person by a Mayor: But there was no Instance of that Kind since the Year One thousand Six hundred and Seventy-two:

That the Sitting Members Counsel admitted, That it had been formerly the Practice for the Mayors to make, each of them, One Freeman; but, since the Constitution of One thousand Six hundred Seventy-two, that Practice had been discontinued.

That the Committee, upon the whole Matter, came to these Resolutions;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Nathanael Herne Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Clifton-Dartmouth-Hardnesse, in the County of Devon.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Frederick Herne Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough of Clifton-Dartmouth-Hardnesse.

The First Resolution being read a Second time;

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That Nathanael Herne Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Brough of Clifton-Dartmouth-Hardnesse, in the County of Devon.

The Second Resolution being read a Second time;

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That Frederick Herne Esquire is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the said Borough of Clifton-Dartmouth-Hardnesse.

Winchester Election.

Sir Rowland Gwynne also, according to Order, reported, from the said Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to them, touching the Election for the City of Winchester; and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Vo L. 13.

Upon the Petition of Frederick Tilney Esquire, complaining of an undue Election and Return of the Lord William Powlet, and George Rodney Bridges Esquire, to serve for the City of Winchester: Winchester Election.

That, upon the Poll, there was,

For Mr. Bridges, 55.

For the Lord Wm. Powlet, 49.

For Mr. Tilney, 41.

That the Petitioner's Counsel owned, That they had no Instructions against Mr. Bridges Election.

But the Petitioner's Counsel insisted, That there had been indirect Practices by the Sitting Member, the Lord William Powlett; and that they should also take off several from his Lordship's Poll: And they called,

Richard Good: Who said, That he was Mayor of Winchester the last Year before this, and also Under Sheriff of the County of Southampton; but he had the Under Sheriff's Office by the Recommendation of the Duke of Bolton, who, at the same time, engaged him not to make any Freemen of Winchester without his Approbation: However, it was acknowledged, That the Duke of Bolton had not proposed to the Aldermen to make Mr. Chute and Mr. Pitt free; and it was opposed by Mr. Perdue and Mr. Sharpe; they saying, It was against the Duke's Interest: Mr. Good also said, That Mr. Tilney had settled a Benefaction on the City in the same Year, the Nature of which was, to lend Money to some poor Tradesmen for a certain Time, without Interest: And that, the same Year, he did make Mr. Woodroffe, and Mr. Tichborne free: And that afterwards Mr. Bridges came to him, and told him, He had a Letter from the Duke; and that he called him Knave, and said, He had very much disobliged the Duke, by making Persons free against the Duke's Interest; and that the Duke would be his Ruin.

And Mr. Good further said, That he had received Letters out of the Isle of Wight, That Colonel Lee would not employ him as Under Sheriff, because he was out of the Duke's Favour: That afterwards he was restored to the Duke's Favour; and the Duke wrote a Letter to Colonel Lee, on the said Mr. Good's behalf; but Colonel Lee said the Letter came too late.

Mr. Matthew Imber, the present Mayor, said, That he had been Mayor several times; and that, a little before Michaelmas last, the Duke desired him, That he would not make any Person free without his Approbation: And he was desired to oppose the making free of Mr. Chute and Mr. Sturt; which accordingly he did, because he had promised the Duke: But it was acknowledged, That the Duke had not proposed any to him to be made free: And Mr. Imber further said, That the Recorder asked him, if the Under Sheriff's Place would be suitable to him; and he reckoned it was so proposed, to engage him to oppose the making of Mr. Chute and Mr. Pitt free: And that the Recorder came to him, after the Dissolution of the last Parliament, and desired him to send the Serjeant to the Members of the Corporation, to desire them to attend the Duke, at his House, in the Afternoon:

That accordingly the Serjeant went: And he, coming to wait on the Duke, found a great Number of the Corporation there; and the Duke pressing him for his Votes, he told his Grace, He hoped he did not expect both his Votes: That they had Wine there; but Mr. Bridges said He would not drink, unless it was upon the Recorder's Account: That, desiring to make his Brother free, he was told, He must ask the Duke's Consent: To which he replied, Shall I not make my Brother free, who may leave my Family 1,000 l. ? and, accordingly he did make him free: And that, waiting on the Duke the Election Day in the Morning, his Grace desired him not to go to the Election, till Major Morgan came to Town: That, at the Election, the Duke of Richmond said to Colson and Clerke, Two of the Electors, when they came to give their Votes, There is an honest Man, that stands to his Word! Upon which which Mr. Bridges went to the Duke of Richmond, and desired him to be silent, or he would spoil all.

Wm. Strong said, That, a Fortnight or Three Weeks before the Election, he went to the Duke of Bolton's for his Son's Money; and the Duke told him, If he would not vote for the Lord William Powlet, he would not pay it: That afterwards, he went by the Duke's Order, to Mr. Coward, the Recorder of Winchester, for the same Money; and Mr. Coward the Recorder told him, If they did not vote for my Lord William Powlet the Duke would remove the Sessions and Assizes; and that it should be the worse for him: And Mr. Recorder engaged him to set his Hand to his Book, That he would vote for the Lord William Powlet.

Thomas Baines said, He was one of the Common Serjeants, and is annually chose into his Office: And, as he was passing down the Street, he was called into Mr. Sharpe's Shop, where was Mr. Perdue; which Mr. Sharpe and Mr. Perdue voted for the Lord William Powlet; and they told him, If he did not vote as they did, he should be turned out of his Office; but, in fact, he still continues his Office.

William Baines said, That the Night before the Election, he was at the White Hart, where were the Lord William Powlett, Mr. Dickinson, and some of the Corporation; and they drank Wine there; and the Reckoning came to 19s. odd Money, which Mr. Dickinson paid:

That, at another Time, the said Lord William Powlett, Mr. Sharpe, Mr. Perdue, and Mr. Cobb, and others, drank together, and had Fifteen Quarts of Wine, which, Two or Three Days after, Mr. Cobb paid for; though the Witness could not say whose Money it was, nor whether Mr. Cobb made an Interest for my Lord William Powlett.

Richard Speering, a Cooper, and his Wife, testified, That, the Latter-end of December last, Mr. Coward, the Recorder came, at Two several times, to their House, and asked for Richard Speering's Vote; and said, If he would not vote for the Lord William Powlet, the Lady Russell's Work would lie at stake: But they said, There was no Authority from my Lady Russell for what Mr. Coward said; and Mr. Coward had employed the Husband since.

Richard King said, That, when Colson gave his Vote, the Duke of Richmond said, There is a Man stands to his Word! And that the Mayor was angry with the Town Clerk, because he did not call the Names in Order: And the Duke of Bolton said, Go on.

In order to disqualify several of the Sitting Members Votes, the Petitioner's Counsel called several Witnesses:

Mr. Matthew Imber, Matth. Thompson, said, That Mr. Faulkner and Mr. Smith were made free at St. John-house, in the Year One thousand Six hundred Ninety-three, after a publick Dinner, at which was the late Duke of Bolton; which was not the usual Place of making free; though it was acknowledged, that the Mayor, and other Corporation Officers, had been elected there, but not sworn; and that Freemen had neither been elected nor sworn there.

The Petitioner's Counsel objected to Ellis Mews, That he had surrendered his Aldermanship and Freedom; and, upon procuring the Entry, it appeared, that he had surrendered his Aldermanship; but the Words of Surrender of his Freedom were obliterated: And Mr. Imber said, He believed that the Words of surrendering his Freedom were in, when he signed the Paper of Surrender; but could not be positive; and that Mews had not acted till this Election.

Mr. John Haley said, That, about the Middle of March last, the said Ellis Mews did declare, That he thought he had, by the Paper he had signed, surrendered his Freedom as well as his Aldermanship.

Mr. Imber said, That Fryer the Town Clerk was grown poor, and lived in the Hospital of St. John's: However, it was acknowledged, that his Place was worth 15*l.* or 20*l.* a Year: And the former Town Clerk lived in the same Place, and put in for his Poverty:

That Robert Bridges lives without the Liberty of the City, and is one of the Twenty-four; and that, by the Charter, none but the Citizens were to be of the Twenty-four:

That he believed the Presence of the Three Dukes made People vote otherwise than they would have done, if they had not been there; but they did not give any threatening Words.

Mr. Good said, That he never knew any made free, and of the Twenty-four, that did not live in the City.

Matthew Thompson, a Serjeant of the Town, said, He voted for the Lord Wm. Powlet and Mr. Tilney; and would have given Mr. Tilney a single Vote, but was afraid he should lose his Place: However, he acknowledged, that nobody in Power had threatened him.

That the Petitioner's Counsel offered to prove, That, as to the Six that voted for the Lord William Powlet, their Admittances were not upon stamped Paper; but the same was admitted: And the Sitting Members Counsel insisted, That there were no Admittances on stamped Paper, neither was the same necessary.

That the Sitting Member's Counsel called Two Witnesses; viz. Mr. Pitman and Mr. Richard Mitchell, with relation to indirect Practices by the Petitioner:

Mr. Pitman said, That one Mr. Garway, Mr. Tilney's Agent, paid to one Baines 5*l.*; and told him, He wished him good Luck, and bid him be honest, and the Money should not be asked of him: However, he acknowledged, that there was no Discourse at that time about the Election.

Richard Mitchell said, That Mr. Tilney and Mr. Garway were at his House, several times, to desire his Vote; and that one time Mr. Tilney came to his House; and his Man brought Two Bottles of Sack; and Mr. Tilney, and his Wife, and he, drank of it: And that, Two or Three Months before the Election, Mr. Tilney came to his House, and told him, Mr. Perdue had taken 100*l.* a Year of him; but, for the future, he the said Mitchell should have his Custom: And came again on Christmas Eve; and afterwards again, and discoursed him about Buying of Goods; and told him, he should not trust; and laid down Three Guineas on the Dresser; That Mr. Tilney, at the same time asked the said Mitchell for his Vote; but he, not promising his Vote, nor their being any Agreement about the Goods, Mr. Tilney took up his Guineas again:

That the Lord William Powlet said, He had other Witnesses; but thinking it not necessary, he would not trouble the Committee with them.

And, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to these Resolutions;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the Lord William Powlet is duly elected a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of Winchester.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That George Rodney Bridges Esquire is duly elected a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of Winchester.

The First Resolution being read a Second time;

And the Question being put, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That the Lord William Powlet is duly elected a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of Winchester;

The House divided.

The Noes go forth.

Tellers for the Yeas, { Sir William Strickland, } 154.

Tellers for the Noes, { Mr. Bromley, } 114.
                                  { Mr. Freeman : }

So it was resolved in the Affirmative.

The Second Resolution being read a Second time;

Resolved, That the House doth agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That George Rodney Bridges Esquire is duly elected a Citizen to serve in this present Parliament for the City of Winchester.

Sir

Honyton
Election.

Sir Rowland Gwynne also, according to Order, reported from the said Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to them, touching the Election for the Borough of Honyton, in the County of Devon, and the Resolution of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

Upon the Petition of William Courtney, Esquire, complaining of an undue Election and Return of Sir Walter Young, to serve for the Borough of Honyton:

That the Right of Election was agreed to be in the Pot-wallers, not receiving Alms:

That, upon the Poll, there was,

For the Petitioner, 18.

For Sir Walter Young, 191.

But the Petitioner's Counsel insisted, That the said Sir Walter Young, by several Practices, was rendered incapable of Sitting, upon the said Election:

And they called several Witnesses.

Mr. George Blagdon, the Portreeve, delivered in the Poll, and said, That Mr. Ravenhill did take a Poll, which he supposed, was for Sir Walter Young; and that Mr. Ravenhill, Mr. Walters, Mr. Saunders, and others in Sir Walter Young's Interest, went from House to House; but he could not say to what Purpose, he not being with them: And said further, That Sir Walter Young had served for Honyton as long as he could remember; and Two or Three times, without Opposition.

Dr. James Orchard said, That he is an Inhabitant of Honyton; and that Knight and Clerke, who had Votes, kept Two Alehouses, opposite to him; and that Six or Seven Days before the Election, he saw Abraham Thomas and William Abbot give Money to the said Knight and Clerke to be spent in Drink on such as voted for Sir Walter Young; several of which appeared drunk in the Street: That several who voted for Mr. Sanford, did appear very merry too; and that he heard the Voters say, They paid nothing for their Drink. Dr. Orchard further said, That the said Knight and Clerke went from House to House; but he did not hear them ask any Votes; and could not say, they were any way related to Sir Walter Young.

Mr. Serle said, That, Two or Three Days before the Election, Mr. Ravenhill came to him, and told him, He admired he would be against his Interest, and not vote for Sir Walter Young; and that there was a Place in the Custom-house, that his Brother might have had, if it were not for him; and that himself should have a Place of fourscore Pounds a Year. He further said, That there was great Drinking; and that there were Fourteen or Sixteen Houses that entertained Sir Walter Young's Voters; and they said, That Mr. Ravenhill and Mr. Glanville would see them paid. The said Mr. Serle voted for Sir William Drake and Mr. Sandford.

James Hunter said, That he kept a Publick House in Honyton; and that Mr. Ravenhill and Mr. Glanville came to his House a Week before the Election; and he received Eight Shillings of one, and Seven Shillings of the other, to be spent in Drink on Sir Walter Young's Voters; several of which carried the Drink home to their Houses:

That the Names of several, who were to drink the Eight Shillings, were set down in a Peace of Paper, and left with him; and that Captain Wm. Chaplin, and others, told him, If he would vote for Sir Walter Young, they would bring Thirty Men to dine at his House. He further said, That Mr. Glanville was a Laceman in London, and came down Ten Days before the Election.

Thomas Barron said, That he voted for Sir Walter Young, and had Six Shillings to draw Six Dozen of Beer to Six of his Neighbours; and that Mr. Saunders and Mr. Ravenhill were by; and the Names of the Men were wrote down; Five of which voted for Sir Walter Young and Sir William Drake, and One of them for Mr. Sandford: And that the next Day, Abbot and Thomas said,

They came from Mr. Granville, and delivered him Three Shillings to draw out in Beer to Six Men, and Six-pence for himself; and that, besides they had Twelve-pence apiece in Money; and that, the Day before the Election, he had Seven Shillings more from Abbot and Thomas, to draw out in Drink; and, the same Day, Thomas and Abbot came to him, and bid him provide Victuals for Six Men; and, in all, he received between 30s. and 40s.: That there was a great Company the Day before, and on the Election Day, drinking at Lockyer's, who voted for Sir Walter Young and Sir William Drake; but he could not tell who paid for it: That, he believed there were Twenty Houses who drew Drink, and entertained such as voted for Sir Walter Young; and he believed, in all, there might be 200*l.* spent; but he, said Barron, could not tell who it was that employed the Persons that went about; but Mr. Granville, Mr. Thomas, and Abbot, said, It was their own Money that they spent.

Mr. Wendover said, That Abraham Thomas asked him for his Vote for Sir Walter Young, and gave him One Shilling; which he said Mr. Glanville sent him.

He also confirmed Barron's Evidence, as to Eating and Drinking at Lockyer's on the Election Day, and at other Times and Places; and said, He believed, in the Whole, there was 2 or 300*l.* spent: And that the said Wendover on the Election Day, talking with John Cesse, Sir Walter Young's Servant, in the Dolphin Yard, Cesse said, Let it cost what it would, Sir Walter would not lose it: That Shachley, the Saturday before the Election, invited him to go to the George Inn; but he refused it, because it was Market Day; and afterwards he met the said Shachley, who told the said Wendover, He had spent Eight or Nine Pounds; and that it had cost him 40*l.* and he would spend 100*l.* rather than Sir Walter Young should lose it: And that Ravenhill, being asked, by one Tucker, what he had got, answered, Six Chancery Suits:

And that Pulman, a Servant of Sir Walter Young's, did say, He was weary of Drinking; but Wendover could not say, that Pulman or Cesse paid any Money: And that the Reckoning was placed to Mr. Glanville's Account.

Thomas Blackmore said, That Mr. Saunders and Mr. Clerke gave Martin a Shilling, and bid him take it to his Wife; and they would have had him taken a Shilling; and told him they had put his Name on the Roll; and he, said Blackmore, denying to give Sir Walter Young his Vote, and Clerke said, He should get nothing by it in the End: And Wendover and Blackmore said, That about Fifty Horse came to Honyton the Night before the Election; several of which were Officers in the Militia.

William Chard said, That Mr. Ravenhill, Mr. Granville, and Mr. Martin, came to his House on New-year's Day at Night; and Ravenhill left Five Shillings, to be drank by Sir Walter Young's Voters; and wrote their Names in Chalk on the Table; and some of them had Money, and some Drink: And that Mr. William Serle, who belongs to the Custom-house at Dartmouth, and whose Wife keeps a public House at Honyton, came and voted for Sir Walter Young; and gave it as a Reason, because Sir Walter Young had helped him to a Place: That several of Sir Walter Young's Voters drank at Serle's House; but the Witness could not say at whose Charge.

The Counsel for the Sitting Member, Sir Walter Young, insisted, That Sir Walter Young was a Man of undoubted Interest in Honyton, having served in Seven Parliaments, and in most of them without Dispute: That, a little after Sir Walter Young came down, the Taps were set to run by Mr. Sandford; and that Mr. Glanville came accidentally from London, upon his own Occasions, being a Laceman; and what Money was spent, was out of his imprudent Zeal of such Persons as had a Respect for their old Burgesses, for Services they had done for the Town; especially with relation to the Lace Act: And they called several Witnesses.

Mr. Richard Saunders said, That, about Ten Days before the Election, 140 or 150 Voters went out of the Town voluntarily to meet Sir Walter Young; and that, after

Honiton
Election.

after it was talked, that Sir Walter Young would be opposed, he went about the Town to know who would be voluntarily for Sir Walter Young; and he took an Account of Nine Score: That the Morning of the Election, the greatest Part of the Voters met on the Cornhill; and it being rainy snowy Weather, many of the Voters went into Houses; and he himself went into Lockyer's; but he neither eat nor drank there.

John Waters said, That, before the Election, he, and others, took several Parts of the Town, and went about to inquire who were for Sir Walter Young; and, in the lower Part of the Town, which he went to, there were Three Score that declared themselves for Sir Walter Young.

Jos. Ashton said, That Mr. Courtney desired his Vote for Mr. Sandford; and the said Mr. Courtney, not being able to prevail upon him, was in a great Passion: and said he would tell his Father.

Abraham Mathews said, He was raised a Groat a Week in his Standing, because he voted for Sir Walter Young; and that he had lost some Persons Custom for voting for Sir Walter Young:

That several of Mr. Courtney's Voters eat and drank at Elmes' House, to the Value of Thirty Pound, as he believed; and afterwards he told Elmes of it; who said, He gave it freely: Which Elmes, the Witness said, was the principal Man that voted for Mr. Courtney.

John Crout said, That one Scourse, who belonged to Major Drew, a Justice of Peace, came the Night before the Election, and gave him a Pint of Wine; and told him If he did not vote for Mr. Sandford, it would disoblige his Master; and, if he came before his Master, there should be no Justice:

And that William Wendover, a Fortnight after the Election, upon a Discourse that there was like to be a Petition against Sir Walter Young, declared, That he could say nothing against Sir Walter Young; and that no Man was sworn before the Committee; and it was no more than telling a Lye.

Robert Viney said, That Major Drew's Clerk asked him, If he had any Money to be for Sir Walter Young? and though he had not any on that account, yet Major Drew's Clerk would have had him put his Hand to a Paper, acknowledging, That he had received Money.

Jos. Martin, a Sadler, said, That the Day before the Election, he was asked by Sir John Poole, and others, for his Vote; and not voting as they would have him, they paid him his Bills; and he hath since lost their Custom.

Philip Lowman said, That Major Drew sent for him, and asked him, If he had any Money to be for Sir Walter Young? and he told him, That he had not: However, Major Drew's Clerk would have had him put his Hand to a Paper, That he had received Two Shillings. It appeared, that the Petitioner did not, at any time before the Election, declare he would stand.

And that, upon the whole Matter, the Committee came to this Resolution;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Sir Walter Young Baronet is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Honyton, in the County of Devon.

The said Resolution being read a Second time.

And the Question being put, That the House do agree with the Committee in the said Resolution, That Sir Walter Young Baronet is duly elected a Burgess to serve in this present Parliament for the Borough of Honyton, in the County of Devon;

The House divided.

The Noes go forth.

Privilege.

Sir Rowland Gwynne also, according to Order, reported, from the said Committee of Privileges and Elections, the Matter, as it appeared to them, upon the Complaint of the Breach of Privilege against James Herbert Esquire, and the Resolutions of the Committee thereupon; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same were read; and are as follow; viz.

Upon the Complaint made to the House, That Edward Oliver junior, Thomas Terry, John Terry, and George Briggs, have entered upon the Lands of James Herbert Esquire, in the County of Kent, and taken away Copperas Stones from off the same, in Breach of the Privilege of this House:

That the Committee have examined several Witnesses in relation to that Matter; viz.

John Kennard said, That he knew the Estate where the Stones were picked; and that he held the Ground of Mr. Herbert; and that his Father, and himself, had paid Rent for it Eighteen Years to Mr. Herbert.

Mr. Gustavus Mell said, That he received Rent for Mr. Herbert, of Kennard, for the said Ground; and had sold the Stones for Mr. Herbert several Years: That he had forewarned the Persons against Picking off the Copperas Stones from Mr. Herbert's Ground; and did know in fact, that they were carried away; but could not speak as to the Persons complained against, he not being present when the Fact was done.

Stephen Taplin said, That himself, and Goodman Terry's Wife and Family carried the Stones from Mr. Herbert's Ground, and mixed them with the Stones on Mr. Guidott's Ground; and that Thomas Terry, John Terry, and George Briggs, were present when the Stones were carried from Mr. Guidott's Ground, and put into the Boat.

Mary Milksted said, That Taplin, and Goody Terry, and herself, carried Stones off Mr. Herbert's Ground to Mr. Guidott's: That Goodman Terry knew his Wife picked the Stones off Mr. Herbert's Ground; for that he had seen them do it several times; and he paid for the picking of some of them no longer ago than the 15th of May last.

Mary Kinsfoot, said, She had seen Goodman Terry's Servant and Children gather Stones from Mr. Herbert's Ground within Six Weeks.

Stephen Taplin, said, That Edward Oliver's Hoy, which carried away the said Stones, lay against Mr. Herbert's Lands.

Charles Waste said, That, by virtue of a Power given him from Mr. Herbert, he seized these Stones to Mr. Herbert's Use, upon Mr. Herbert's Manor; but he did not know upon whose Ground; and discharged them from taking away the said Stones.

Edward Gilbert said, That he had seen Captain Terry's Son and Daughter pick them; and they were afterwards carried away by Captain Terry to Oliver's Hoy, in Carts.

Henry Addis said, That he had rented the Profit of these Stones of Mr. Herbert, for his Master's Use; and that he paid on the First Lease, Fifty Pounds a Year, and, on the Second Lease, Sixty Pounds a Year; both which Leases were expired.

Mr. Mell said, That he had sold these Copperas Stones for Two hundred Thirteen Pounds a Year, clear of all Charges.

That the Counsel for the Persons complained against, insisted, That, upon the Evidence given, it appearing that these Stones carried away were mixed with Mr. Guidott's, the Property of them all became Mr. Guidott's; and that they had forewarned the Pickers to take Stones from Mr. Herbert's Ground: And called,

Edward Metham: Who said, That Mr. Guidott, about Three Years ago, did forewarn Taplin and Milksted not to pick any Stones from Mr. Herbert's Ground.

Elizabeth Kennard said, That this Freight had been gathering almost Twelve Months; and that she heard Stephen Terry, Two Years ago, forewarn Taplin and Milksted from picking any Stones off Mr. Herbert's Ground.

And

And that the Committee came to these Resolutions ;

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That Thomas Terry, by his Wife, Children, and Servants, hath gathered a Parcel of Copperas Stones upon Mr. Herbert's Land, and carried them to Mr. Guidott's.

Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, That the said Thomas Terry, having done so, is guilty of a Breach of the Privilege of this House.

The said Resolutions, being severally read a Second time, were, upon the Question severally put thereupon, agreed unto by the House.

Army Debts.

A Petition of divers Officers, Clothiers, and others, willing to purchase forfeited Estates in Ireland, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners being interested in Arrears of Pay, and Cloathing the Army, and also possessed of Transport Debentures, Malt Tickets, and other Species, directed by Act of Parliament to be taken in Payment for the Purchase of the said Estates; which, to dispose of at the present Discount, would ruin many of the Petitioners; That it seems very difficult for the Petitioners to become single Purchasers, with their separate Effects, not only in respect of the great Trouble and Expence each Person must be at, in making particular and distinct Purchases, but that Purchases can never be found, suitable either to the Abilities of the Petitioners, or to the Species they are separately possessed of: Therefore the Petitioners, and others, are desirous to become joint Purchasers, and have subscribed about Two hundred and Sixty thousand Pounds, and deposited the greatest Part thereof in the several Species aforesaid: That they are sensible many Difficulties may arise, and attend such joint Purchasers, in regard the same must be taken in Trust; whereby they will not be so capable of disposing their respective Estates, or sue, or be sued, as if they were empowered to act in a politick Capacity: And praying, That Leave may be given for bringing in a Bill for an Incorporation, for the Purposes aforesaid; with such Powers and Limitations as this House shall think fit.

Answer to Lords Messages respecting Im-
peachments.

Mr. Bromley reported from the Committee, to whom it was referred to draw up the Articles of Impeachment, and who were to consider of the Messages from the Lords, relating to the former Impeachments, and inspect the Precedents of Messages in relation to former Impeachments, and report the same to the House; That they had considered the said Messages, and inspected the Precedents: And that they had drawn up an Answer to the Message from the Lords, the Twenty-first Instant; and had directed him to report the same to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

IN Answer to your Lordships Message, of the Twenty-first Instant, the Commons have prepared a Replication to the Earl of Orford's Answer to the Articles of Impeachment of high Crimes and Misdemeanors, exhibited against him; and, at present, defer bringing it up to your Lordships, because, in the Tryal of the several Impeachments now depending, the Commons think it most proper, from the Nature of the Evidence that will be given at the said Tryals, to begin with the Tryal of the Impeachment of John Lord Sommers, of high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

And, as to your Lordships other Message, the Commons take it to be without Precedent, and unparliamentary; they, as Prosecutors, having a Liberty to exhibit their Articles of Impeachment in due time, of which they, who are to prepare them, are the proper Judges:

VOL. 13.

And therefore, for your Lordships to assert, That having not yet exhibited particular Articles against William Earl of Portland, and Charles Lord Halifax, is a Hardship to them, and not agreeable to the usual Methods and Proceedings in Parliament in such Cases, does, as they conceive, tend to the Breach of that good Correspondence betwixt the Two Houses, which ought to be mutually preserved.

Resolved, That the House doth agree, That the said Answer be returned to the Lords, to their Lordships said Message.

Ordered, That Mr. Bromley do carry the said Answer to the Lords.

Sir Bartholomew Shower also reported from the said Committee, That they had drawn up a Replication to the Answer of the Lord Sommers to the Articles of Impeachment exhibited against him; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and agreed unto by the House; and is as followeth: viz.

The Commons have considered the Answer of John Lord Sommers to the Articles of Impeachment exhibited against him by the Knights . . . and Burgesses assembled in Parliament, for high Crimes and Misdemeanors: The said Commons do aver their Charge against the said Lord Sommers to be true; and do say, That he is guilty in the Manner he stands accused and impeached: And the said Commons will be ready to prove the same at such convenient Time as shall be appointed for that Purpose.

Ordered, That the said Replication be ingrossed.

Ordered, That Mr. Bulkly have Leave to go into the Country, upon extraordinary Occasions.

Leave of

A Message from the Lords, by Sir Richard Holford and Mr. Pitt:

Mr. Speaker,

Lord Somers' Impeachment.

The Lords do think fit, upon Occasion of the Message from this House of the One-and-thirtieth of May, to acquaint this House, That having been desired by the Lord Somers, That a Day may be appointed for his speedy Tryal; and their Lordships, finding no Issue joined by Replication of the House of Commons, judge it proper to give them Notice thereof, that the Commons may reply, if they think fit: And at the same time their Lordships let the Commons know, That they will proceed to the Tryal of any of the impeached Lords, whom the Commons should be first ready to begin with, so as there may be no Occasion taken from thence for any unreasonable Delay in the Prosecution of any of them: And further to acquaint them, That, having searched their own Journals, they do not find, that, after a general Impeachment, there has ever been so long a Delay of bringing up the particular Articles of Impeachment, sitting the Parliament; and therefore the Lords do think they had Reason to assert, That it was a hardship to the Two Lords concerned, especially after their Lordships had put the House of Commons in mind of exhibiting such Articles; and not agreeable to the usual Proceedings in Parliament: And as the Lords do not controvert what Right the Commons may have of impeaching, in general Terms, if they please; so the Lords, in whom the Judicature does intirely reside, think themselves obliged to assert, That the Right of limiting a convenient Time for bringing the particular Charge before them, for the avoiding Delay in Justice, is lodged in them.

The Lords hope the Commons, on their Part, will be as careful not to do any thing that may tend to the Interruption of the good Correspondence between the Two Houses, as the Lords shall ever be, on their Part: And the best Way to preserve that, is, for neither of the Two Houses to exceed those Limits, which the Law and Custom of Parliament have already established. Also,

The Lords have agreed to the Bill, intituled, An Act to enable Robert Lord Viscount Kilmorey, in the Kingdom of Ireland, being an Infant, to settle divers Manors, Lands, and Hereditaments, in the Kingdom of England, upon a Treaty of Marriage, without Amendments: And also,

To the Bill, intituled, An Act for removing the County Gaol of Hertford, without any Amendments.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Mr. Brewer reported, from the Committee, to whom the Petition of several Colonels of the Army, in behalf of themselves, and others; and also the Petition of Colonel William Seymour, Sir Harry Dutton Colt, Administrators to Colonel Edward Dutton Colt, Colonel Harry Mordant, and Colonel Thomas Brudenell, on behalf of themselves and the rest of the Officers of the Four late Marine Regiments, were referred; the Matter as it appeared to the said Committee; which they had directed him to report to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as follows; viz.

That upon hearing the Petitioners, and several Persons by them produced to make good the Allegations of their Petition:

It appeared to the Committee, That, upon the raising of a Regiment, Cloathing is immediately provided; and, for the Satisfaction of Tradesmen, who furnished the same, a Minute was made in Council, That the Cloathing Part of the Pay should be paid to the Year's End, although the Regiments should happen to be disbanded sooner:

That Cloathing is always provided for the Number of the Establishment, without any Regard to Defectives by Loss in Service, Sickness, Desertion, or otherwise:

That, in November and December One thousand Six hundred Ninety-seven, near a Third Part; viz. Twelve Drummers, Twelve Serjeants, Twelve Corporals, and Two hundred and Thirty Men, were reduced out of every Regiment; and, in February following, several Regiments were intirely disbanded; whereby the Fund for Cloathing ceased, and thereby a great Deficiency in that Payment happened; for that, at the Pay Office, they make no Allowance for Cloathing, any longer than the Men are upon the Muster-rolls.

And the great Discount upon publick Payment, at that time, increased the Deficiency of the Cloathing Part of the Pay; for that many of the Clothiers offered to cloathe for Half the Price in ready Money, as on the Tallies had from the Treasury;

That, upon the aforesaid Reducement and Disbanding in November, December, and February, One thousand Six hundred Ninety-seven, the Men, by the King's express Orders, were to take with them their Cloaths, although the same could not be paid till the First of April following, about which time the Cloaths were provided, and the Payment for them commenced, in each Year :

That the Cloathing Part of the Pay, as well as Subsistence, is stopped upon all Respites for defective Men ; and no Credit given for Cloathing, but to the very Day of the Men being reduced or disbanded :

That upon the Colonels contracting with the Clothiers, the Colonels gave them Assignments of the Cloathing Part of the Pay, upon the Paymaster ; and concluded the Acceptance of those Assignments to be sufficient Discharges to them against the Clothiers :

But, notwithstanding, the Clothiers have, on that account, commenced Suits, and obtained Verdicts, in Law, against the Colonels who contracted with them for the Cloaths on the Regiments Account, as if the same had been upon their own personal Credit.

Admini-

A Petition of James Cowse Esquire, and Elizabeth his Wife, was presented to the House, and read ; setting forth, That the Petitioners, some time since, filed a Bill in the Court of Chancery, in the Island of Barbadoes, against William Sharpe Esquire, a Member of the Council, and of the said Court, for the Recovery of Five thousand Five hundred and Twelve Pounds Ten Shillings, and the Interest thereof ; to which Bill the said Defendant having pleaded and demurred, near Fourteen Months passed before the Petitioners could bring on the said Plea and Demurrer to be argued, by reason of the great Delays, and frequent Adjournments, of the said Court, and the great Power and Interest of the said William Sharpe : That, upon Argument of the said Plea and Demurrer, on the 6th November 1700, the Petitioners Bill was dismissed ; and thereupon they applied themselves, within Fourteen Days, to the Honourable Ralph Grey Esquire, Governor of the said Island, to be admitted to their Appeal to his Majesty in Council, pursuant to his Majesty's Instructions to the said Governor : But, though the Liberty of appealing be due, of common Right, and the said Instructions are positive, that Appeals shall be allowed in such Cases ; and though it had always, till then, been the constant Practice of the said Governor, and other preceding Governors, of that Island, to allow Appeals, without the Concurrence of the Council ; yet the said Governor did refuse to admit such their Appeal, until he should advise with the Council : Whereupon the Petitioner

VOL. 13.

James Cowse, having waited in vain for the Sitting of a Council, came for England, to have the said Appeal allowed ; and though his Majesty in Council has been graciously pleased to direct, That the Petitioners be admitted to their Appeal, yet the Hearing is put off to November next, to their great Prejudice ; whereas, if the said Governor had allowed, when demanded, the Petitioner might have had a Hearing, and saved Eight Months Delay, and Attendance in England, to the Neglect of his Affairs in that Island : And praying the House to take the Premises into Consideration, and to provide such Remedy for the same, that the Petitioners, and others, may not meet with the like Usage for the future.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee, to whom the Petition of Thomas Hodges is referred.

Mr. Harcourt, according to Order, reported, from the Committee, who were appointed to consider of the Message from the Lords, of Saturday last, and search Precedents in relation thereunto, and prepare an Answer to the said Message, That they had considered the said Message, and searched Precedents, and had drawn up an Answer accordingly ; which they had directed him to report to the House ; which he read in his Place ; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table : Where the same was once read ; and then a Second time, Paragraph by Paragraph ; and, with some Amendments, agreed unto by the House ; and is as followeth ; viz.

Answer to Lords Message respecting the Im-
peachments.

The Commons, on Consideration of your Lordships Message to them of the 31st of May, concerning the Earl of Orford, think it their undoubted Right, when several Persons stand impeached before your Lordships, to bring to Tryal such of them, in the First Place, as the Commons apprehend, from the Nature of the Evidence, ought to be proceeded against ; to the Intent all such Offenders may, in due time, be brought to Justice ; and that no Day ought to be appointed by your Lordships, for the Tryal of any Impeachment by the Commons, without some previous Signification to your Lordships from the Commons, of their being ready to proceed thereon.

The Commons could not receive this Message from your Lordships, without the greatest Surprise ; your Lordships Proceedings, in this Case, being neither warranted by Precedents, nor, as the Commons conceive, consistent with the Methods of Justice, or with Reason : Wherefore the Commons cannot agree to the Day appointed by your Lordships for the Tryal of the Earl of Orford.

As to your Lordships Message at the same time, relating to the Earl of Portland, and Charles Lord Hallifax ; the Commons take the same to be without Precedent, and unparliamentary ; and conceive your Lordships frequent Repetition thereof, in so short a time after the Commons had transmitted to your Lordships their Articles against Two of the impeached Lords, and were daily preparing their Articles against the others, manifestly tends to the Delay of Justice, in obstructing the Tryals of the impeached Lords, by introducing Disputes, in Breach of that good Correspondence between the Two Houses, which ought inviolably to be preserved.

Ordered, That Mr. Harcourt do carry the said Answer to the Lords.

A Message from the Lords, by Sir Richard Holford and Mr. Pitt :

MR. Mompesson, according to Order, reported from the Committee of the whole House, to whom the ingrossed Bill from the Lords, intituled, An Act for dissolving the Marriage of Sir John Dillon with Mary Boyle; and for other Purposes therein mentioned; was committed; That they had heard the Counsel and Witnesses on the Part of Sir John Dillon, to make good the Allegations in the Bill; but that the Lady Dillon, or any Person for her, did not attend upon her Petition; although it appeared, that Sir John Dillon had offered her Agent Money, to enable her to make her Defence before the Committee; and that thereupon the Committee proceeded upon the Bill, and went through with it; and had directed him to report the same to the House, without any Amendments: And he delivered the same in at the Clerk's Table.

A Petition of Henry Fermer, Ralph Sheldon, Thomas Stoner, John Weedon, Esquires, and Winifred Brooke, Widow, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That, on the Petition of Lewis Garrard, suggesting he had made great Discoveries of Lands given to superstitious Uses, a Bill is brought in to vest such Lands in Greenwich Hospital, and some Part thereof in the Informers: That the said pretended Discovery is an Inquisition taken at Wheatley, in Com' Oxon, the 16th Day of October last, before John la Pradell, and other Strangers and Foreigners, in the said County, on the Oath of One Nevill, and other obscure mean Persons, whereby, without producing any Deed, or Copy of any Deed, the Petitioners Estates, which, for valuable Considerations of Marriage, were settled on them, and their Posterities, are found to be given to superstitious Uses: That the said Commissioners never returned the said Inquisition into the Petit Bag Office, or Exchequer, as by Law they ought; whereby the Petitioners were deprived of their Traverse thereunto, and such Means as the Law allows of, to defend their Possessions and Titles: That the Petitioners doubt not but they shall make it fully appear to the House, that the said Inquisition was found by undue Means, and contrary to all Truth; and that the said Gerrard, and his Accomplices, under a specious pretence of Discovery, are seeking to mend their broken Fortunes out of the Petitioners Estates: And praying, That they may be heard by their Counsel against the said Bill.

Ordered, That the Petition do lie upon the Table, until the Bill be read a Second time.

A Petition of Edward Douglas, One of the Deputy Commissaries to the Two old Marine Regiments, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioner having been appointed One of the Deputy Commissaries to the late Two old Marine Regiments, and served as such till the said Regiments were broke; That the House, by their Votes of the 27th of April 1699, having thought fit to allow Half-pay to such Officers as were in the Regiments at the time of Disbanding, who were not cleared, nor any way provided for; That the Petitioner never received any Pay, neither Subsistence, nor otherwise; and there being a considerable Arrear due to him, and he being omitted in the Establishment for Half-pay: And praying, the House would be pleased, as he is intitled to Half-pay by the Votes aforesaid, to order, That he may be added to the List of Half-pay; and that he may have the same Benefit thereof, as Sir Thomas Knatchbull Commissary, and George Gillard the other Deputy, hath.

And a Motion being made, and the Question being put, That the said Petition do lie upon the Table, until the Report be made from the Committee appointed to inspect the Papers relating to Half-pay;

It passed in the Negative.

Resolved, That the Petition be rejected.

A Petition of the Master, Wardens, and Assistants, of the Society of Merchant Adventurers within the City of Bristol, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners being informed a Bill is brought in, proposing to restrain the Refining of Rock Salt; which, they humbly conceive, may tend to bring that Commodity into a Monopoly, and further advance the extravagant Price thereof, to the general Prejudice of his Majesty's Subjects, but especially to the Navigation and Trade of this City; and occasion more Ships belonging to this, and the Ports of this Channel, to victual in Ireland: And praying, the House will take into Consideration the great Disadvantage that will accrue to this City, and the Trade and Navigation thereof, in case the Price of Salt shall be further advanced, by a Combination of the Refiners.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of the whole House, to whom the said Bill is committed.

A Petition of Thomas Collins, late Ensign in his Majesty's Regiment of Foot, commanded by the Honourable Colonel William Northcott, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioner hath faithfully served his Majesty, as an Ensign in the said Regiment, for several Years: That in December 1695, he being then in the Royal Citadel at Plymouth, upon Duty, it pleased God to visit him with a violent Fit of Sickness, which was attended with a malignant Fever, which which occasioned a Gangrene in his Left Leg, which was forced to be amputated in the said Citadel; by means whereof he is utterly incapable of serving his Majesty, or of getting a Maintenance, whereby to subsist: And praying, That he may be admitted into the Number of those that are to receive Half-pay.

Ordered, That the said Petition do lie upon the Table, until the Report be made from the Committee appointed to inspect the Papers relating to Half-pay.

Barbadoes

APETITION of Isaac Hawkins, of the Inner Temple, Esquire, One of the Executors of Barbara Newton, late of Barbadoes, deceased, for and on the behalf of divers Infants, Legatees of the said Barbara, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the said Newton having, some time before her Death, brought an Action of Debt, in the said Island, against John Gibbs Esquire, late One of the Council of the said Island, on a Bond of Thirty thousand Pounds Penalty, whereon there was about Six thousand Pounds then justly due to her, the Court of Law did give a groundless Judgment against her; whereupon she brought a Writ of Error, in the Court of Errors, which affirmed the said Judgment; whereupon she exhibited a Bill in the Court of Chancery of the said Island, for Relief; but the said Court of Chancery, consisting of the same Persons who were Judges of the Writ of Error, some of whom were, as the Petitioner is informed, interested in the said Suit, her Bill was dismissed; whereupon she applied to the King in Council against the said Judgment and Decree, and died before the same came to a Hearing; having made the Petitioner One of her Executors, who, with his Fellow Executors, brought the said Cause to a Hearing the 15th of August 1695, when his Majesty set aside the said Judgment and Decree, and left the Petitioner, and his Fellow Executors, at Liberty to begin a new Suit; soon after which the said Gibbs died; having first, as the Petitioner is informed, settled his Estate in the best manner he could, to keep the same from being liable to satisfy the Petitioner's Demands; insomuch that, he is now advised, he lieth under a Necessity to sue for the same in the Chancery of the said Island, the Judicature of which consists of the Governor, and Twelve Gentlemen, who are the Council of the said Island, and who, for the most part, are Merchants or Planters, and great Dealers in the said Island; and, in a Place no larger than that, must of Necessity be interested in many Causes that come before them; and some of them now, and ever since the Commencement of the said Suit, have been, as the Petitioner is informed, interested in the Consequence of the said Suit, though they be not directly therein named; insomuch that he cannot prevail with his Fellow Executors to run the Hazard of any further Proceedings there, till that Court be better regulated, they fearing the like Success; whereby the Infants will be totally deprived of the said Money: And praying, That the House would take into Consideration the great Hardship it is to the Petitioner, and many others, to have their Causes heard and determined by the major Votes of Persons frequently interested in the Causes that come before them; and that some Remedy may be provided, to prevent the like Mischiefs for the future.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee, to which the Petition of Thomas Hodges Esquire is referred.

County of Dexon, Refiners of Salt made from Rock, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the greatest Part of the said County is furnished with Salt made of Rock: That it gives Content, and saves and cures Flesh and Fish, as well as Salt made of Brine: That, in case the Use and Making of Rock Salt should be prohibited, it would be very prejudicial to all the Country, because the Brine Salt Men formerly did, and probably will again, if it be in their Power, make them pay pay Four times dearer than the Price current now; and will consequently cost at least Nine-pence, if not Twelve-pence per Bushel, to the Country, more than now they pay; besides great Waste in bringing white Salt by Water, sometimes Fifteen or Twenty per Cent. more than Rock; and the Petitioners have been at very great Charges in erecting Houses, and providing Utensils, to refine Salt from Rock, having been encouraged by former Acts; so that, if the Making or Use of Rock Salt should be prohibited, any otherwise than now it is, it will tend and be, not to the Petitioners great Loss only, but Damage of the Country generally; and many poor Men employed, and their Families, would be Sufferers thereby: And praying the Consideration of the House in the Premises, and order . . . the Continuance of refining Salt from Rock, in regard it manifestly tends to publick Good; and let it stand on the same Foot as it now doth.

Articles exhibited by the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeesses, in Parliament assembled, in Maintenance of their Impeachment against Charles Lord Hallifax, of High Crimes and Misdemeanors.

1. WHEREAS several Persons, contrary to their Duty and Allegiance to his Majesty, and his late Royal Consort, of ever-blessed Memory, traiterously adhering to their Majesties Enemies, did levy and maintain, within their Majesties Realm of Ireland, a desperate and bloody War and Rebellion against their Majesties; and were, by his Majesty's Conduct and Courage, at the great Expence of his English Subjects, reduced to their due Obedience to the Crown of England: And whereas, upon the Fourth Day of April in the Year of our Lord One thousand Six hundred and Ninety, it was resolved by the Commons of England, in Parliament assembled, That a Bill should be brought in to attain all Persons guilty of Rebellion in Ireland, or elsewhere, against their Majesties King William and Queen Mary; and to enact and declare their Estates to be forfeited, and to be sold, for the Reducing of that Kingdom: And whereas his Majesty, in his gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament, did, upon the Fifth Day of January One thousand Six hundred and Ninety, assure them, That he would not make any Grant of the forfeited Lands in Ireland, till there should be another Opportunity of settling that Matter in Parliament, in such manner as should be thought most expedient: And whereas the Commons of England, in Parliament assembled, by their humble Address to his Majesty, upon the Fourth Day of March One thousand Six hundred Ninety-two, did humbly beseech his Majesty, That, according to the Assurance his Majesty had been pleased to give them, no Grant might be made of the forfeited Estates in Ireland, till there should be an Opportunity of settling that Matter in Parliament, in such manner as should be thought most expedient; to which his Majesty was pleased to give a most gracious Answer; whereby, and by many other Endeavours of the Commons in the following Sessions of Parliament, it appears, That what has since been declared by Act of Parliament, was the continued Sense of the Commons of England, That it was highly reasonable, that the forfeited Estates of Rebels and Traitors in Ireland should be applied in Ease of his Majesty's faithful Subjects of the Kingdom of England: And whereas it was the apparent Duty of every Officer or Minister of State to have had so much Regard to the Resolutions and Address of the House of Commons, to the publick Good, and his Majesty's Honour, as to have dissuaded and prevented, as much as in them lay, the procuring or passing any Grant or Grants of the said forfeited Estates in Ireland; yet Charles now Lord Hallifax, then the Honourable Charles Montague Esquire, being a Member of the Honourable House of Commons, One of the Lords of the Treasury, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and One of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, hath, since the aforesaid Fourth Day of March One thousand Six hundred Ninety-two, presumed to advise, pass, or direct the passing, a Grant to Thomas Railton Esquire, in Trust for himself, of several Debts, Interest, Sum and Sums of Money, amounting, in the Whole, to the Sum of Thirteen thousand Pounds, or thereabouts, due, owing, and which ought to have accrued, to his Majesty, by reason of the Attainders, Outlawries, or other Forfeitures, of the respective Persons for whom the same were entered on Record; whereby he hath much contributed to the Contracting great Debts upon the Nation, the Laying heavy Taxes upon the People, hath highly reflected on his Majesty's Honour, and failed in the Performance of his Trust and Duty.

2dly, Whereas, by an Act of Parliament, made in the Eleventh and Twelfth Years of his Majesty's Reign, in-tituled, An Act for granting an Aid to his Majesty, by Sale of the forfeited and other Estates and Interests in Ireland, and by a Land-tax in England, for the several Purposes therein mentioned, it is, amongst other things, enacted, That all and every Person or Persons whatsoever, who had, by virtue of any Grant or Disposition from his Majesty, or from his Majesty and the late Queen, received, for his or their own Use or Benefit, any Debt or Debts, or Sum or Sums of Money whatsoever, due from any Debt or Debts of any forfeiting Persons, mentioned or described in the said Act, or from any Person or Persons subject or liable to the Payment of any Sum of Money whatsoever to any of the said forfeiting Persons, should be, and they are thereby declared to be, respectively liable, and are required to repay every such Debt or Debts, Sum or Sums of Money, whatsoever, so by him, her or them, respectively received, into the Receipt of his Majesty's Exchequer in Ireland, on or before the Twenty-fourth Day of August One thousand Seven hundred: And whereas the said Charles Lord Hallifax had, before the Making of the aforesaid Act, procured for Thomas Railton Esquire, in Trust for himself, a Grant of several Debts, by Judgments and otherwise, to several of the said forfeiting Persons, amounting to the Sum of Thirteen thousand Pounds, or thereabouts, forfeited to his Majesty by the Attainder, Outlawries, or other Forfeitures, of the respective Persons to whom such Debts were originally due; and, by virtue of the said Grant, the said Lord Hallifax actually received, to his own Use, the Sum of One thousand Pounds, Part of the before-mentioned Sum of Thirteen thousand Pounds; which said Sum of One thousand Pounds the said Charles Lord Hallifax ought to have repaid, before the said Twenty-fourth of August One thousand Seven hundred, into the Receipt of his Majesty's Exchequer in Ireland, as by the Act he was required to have done; yet the said Charles Lord Hallifax did not repay the said Sum of One thousand Pounds, as by the said Act he was required to do; but has hitherto, in Contempt of the Act, refused or neglected to repay the same; which Neglect or Refusal of him the said Charles Lord Hallifax to repay the said Sum of One thousand Pounds, is a manifest Wrong to his Majesty, and the Publick, and a Misapplication of that Sum to other Uses and Purposes than by the Act it is appropriated, and ought to have been applied.

3dly, That the said Charles Lord Hallifax, being a Member of the Honourable House of Commons, One of the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord Treasurer of England, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and One of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, not contented with the many Employments, and Places of Honour, bestowed upon him by his Majesty, nor with the large and excessive Gains by him made by the Incomes and Profits arising from such Offices and Preferments, did, in Opposition to what he well knew to be the true Interest of England, and contrary to his Oath as a Privy Counsellor, and his Duty as a publick Minister, at a time when the Nation was engaged in a tedious and expensive War against France for preserving the Balance and Liberties of Europe, and under such heavy Debts, as, without laying unsupportable Taxes on the People, were impossible to be satisfied, advise, procure, and assent, not only to the Passing of divers Grants to others in England and Ireland, but did obtain, and accept of, several beneficial ones to, or in Trust for, himself: Which said Practices of him the said Lord Hallifax were a most notorious Abuse of his Majesty's Goodness, a great Breach of his Trust, and a very high Vexation and Oppression of his Majesty's other Subjects.

4thly, Whereas, by the Common Law, and by many Statutes and Ordinances of this Realm, it appears to have been the great Care of our Ancestors, that the King's Forests should be preserved, and, in particular, the Timber therein growing, for the Building and Repairing of the Navy Royal, which has ever been accounted, as it undoubtedly is, the great Security of this Realm: And whereas Charles Lord Hallifax was, in the Year of our Lord

Lord One thousand Six hundred Ninety-seven, One of the Commissioners of the Treasury, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and One of his Majesty's Privy Council, and obliged, as well by repeated Oaths, as by the Duty he owed to his Majesty, and his Country, to have advised, consulted, and promoted, such Matters and Things as should, or at least were most likely to redound to his Majesty's Honour, and the Nation's Safety; yet the said Charles Lord Halifax, not regarding the Laws and Ordinances of this Realm, nor his said Duty to his Majesty, and the Publick, but pursuing his private Interest, did, by Letters of Privy Seal, bearing Date on or about the Sixth Day of May, which was in the Year of our Lord One thousand Six hundred Ninety-seven, the Kingdom being then engaged in an expensive War, and the Debts of the Nation requiring the best and most frugal Management, procure from his Majesty a Grant to Henry Segar Gentleman, in Trust for himself, of the Sum of Fourteen thousand Pounds, of so much scrubbed Beach, Birch, Holly, Hazle, Thorns, and Orle, as should, by Sale, raise the said Sum of Fourteen thousand Pounds, to be fallen in his Majesty's Forest of Dean, in the County of Gloucester, within the Space of Seven Years time, from the Twenty-fifth Day of December One thousand Six hundred and Ninety-seven; under colour of which Grant, Beach of a much greater Value, great Number of Saplin Oaks, which might, and would, have been servicable to the Realm, and also many Tons of well-grown Timber, fit for the present Use of the Navy, have been cut, and fallen, and sold, and disposed of, for the Benefit of the said Lord Halifax.

5thly, Whereas there is not any thing that so much conduceth to his Majesty's and the Nation's Honour and Safety, as the due Ordering and Management of the King's Treasure, and the public Revenues, for the Receiving and Issuing forth of which the Wisdom and Policy of this Nation has provided and appointed several and distinct Officers, with beneficial Salaries, in order that they may be a Check to each other, and that no Loss may accrue to his Majesty, or the Publick, by the Corruption, Unskillfulness, or Negligence, of any particular Officer; yet he the said Charles Lord Halifax, being One of the Lords of the Treasury, when, by the Death of the Honourable Sir Robert Howard, the Office of the Auditor of the Receipts, and Writer of the Tallies, became vacant, not regarding the ancient Constitution, and approved Methods in ordering his Majesty's Treasury, and the publick Revenues, did grant, or procure to be granted, to Christopher Mountague Esquire, the Brother of him the said Charles Lord Halifax, and then one of the Commissioners of the Excise, the said Place and Office of Auditor of the Receipts, and Writer of the Tallies; which said Grant was so made and procured by the said Lord Halifax, in Trust, as to the Profits thereof, for himself; so that, from and after the Passing of the said Grant, he the said Lord Halifax was, in Effect, at the same time, One of the Commissioners of the Treasury, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Auditor of the Receipts, and Writer of the Tallies, and enjoyed the Profits of the said several Offices; which, by the Constitution of the Treasury, are manifestly inconsistent, and never were, or ought to be, trusted in the same Person; the Making and Procuring of which said Grant by him the said Charles Lord Halifax, as aforesaid, was a manifest Violation of the established Course and Constitution of the Exchequer, a Breach of his Trust, of evil Example, and tended very much to the great Loss and Prejudice of his Majesty, and the Publick, by opening a Way to all manner of corrupt Practices in the future Management of the Revenues.

6thly, Whereas a Treaty and Alliance between Leopold the Emperor of Germany, and the States General of the United Provinces, was made, and concluded, in the Year of our Lord One thousand Six hundred Eighty-nine, upon the Consideration of the Greatness of the common Danger, which then threatened all Christendom, from the excessive Power of France, and the unconstant Faith of the French in the Observance of Treaties; whereby it was agreed, there should be, and remain for ever, a constant, perpetual, and inviolable Friendship, and good Correspondence, between his Imperial Majesty and the States General; That each of them should be obliged to promote the other's Interest; and, as much as in them lay, prevent all Damages and Inconveniences to each other:

Lord
Halifax's
Impeachment.

And whereas certain separate Articles were also, at or about that time, made and annexed to the aforesaid Treaty; whereby the States General, maturely considering, that France had openly declared, in several Courts, That, notwithstanding the most solemn Renunciation, they continued their Pretension, by Force of Arms, to assert, for the Dauphin, the Succession of the Spanish Monarchy, in case the King of Spain should die without Issue; and also considering, what a Blow their State would receive, and what Prejudice might happen thereby to the publick Affairs and Quiet; did promise, That, in case his said Catholick Majesty should die without Issue, they would, with all their Force, assist his said Imperial Majesty, or his Heirs, in taking the Succession of the Spanish Monarchy, lawfully belonging to that House, together with its Kingdoms, Dominions, and Rights; and in their obtaining and securing the quiet Possession thereof, against the French, and their Adherents, who should, directly or indirectly, oppose that Succession; and, with Force, repel the Force which should be brought against them:

That, at the Instance of the States General, in pursuance of the said Treaty, and separate Articles, our most gracious Lord and Sovereign, his most Excellent Majesty King William the Third, was invited to enter into the Alliance of the aforesaid Treaty, and into the Agreement of the said separate Articles; and thereupon, for restoring and preserving the publick Peace and Quiet, did afterwards, in the said Year of our Lord One thousand Six hundred Eighty-nine, enter into, and, under the Great Seal of England, accept, approve, and ratify, and, in the most solemn manner, engage and promise, religiously and inviolably, to observe the same, without violating the said Treaty, or separate Articles, in any Article, or suffering the same, to the utmost of his Power, to be violated:

That, in the Year of our Lord One thousand Six hundred Ninety-eight, a Treaty was projected and contrived in France, to be set on foot between his Majesty, the French King, and the States General, for a Partition of the Spanish Monarchy; whereby many large Territories thereunto belonging, in case of the Decease of the King of Spain, without Issue, were to be allotted and delivered up to France:

The Tenour and Design of which last mentioned Treaty, whilst the same was in Negotiation, was communicated to the said Charles Lord Halifax, then One of the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord Treasurer, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and One of his Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council: That the said Charles Lord Halifax, well knowing the most apparent evil Consequences, as well as the Injustice, of the said Partition, did not, according to the Trust and the Duty of the said several Offices, dissuade, or endeavour to obstruct, its taking Effect; but, on the contrary, having neither Regard to his Majesty's Honour, engaged by the above-mentioned Treaty with the Emperor and the States General, to the Trade and known Interest of these Kingdoms, or the Peace of Europe, did advise his Majesty to enter into the said Treaty; and did so far encourage and promote the same, that the said Treaty was concluded and ratified, under the Great Seal of England: Which said Treaty was evidently destructive of the Trade of this Realm, a Breach of the former Treaty, made with the Emperor in One thousand Six hundred Eighty-nine, dishonourable to his Majesty, highly injurious to the Interest of the Protestant Religion, and manifestly tended to disturb the general Peace of Europe by altering the Balance of Power therein, and strengthening France against the good Friends, and ancient Allies, of our Sovereign Lord the King.

And the said Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, by Protestation, saving to themselves the Liberty of exhibiting exhibiting, at any time hereafter, any further Articles, or other Accusation or Impeachment, against the said Lord Halifax; and also of replying to his Answers, which he shall make unto the said Articles, or any of them; and of offering Proofs to all and every of the aforesaid Articles, and to all and every other Articles, Impeachment, or Accusation, which shall be exhibited by them, as the Case shall, according to the Course of Parliament, require; do pray, That the said Charles Lord Halifax may be put to answer the said Crimes and Misdemeanors; and that such Proceedings, Examinations, Tryals, and Judgments, may be thereupon had and given, as is agreeable to Law and Justice.

And upon the Motion for the Ingrossing of the said Articles;

Exceptions taken to a Member's Words.

Sir William St. Quintin having uttered some Words in his Speech, to which the House took Exceptions, they were directed to be taken down by the Clerk; and are as follow; viz.

"I do not oppose the carrying up these Articles; for, I think, they are to this Lord's, or noble Lord's, eternal Honour and Reputation."

Whereupon he was admitted to explain himself: And thereupon he declared, That he did not speak those Words upon any premeditated Malice, or to reflect upon the House; and begged Pardon of the House:

Upon which the House were satisfied, and proceeded no further.

Ordered, That the said Articles be ingrossed.

Message from Lords respecting the Impeachments.

A Message from the Lords, by Sir Richard Holford and Mr. Grey:

Mr. Speaker,

We are commanded, by the Lords, to acquaint this House, That, in Answer to the Message of the House of Commons, of the Fourth Instant, the Lords say, by their Message sent on the Third, wherein they declare themselves ready to proceed to the Trial of any of the impeached Lords, whom the Commons should be first ready to begin with, they have given a full Proof of their Willingness to comply with the Commons, in any thing which may appear reasonable, in order to the speedy Determining of the Impeachments now depending: And therefore, as the Lords conceive the Commons had no Occasion to begin any Dispute on that Head, so their Lordships are careful to decline entering into a Controversy, which seems to them to be of no Use at present.

The Lords think themselves obliged to assert their undoubted Right to appoint a Day for the Trial of any Impeachment depending before them, if they see good Cause for it; without any previous Signification from the Commons of their being ready to proceed; which Right is warranted by many Precedents, as well as consonant to Justice and Reason; and their Lordships, according to the Example of their Ancestors, will always use that Right with a Regard to the equal and impartial Administration of Justice, and with a due Care to prevent unreasonable Delays.

This being the Case, The Lords cannot but wonder, that the Commons, without any Foundation for it, should make use of Expressions, which, as their Lordships conceive, have never been used before by one House of Parliament to another; and which, if the like were returned, must necessarily destroy all good Correspondence between the Two Houses.

The last Part of the Commons Message being, in Effect, a Repetition only of their former, of the One-and-thirtieth of May, to which the Lords have already returned a full Answer, their Lordships think it not requisite to say more, than that they cannot apprehend with what Colour their calling upon the House of Commons to send up Articles against Two Lords, whom the Commons have so long since impeached in general Terms, can be said to tend to the Delay of Justice: And therefore, as the Lords think the Commons ought to have forbore that Reflection, so their Lordships, in saying no more upon the Occasion of this Message of the Commons, think they have given a convincing Proof of their Moderation, and of their sincere Desire of preserving a good Correspondence between the Two Houses; which is so necessary for the publick Security, as well as doing Right upon the Impeachments. Also,

That the Lords have agreed to the Bill, intituled, An Act for the better Performance of the last Will of Henry Apsley Esquire, deceased, without any Amendments.

Apsley's Will.

And then the Messengers withdrew.

Ordered, That the said Message, relating to the Impeachments, be referred to the Committee, who were appointed to draw up Articles of Impeachment, and search Precedents, to draw up an Answer thereunto.

Lords Message referred.

King's Bench and Fleet Prisons. A Petition of John Clements Gentleman, Dame Mary Low, Catherine Venne Widow, and others, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That Thomas Bromhall, Warden of the Fleet, did, by Deed dated the Third of May One thousand Six hundred Seventy-eight, mortgage to the Petitioner John Clement all the Office of the Fleet Prison, and Mansion-house thereof, and Thirteen Houses adjoining to the said Mansion-house, and all the Shops, Stalls, and Standings, in Westminster-hall, for Five hundred Years, for the valuable Consideration of Two thousand Two hundred Ninety-nine Pounds; in which Deed it is declared, That the Petitioner Clements was possessed of the Premises, to the Use of himself, for Two hundred and Seven Pounds; to the Use of Mrs. Dorothy Barter, Two hundred and Fifty Pounds; and, for the Residue of the said Two thousand Two hundred Ninety-nine Pounds, in Trust for the rest of the Petitioners, and other Persons under whom they now claim: The principal Money, and Interest, due upon the said Mortgage, now amounts unto Four thousand Eight hundred Pounds, and upwards: That the Petitioners are advised, if the Bill now depending should pass, as it is now drawn up, with the Amendments, made by the House of Peers, relating to the Fleet Prison, the Petitioners Right, by virtue of the said Mortgage, will be extinguished, and the said Principal and Interest wholly lost: And praying, That a Saving Clause may be added to the said Bill, to preserve their Interest in the Premises; as hath been already done, by the House of Peers, for the Earl of Radnor, relating to his Interest in the Prison of the King's Bench.

VOL. 13.

until the Amendments, made by the Lords, to the said Bill, be taken into Consideration.

A Petition of Mary Gabriel, Elizabeth Simons, Emery Solsby, being Wives of registered Seamen, on behalf of themselves, and many others, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners Husbands are all registered some Years since, and have constantly served his present Majesty; but have not received any Money, although his Majesty, and the Parliament, were pleased to allow them Forty Shillings per Annum; for want of which Payment, the Petitioners, and many other Families, are exposed to great Necessities: And praying, That the House would grant them such Relief as shall seem most reasonable.

Registered Seamen's Pay.

Ordered, That the said Petition do lie upon the Table.

A Petition of the Provost and Corporation of Moneyers was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners, for these several Hundred Years last past, have been incorporated into a Company, or Body Politick; and, in all that time, have made good, and are obliged to answer, all Gold and Silver committed to their Charge: That, upon any Expedition of Coinage, . . . were and are forced to take to their Assistance great Numbers of strange Men, as Fifty or an Hundred, and sometimes Two or Three Hundred, or more, for the forwarding the Business of the Mint, and Service of the Publick; for all which the Petitioners are answerable: That the Petitioners have frequently been most notoriously abused by some Servants, and their Accomplices, who, under Pretence of seeing the Coinage, have robbed the Petitioners of great Sums of Money; so that, upon modest Computation, . . . have, at the last great Coinage, and since, lost above Six thousand Pounds: That several of them, for such Robberies, have been prosecuted and convicted, and have afterwards obtained the Benefit of the Clergy; and that, notwithstanding such Punishment, such Robberies are often committed: And praying the Consideration of the House in the Premises; and to order, That Leave be given to bring in a Clause, to be added to some Bill, for making such Crimes Felony, without Benefit of Clergy.

Moneyer's Company.

Ordered, That the Consideration of the said Petition be referred to the Committee of the whole House, to whom the Bill for granting several Duties upon low Wines, or Spirits of the First Extraction; and continuing several additional Duties upon Coffee, Tea, Chocolate, Spices, and Pictures; and certain Impositions upon Hawkers, Pedlars and Petty Chapmen; and the Duty of Fifteen Pounds per Centum upon Muslins; and for improving the Duties upon japanned and lacquered Goods; and for continuing the Coinage Duty for the several Terms and Purposes therein mentioned; is committed.

A Petition of John Scoppens and Thomas Viroote, on behalf of themselves, and others, Masters and Owners of the Dutch Transport Ships taken up and employed in the Reduction of Ireland, was presented to the House, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners were, by his Majesty's special Command, hired in Holland, for that Service, in One thousand Six hundred Ninety, and One thousand Six hundred Ninety-one; and there became due to them for the same, Twenty-one thousand Eight hundred Fifty-five Pounds, as appears by their stated Accounts: That the Parliament making Provision, in One thousand Six hundred Ninety-five, for the Payment of Interest at Five Pounds per Cent. for the Irish Transport Debt, being the same Debt the Petitioners were engaged in, hoped to have had the Benefit thereof; and in Expectation of obtaining the same, have desisted from applying to the House for Satisfaction, although the Petitioners, to the Number of Five hundred, and their Families, have been exposed to the utmost Hardships for want thereof: But, as the Petitioners are informed, that the Provision, so made, does not respect their Debt, but the Debt of the Transport Debt.

English

English Transports only; and that they cannot have Debentures for their Debts, as the English Transports have had, by reason the Act for that Purpose does not, as is alleged, sufficiently warrant the same, the Petitioners being foreign Owners; although Three hundred Thirty thousand Seven hundred Sixty-nine Pounds Ten Shillings and Seven-pence, for which Interest was to be paid by the said Act, doth exceed the Sum owing for that Service, after the Petitioners Debts shall be therein concluded, as hath been certified by the late Commissioners for Transports by their Report: And praying the Consideration of the House; and to allow a Clause in some Act, whereby the Petitioners Debts may be declared to be included within the said Three hundred Thirty thousand Seven hundred Sixty-nine Pounds Ten Shillings and Seven-pence, for which Interest was to be paid.

Ordered, That the said Petition do lie upon the Table, until the Report be made from the Committee of the whole House, to whom the Bill for appointing and enabling Commissioners to take, examine, and state, the publick Accounts of the Kingdom, was committed.

Sending Servants to Plantations.

Mr. Yates reported from the Committee, to whom the Petition of the Merchants trading to the English Plantations in America was referred, That they had directed him to move the House, That Leave may be given to bring in a Bill to prevent Abuses in transporting Servants to his Majesty's Plantations in America.

Ordered, That Leave be given to bring in a Bill to prevent Abuses in transporting Servants to his Majesty's Plantations in America: And that Mr. Yates, Mr. Harley, and Mr. Clayton, do prepare and bring in the same.

Edward Fox, Colonel and Captain.
Spencer Broughton, Lieutenant Colonel and Captain.
Robert Collingwood, Major and Captain.
Tho. Heslith, Chaplain.

Mr. Bruges reported from the Committee appointed to inspect the Papers, before the House, relating to Half-pay, That they had inspected the same accordingly; and had directed him to report the Matter to the House; which he read in his Place; and afterwards delivered in at the Clerk's Table: Where the same was read; and is as followeth; viz.

	51,734	6	7

Spencer Broughton the Lieutenant Colonel and Captain of the said Regiment, attended the said Committee; and laid before them a List of the Officers of that Regiment living, and unprovided for, at his coming to England, which was in March last; whereby it appeared, That but One Captain, One Ensign, and the Surgeon, were dead out of that Regiment.

A Clause was offered, to be added to the Bill, to except some Counties out of the Act:

And the same was twice read with Blanks; and the Blanks were filled up:

And then the Clause was, upon the Question put thereupon, agreed unto by the House, to be made Part of the Bill.

Another Clause was offered, to be added to the Bill, to exempt Barristers at Law out of the Bill.

It was also agreed, That the eldest Sons of Freemen, by their Birth; the younger Sons of Freemen, who have served Seven Years Apprenticeship whether in Nottingham, or elsewhere; and also Persons as have served Seven Years Apprenticeship to any Freeman of Nottingham; were well intitled to demand their Freedom.

That, upon the Poll, there were,

But the Petitioner's Counsel insisted, That they should, by taking off from Mr. Gregory's Poll, and adding to their own, make themselves a Majority: And they also insisted, That there had been several ill Practices by the Sitting Member, in procuring Votes.

And, First, the Petitioner's Counsel proceeded to give an Account of such Persons as had a Right to their Freedoms, and had been denied to be made free; and would have voted for the Petitioner, and were refused: And they called,
